STUART R. PADDOCK

We who feel sorry for the people of California, whose forests and homes are threatened by fires and extended shortage of rain, should not complain of a sprinkling ban. It could be a lot worse.

Illinois residents can be proud of the cool summer climate that they are now enjoying. We are going to do a bit of bragging about our weather when our family gets together this weekend. They are coming from an Atlantic Coast state, California, and the Northwest.

Northeastern Illinois is truly God's country.

When traveling the toll road, if you see an unmarked car with front hood raised, watch out. The occupant is operating radar and is in communication with a state police officer at the next toll gate. The state says it is a safety measure; the people who will be picked up are jeopardizing the lives of others.

The enthusiasm of parishioners interested in the formation of a new church project is to be commended, but that enthusiasm often leads them to make building pledges that tax the family budget.

This northwest area needs those churches the same as it needed the hospital, and default in payment of pledges is a black mark against the integrity of northwest residents.

Need we say more?

We heard today of a Palatine man who suggested that his wife use the two figures of his age for a try at the Arlington Park daily double.

She did—and won enough money to buy a new family freezer!

"It's enough to be lucky once," says the husband.

One of them has promised his family he will go to church every Sunday, if Gov. Kerner will only sign the bill.

Negotiations Are Revealed

Details of negotiations concerning sale of the Arlington Heights village hall were laid bare Monday at a meeting of village trustees.

The negotiations, entered into by trustees during several executive sessions over the past 10 weeks, have heretofore come under a "classified" heading.

Facts revealed Monday are as follows:

—the lone purchase offer of Arlington Plaza Development Co., St. Louis, is currently considered unacceptable;

—the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has become interested in the project, and —it will be some time before a new village hall is ready for occupancy.

SUBJECT OF the hall's sale was broached when Village President John G. Woods read a report from a special three-man committee.

The committee, appointed May 22 to meet with Douglas Dodds, company spokesman, in an attempt to work out acceptable sale terms, said:

"The overall need for a Highland ave. grade crossing, a major condition of the offer, has not been demonstrated sufficiently. Furthermore, it appears resulting complications and effects would be detrimental to the village."

"The net proceeds of the offer are not sufficient. Conclusion: the offer is not in the best interests of the village. The committee . . . respectfully suggests it is unacceptable."

Why Offer Is 'Unacceptable'

The $150,000 offer of Arlington Plaza Development co. to purchase the village hall site was termed "unacceptable" Monday by Arlington Heights trustees.

The offer is unacceptable, trustees said, because the bid price will not result in a net profit of $100,000 as recommended in December, 1960, by the Village Hall Citizens committee.

First subtracted from the $150,000 is $37,500 already spent for acquisition of the railroad park north of Davis st. The Park is included in the village hall parcel.

Then deducted is an estimated $58,000 for the village's share of extending Highland ave. north, railroad crossing gates and lights.

After total estimated deductions of $95,500, net profit from the purchase offer would be $54,500, trustees point out.

Dodds pointed out the company's offer of May 15 had been hiked from $100,750 to $150,000.

But trustees said the company demand that the village bear costs of extending Highland north across the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks substantially reduces the offer.

Robert Y. Paddock, president, and Clarence A. Hendrickson, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked that trustees defer action on the committee report in order to give the Chamber time to study the matter and come up with a recommendation.

Julius Huber, a St. Louis builder and president of the development company, also suggested action be deferred. Trustees voted 5-0 to defer action to the second regular board meeting in August.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS residents voted 3-1 last December to support the issuance of $350,000 in bonds for construction of a new municipal building on State rd. at Sigwalt st.

Before the new hall can be started, the village has to sell the old site at Davis and Wing sts. The sale must net not less than $100,000.

Village officials have estimated it will take at least six months to complete the new hall once ground is broken. At first, it was expected the new structure would be ready by November, 1961.

Guesses as to the hall's opening date now range from early spring to late fall, 1962.

For Commuter Use

Railway Parking Lots To Be Ready in Month

Village Manager L. A. Hanson forecast Monday it will be 30 days before two north side railroad parking lots are completed and ready for commuter use.

Hanson told trustees the railroad parks between Dunton and Vail and Dunton and Evergreen are now being transformed into 12-hour parking areas.

Two other parks, one between State and Evergreen and another west of Vail, will be improved for parking purposes when the first two are ready, Hanson said.

THE FOUR PARKS were purchased by the village from the Chicago and North Western railroad last December. They cost $182,000.

"When the four lots are finished, we'll have 207 additional commuter parking spaces," Hanson noted.

He said the added off-street parking will permit the village to replace many on-street 12-hour meters with one-hour shoppers' meters.

The lot between Dunton and Evergreen will contain some shopper parking space, Hanson pointed out. Improvement of the four lots will cost the village $26,000.

AT MONDAY'S village board meeting, Hanson divulged it may cost an extra $6,000 to move telegraph poles in one of the lots.

Trustees passed a motion authorizing Hanson to contact John Nuveen and Co., bonding house holding the park bonds, to develop information regarding relocation of the poles.

Revised Forestry Report Requested

Village Manager L. A. Hanson was asked by Arlington Heights trustees this week to revise his five-month-old forestry report.

The report came up at Monday's board meeting when Trustee Norval Stephens suggested a future agenda include the topic of Dutch Elm disease.

STEPHENS AND other trustees said they have been rceiving calls from residents complaining of an increased number of Dutch Elm cases.

Hanson's report, completed in February, details the history of Dutch Elm disease and numbers tree losses in Arlington Heights since 1956 at 300.

Hanson told trustees that 94 trees in the village are now infected with the disease and 52 others are under observation. About three-fourths of the diseased trees are on village property.

The manager said the 1961-62 budget provides $1,500 for replacing dead trees.

'Corn Eating' Champ Sought

Arlington Heights will have a corn eating champion within a week.

The park district has set a corn eating contest for August 4 at 3 p.m. in the Recreation park shelter house.

Tooth picks will be supplied.

Water Project Is Deferred

Arlington Heights trustees voted Monday to defer action on the board of local improvements' request that 25 per cent of professional fees be guaranteed for installation of water mains in the Arlington subdivision.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson was requested to obtain more information on the project and present it as soon as possible.

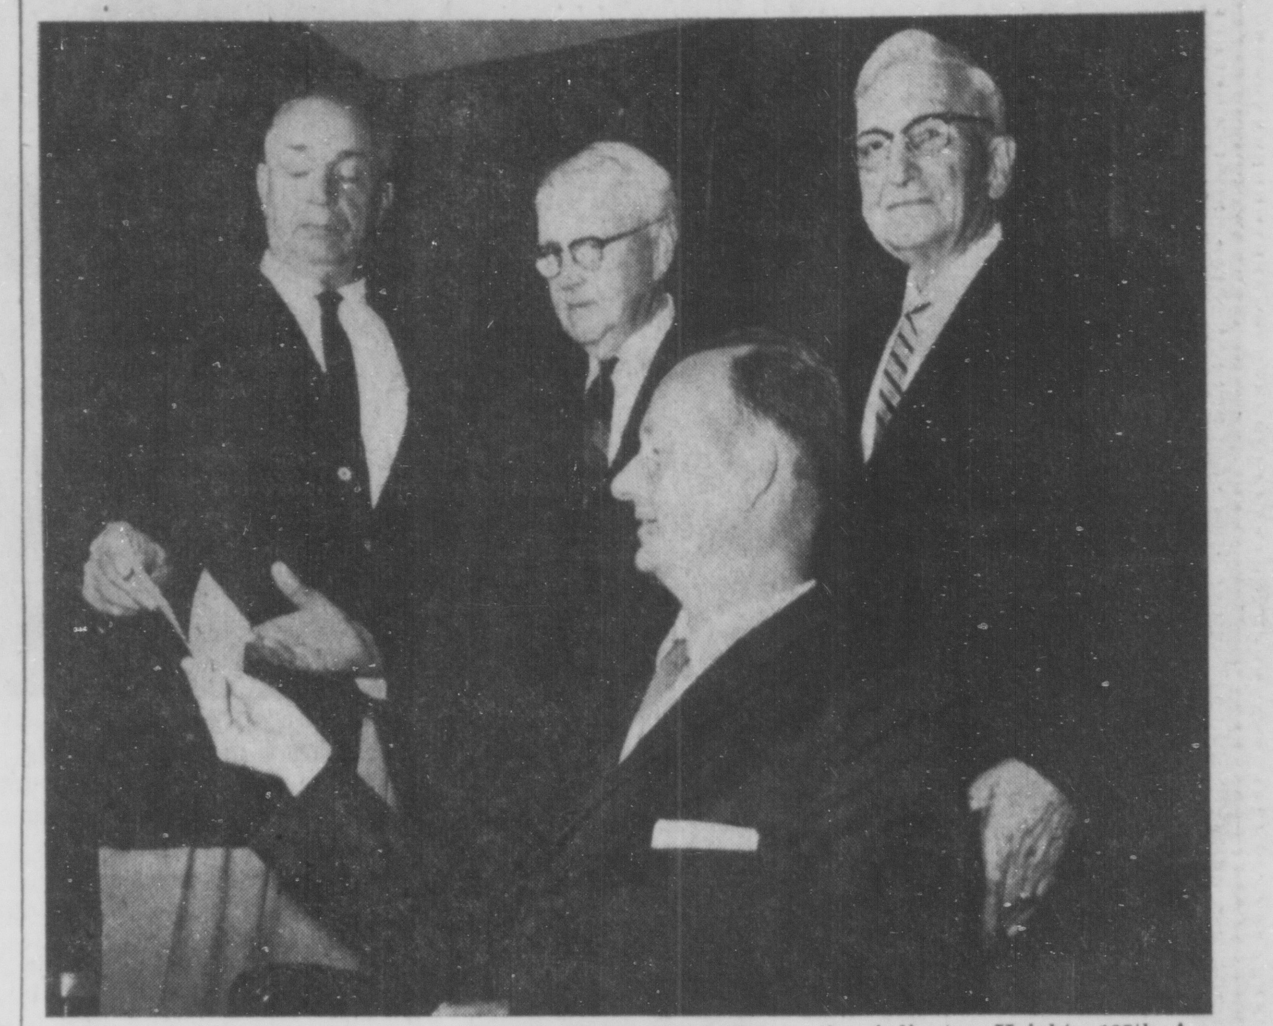
Village's Birthday Plans Are Revealed



FIRST CONTRIBUTORS to the Arlington Heights 125th Anniversary celebration were three pioneers who have been watching village progress for over sixty years. Fund chairman W. A. Schwantz is shown at the desk as George Schneberger, Stuart Paddock and Charles Paddock look on. Paddock Publications started the financial ball rolling with a donation of $250 toward cost of financing the gala celebration planned for Arlington Heights Oct. 1-7.

Plans for a week-long observation of Arlington Heights' 125th birthday will include a beauty contest, a pageant, three parades, and a grand ball.

According to a tentative program set up by the anniversary celebration steering committee this week, the observance will rival centennial festivities.

Even a beard and shaving contest is included.

THE SCHEDULE calls for a pageant Sunday and Monday, October 1 and 2; a kiddie parade Sunday afternoon; square dancing Wednesday, October 4.

Selection of Miss Northwest Suburbs Thursday, October 5; Arlington high's homecoming parade and football game October 6; a "mammoth" parade Saturday, October 7; and a grand ball Saturday night.

Don Hess, 1935 E. Elmwood circle, Arlington Heights, executive director of the chamber of commerce, said the group's next meeting is slated for August 9 and that anyone interested in the birthday plans should attend. No site has been named for the meeting.

A COMMITTEE is presently working on a slogan and a theme for the festivities.

General chairman for the affair is Joe Schneller, 212 S. Dwyer. Co-chairmen are Barney Erickson, John Hoover, John Woods, and Robert Y. Paddock.

Other committee chairmen are Ted Small, parade; Bob Flood, publicity, assisted by L. C. Yowel; Will Schwantz, finance; Irv Robbin, band, assisted by Bill Griffith; John Hoover, special events.

Ruth Miller, beauty contest; Harold Best, fund raising; Nick Welti, pageant, assited by W. Welti, pageant, assisted by W. square dance; Bill Calderwood, police and fire, assisted by Harvey Carrothers.

OTHERS included in the planning are Mrs. Margaret Hejouk, Mrs. Ben Carus, Bob Atcher, Mrs. Marjorie Allen, Mrs. Daisy Daniels, John Lobenhofer, Norval Stephens, Charles Wilson, and Bud Mills.

Further details may be secured from Jocelyn Coblenz, 392-4536, at Princeton House headquarters.

Scarsdale Estates Issue

Village Not Legally Bound to Serve Area

Village Attorney Jack M. Siegel assured Arlington Heights trustees Monday that the village is under no legal obligation to provide police and fire protection to home owners outside the corporate limits.

Siegel offered the opinion after Trustee Richard Glantz announced the village was in a "precarious position."

Glantz was referring to what he called a "misunderstanding" on the part of some residents of the Scarsdale Estates subdivision.

"Many Scarsdale Estates people believe the village owes them police and fire service," Glantz explained. "I want to point out we are first responsible to our taxpayers."

IN TERMING the situation "precarious," Glantz said he felt it was dangerous to allow subdivision residents to feel they have police and fire protection at their fingertips when they really do not.

He asked that a three-man committee be appointed to study the matter. The village board agreed to a committee comprised of Trustees Eugene Schlickman and Samuel Wit and Harold Carlson, chairman of the plan commission.

When President John G. Woods suggested the committee consider the possibility of Scarsdale Estates receiving village police and fire services under a fee setup, Glantz declared:

"You don't contract for a life insurance policy and then pay a year's premium after you die. You pay as you go."

TRUSTEES William Sauer and Wit noted that people have a responsibility to protect themselves.

Scarsdale Estates, located east of State rd. and north of Central rd., is surrounded on three sides by the Village of Arlington Heights but is not annexed to it.

Based on comments made at a recent meeting to discuss annexation, subdivision residents do not want to belong to the village.

No date was set for the committee's report.

To Mail Warnings On Auto Stickers

Finance Director Thomas A. DeRiemer this week began supervising the mailing of some 600 warnings to Arlington Heights residents who have not registered their vehicles with the village.

The warnings, in letter form, were made possible by the village's recent purchase of a list of all vehicles registered to local residents, DeRiemer said.

THE LIST OF auto owners was purchased for $18 per 1,000 names from the Rueben H. Donnelly co., Chicago.

"We examine our records to match the names of vehicle owners with the names of those who have purchased vehicle stickers," DeRiemer explained. "Those found not to have bought stickers are mailed notices."

Passenger car vehicle tax is $6 a year. A dollar fee is charged for each month the tax is delinquent, with $10 being the maximum cost.

In 1960, the village sold a total of 8,726 vehicle stickers. More than 9,400 have been sold this year, and the total is expected to rise.

'Dollar Days' Bargains Set

Arlington Heights merchants will be offering special Dollar Day bargains Monday and Tuesday, July 31 and August 1.

Shoppers are encouraged to take advantage of slashed prices on summer merchandise and other items.

Merchants participating include those in the downtown business district, Elms shopping center, and a nursery south of town.

Store hours during Dollar Days will remain the same as usual. The semi-annual affair is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Details may be found in the second section of this week's Herald.

Ready for Opening

New Textbooks Await Grade School Pupils

New books by the thousands are on hand for students of Arlington Heights district 25 elementary schools this September.

The bright-cover new textbooks have been adopted for the district mathematics, science and music courses.

The mountain of new books includes more than 2,000 science texts, almost 2,400 arithmetic books and more than 5,000 music textbooks.

IN ADDITION, more than 5,500 new books in all subjects are ready for the 550 students in the former Wilson school district. District 25 is issuing new books to the Wilson students to coordinate their curriculum program with that of the balance of the school system.

In order to match books used in the district, Wilson pupils will receive new books in health, music, science, math, language arts, penmanship, social studies and reading as well as a spelling workbook and dictionary.

Greatest change in textbooks is in the district arithmetic courses. Success of an experimental program in the new-approach mathematics technique during the past two years was the basis for the decision to revise the district-wide 'mathematics curriculum according to William J. Fritsche, curriculum consultant.

INCLUDED in the new mathematics program will be grades three, four, five and six. Similar programs for grades one, two, seven and eight are not available, Fritsche indicated.

Basic emphasis of the new mathematics program is an emphasis on the "why" of arithmetic rather than the mechanical processes of rote memory. The new method continues the use of reference objects, such as apples and pears, beyond the first few grades. "It avoids teaching abstract arithmetic too soon," Fritsche stated.

To point this out, Fritsche noted the new texts make more liberal use of pictures than standard arithmetic texts. More time is spent in explaining the number system. The new approach starts students thinking in terms of equations as early as third grade — a drastic change from the old arithmetic-teaching pattern.

The new science textbooks include problem-solving approach to science at a primary level. Experiments are a basic part of the problem-solving methods used. Books are highly illustrated, Fritsche said, with current science discoveries presented to students at an early age.

THE SCIENCE textbooks will be introduced at the first, second and third grades this year. Similar programs will be available for fourth and fifth grades during the 1962-63 school year when these grade levels will be added.

The music books, adopted for all students throughout the district, emphasize listening techniques, music appreciation, study of composers and introduction to ali types of music such as folk songs and modern compositions—all at an interest level of students in individual grades.

Final approval of new textbooks for the district climaxes a long investigation by a special study-review committee composed of a principal chairman, the director of instruction, curriculum consultant and a teacher from each grade level for which the study is being made.

The committee reviews the books in use as well as other elementary texts available.

Judgment of the best book is based on basic educational philosophy of the district, needs of the school system and community, current educational information and book layout, readability and binding. Cost is not a factor, Fritsche stated, as most publishers' prices are competitive.

RECOMMENDATIONS of the committee are reviewed by the curriculum council which then suggests a single text for submission to the school board by the superintendent. Ultimate approval of all new textbooks lies with the school board.

Books are amortized through student book rental fees.

Obsolete books are returned to the district central headquarters where they are sorted by condition and sold to used-book dealers. (AF

There wouldn't be enough room on this page to list all the interferences possible on your television set. Fortunately, they're generally short in duration, being caused by a plane flying overhead, a poor ignition in a passing car, sparking appliances and so on. Most often, you can track the reason down and realize that it isn't your TV set at fault.

However, if interference is a continuous thing from station to station, it could be your set and a warning sign of possible major breakdown. It should be checked immediately.

We have had quite a bit of experience at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, in connection with this kind of service and will guarantee you results. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700.

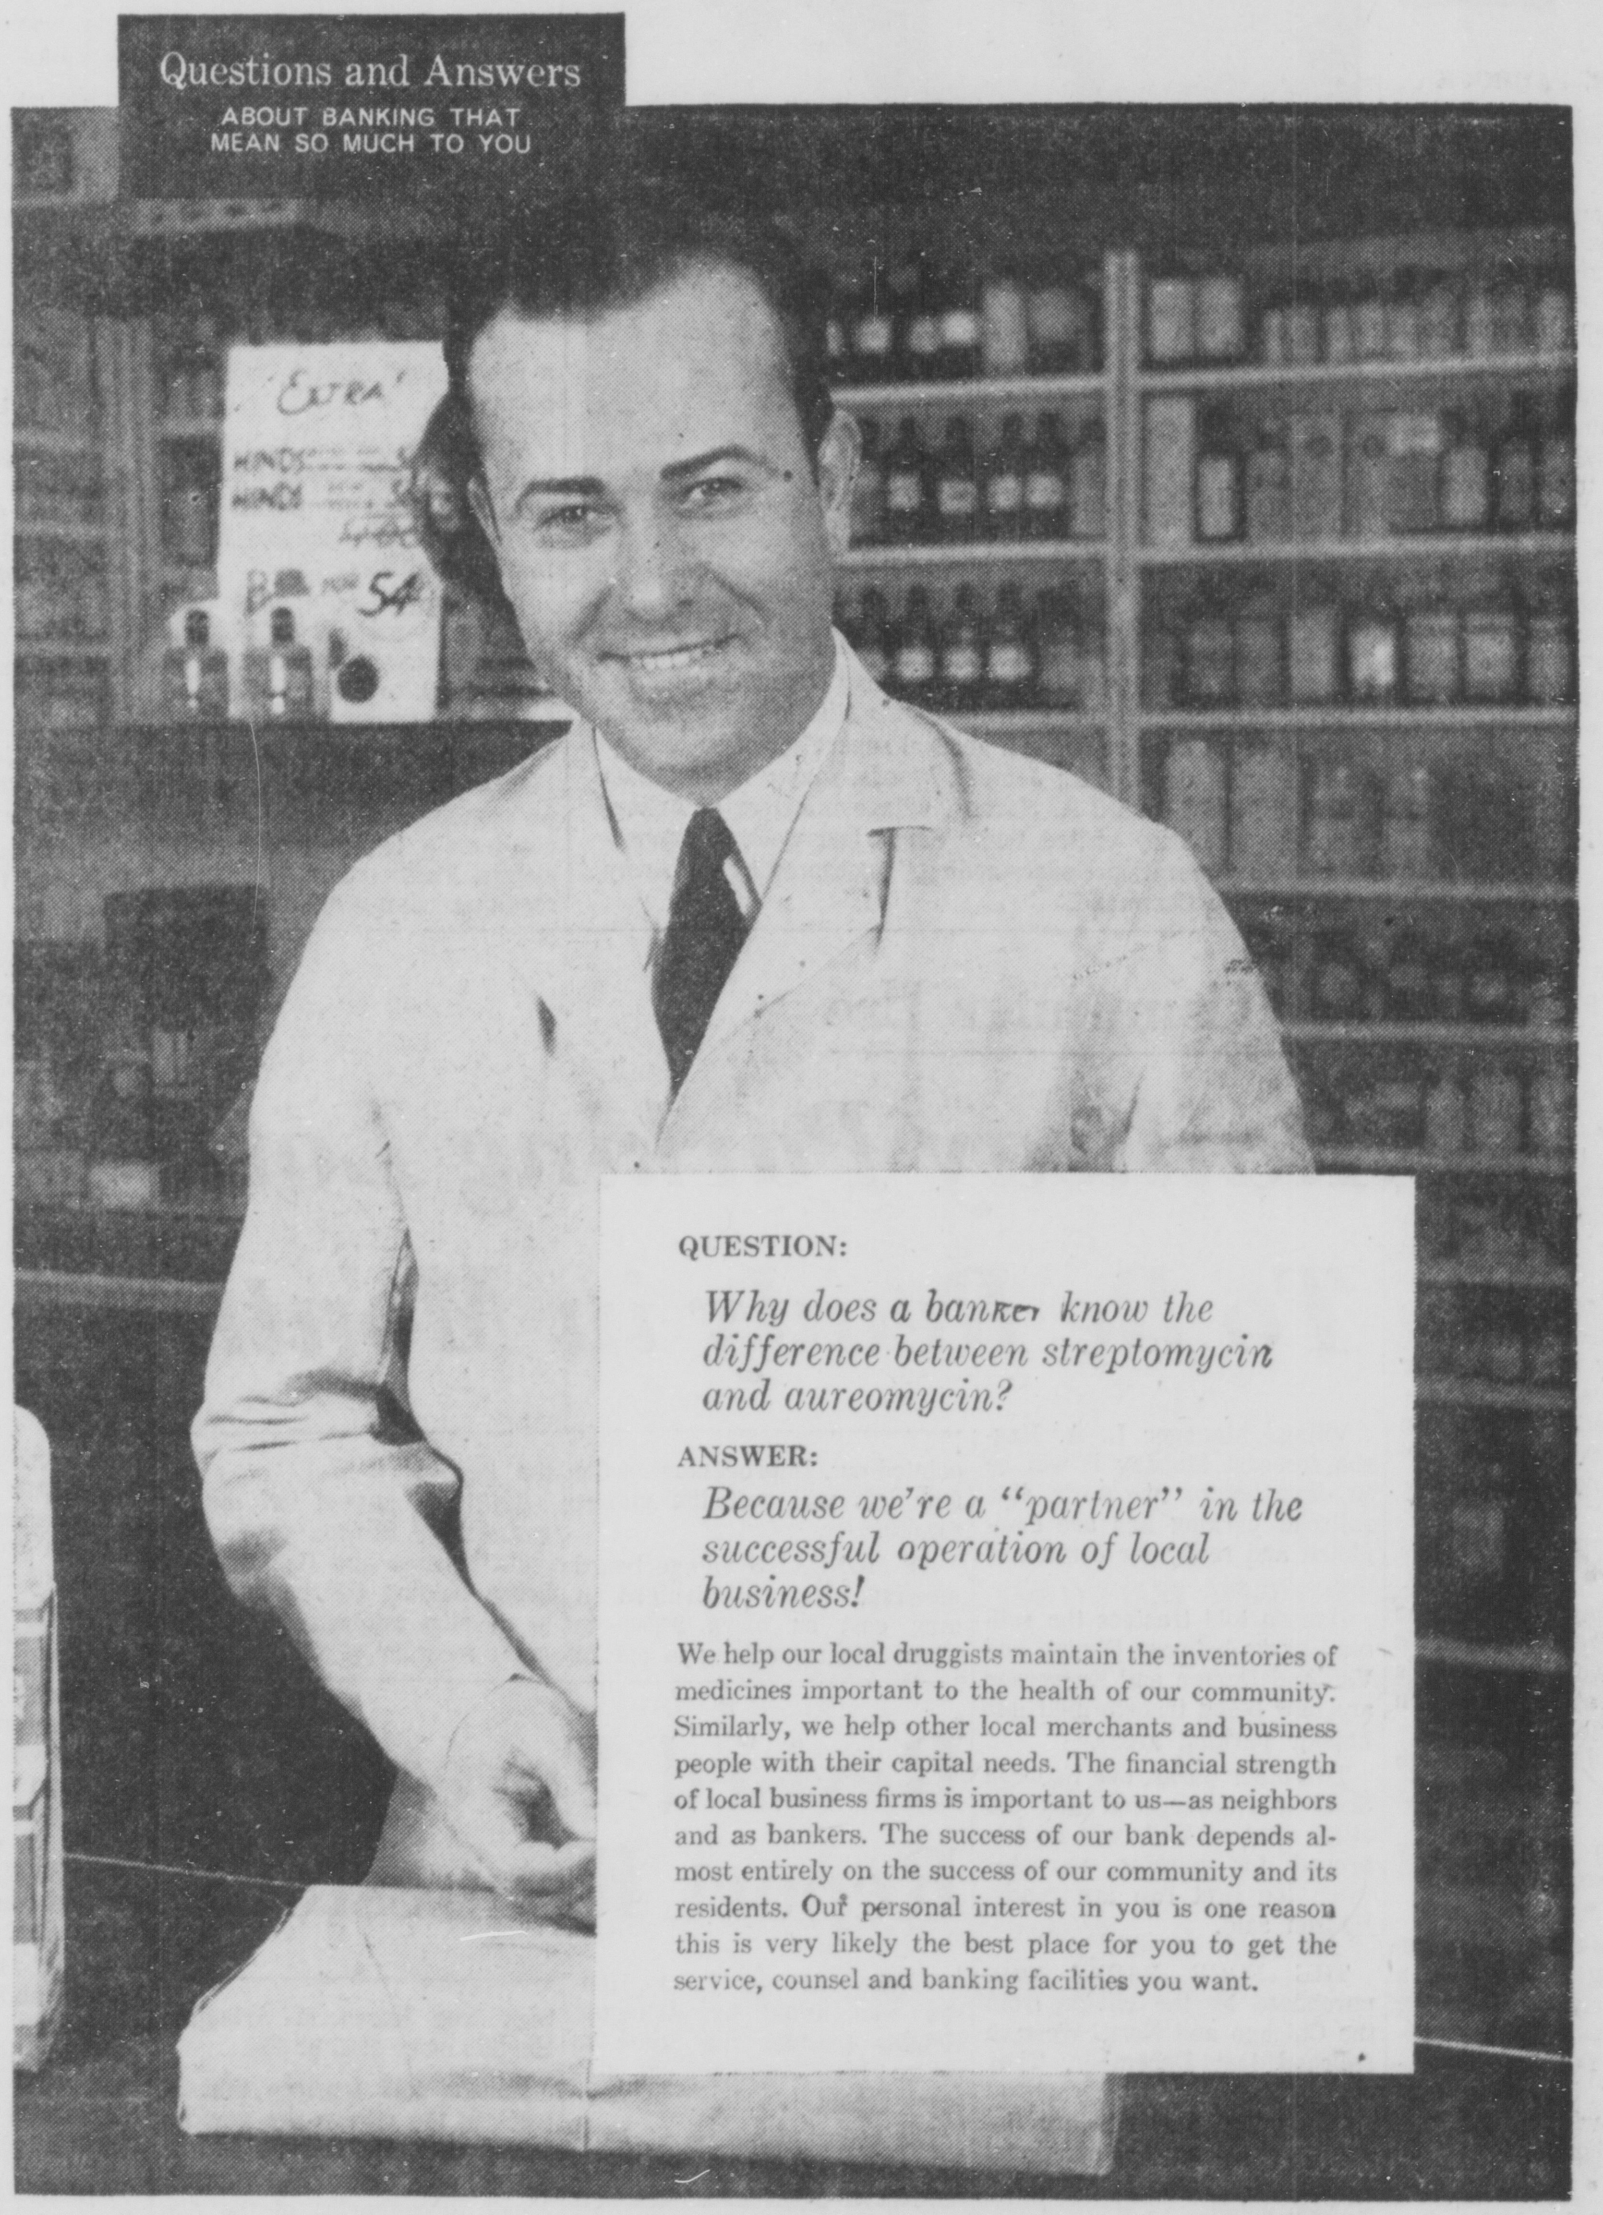
ABOUT BANKING THAT MEAN SO MUCH TO YOU



QUESTION:

Why does a banker know the difference between streptomycin and aureomycin?

ANSWER:

Because we're a "partner" in the successful operation of local business!

We help our local druggists maintain the inventories of medicines important to the health of our community. Similarly, we help other local merchants and business people with their capital needs. The financial strength of local business firms is important to us—as neighbors and as bankers. The success of our bank depends almost entirely on the success of our community and its residents. Our personal interest in you is one reason this is very likely the best place for you to get the service, counsel and banking facilities you want.

New Textbooks Await Grade School Pupils

New books by the thousands are on hand for students of Arlington Heights district 25 elementary schools this September.

The bright-cover new textbooks have been adopted for the district mathematics, science and music courses.

The mountain of new books includes more than 2,000 science texts, almost 2,400 arithmetic books and more than 5,000 music textbooks.

IN ADDITION, more than 5,500 new books in all subjects are ready for the 550 students in the former Wilson school district. District 25 is issuing new books to the Wilson students to coordinate their curriculum program with that of the balance of the school system.

SCIENCE IS LEARNING

PROUDLY DISPLAYING some of the new textbooks to be introduced in Arlington Heights grade schools this fall is William J. Fritsche, curriculum consultant. New approaches to teaching of science, arithmetic and music called for the thousands of new texts to be provided to the more than 5,000 students of the district.
olic church.

In order to match books used in the district, Wilson pupils will receive new books in health, music, science, math, language arts, penmanship, social studies and reading as well as a spelling workbook and dictionary.

Greatest change in textbooks is in the district arithmetic courses. Success of an experimental program in the new-approach mathematics technique during the past two years was the basis for the decision to revise the district-wide 'mathematics curriculum according to William J. Fritsche, curriculum consultant.

INCLUDED in the new mathematics program will be grades three, four, five and six. Similar programs for grades one, two, seven and eight are not available, Fritsche indicated.

Basic emphasis of the new mathematics program is an emphasis on the "why" of arithmetic rather than the mechanical processes of rote memory. The new method continues the use of reference objects, such as apples and pears, beyond the first few grades. "It avoids teaching abstract arithmetic too soon," Fritsche stated.

To point this out, Fritsche noted the new texts make more liberal use of pictures than standard arithmetic texts. More time is spent in explaining the number system. The new approach starts students thinking in terms of equations as early as third grade — a drastic change from the old arithmetic-teaching pattern.

The new science textbooks include problem-solving approach to science at a primary level. Experiments are a basic part of the problem-solving methods used. Books are highly illustrated, Fritsche said, with current science discoveries presented to students at an early age.

THE SCIENCE textbooks will be introduced at the first, second and third grades this year. Similar programs will be available for fourth and fifth grades during the 1962-63 school year when these grade levels will be added.

The music books, adopted for all students throughout the district, emphasize listening techniques, music appreciation, study of composers and introduction to ali types of music such as folk songs and modern compositions—all at an interest level of students in individual grades.

Final approval of new textbooks for the district climaxes a long investigation by a special study-review committee composed of a principal chairman, the director of instruction, curriculum consultant and a teacher from each grade level for which the study is being made.

The committee reviews the books in use as well as other elementary texts available. Judgment of the best book is based on basic educational philosophy of the district, needs of the school system and community, current educational information and book layout, readability and binding. Cost is not a factor, Fritsche stated, as most publishers' prices are competitive.

RECOMMENDATIONS of the committee are reviewed by the curriculum council which then suggests a single text for submission to the school board by the superintendent. Ultimate approval of all new textbooks lies with the school board.

Books are amortized through student book rental fees.

Obsolete books are returned to the district central headquarters where they are sorted by condition and sold to used-book dealers. (AF

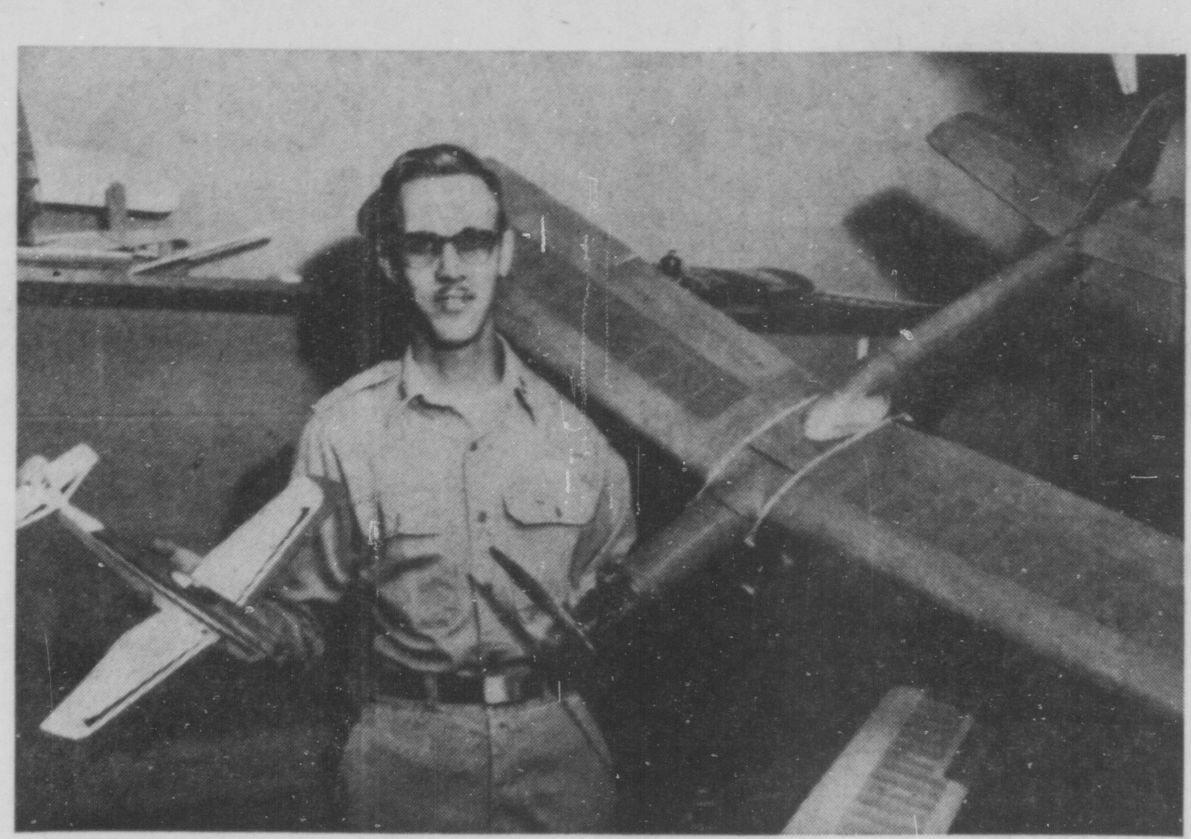
Model Aircraft Hobby Pays Dividends for GI Drummer



SPECIALIST RATHBURN is pictured at the 45th Artillery Brigade (Air Defense), Arlington Heights, where he has built both the planes he is holding. Rathburn has been offered a job with Jerry Ritz, a world champion model airplane flyer and model designer.

Specialist Four Larry Rathburn, a drummer in the 45th Artillery Brigade (Air Defense) drum and bugle corps, Arlington Heights, recently had his lifelong hobby of model aircraft building pay off.

He has been offered a job with Jerry Ritz, world champion Nordic Glider model flyer and designer of model airplanes.

Specialist Rathburn will build and experimentally fly the models that Ritz designs. Throughout his 10 years in the service, Rathburn has utilized post craft shops in California and Arlington Heights to further his own designs and construction.

He designed a "Noblette" kit airplane which was marketed in 1953.

"MOST OF MY work has been strictly for hobby," says Rathburn. "I seldom enter competitions.

"I mainly enjoy the actual construction of the planes, although I am familiar with aerodynamics through experience, and design my own models."

Rathburn, who lives at the O'Hare Field trailer park, often practices his hobby at home. Hobbies, however, are not his only interest. He has taken correspondence courses at Michigan State university and has almost enough credits for a master's degre

Rathburn met Jerry Ritz through his patronizing of a local hobby store. He builds his own radio control components for his planes and has entirely designed his own radio transmitter. It can control his planes as far away as a mile and bring them home safely.

He has already begun work for Ritz during his spare time, building a plane the designer has drawn up called "The Huntress," a radio controlled glider model. (AF

Annexation Petition Is Given Court

A petition to annex a 220-acre tract, located southwest of Arlington Heights, to the village has been presented to the County court.

The land is across from Northwest Community hospital, near the tollway.

Usually such a petition would be presented to the village.

According to Village Manager L. A. Hanson, some of the property owners have objected to the proposed annexation.

HANSON SAID the county will generally approve annexation if a majority of the property owners so wish. The village is often more restrictive when someone objects to a proposed annexation, Hanson said.

The hearing on the petition is scheduled for August 7 at 10 a.m. in the county court house building.

Report 91 Bikes Gone Since May 1

Arlington Heights boys and girls, 91 of them in all, hiked instead of biked for a portion of the time since May 1.

The Arlington Heights police blotter shows that during the seven week period since May 1, 91 bikes were reported stolen.

POLICE RECORDS show that four of the five bikes that were stolen did not have a village bicycle license. Local police remind residents that village bicycles can be licensed for 50c each.

Licensing includes a check of the brakes, wheels, lights, reflectors, signal devices, and general condition of the youngster's bicycles.

Schaumburg Residents Purchase FM Station

Bob Atcher, long-time radio master of ceremonies and entertainer, and Thomas Hogan, both of Schaumburg village, purchased the FM radio station WNWC of Arlington Heights.

The two bought 100 per cent of the stock of the Northwest Suburban Broadcasters, Inc., the corporation which owns the station.

The radio station is the only one serving the northwest suburban community. The station is at 2108 N. State rd. The station's range is as far north as Wisconsin, as far west as Elgin, and as far south as Downers Grove.

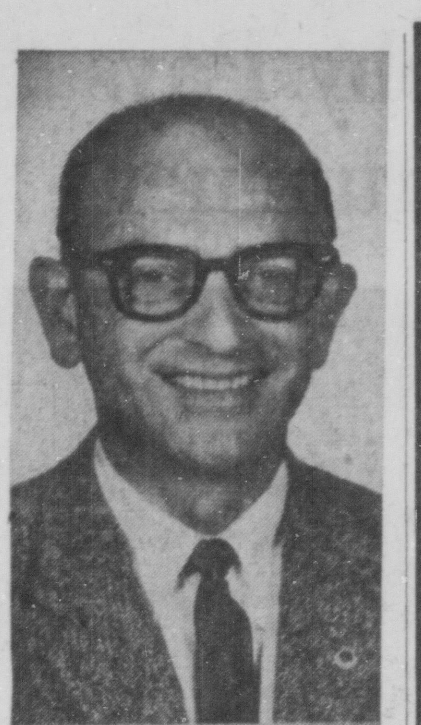
Bob Atcher, 47, said the "number one step is to improve the station's programming. Then, let the people know the station is their station and is serving the community."

THE STATION broadcasts from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. However, it does have a license to broadcast for 24 hours.

Atcher said that at some future date, the programming time may be increased.

He said he hopes the station's programming will include weather, news, and civic activity shows.

The station will broadcast, according to Atcher, more classical and show music from New York than it has in the past.



BOB ATCHER

Atcher stressed that the station will try to offer "more and more service to the people."

ATCHER HAS been in radio and television for 33 years. He started as a youngster. He has been a singer, master-of-ceremonies, musician, producer, director, and in sales for radio. He was on Chicago television for eight years. He appeared on all four commercial stations.

He is best known as the producer, director, and master-of-ceremonies of the National Barn Dance.

Atcher is the village president of Schaumburg. He was elected in 1959.

Thomas Hogan is a division manager of Electrolux corporation. (B8

45 Paddock Area Drivers Affected

In the past week, 45 Paddock area drivers were affected by action of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier in respect to revocation and suspensions of licenses.

Despite the large number, only one of these drivers had his license revoked. Harold I. Haugen, 103 S. Dryden st., Arlington Heights, was driving while intoxicated.

SUSPENSIONS for three violations made up 36 of the 45 affected. Arlington Heights residents in this category were Thomas A. Bergstrom, 1007 N. Walnut; Alan D. Blum, 615 S. Evergreen; Tony E. Fetherling, 8 Poplar; Sue A. Miller, 2501 Windy lane; Jan B. Oliver, 202 N. State; Andrew P. Sundling, 3610 Buffalo Grove; Thomas Thackery, 612 S. Bristol lane; Mike N. Raycevich, 205 S. Dryden; Ronald F. Vor Broker, 1500 E. Euclid ave.; and Ronald R. Weinrich, 825 S. Vail.

Others were Robert F. Mason, 621 Albion lane, Michael V. Weber, 719 S. WeGo tr., and Joan C. Schreicer, 1112 N. Elmhurst, all of Mount Prospect; and Palatine residents Kenneth W. Paulson, 20 S. Elmwood, Richard O. Flynn, 1440 Joan dr., Jack E. Betz, 2306 Sunset dr., and John A. Thompson, 14 E. Fairfax.

Schaumburg Residents Purchase FM Station

Bob Atcher, long-time radio master of ceremonies and entertainer, and Thomas Hogan, both of Schaumburg village, purchased the FM radio station WNWC of Arlington Heights.

The two bought 100 per cent of the stock of the Northwest Suburban Broadcasters, Inc., the corporation which owns the station.

The radio station is the only one serving the northwest suburban community. The station is at 2108 N. State rd. The station's range is as far north as Wisconsin, as far west as Elgin, and as far south as Downers Grove.

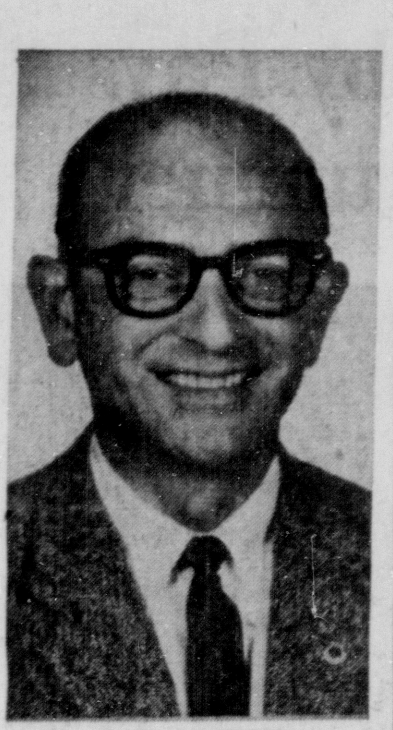
Bob Atcher, 47, said the "number one step is to improve the station's programming. Then, let the people know the station is their station and is serving the community."

THE STATION broadcasts from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. However, it does have a license to broadcast for 24 hours.

Atcher said that at some future date, the programming time may be increased.

He said he hopes the station's programming will include weather, news, and civic activity shows.

The station will broadcast, according to Atcher, more classical and show music from New York than it has in the past.



BOB ATCHER

Atcher stressed that the station will try to offer "more and more service to the people."

ATCHER HAS been in radio and television for 33 years. He started as a youngster. He has been a singer, master-of-ceremonies, musician, producer, director, and in sales for radio. He was on Chicago television for eight years. He appeared on all four commercial stations.

He is best known as the producer, director, and master-of-ceremonies of the National Barn Dance.

Atcher is the village president of Schaumburg. He was elected in 1959.

Thomas Hogan is a division manager of Electrolux corporation. (B8

45 Paddock Area Drivers Affected

In the past week, 45 Paddock area drivers were affected by action of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier in respect to revocation and suspensions of licenses.

Despite the large number, only one of these drivers had his license revoked. Harold I. Haugen, 103 S. Dryden st., Arlington Heights, was driving while intoxicated.

SUSPENSIONS for three violations made up 36 of the 45 affected. Arlington Heights residents in this category were Thomas A. Bergstrom, 1007 N. Walnut; Alan D. Blum, 615 S. Evergreen; Tony E. Fetherling, 8 Poplar; Sue A. Miller, 2501 Windy lane; Jan B. Oliver, 202 N. State; Andrew P. Sundling, 3610 Buffalo Grove; Thomas Thackery, 612 S. Bristol lane; Mike N. Raycevich, 205 S. Dryden; Ronald F. Vor Broker, 1500 E. Euclid ave.; and Ronald R. Weinrich, 825 S. Vail.

Others were Robert F. Mason, 621 Albion lane, Michael V. Weber, 719 S. WeGo tr., and Joan C. Schreicer, 1112 N. Elmhurst, all of Mount Prospect; and Palatine residents Kenneth W. Paulson, 20 S. Northwest Area Mishaps

Failure to Yield Is Blamed for Accident

Failure to yield right of way and a disregard of traffic signals accounted for accidents on the northwest suburban highways.

On July 17, at 6 p. m., Clemente Garcia, 36, of 941 Higgins rd., Elk Grove, was headed north on Illinois 62, three miles west of Illinois 83.

Facing south and preparing to make a left turn was Carl L. Gunlogson, 23, of 1230 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

According to state police, Gunlogson cut in front of Garcia's car, failing to yield right of way and resulting in the first car striking the second.

INJURED WERE Garcia and Ruth Gunlogson, 34, both of whom were taken to the Northwest Community hospital. Damage to the first car was listed as $700; to the second, as $500.

Gunlogson was charged with failure to yield right of way.

In a second accident, which occurred at 4:45 p. m. July 19, a car driven by James Archer, 63, of RR1, Box 104, Roselle, stopped for a stop sign on Illinois 62 at Roselle road, two miles west of Illinois 53.

Archer then proceeded directly into the path of a car driven by Gladys M. Wehr, 49, of 337 Box, RR 2 Sutton, Barrington.

The second vehicle spun around and struck the front end of a third car, driven by Judith S. Burley, 19, of 750 Coolidge, Palatine.

Injured were drivers of the first two cars, both of whom were taken to Northwest Community hospital. Damage to the first car was listed as $200; to the second, $150, and to the third, $75.

Archer was charged with failure to yield.

IN A THIRD accident at 10:20 p. m. on July 19, Frank J. Battista, 33, of 5010 Lee st., Skokie, was westbound on U. S. 14, a mile west of Illinois 21.

According to state police, he was straddling two lanes, and a car driven by Richard Hauff, 24, of 1000 Lake Shore, flashed light signals at Battista to move to the right.

When Hauff attempted to pass Battista on the right, his car struck the other's on the right rear bumper and went into the ditch.

INJURED IN AN AUTO accident Wednesday night, July 19 was Dick Hauff, former owner of Mount Prospect country club, pictured above in his wrecked car. He was taken to Lutheran General hospital. The accident occurred on Dempster st., one mile west of Milwaukee ave. in Maine township. The other car was driven by Frank J. Battista, 33, of Skokie. There were no other injuries.

Hauff was injured and taken to the Lutheran General hospital. Neither Battista nor a passenger in his car, John S. Fillipe, 33, of 8421 N. Latrobe, Skokie, were injured.

Damage to the Hauff car was listed as $400. There was no recorded damage to the Battista car. Hauff was charged with illegal passing.

AN UNIDENTIFIED car was named as the cause of another accident, the victim of which was Sol E. Burroughs, 22, of 9451 Franklin ave., Franklin Park.

The mishap occurred at 2:20 p. m. July 21 on Illinois 72 at Landmeier road, three miles west of U. S. 45.

State police said that Burroughs told them the unidentified driver had disobeyed a stop sign, and when Burroughs attempted to avoid striking his car, his own vehicle went into a spin and struck a tree.

Burroughs, who was injured, was taken to Northwest Community hospital. Damage to his car was listed as $300.

On Wilke road, a mile and a half south of Illinois 68 at U. S. 12, another accident occurred at 7:30 p. m. on July 22.

Harry Somogyi, 39, of 2806 School dr., Rolling Meadows, was turning left, when a car driven by Thaddeus H. Bachta, 49, of 5485 N. Octavia, Chicago, attempting to go straight, struck the first car.

Bachta's car then struck a third vehicle, driven by Daniel Hamilton, 19, of RR3, Box 233, Palatine, who was trying to avoid a collision.

INJURED WAS Hamilton, who was taken to Northwest Community hospital. Passengers in Somogyi's car were: John Somogyi, 4; Dorothy, 37; Robert, 6, and Timothy, 2. A passenger in the Bachta car was Irene Bachta, 52.

Damage to the Hamilton car was listed as $400; to the Somogyi car, $200, and to the Bachta car, $400. Bachta was charged with following too closely.

In another accident, which occurred at 5 p. m. on July 22, Arthur Zacharias, 60, of 3414 Medill, Chicago, told state police his vision was blocked by traffic and he disobeyed a red light.

THIS HAPPENED on U. S. 45 at Illinois 194. Zacharias' vehicle struck another car, driven by Thomas P. Rooney, 23, of 4125 Prairie, Schiller Park.

Injured was a passenger in Zacharias' car, Frieda Zacharias, 75, who was taken to Resurrection hospital. Damage to the Rooney car was listed as $300, and to the Zacharias car as $300.

Zacharias was charged with disobeying a traffic signal device.

On Wilke road, a mile and a half south of Illinois 68 at U. S. 12, another accident occurred at 7:30 p. m. on July 22.

Harry Somogyi, 39, of 2806 School dr., Rolling Meadows, was turning left, when a car driven by Thaddeus H. Bachta, 49, of 5485 N. Octavia, Chicago, attempting to go straight, struck the first car.

Bachta's car then struck a third vehicle, driven by Daniel Hamilton, 19, of RR3, Box 233, Palatine, who was trying to avoid a collision.

INJURED WAS Hamilton, who was taken to Northwest Community hospital. Passengers in Somogyi's car were: John Somogyi, 4; Dorothy, 37; Robert, 6, and Timothy, 2. A passenger in the Bachta car was Irene Bachta, 52.

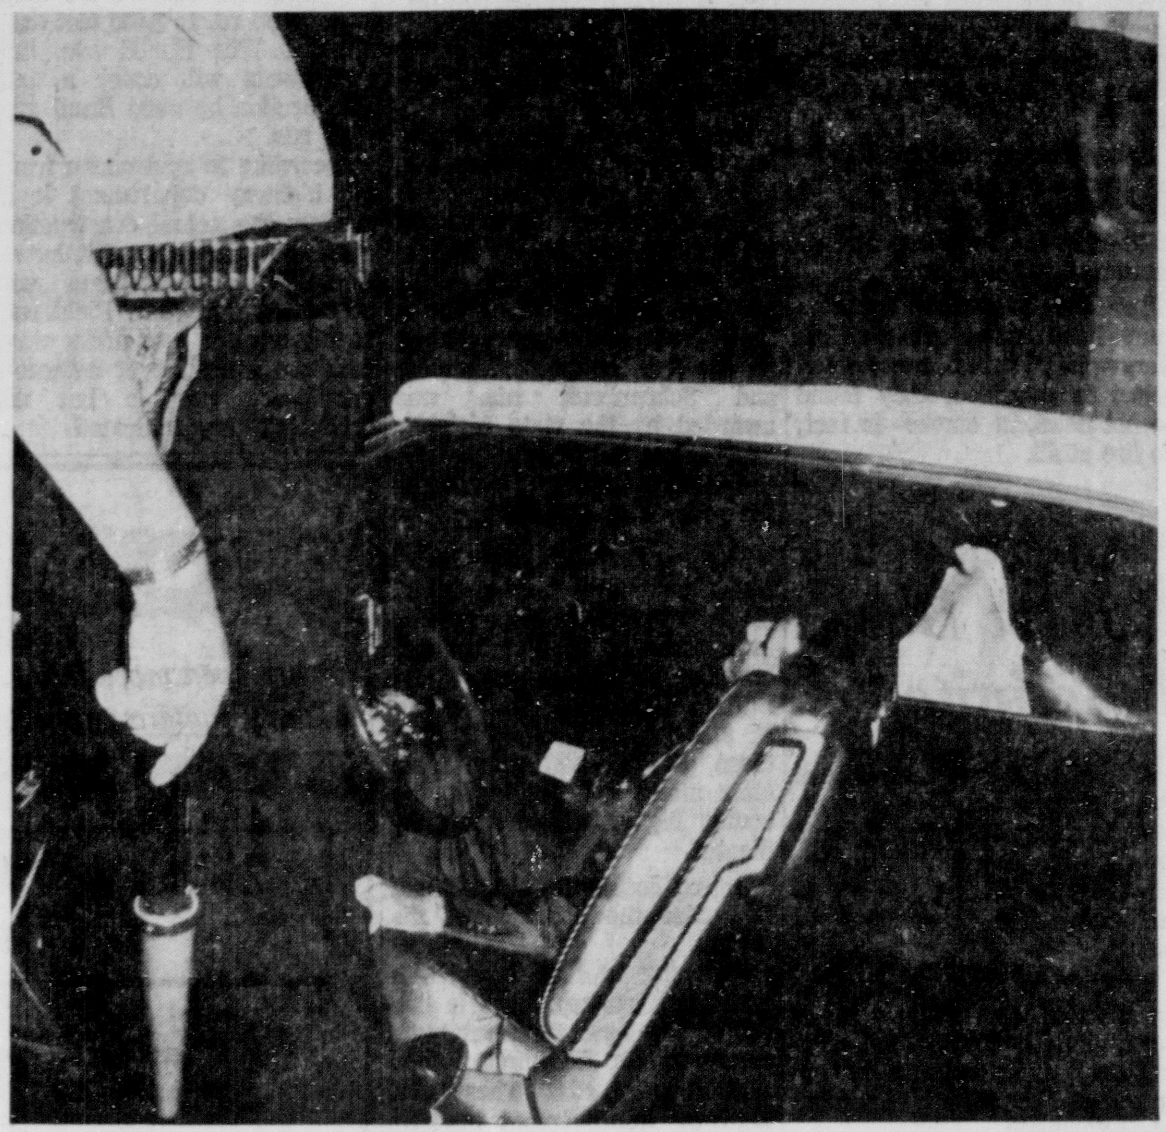
Damage to the Hamilton car was listed as $400; to the Somogyi car, $200, and to the Bachta car, $400. Bachta was charged with following too closely.

In another accident, which occurred at 5 p. m. on July 22, Arthur Zacharias, 60, of 3414 Medill, Chicago, told state police his vision was blocked by traffic and he disobeyed a red light.

THIS HAPPENED on U. S. 45 at Illinois 194. Zacharias' vehicle struck another car, driven by Thomas P. Rooney, 23, of 4125 Prairie, Schiller Park.

Injured was a passenger in Zacharias' car, Frieda Zacharias, 75, who was taken to Resurrection hospital. Damage to the Rooney car was listed as $300, and to the Zacharias car as $300.

Zacharias was charged with disobeying a traffic signal device.



INJURED IN AN AUTO accident Wednesday night, July 19 was Dick Hauff, former owner of Mount Prospect country club, pictured above in his wrecked car. He was taken to Lutheran General hospital. The accident occurred on Dempster st., one mile west of Milwaukee ave. in Maine township. The other car was driven by Frank J. Battista, 33, of Skokie. There were no other injuries.

Judge Continues 2 Exposure Cases

Police Magistrate Robert C. Buckley last week continued two cases involving charges of indecent exposure.

In one, a 25-year-old Arlington Heights man has been charged with exposing himself to an 16-year-old girl at Oakton st. and State rd. June 24.

THE PROSECUTION told Buckley the complaining witness has suffered a nervous breakdown and will be unable to testify until later.

Buckley continued the July 19 hearing for a month, until the prosecution either brings the witness to court or gets additional information.

The defendant has denied the charge. However, the alleged victim has identified the man.

The other case involves a Palatine youth, 17, who has been charged with exposing himself to an Arlington Heights girl July 3.

DEFENDING attorney Eugene Kelly of Palatine was involved in a hearing at another court and was unable to represent the defendant here July 19.

Buckley continued the hearing until August 16.

According to Arlington Heights Police Chief L. W. Calderwood, the youth admitted exposing himself but refused to sign a statement. (AF

Dibble Is New Library Board Prexy

The trustees of the Arlington Heights Memorial library at the monthly meeting this week elected Robert D. Dibble as board president.

Dibble will replace retiring president Paul E. Patrick. Patrick will continue as trustee.

Mrs. W. M. Hubbard was elected secretary, and Robert Blackburn treasurer. Mrs. Robert M. Wallace was appointed as a director. The other director is Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson. (AF

Chatty Pup Pays Call At Exchange

Employees of the Arlington Heights telephone exchange at Sigwalt and Vail sts, suspected that maybe dogs really do talk.

But they didn't wait around to see if their theory was true on July 24. They promptly called police in the afternoon to report that a small brown and white spaniel was cavorting through their offices.

The spaniel is presently being held "incommunicado" in the animal hospital awaiting the phone call of his master.

Subdivision Tax Report Is Delayed

A report recommending procedure for eliminating the double fire tax being paid by residents of Arlington Heights' Hasbrook subdivision has been delayed.

The report is to be prepared by Jack M. Siegel, village attorney.

VILLAGE Manager L. A. Hanson told the Herald this week the report is being delayed until he and Siegel can compile data pertinent to the subdivision's tax plight.

Since the subdivision was annexed to Arlington Heights two years ago, residents have been paying taxes to the Palatine Rural Fire Protection district and to Arlington Heights.

Vote Registration Plan Parley Tuesday

The Arlington Heights League of Women Voters will conduct a reregistration planning meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn. building.

In order to clear voter registration records and bring them up-to-date, all registration books will be destroyed in Cook county as of September 15.

All voters will be required to register or reregister on and after that date in order to be able to vote in the 1962 elections.

PROMINENT citizens and representatives of all Arlington Heights organizations have been invited to attend the meeting Aug. 1, at which the League of Women Voters will present plans for its participation in the reregistration drive.

Mrs. Russell Gardner, league registration chairman, and Mrs. Louis Nye, president of the league, are cooperating with the non-partisan Reregistration Co-ordinating Committee for Wheeling Township, the clearing house for all organizations working to inform and assist citizens with voter registration.

All interested citizens are welcome to attend, and may call Mrs. Gardner, CL 9-2757, for further information about the meeting or about voter registration.

'Hot News' Turns into False Alarm

Tom Henry, 21, of 909 W. Campbell, suspected that someone in the Paddock Publications offices had a hot news item on July 22.

Henry noticed smoke "billowing from the rear of Paddock's offices" on Saturday, July 22, at 7:40 in the morning, and so he turned in the alarm.

But the suspected reporter must have found out that his story was all wet, because when police investigated, they found no hot news, no smoke—in fact, no fire at all.

Annexation Report Date Indefinite

Melvin L. Kurtz, chairman of the village annexation committee, advised Arlington Heights trustees Monday that it is "impossible" to predict when a final committee report will be ready.

Kurtz said the 14-member committee has held two meetings, divided into 11 sub-committees, and determined to meet on the second Thursday of each month.

He observed the program of studying possibilities of annexing land to the village has a good start, but that it is not clear when a final report can be made. (AF

County to Improve Three Roads Here

Palatine, Elmhurst, Euclid and Foundry roads will all have a "face lifting" according to information revealed last week before the county board of commissioners.

The proposed improvements for the four roads was contained in a report from Cook County Highway Superintendent William Mortimer.

Ready for immediate work are two sections of Palatine rd. A contract for improvement of the rd. between Wheeling and Schoenbeck rds. was awarded by the state highway department to Contracting Materials company, low bidder on the project at $738,733.75.

THE CONTRACTING Materials company also received the contract from the state for improvements to Palatine rd. between Fernandez ave. and Buffalo Grove rd. with a bid of $730,301.80. Money for both these projects will come from state motor fuel tax funds, the county highway department indicated.

Actual construction work will be under the direction of the county.

Widening to four lanes with additional left-turn bays is listed in the new road improvements set for Elmhurst, Euclid and Foundry rds. These new highway improvement projects were approved by the county board Tuesday.

THE IIMPROVEMENTS will cover a two-mile section of Elmhurst rd. between Foundry and Palatine rds. The Foundry rd. work will run for .38 mile from Rand rd. to 2,000 feet east of Rand. The Euclid ave. improvements will cover a 1.92 mile section between Rand and Wolf rds.

According to spokesmen from the highway department it is unlikely the actual construction work on the new Elmhurst-Euclid-Foundry program will be started this year. Field surveying work is now under way, with the awarding of contracts this year "possible but not probable" they indicated.

Delinquent Assessment List Filed

Village Attorney Jack M. Siegel this week filed with the county court a list of Arlington Heights property owners who are delinquent in payments on special assessment projects.

Unless payments are settled immediately, village officials point out, the court will authorize the county collector to begin tax foreclosure proceedings.

Siegel's filing involved 15 properties, some owned locally and others under absentee ownership. Payments were due January 2.

Home Owner Groups Exert Influence in Communities

By JOHN REDDY

When residents of Winston Park Northwest, a subdivision on Palatine's east side, went to their front doors for the Sunday paper recently, they found a handbill informing them of the deadline for viewing property valuations in the assessor's office.

The next day, the assessor's office in the Cook county building was packed with Winston home owners. For county employees it was a first hand experience of the impact a well-organized home owner's association can have.

For the home owners, it was an example of the service that more and more residents are finding themselves depending on.

NOTICE THAT the property valuations would be on display had been buried in the legals of Metropolitan papers. And the community paper failed to provide warning.

The handbill was duplicated Saturday and seven sub-teenagers scurried through their pre-planned routes making the deliveries.

While the Winston group is probably one of the most efficient home-owner groups in the northwest suburban area, it is by no means the only one that serves its members well.

Every community has one, and many have several, home owner associations. Majority of the associations were created to cope with specific situations in which there was a common interest.

GENERALLY the associations are formed to deal with civic affairs. When they have resolved their problems they may either lie dormant until new issues rise or continue to serve as "watchdogs."

Many develop social functions. Some involve themselves in politics, others divorce themselves completly from organized partisan activities.

But regardless of the role the organizations choose for themselves, one thing is certain—home owner associations exercise an influence in their community.

Various village officials admit the voices of these groups do not go unheard. Perhaps the greatest benefit resulting from the appearance of the associations on the community scene is the interest they generate in municipal affairs.

THE WINSTON subdivision had the greatest turnout for last April's general election for village officers, 85 per cent of the home-owners belonging to the association.

And officers of other associations in the northwest area are aware that their activities make it easier for various other campaigns to get under way. The working relationship of association members is a factor making other organizing efforts easier.

The Wheeling United organization, 50 strong with 20 hard-core members shouldering much of the activity and intending to represent the interest of every registered voter in the village, is headed by Rudolf Johnson.

FORMED IN 1960, Wheeling United functions primarily as a forum, disseminating public terest in local affairs.

Fearless of controversial issues, the organization will "engage in politics or any other activity we feel would be in the village benefit," Johnson declared. Wheeling United backed the victorious Planned Progress party in the last village election.

THE HOFFMAN Estates Home Owners' Association, according to president Ralph Zimnerman, lapsed into relative inactivity after the village incorporated. It lies dormant, prepared to rise when prodded by motivating issues.

Zimnerman said most of the members in the five-year-old organization feel the village government now does what it attempted to do before incorporation.

Wife of Walter Kellin, president of established Stonegate Home Owners Association in Arlington Heights, said the organization strives for the betterment of the community and acts as a "clearing house for gripes."

Donald Burdick, president of the Arlington Heights Park Manor association, described the primary function of his organization as "research." "We were concerned about the future disposition of urban development plans," Burdick explained.

NOW THE organization is working with the village to provide a mass improvement project that is "tailored to fit our pocketbooks."

Howard Kutz, president of the Winston group, said "we try not to divorce ourselves from Palatine, but to become a part of Palatine."

Attendance of the Winston association averages between 60 and 400 at the semi-annual meetings. Dues for this group is $2, an additional $2 being self-imposed to provide the community's own mosquito abatement program.

KUTZ, FOLLOWING in the steps of John Naples and Richard Mugalian, previous presidents, cited the following as accomplishments of the three-year-old operation:

—Formation of the mosquito abatement program;

—formation of bowling, softball, ladies golf and bridge tournaments that are now self sustained;

—formation of a park committee that is striving to expedite development of planned park site in the area;

—formation of a United Fund which influenced adoption of village-wide united appeal program formed this year;

—provides annual picnic and several dances a year;

—provides Christmas program for children, complete with Santa Claus and candy-filled stockings.

THE ORGANIZATION currently is making a survey for a private swimming pool and is taking steps to create a Junior Achievement program. It is fighting present relocation plans for route 53 along its eastern boundary. Success of the programs can be measured by the sustained membership, Naples and Kutz pointed out.

Most of the other area associations also are providing recreational and social programs. But if this indicates they are getting soft, just start rezoning land around the area they serve and undoubtedly there'll be some strong voices raised.

If home-owner groups are not a new phenomenon in community life they are at least a growing one.

Home Owner Groups Exert Influence in Communities

By JOHN REDDY

When residents of Winston Park Northwest, a subdivision on Palatine's east side, went to their front doors for the Sunday paper recently, they found a handbill informing them of the deadline for viewing property valuations in the assessor's office.

The next day, the assessor's office in the Cook county building was packed with Winston home owners. For county employees it was a first hand experience of the impact a well-organized home owner's association can have.

For the home owners, it was an example of the service that more and more residents are finding themselves depending on.

NOTICE THAT the property valuations would be on display had been buried in the legals of Metropolitan papers. And the community paper failed to provide warning.

The handbill was duplicated Saturday and seven sub-teenagers scurried through their pre-planned routes making the deliveries.

While the Winston group is probably one of the most efficient home-owner groups in the northwest suburban area, it is by no means the only one that serves its members well.

Every community has one, and many have several, home owner associations. Majority of the associations were created to cope with specific situations in which there was a common interest.

GENERALLY the associations are formed to deal with civic affairs. When they have resolved their problems they may either lie dormant until new issues rise or continue to serve as "watchdogs."

Schedule Benefit Performances of Spring Operetta

Music-on-Stage will present two benefit performances of their spring production, "Rose-Marie," at Leyden West high school, September 15 and 16.

Proceeds of the performances will benefit the planned Leyden Community hospital and are being jointly sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital and the Leyden Lions.

LEAD PARTS in the colorful musical, which received favorable critical comment from the Herald reviewer who saw the April presentation by Music-on-Stage, has the following suburbanites in lead roles: Miss Judith Van Arsdall, Melrose Park; Bob Altergott, Mundelein; Edward M. Joyce, Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wassmer, Palatine; Mrs. Arnold E. Cassel, Mt. Prospect; George Elgh, Prospect Heights; Mrs. John L. Lea, Mt. Prospect; A. Robert Topel, Franklin Park; Alfred Loll, Arlington Heights; and Russell T. Ryan, Hawthorne Woods.

Featured dancers are: Mrs. James Colmer, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Henry Vandenboom, Wheeling; David Almblad and Wendell Christine, Arlington Heights.

DIRECTING the production is William Cotsakis Jr., Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Cotsakis is the piano accompanist. Orchestral accompaniment is also furnished by about 15 northwest area musicians.

After the benefit performances, Music-on-Stage will get into full swing preparing for their 1962 production of Romberg's ever popular "New Moon."

First Policy Holder Becomes First User

An Arlington Heights resident recently scored his second "first" in connection with the new Paddock Publications insurance service.

Arthur Jaques, 51, of 420 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, early this month became the first suburbanite to take out a policy. His wife registered the entire family July 3.

Five days later he became the first resident to use the policy.

Jaques was tieing his boat to a dock at West Lake, in the Chain of Lakes area, when he slipped on the metal dock.

THE RESULT was a nasty gash and a possible infection.

This week Jaques, the father of two children, received a reimbursement from the Paddock Publications policy for first aid and x-ray expenses.

Honest, it wasn't planned that way.

Paddock Publications first offered the service to its subscribers June 29.

The policy, underwritten by The Old Republic Life Insurance co. of Chicago, provides "around-the-clock" and "around-the-calendar" protection.

IT COVERS every conceivable type of accident, from a fatal injury to a bruise. There is no age limit and the policy is issued without a medical examination.

Cost for an individual policy for each person is $5 per year plus a first-year-only registration fee of $1.

Present Paddock Publications subscribers and each member of the family living at the same address are automatically eligible to apply for a policy.

Applications can be made at the newspaper's main office, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

Amateur Dog Show At Plaza Saturday

Saturday, July 29, is "dog day" at the Mount Prospect Plaza when the canines of Mount Prospect and the surrounding area will be "displayed" starting at 10 a.m.

At this time, the Mount Prospect Plaza, in conjunction with the Quaker Oats co., is sponsoring a kids amateur dog show.

ANY CHILD can enter any kind of dog. Categories to be judged include best costumed dog, largest dog, smallest dog and best trick dog. No pedigree or formal training is necessary. Every contestant will receive a prize. Entry blanks may be obtained at any store in Mount Prospect Plaza.

Best of show winner will receive a giant trophy. In addition, there will be gold and silver loving cups, "T" shirts, ribbons and many other prizes. Every dog which brings his master will get a can of Ken-L-Ration. A dog training book will also be provided so that the young owners can brush up, if necessary, on their dogs' manners. (B8

Fractures Set 'Style' for Emergency Room Caseloads

By KAY BLACKWOOD

Setting the new "fall" styles a little early this year were several area residents who received fractures. This type of accident was second only to automobile accidents which accounted for 17 of the 41 cases treated in the emergency room of Northwest Community hospital last week.

Seven-year-old Nancy Nieman of Rolling Meadows fell off of a porch; Tommy Sward, 8, and Jean Ostrom, 8, factured their arms when they fell from swings; 9-year-old Donna Winters of Arlington Heights fell while roller skating; and a 7-year-old Rolling Meadows girl, Victoria Friszt, is in traction following her bicycle mishap.

OTHERS IN THIS category were Charles Foley of Des Plaines who was admitted after he fell over a cement wall; 16-year-old Judith Young, 195 Clyde, Palatine, who sprained her ankle falling down the stairs; Mrs. Emma Patti, 1512 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, who fell from a ladder; 4-year-old Larry Werdell of Hoffman Estates who fell on a glass bottle, and another 4-year-old Hoffman Estates youngster who fell from a picnic table.

An accident at Devon and route 83 July 21 injured four people, including an Oak Park resident, John Martin who was transferred to West Suburban hospital. Mrs. Grace Wawak, Ralph Hopkins and Elmer Wawak, all of Villa Park, were discharged.

The only stomach washings this week were undergone by 3-year-old Doreen and 2-year-old Richard Muller Jr., who ate aspirin, and Margaret Hauser, 204 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, who possibly drank paint thinner.

James Valkenaar, 8, 220 S. Phelps, Arlington Heights, received a skull fracture when he was hit by an auto on Phelps ave.

A ROSELLE resident, Robert Behar, and Mrs. Joanne Olen of Mount Prospect were both released following a traffic accident on Campbell st. in Rolling Meadows. Injured in another accident were Joseph Archer of Roselle and Mrs. Gladys Wher of Barrington.

Accidents while at work caused treatment for Gordon Johnson of Chicago and Edward Berchtold, 1322 Reynolds dr., Palatine. In addition, Nanette Selleck, 640 N. Salem, Arlington Heights, cut her thumb on a lawn mower. Her injury required surgery.

Sam Burnoughs of Franklin Park was discharged after his accident at Higgins rd. and Landmeier rd. July 21. Also involved in an automobile accident, this time at Rand and Chestnut in Arlington Heights, was Mrs. Helen Strauss of Palatine.

Possible head injuries were the result of an automobile accident for Donald Pesceone of Chicago. Mrs. Pesceone, involved in the same accident, was examined and released.
Palatine.

STILL IN THE hospital after being hit by a car on the tollway is a Chicago resident, Raymond Noel.

Joseph Urbanowica of Des Plaines received treatment for lacerations following an automobile accident on Route 72. In another accident, Ruth Garcia, 941 Higgins, Elk Grove Village was injured. Arthur Wenger of Chicago received facial lacerations and bruises in an auto accident at Euclid and Route 12.

While doing gymnastics, an Arlington Heights youth, 16-year-old Robert Lantz, fractured his arm.

WHILE HIS MOTHER was cutting watermelon, 4-year-old Ronald Nelzer of Arlington Heights got in the way. He was treated for a cut. A Rolling Meadows youngster, 6-year-old Patrick Earley was admitted for observation after falling from a moving truck.

Other automobile accident victims were Harold Carlson, injured at Routes 72 and 83, and 19-year-old Daniel Hamilton of Palatine, who was injured at Route 10 and Wilke rd.

Homeless Children Need Foster Homes

Two hundred foster homes are urgently needed by the children's division, Cook County Department of Public Aid.

In an appeal to families in the community to open their homes to neglected children who have no suitable home of their own, Raymond M. Hilliard, director, Cook County Department of Public Aid, said children's division is in great need of foster homes for children of all ages.

Hilliard called attention to a sharp increase in requests his department has received in 1961 to provide foster home care, adoption and institutional care for children declared abused, neglected, deserted and without homes of their own. Since January 1, 1961, 612 such children have been referred to children's division.

DECLARING THE shortage of homes "critical," Hilliard said, 'the community can ill afford any delay in providing foster care for the infants, family groups of brothers and sisters and older school age children who need and must have it now." Despite children's division having already placed close to 300 children in foster care since January, the number requiring placement grows as the young victims of parental negligence, incompetence, parental illness, death, desertion, divorce and broken families are sent to the department in growing numbers.

The Cook County Department of Public Aid pays all the expense of each foster child in a foster home including medical, dental and clothing expenses. Special rates are paid to families able to care for children with certain handicaps or special problems.

Families interested in inquiring or making application to care for foster children should immediately call HOMEFINDING at KEnwood 8-2400, or write to Homefinding, Children's Division, 5059 S. Vincennes ave., Chicago 15. (B8

Q. In what way can a young girl suggest to a young man who is calling on her that it is time for him to leave, without hurting his feelings?

A. She can glance at the clock and say, "I'm very sorry, but mother does not like for me to have anyone stay after such-and-such a time. I hope you'll come again soon."

Fractures Set 'Style' for Emergency Room Caseloads

By KAY BLACKWOOD

Setting the new "fall" styles a little early this year were several area residents who received fractures. This type of accident was second only to automobile accidents which accounted for 17 of the 41 cases treated in the emergency room of Northwest Community hospital last week.

Seven-year-old Nancy Nieman of Rolling Meadows fell off of a porch; Tommy Sward, 8, and Jean Ostrom, 8, factured their arms when they fell from swings; 9-year-old Donna Winters of Arlington Heights fell while roller skating; and a 7-year-old Rolling Meadows girl, Victoria Friszt, is in traction following her bicycle mishap.

OTHERS IN THIS category were Charles Foley of Des Plaines who was admitted after he fell over a cement wall; 16-year-old Judith Young, 195 Clyde, Palatine, who sprained her ankle falling down the stairs; Mrs. Emma Patti, 1512 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, who fell from a ladder; 4-year-old Larry Werdell of Hoffman Estates who fell on a glass bottle, and another 4-year-old Hoffman Estates youngster who fell from a picnic table.

An accident at Devon and route 83 July 21 injured four people, including an Oak Park resident, John Martin who was transferred to West Suburban hospital. Mrs. Grace Wawak, Ralph Hopkins and Elmer Wawak, all of Villa Park, were discharged.

The only stomach washings this week were undergone by 3-year-old Doreen and 2-year-old Richard Muller Jr., who ate aspirin, and Margaret Hauser, 204 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, who possibly drank paint thinner.

James Valkenaar, 8, 220 S. Phelps, Arlington Heights, received a skull fracture when he was hit by an auto on Phelps ave.

A ROSELLE resident, Robert Behar, and Mrs. Joanne Olen of Mount Prospect were both released following a traffic accident on Campbell st. in Rolling Meadows. Injured in another accident were Joseph Archer of Roselle and Mrs. Gladys Wher of Barrington.

Accidents while at work caused treatment for Gordon Johnson of Chicago and Edward Berchtold, 1322 Reynolds dr., Palatine. In addition, Nanette Selleck, 640 N. Salem, Arlington Heights, cut her thumb on a lawn mower. Her injury required surgery.

Sam Burnoughs of Franklin Park was discharged after his accident at Higgins rd. and Landmeier rd. July 21. Also involved in an automobile accident, this time at Rand and Chestnut in Arlington Heights, was Mrs. Helen Strauss of Palatine.

Possible head injuries were the result of an automobile accident for Donald Pesceone of Chicago. Mrs. Pesceone, involved in the same accident, was examined and released. Palatine.

STILL IN THE hospital after being hit by a car on the tollway is a Chicago resident, Raymond Noel.

Joseph Urbanowica of Des Plaines received treatment for lacerations following an automobile accident on Route 72. In another accident, Ruth Garcia, 941 Higgins, Elk Grove Village was injured. Arthur Wenger of Chicago received facial lacerations and bruises in an auto accident at Euclid and Route 12.

While doing gymnastics, an Arlington Heights youth, 16-year-old Robert Lantz, fractured his arm.

WHILE HIS MOTHER was cutting watermelon, 4-year-old Ronald Nelzer of Arlington Heights got in the way. He was treated for a cut. A Rolling Meadows youngster, 6-year-old Patrick Earley was admitted for observation after falling from a moving truck.

Other automobile accident victims were Harold Carlson, injured at Routes 72 and 83, and 19-year-old Daniel Hamilton of Palatine, who was injured at Route 10 and Wilke rd.

Homeless Children Need Foster Homes

Two hundred foster homes are urgently needed by the children's division, Cook County Department of Public Aid.

In an appeal to families in the community to open their homes to neglected children who have no suitable home of their own, Raymond M. Hilliard, director, Cook County Department of Public Aid, said children's division is in great need of foster homes for children of all ages.

Hilliard called attention to a sharp increase in requests his department has received in 1961 to provide foster home care, adoption and institutional care for children declared abused, neglected, deserted and without homes of their own. Since January 1, 1961, 612 such children have been referred to children's division.

DECLARING THE shortage of homes "critical," Hilliard said, 'the community can ill afford any delay in providing foster care for the infants, family groups of brothers and sisters and older school age children who need and must have it now." Despite children's division having already placed close to 300 children in foster care since January, the number requiring placement grows as the young victims of parental negligence, incompetence, parental illness, death, desertion, divorce and broken families are sent to the department in growing numbers.

The Cook County Department of Public Aid pays all the expense of each foster child in a foster home including medical, dental and clothing expenses. Special rates are paid to families able to care for children with certain handicaps or special problems.

Families interested in inquiring or making application to care for foster children should immediately call HOMEFINDING at KEnwood 8-2400, or write to Homefinding, Children's Division, 5059 S. Vincennes ave., Chicago 15. (B8

Q. In what way can a young girl suggest to a young man who is calling on her that it is time for him to leave, without hurting his feelings?

A. She can glance at the clock and say, "I'm very sorry, but mother does not like for me to have anyone stay after such-and-such a time. I hope you'll come again soon."

"ALWAYS MEASURE and you'll be right" is the advice Curtis Larsen, industrial arts instructor gives his students in Arlington-Prospect district 214 summer school now in session. Under Larsen's watchful eye Tom Knoepfle puts the advice into practice.

HARD AT STUDY while many of their fellow students are enjoying a playtime vacation period are these pupils at Arlington-Prospect high district 214 summer school. Academic subjects, such as the English class these students are attending, compose the major part of the school curriculum. The well-known summer school attracts students from as far as Wisconsin for the large number and quality of courses offered.

It's 'Business as Usual' In Summer School

by HELENE BRISTOL

Summer may be "loafing time" for many students, but for almost 1,000 pupils it is "business as usual" at the Arlington-Prospect high school district 214 summer school.

Students are attending the school from near and far. Enrollment includes students from surrounding areas as well as DuPage, McHenry, Lake and Kane counties. One student daily drives to Arlington Heights from his home in Wisconsin.

Why do students go to summer school?

According to educators at the high school, the reasons vary with each individual. Among the many reasons for going to school during vacation time are:

—Curriculum variation

—"Make up" work

—Enrichment of regular school work

—"Something to do" during the long vacation period.

A LARGE number of students vary their school curriculum by taking courses they desire but cannot work into their regular school schedule. This is particularly true of courses in home arts, typing, industrial training and art.

Many schools require students to make up courses which they failed. Summer school offers the ideal time for this.

Another large group of students take courses designed to enrich their regular courses. Theme writing, developmental reading and note taking all are designed to give average and good students added advantages in taking their regular school courses and to better prepare them for college.

Summer school provides an answer to students who find the long three-month vacation period dull. After several weeks of recreation or travel many students are ready to give a part of their day to study of academic subjects to give them added advancement in school or to undertake the development of special skills.

DIVIDED INTO two semesters the school is held daily Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12:25 p.m. This provides three class periods of one hour 25 minutes each. Students are limited to two courses giving 1½ units of high school credit.

Although popular and serving a community and education need, the summer school does not give taxpayers an additional burden. The school is self supporting with all teaching and custodial salaries, supplies, book rentals, library and visual service needs paid from tuition fees.

Tuition ranges from $16 for ½ unit of credit to $32 for a full unit. There is no charge for driver training as the state pays the costs from a special tax fund. Driver training is the only course limited to students living in the high school district.

ATTENDANCE during the 1961 summer is up 40 per cent over last year. A total of 849 students are enrolled in the school with more than 1,100 student "class hours" racked up for the summer session. Now in its fifth year, the district 214 summer school was started in 1957 with an enrollment of 179.

The facilities of Arlington high school, the better-than-average teachers and the northwest suburban location make the summer school a natural choice for many students who do not live in the district. Many pupils of parochial and private high schools attend because few Catholic, Lutheran or private schools offer summer school work.

MANY SCHOOL administrators urge students to take advantage of summer classes to expand educational experiences before going on to college or a job. Summer school experience was one of the recommendations of the famous report by Dr. James B. Conant in his survey of American high schools.

Apparently 849 Arlington high summer school students have taken the advice to better prepare themselves for regular school work at both the high school and college level. (B-8

RANDY JOHNSON'S mouth seems to be watering at the thought of a real pig instead of the life-like replica he fashioned in the art class taught by Edward Fischer at Arlington high summer school. Art classes are popular courses during the summer school which has attracted 849 students this year.

Q. The man I am to marry is a widower, but I have never been previously married. Am I permitted to wear white and a veil?

A. The bridegroom's status has nothing to do with the bride. So long as she has never been married previously, she may wear the traditional white wedding gown and a veil.

Documentary Film to Show Work of Clearbrook School

EYES SHINING like a movie starlet, young Donna Middleton of Hoffman Estates demonstrates one of the puzzle teaching devices used at the Clearbrook school for Retarded Children for movie producers David Windsor (at camera) and Gunter Doetsch. The two men are producing a 30-minute documentary film "I Speak for Taya" showing the work done at the school, the problems of the children, parents and teachers and the need for public support and understanding.

(B-8

The effort to make useful citizens of 20 retarded children carries a strong appeal.

This is a opinion of Gunter Doetsch and David Windsor, commercial motion picture producers who are currently making a 30-minute documentary of the work at Clearbrook school for Retarded Children, Rolling Meadows.

The pair is producing the film 'I Speak For Taya' without charge to the school, either for labor or materials.

IN THE WORDS of Doetsch, "This is a project with great appeal — a challenge with feeling."

The black-and-white film is scheduled for completion soon and will be entered in one of the European film festivals, according to Doetsch.

Theme of the story centers on Taya, a little eight-year-old mentally-retarded girl, following her through one day in school. The film shows the reaction of parents to her birth, their worries and the solution offered to them by the school in preparing her to assume a useful role in society. Taya's thoughts and impressions are stressed throughout the story. Film narration is done by a professional actress.

The story was written by Doetsch wife, Virginia, who also assists in the filming of the motion picture.

ACTUAL FILMING has been under way since last fall. The extreme difficulties of getting natural reactions from the group of 20 retarded children in the school compound the normal film production problems. Cutting rate, Doetsch states, is in the "best Hollywood tradition" with about one foot of 10 feet of shooting retained for the finished film.

To retain the "one day" in school appearance involves special production problems. Children must wear the same clothing, have their hair combed the same way and appear in every way the same, even though filming has continued for many months. To achieve this the children have "movie clothes" which they bring to school whenever shooting is scheduled. These clothes, through parent agreement, are not used for play or ordinary wear but are saved specifically for camera appearances.

One budding young movie hero was barred from the film for several months after he got a crew hair cut. Another boy got a black eye while playing and had to be cut from the film.

Upon completion, the film will be used by the school for showing to private groups to explain the work of the school, to seek understanding of the retarded child and to make people realize the need for funds to continue the "education" of these children to make them potentially self-supporting members of society rather than institutionalized tax burdens to the community.

MR. AND MRS. Doetsch became acquainted with the problems faced by retarded children and their parents through discussion with relatives who have a retarded child. The praise of these parents for the Clearbrook school centered their attention on the school and stimulated the start of the film which Doetsch considers a "challenge."

Appearing in the film are the 20 children currently enrolled in the school and their teachers Mrs. Cecilia Fredericksen and Mrs. Mae Bombach. About 15 volunteer teaching assistants also appear in the movie.

Filming follows a "story board" which is developed after Mrs. Doetsch has written the script for the day's action. The script is discussed by the two photographers who then sketch the action they want to capture. Because of the difficulty of filming individual story boards are used for about 6 seconds of film.

Doetsch has a private film corporation known as Foto-Doetsch. Windsor is also a commercial photographer. Both specialize in making industrial motion pictures and slides.

THE CLEARBROOK school now has an enrollment of 20 children, ranging in age from 2½ to 9 years. There is a waiting list of children who will be accepted as soon as additional facilities permit. The school is acquiring land and expects to launch a building program in the near future to satisfy the demand for more space and the need to accept additional children.

Operated on a five-day week basis during the entire year, classes run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Lunch is considered an important part of the regular training, teaching the children table manners and the manipulation of table utensils. The program includes regular check-ups by a psychiatrist.

Funds for the school operation come from a nominal tuition rate plus donations from church, civic and social groups and individuals.

STUDENTS IN the school come from the entire northwest suburban area from Wheeling to Hoffman Estates.

Aim of the school, according to officials, is to prepare mentally handicapped children for public school where they may enter special educable-mentally handicapped classes after meeting certain standards. For those children who cannot enter public school, Clearbrook attempts to help them become useful members of the community, self-sufficient in a limited way and not a tax burden to society.

Teaching Nuns Arrive To Open High School

Opening of the first Catholic girls high school in the far northwest suburban area moved a step closer last week with the arrival of the first contingent of nuns who will teach in the school.

The new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic girls high school will start classes in September for almost 150 girls. The school will be conducted during the 1961-62 and 1962-63 school years in rented quarters at the new St. Viator Catholic boys high school, Oakton st., Arlington Heights.

HEADING THE group of four nuns of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary is Mother M. Loyola, principal of the high school. She is accompanied by three sisters - Mother M. Roseann, Mother M. Dolores and Mother M. St. Andrew. Additional sisters of the order are slated to arrive in August.

The order also will operate St. Colette elementary school in Rolling Meadows. The grade school, with a registration of almost 400, will start first classes in September for students from third to eighth grade.

During the 1961 - 62 school year the new girls high school will enroll freshmen only. Each succeeding year an additional class will be added.

During the first year classes will be academic in nature and include English, science, foreign language, mathematics, religion, economic geography and world history, music, art appreciation and physical education.

Extra - curricular activities for the girls are planned, according to Mother M. Loyola. These include public speaking, dramatics and glee club.

IN SEPTEMBER six nuns will be assigned to St. Colette grade school and five sisters will conduct classes at the high school.

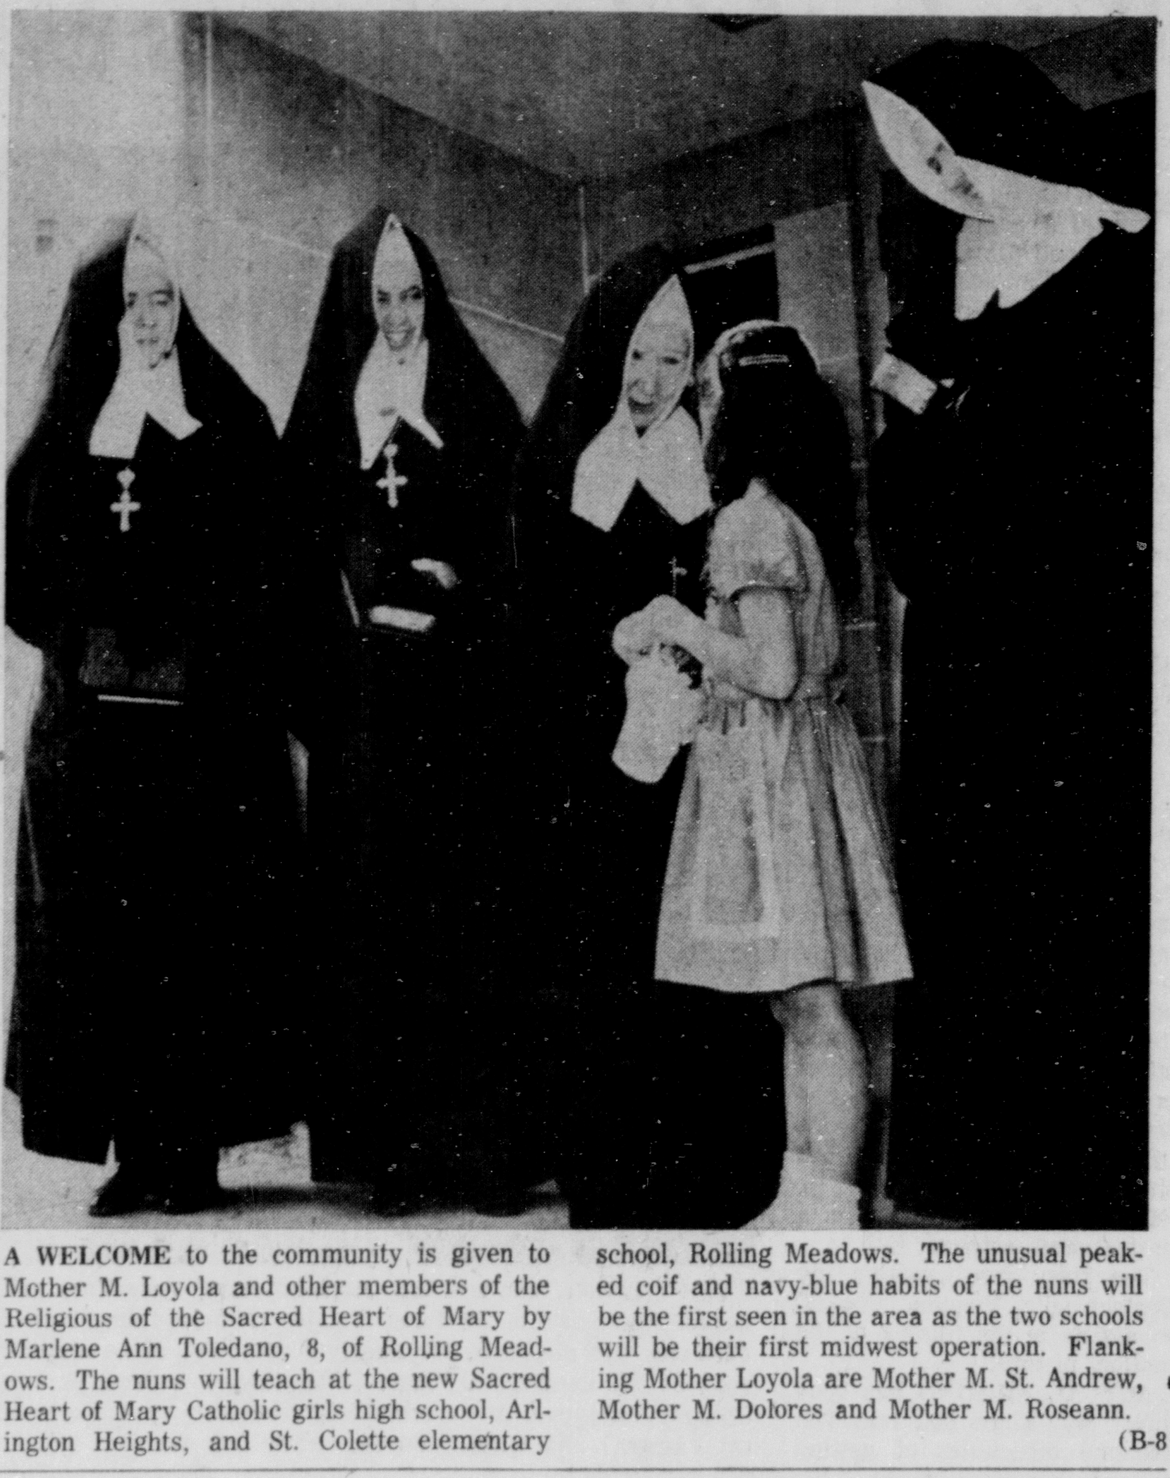
Students of the high school come from many communities, Mother M. Loyola indicated. The "home towns" listed by the girls include Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Palatine, Hoffman Estates, Barrington, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Elk Grove Village, Morton Grove, Wauconda and Libertyville.

Construction of the new girls high school plant is slated for completion for the 1963-64 school year. The $1½ million school is being designed by architect Herman J. Gaul Jr., Arlington Heights. The original building is to be designed for 800 girls with future expansion to a capacity of 1,200. Building site is on Central rd. in Rolling Meadows.

THE NEW high school and elementary school will be the first operations of the Sacred Heart of Mary order in the midwest. Headquarters for the order in the United States is at Tarrytown, N.Y., where the order operates Marymount College.

The order of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary was founded in 1851 in Beziers, France, by Apollonie Pelllissier Cure (Mother St. Jean). The Augustinian rule of the order was adapted by Pere Jean Gailhac of Beziers, first director.

While undertaking many projects, the training, education and molding of girls from influential homes as good Catholics and well-educated women is a special dedication of the community according to Catholic publications. (B-8



A WELCOME to the community is given to Mother M. Loyola and other members of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary by Marlene Ann Toledano, 8, of Rolling Meadows. The nuns will teach at the new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic girls high school, Arlington Heights, and St. Colette elementary school, Rolling Meadows. The unusual peaked coif and navy-blue habits of the nuns will be the first seen in the area as the two schools will be their first midwest operation. Flanking Mother Loyola are Mother M. St. Andrew, Mother M. Dolores and Mother M. Roseann. (B-8

"JUST LEAVE IT TO US" appears to be the advice given Father James Halpin, pastor of St. Colette parish, Rolling Meadows by Mother M. Loyola, principal of the new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic girls high school. The advance guard of nuns to teach at the high school and St. Colette elementary school arrived last week from their headquarters in New York.

Bids Sought For River Clean-Up

The Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of greater Chicago has authorized the advertising for bids for cleaning the Des Plaines River from Golf rd. to the Lake-Cook county line, a distance of approximately 8½ miles.

This contract will consist of cleaning and disposing of driftwood and debris from the channel and banks of the river and the removing or trimming of trees and undergrowth along its banks. In addition, driftwood and debris from the channel and banks of two Des Plaines river tributaries, namely, Feehanville drainage ditch and McDonald creek from their confluence with the Des Plaines river to about River rd.

Trustee Walter S. Baltis, chairman of the district's drainage and stream pollution committee stated that work is necessary to alleviate flood conditions along this section of the Des Plaines river by creating a faster runoff of storm waters. (B8

Q. What would be the correct way for two unmarried sisters to register at a hotel?

A. They should register: "Miss Shirley Adams, Miss Sue Adams, Detroit, Mich."

Q. We have just recently moved into a new neighborhood, and some of our neighbors have been kind enough to call on us. How soon should these calls be returned?

A. Within two weeks, or thereabouts. Failure to return these calls would indicate to your neighbors that their friendship means nothing.

Branching Out

New bank branches opened in the U. S. in 1960 totaled 815, compared to 650 in 1959.

"JUST LEAVE IT TO US" appears to be the advice given Father James Halpin, pastor of St. Colette parish, Rolling Meadows by Mother M. Loyola, principal of the new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic girls high school. The advance guard of nuns to teach at the high school and St. Colette elementary school arrived last week from their headquarters in New York.

Bids Sought For River Clean-Up

The Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of greater Chicago has authorized the advertising for bids for cleaning the Des Plaines River from Golf rd. to the Lake-Cook county line, a distance of approximately 8½ miles.

This contract will consist of cleaning and disposing of driftwood and debris from the channel and banks of the river and the removing or trimming of trees and undergrowth along its banks. In addition, driftwood and debris from the channel and banks of two Des Plaines river tributaries, namely, Feehanville drainage ditch and McDonald creek from their confluence with the Des Plaines river to about River rd.

Trustee Walter S. Baltis, chairman of the district's drainage and stream pollution committee stated that work is necessary to alleviate flood conditions along this section of the Des Plaines river by creating a faster runoff of storm waters. (B8

Q. What would be the correct way for two unmarried sisters to register at a hotel?

A. They should register: "Miss Shirley Adams, Miss Sue Adams, Detroit, Mich."

Q. We have just recently moved into a new neighborhood, and some of our neighbors have been kind enough to call on us. How soon should these calls be returned?

A. Within two weeks, or thereabouts. Failure to return these calls would indicate to your neighbors that their friendship means nothing.

Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Twenty-five guests, mostly relatives, surprised newlywed Mrs. William Bennett, the former Marilyn Klingenmaier of Arlington Heights, at a miscellaneous post-nuptial shower July 13. The shower was given in the Rolling Meadows home of Mrs. J. Zeravich with Mrs. M. Williams of Chicago as co-hostess. Marilyn and Bill were married June 17 and are making their home at 1118 Hawthorne.

The Henry Johnsons flew up from St. Petersburg, Fla., recently and plan on making "home base" with their son, Richard, and his family at 836 N. Mitchell. The senior Johnsons don't believe in short vacations and will spend two months here during which time they will renew old acquaintances in this area.

Susie celebrated her 13th birthday July 17 when she played hostess to Regina Coughlin at lunch and an afternoon of browsing in the loop. Her mother and grandmother accompanied them, but the two groups separated in the loop. After the girls had their fill of window shopping, they joined the two Mrs. Johnsons for the ride home. Last weekend, the junior Johnsons joined the Franklin Carltons for a long weekend in Three Lakes, Wis., where they sunned, swam, water skiied and enjoyed getting away from it all.

BIRTHDAY celebrations at the home of the John Heffernans, 622 S. State, were quiet family affairs this year. Michael was 15 July 10 and Kathleen was 14 the following day. With the horse show coming up, Kathleen has spent much of her time at the stables and everything else has been pushed in the background by this excellent equestrienne. Mother and dad had a celebration of their own at Simoninis in Algonquin when they had dinner there the night of their wedding anniversary July 19.

With Marcia and Tom safe at camp for a week, or so they thought, the Glenn Carlsons, 718 S. Mitchell, settled down to a week at home without them. They weren't settled long before the phone rang from Girl Scout Camp Norwesco with an urgent message; Marcia had the mumps.

After an 8-hour drive that night, they arrived at the home of the doctor in New Auburn, Wis. who took her into his home, shooing his own four children out of contact with her, when the hospital wouldn't. The mumps didn't hit Tom the week he spent at Druce lake Presbyterian camp in Lake Villa, but since he's returned he finds the family eyeing him suspiciously every now and then.

DR. AND MRS. George Smith 812 N. Belmont, took the seven little Smiths on a "children's vacation" to the family summer home at Hayward, Wis. for a week of swimming, boating and fishing. Unbeknown to the Smiths, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Jacobs had been planning a small impromptu party for them the Monday after their return to celebrate Dr. Smith's birthday which fell on that day.

The former Judith Peterson, now Mrs. David Hess, arrived from Des Moines Sunday for a week's visit with her parents, the Arthur Petersons, 207 N. Douglas. Besides visiting with her parents, coming home also means looking up her former high school and college classmates while she is here. Her husband arrives this weekend for a brief visit before taking Judith home.

IT WAS A "first time" for Mr. W. Edward Fritz, 301 N. Douglas, and Mr. Tom Matthews, 711 N. Dunton, when they flew to Mexico City for a few days and then on to Acapulco. Mrs. Fritz already had her vacation when she went to Philadelphia for a visit with the grandchildren earlier this month.

The Earl Pellands, 45 S. Salem, vacationed right here when her brother and his family drove up from Owensboro, Ky. for a week. They spent quite a lot of time at Wonder lake, saw both Little League and big league games and had their share of outdoor picnics.

Five cousins plus the two little Pellands added up to a goodly portion of "children's activities" before two sets of mothers and daddies decided on some entertainment of their own and spent an evening nightclubbing at the Quid.

Nine-year-old Ricky made up for his absence from home, by sending back letters from Camp Hill in Sawyer, Mich. the week he was there. He came home suntanned and full of enthusiasm for a return visit.

THE CHARLES Rothers, 710 S. Walnut, are sure Barbara is having a wonderful time in Moline visiting friends because since she took the train down there with a friend from Villa Park, she hasn't written a word. Meanwhile, back at the ranch at 710, Janice celebrated her 10th birthday July 12.

They pulled a switch at the Jack Musiches, 403 N. Chestnut, when her niece, Margie Joneth, came from Milwaukee for a week's visit, while Mark and Mike spent the same week up there with Margie's family. Now all the girl cousins are here while the boy cousins are up there, but Mark and Mike feel especially privileged because their grandmother has promised them a trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

A VISIT from the Herbert Eatons of Schenectady set the wheels working at the Saunders Reinhards, 801 S. Walnut, for an outdoor picnic Wednesday to include 29 of their mutual friends. Plans to eat out were contingent on the weather and they were well equipped to move in should the weatherman prove uncooperative.

The Eatons and Reinhards have been friends since their "Wheaton" days and have been visiting "like mad" for four days.

Mrs. Leander Gatewood, 1303 N. Walnut, prayed for sun for Bobby's birthday party July 15 and she got it. Bobby was 3 July 14 but celebrated the next day when the following children came to a party in his honor: Steven and Laurie Hausknecht, David Barry, Barbara Zacharais, Debra Witzke and Bobby's brothers, Jamie and Steven. When all the tails were pinned on the donkey and all the rings were tossed and all the prizes distributed, the children discovered a cake, shaped like a train, sitting on the patio table.

ALL THREE Gatewood boys are train fans, so their mother was almost duty bound to carry the train theme into Bobby's party. Ice cream and soda pop rounded out the refreshments.

The following day there was another celebration, this one for Mrs. Gatewood's mother. Because they wanted to honor her birthday and attend the Democratic picnic at Al's Treetop Inn in Wheeling, they merely combined the two, bringing the cake right along to the picnic.

THE ROBERT Perschbachers, 310 N. Derbyshire, combined a steady round of sightseeing with a relaxing stay right on the ocean at Ocean City, Md. the two weeks they were gone. Mom liked the latter part best with its swimming, crabbing on the beach and deep sea fishing.

Fishing was slim and all but forgotten in the excitement of sighting a huge whale near their boat, the first whale they had ever seen swimming in its natural habitat. Rex, a Civil War enthusiast, found sightseeing more to his liking, especially at Gettysburg on the way out and Harper's Ferry coming back.

The predicted crowd of 75,000 people at the reenactment of the battle of Manassas sent the Perschbachers to Williamsburg, Washington and Yorktown instead and with temperatures in the 100's at Manassas, they were glad of the change in plans. Home now, Rex is adding some of his souvenirs of the trip to a handsome Civil War collection.

THE FOLKS on the 400 block of S. Vail are proud of Irwin McDougall, who was just promoted to sergeant on the Arlington Heights police force, and they told him so, in so many words Saturday, July 22, when they had a block party in his honor. Everyone came and brought a "covered dish."

Mrs. Ruth Townley offered her garden for the evening which ended in a lively song fest with Marita Thompson of Demarest, N. J. playing the accordion. Marita timed her visit to one of the S. Vail neighbors perfectly and her playing was just the right touch needed to put everyone in a singing mood.

For three years now, the Robert Bukowskis, 810 N. Dunton, have been taking their sailboat vacationing with them until now it is standard equipment. Bob's reputation as "quite a salor" is firmly established after three weeks at Fence lake, near Minocqua, Wis., where the family stayed at a cabin with swimming, sailing and fishing right in their front yard.

They didn't miss Arlington Heights too much because neighbors living behind them, the Clarence Unanders and their two daughters, came up for 10 days and Phil, Carol and Lynn Franck of Westgate dropped in the second weekend. Lynn stayed on after her parents left making a jolly twosome with Merrilee 'til the Bukowskis pulled stakes for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weide, 807 N. State, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 16, with a five o'clock dinner at Eddie's Lounge. With them were their children and 13 grandchildren and one of the bridesmaids from their wedding Tracey Winkelman Erwig of River Grove. Their brothers and sisters and in-laws were also at the celebration and in the evening, cake and coffee were served.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Edelblute gave a dinner party July 15 at their home, 209 S. Pine, to celebrate the 20-year reunion of the second armored signal battalion. Thirteen members of the battalion and their wives came from eight states, many arriving Friday morning and remaining until Monday as the Edelblutes' house guests.

Guests included the Dan Hazens of Ridgewood, N. J., C. Potaczalas of Buffalo, Col. and Mrs. G. W. Adair of the Pentagon in Washington, D. C., the John Massas of Sibley, Ia., the J. Closes of Eau Claire, John Downeys of South Bend, the Rubenkings of Indianapolis, H. Andersons of Ogden Dunes, Ind., the L. Panickis of Flossmore, James Shirleys of Oak Park and G. Conrads of Detroit and R. Beuhlers of Ann Arbor.

The following Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Edelblute welcomed her cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hill and two daughters of Omega, Okla. for a 4-day visit and then accompanied them to Beloit to visit her niece and family, the Donald Bettines.

DOUG AND BECKY Cockerham, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Cockerham, 410 S. Lincoln, spent the past week in Indianapolis visiting their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Terkhorn.

Mrs. V. Machin, 534 S. Beverly, joined Mr. Machin on a 10-day business trip to Europe. They flew to London and then went on to visit Germany and Switzerland.

Recent house guest of Miss Barbara Bradel, 606 S. Dryden, was her Chi Omega sorority sister, Miss Winna Harner of Warren, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton, will have their grandson, Scott Peterson of Flushing, N. Y., with them for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colburn, 535 Burton, will attend the National PGA tournament Thursday through Saturday at Olympia Fields.

Their daughter Marilyn, plans to return to Lake Forest college August 7 for summer school classes.

MRS. WILBUR Daeschner, 310 Mayfair, and her daughters, Becky and Martha, returned home last Tuesday from a visit with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Armstrong of Topeka.

It was Becky and Martha's first long train trip and they enjoyed the new experience.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Mills of Corinth, N. Y., spent the past week in Arlington Heights visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wolfinger, 409 Banbury.

During their stay, Mrs. Wolfinger entertained at a coffee and an afternoon tea for her daughter and gave a dinner party Saturday for friends and former area classmates of Rev. Mills.

Earlier in the month, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfinger had as their house guests, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Moore of Trenton, N. J. and their three children.

MISS SUE DEAN, 357 S. Belmont, celebrated her 18th birthday at a dinner party Saturday. Absent from the family circle was her brother, Wayne Knight, who left July 15 from Long Beach, Cal. for a 6-week cruise in the Pacific aboard the U.S.S. Providence with his NROTC unit from the University of Illinois.

Out-of-town house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean are the Everett Bakers and their two daughters, who arrived from Aston, N. Y. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gard, 336 S. Windsor, spent the past week at the Palmer House attending the National Association of Music Merchants convention and trade show. They were joined by their daughters, Barbara and Catherine, and Mr. Gard's mother Mrs. Mabel P. Gard, Thursday evening for the closing banquet.

AN INTERESTING visitor at the Fay Hamilton home, 127 S. Brighton, was Mlle. Marie-Claude Meyniel, an exchange student from Caussade-Tarn et garonne, France, who was here for a 3-day stay.

Mlle Meyniel, one of a group of 30 students who came to study in America through the American Field service plan, recently graduated from the Harrisburg, Pa. high school and was making a tour of the midwest.

The Hamiltons' daughter, Sue, and Miss Joan Wilcox entertained for her at a luncheon at the Milk Pail in Dundee, where they were joined by Miss Lynn Johnson and Miss Linda Seales of Stonegate and their respective exchange student guests, Miss Tuula Toizonen of Finland and Miss Mary Lu of Brazil.

A picnic was held Friday evening in Deer Grove Park for all the exchange students visiting in the area and their American hosts and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left the following day for Mercer, Wis. for a 2-week fishing vacation. They were accompanied by Mr. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hamilton, of Rockford.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. Becker of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., spent the past two weeks in Arlington Heights, visiting their son and family, the Robert Beckers, 1211 Woodford.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Daniel, 346 S. Derbyshire, and their sons, Ricky and Danny, vacationed for a week in Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brooksbank, 407 S. Windsor, and their six children arrived home Saturday from a 2-week vacation at their former home in Stillwater, Minn.

Before leaving for Stillwater, Mrs. Brooksbank and her daughter, Janet, went east for the wedding of her sister, Miss Gail Green, to William McCowan, at her parent's home in Winston Salem, N. C. Mrs. Brooksbank was a bridesmaid for her sister and Janet attended the bride as flower girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coobs, 401 S. Carlyle, had as their guests for three days, her sister and brother-in-law, the Walter Clarks of Des Moines, and their son, Charles.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Kellin, 105 Stratford, gave a party Saturday for her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson of Columbia, Ga. The Andesons are here with their two children, Karen and Warren, for a 2-week visit.

While Susan Kramer was spending two weeks vacationing at the Phantom ranch in Wisconsin, her parents left for a vacation in the west, spending a week in Las Vegas and a week in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, 211 S. Stratford, and the children are home from a 2-week vacation at Lake Geneva, Ill. Mrs. Sullivan's aunt, Miss Victoria Peddicord of Buenna Park, Cal., was with them for a week.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. Carns, 106 Stratford, became grandparents with the arrival of Christene Carns, born July 21 to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Carns of Kansas City.

Back from a visit in Drayton Plains, Mich., are Mrs. Marvin Brand, her daughter, Juliet, and son, Christopher, 1002 N. Walnut. They were house guests of the Donald R. Marches and daughters, Janet and Sheree. Mrs. March and Mrs. Brand are childhood friends. (A

Arlington Greens

A thank you is due to Mrs. George Roby, 1149 N. Beverly lane, for taking over the column while this correspondent joined her family for a 3-week vacation in northern Wisconsin.

Newcomers to the Greens are Melvin and Elizabeth Kasen, who moved into their new home at 1104 N. Haddow ct. July 1. Their children include: Mrs. Philip Gustafson of Chicago; Keith, 17, a recent graduate from Arlington high; Gayle, 15, a junior at Arlington and 7-year-old Ann Jocelyn who attends North school. The Kasens formerly resided on W. Hawthorne. Mr. Kasen is a music teacher at Miner and South junior high.

The Gale Duxburys, 1116 N. Pine ct., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruta and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rodzen and daughter, Colette, of Milwaukee recently.

THE JULY 10 meeting of Pine Court Canasta club was hosted by Mrs. Duxbury. Not only did the ladies enjoy an evening of cards, but they 'stork showered' Sylvia Damiano and Lil Woehlck.

Mrs. Tony Bengal of 1117 N. Haddow Court hosted a stork shower for neighbor Joy Haukey on July 17th. Attending were Ann Kushner, Nancy Jenkins, Doris Pressney, Marilyn Gardner and Mrs. Viola Pritchard, Mrs. Gardner's mother.

Mrs. Don Schreiner, 1156 N. Beverly lane, hosted a get-acquainted coffee for newcomer Emily Kingston last Thursday.

The Bill Millers, 1218 N. Hickory, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams in East Peoria. Joining them for the trip home was their 9-year-old nephew, Eli, who plans to visit for a few days.

IT WAS FOR a good cause and it was fun, the variety show held last Saturday afternoon at the Roby home, 1149 N. Beverly. It was planned and directed by 13-year-old Arlene. There was singing, tap dancing, baton twirling and violin selections besides refreshments to entertain the good sized audience of neighborhood youngsters and adults. The proceeds were donated to La Rabida sanitarium in Chicago. Sunday Arlene left by jet from O'Hare for Arlington, Va. to visit her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Demoody, for two weeks.

Mrs. John Parkin, 1151 N. Beverly lane, hosted a bridal shower for Miss Kay Hanson, bride-to-be of her nephew, Edward Kelly, last Tuesday evening. Ten relatives and friends attended the affair.

Schedules for the 1961-62 season for the Arlington Greens round robin bridge tournament are being prepared at this time. Residents interested in joining the group may call Mrs. Gordon Baer, CL 3-3929. (A

Eastwood Events

Though it may be mid-summer, beginning college students are busy with their fall plans. Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday Lenore Radosti attended Freshman Orientation at Bradley university in Peoria, where she will major in elementary education. Lenore and her roommate for the year, Bonnie Stien of LaGrange, made the trip together. On Friday a luncheon was planned for parents, which Mr. and Mrs. Radosti attended before driving the girls back home.

Lenore's 18th birthday on July 16 was observed with dinner at the Milk Pail. Besides her parents, sister Lynn enjoyed the occasion.

LAST WEEK John Cullison attended orientation and took placement tests at the University of Indiana, Bloomington, alma mater of both his mother and father. John will major in business and law, as did his father. On the return trip the Cullisons camped at McCormick's Creek in Indiana.

John's younger brother Sam has been wilderness camping with a group of boys this past week at Wild Rose, Wis. Sleeping in the open and cooking their own meals have provided a great adventure for the boys.

Mrs. Cullison's sister and family, the James Kettles, have recently moved to Winnetka from Riverside, Conn. Since it's been some time since the Kettles have seen all their relatives, they held a reunion at their home Saturday. Besides the Cullisons, among the 34 guests attending the affair were Mrs. Cullison's mother, Mrs. Jacob Wilkins from Gary and another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Deck and two daughters from Indianapolis.

GUESTS OF the Joseph Corcorans of N. Hickory have been Mr. and Mrs. Gene Price and two children and Mrs. Price of Oklahoma City. The teenagers, Sandra and Steven, who hadn't visited here for some years, particularly enjoyed swimming at Recreation park. During the Prices' 1-week stay the Corcorans took them to many of Chicago's showplaces, including the museums, aquarium, planetarium, Prudential building and also a day at our local race track.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Narquis and Cathie and Cliff returned Monday from a week's stay in Canada. They visited at a hunting and fishing lodge 60 miles from International Falls, which is owned by Mrs. Narquis' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Young. The lodge is famous for its fishing, and of course, the Narquis' spent most of their vacation doing just that. They had the unexpected pleasure of meeting a former neighbor, Bob White, and his son Bill who were staying at the lodge for a few days.

VISITORS AT the Eldon Glover home on N. Hickory are Mr. Glover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Glover of Milan, N.H. They have been enjoying Chicago sites including visits to the Stockyards and the museum of Natural Science and Industry. Their visit is coinciding with a 14-day furlough of their grandson, Robert, from Ft. Leonard Wood, and has added to their vacation pleasure and sightseeing as they went with the Glovers to Missouri to pick up Robert. The trip back to Arlington provided them the opportunity of seeing Mark Twain's home in Hannibal and all the Lincolniana at Springfield.

The Glover daughters, Natalie and Mary Ann, spent two weeks at Mattapoisette, Mass. on Cape Cod at the summer home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Christiansen. They visited in Provinceton and many historical New England places.

The girls drove their 14-year old cousin Richard Christiansen home to Keane, N. H. He had been visiting at the Glovers for a week and thoroughly enjoyed our green gardens, the swimming pool and Riverview park.

Two Couples Win Bridge Tournament

Two young married couples won first place in the duplicate bridge tournament at Pioneer park July 21. They were Mr. and Mrs. William Nightingale of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jacobs of Elk Grove.

Second place winners were Robert Doughty of Chicago, Bill Kehrer of Rolling Meadows, and R. L. Robertson of Mt. Prospect.

Duplicate bridge games are part of the recreational program sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District. Bridge is played on the first and third Fridays of the month at Pioneer park at 7:45 p.m.

The next game will be held on August 4. There will be a duplicate game at the Northwest Suburban Y.M.C.A. Friday, July 28, at 7:45 p.m. (A

ALL VITAMINS
ARE NOT THE SAME

Do not let half-truth advertising mislead you. You know better. For instance . . . all butter must comply with government standards to be sold. Yet, some brands are much tastier. Some cooks bake pies that are a real treat. Others using the same ingredients spoil them.

The quality of vitamins depends on the care of processing and many tests for potency and body absorption. Cheap vitamins eliminate expensive controls. The vitamins we supply are made by the makers of our prescription drugs. Purity and potency is always the best quality that can be made.

With the horse show coming up, Kathleen has spent much of her time at the stables and everything else has been pushed in the background by this excellent equestrienne. Mother and dad had a celebration of their own at Simoninis in Algonquin when they had dinner there the night of their wedding anniversary July 19.

With Marcia and Tom safe at camp for a week, or so they thought, the Glenn Carlsons, 718 S. Mitchell, settled down to a week at home without them. They weren't settled long before the phone rang from Girl Scout Camp Norwesco with an urgent message; Marcia had the mumps.

After an 8-hour drive that night, they arrived at the home of the doctor in New Auburn, Wis. who took her into his home, shooing his own four children out of contact with her, when the hospital wouldn't. The mumps didn't hit Tom the week he spent at Druce lake Presbyterian camp in Lake Villa, but since he's returned he finds the family eyeing him suspiciously every now and then.

DR. AND MRS. George Smith 812 N. Belmont, took the seven little Smiths on a "children's vacation" to the family summer home at Hayward, Wis. for a week of swimming, boating and fishing. Unbeknown to the Smiths, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Jacobs had been planning a small impromptu party for them the Monday after their return to celebrate Dr. Smith's birthday which fell on that day.

The former Judith Peterson, now Mrs. David Hess, arrived from Des Moines Sunday for a week's visit with her parents, the Arthur Petersons, 207 N. Douglas. Besides visiting with her parents, coming home also means looking up her former high school and college classmates while she is here. Her husband arrives this weekend for a brief visit before taking Judith home.

IT WAS A "first time" for Mr. W. Edward Fritz, 301 N. Douglas, and Mr. Tom Matthews, 711 N. Dunton, when they flew to Mexico City for a few days and then on to Acapulco. Mrs. Fritz already had her vacation when she went to Philadelphia for a visit with the grandchildren earlier this month.

The Earl Pellands, 45 S. Salem, vacationed right here when her brother and his family drove up from Owensboro, Ky. for a week. They spent quite a lot of time at Wonder lake, saw both Little League and big league games and had their share of outdoor picnics.

Five cousins plus the two little Pellands added up to a goodly portion of "children's activities" before two sets of mothers and daddies decided on some entertainment of their own and spent an evening nightclubbing a' the Quid.

Nine-year-old Ricky made up for his absence from home, by sending back letters from Camp Hill in Sawyer, Mich. the week he was there. He came home suntanned and full of enthusiasm for a return visit.

THE CHARLES Rothers, 710 S. Walnut, are sure Barbara is having a wonderful time in Moline visiting friends because since she took the train down there with a friend from Villa Park, she hasn't written a word. Meanwhile, back at the ranch at 710, Janice celebrated her 10th birthday July 12.

They pulled a switch at the Jack Musiches, 403 N. Chestnut, when her niece, Margie Joneth, came from Milwaukee for a week's visit, while Mark and Mike spent the same week up there with Margie's family. Now all the girl cousins are here while the boy cousins are up there, but Mark and Mike feel especially privileged because their grandmother has promised them a trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

A VISIT from the Herbert Eatons of Schenectady set the wheels working at the Saunders Reinhards, 801 S. Walnut, for an outdoor picnic Wednesday to include 29 of their mutual friends. Plans to eat out were contingent on the weather and they were well equipped to move in should the weatherman prove uncooperative.

The Eatons and Reinhards have been friends since their "Wheaton" days and have been visiting "like mad" for four days.

Mrs. Leander Gatewood, 1303 N. Walnut, prayed for sun for Bobby's birthday party July 15 and she got it. Bobby was 3 July 14 but celebrated the next day when the following children came to a party in his honor: Steven and Laurie Hausknecht, David Barry, Barbara Zacharais, Debra Witzke and Bobby's brothers, Jamie and Steven. When all the tails were pinned on the donkey and all the rings were tossed and all the prizes distributed, the children discovered a cake, shaped like a train, sitting on the patio table.

ALL THREE Gatewood boys are train fans, so their mother was almost duty bound to carry the train theme into Bobby's party. Ice cream and soda pop rounded out the refreshments.

The following day there was another celebration, this one for Mrs. Gatewood's mother. Because they wanted to honor her birthday and attend the Democratic picnic at Al's Treetop Inn in Wheeling, they merely combined the two, bringing the cake right along to the picnic.

THE ROBERT Perschbachers, 310 N. Derbyshire, combined a steady round of sightseeing with a relaxing stay right on the ocean at Ocean City, Md. the two weeks they were gone. Mom liked the latter part best with its swimming, crabbing on the beach and deep sea fishing.

Fishing was slim and all but forgotten in the excitement of sighting a huge whale near their boat, the first whale they had ever seen swimming in its natural habitat. Rex, a Civil War enthusiast, found sightseeing more to his liking, especially at Gettysburg on the way out and Harper's Ferry coming back.

The predicted crowd of 75,000 people at the reenactment of the battle of Manassas sent the Perschbachers to Williamsburg, Washington and Yorktown instead and with temperatures in the 100's at Manassas, they were glad of the change in plans. Home now, Rex is adding some of his souvenirs of the trip to a handsome Civil War collection.

THE FOLKS on the 400 block of S. Vail are proud of Irwin McDougall, who was just promoted to sergeant on the Arlington Heights police force, and they told him so, in so many words Saturday, July 22, when they had a block party in his honor. Everyone came and brought a "covered dish."

Mrs. Ruth Townley offered her garden for the evening which ended in a lively song fest with Marita Thompson of Demarest, N. J. playing the accordion. Marita timed her visit to one of the S. Vail neighbors perfectly and her playing was just the right touch needed to put everyone in a singing mood.

For three years now, the Robert Bukowskis, 810 N. Dunton, have been taking their sailboat vacationing with them until now it is standard equipment. Bob's reputation as "quite a salor" is firmly established after three weeks at Fence lake, near Minocqua, Wis., where the family stayed at a cabin with swimming, sailing and fishing right in their front yard.

They didn't miss Arlington Heights too much because neighbors living behind them, the Clarence Unanders and their two daughters, came up for 10 days and Phil, Carol and Lynn Franck of Westgate dropped in the second weekend. Lynn stayed on after her parents left making a jolly twosome with Merrilee 'til the Bukowskis pulled stakes for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weide, 807 N. State, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 16, with a five o'clock dinner at Eddie's Lounge. With them were their children and 13 grandchildren and one of the bridesmaids from their wedding Tracey Winkelman Erwig of River Grove. Their brothers and sisters and in-laws were also at the celebration and in the evening, cake and coffee were served.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Edelblute gave a dinner party July 15 at their home, 209 S. Pine, to celebrate the 20-year reunion of the second armored signal battalion. Thirteen members of the battalion and their wives came from eight states, many arriving Friday morning and remaining until Monday as the Edelblutes' house guests.

Guests included the Dan Hazens of Ridgewood, N. J., C. Potaczalas of Buffalo, Col. and Mrs. G. W. Adair of the Pentagon in Washington, D. C., the John Massas of Sibley, Ia., the J. Closes of Eau Claire, John Downeys of South Bend, the Rubenkings of Indianapolis, H. Andersons of Ogden Dunes, Ind., the L. Panickis of Flossmore, James Shirleys of Oak Park and G. Conrads of Detroit and R. Beuhlers of Ann Arbor.

The following Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Edelblute welcomed her cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hill and two daughters of Omega, Okla. for a 4-day visit and then accompanied them to Beloit to visit her niece and family, the Donald Bettines.

DOUG AND BECKY Cockerham, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Cockerham, 410 S. Lincoln, spent the past week in Indianapolis visiting their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Terkhorn.

Mrs. V. Machin, 534 S. Beverly, joined Mr. Machin on a 10-day business trip to Europe. They flew to London and then went on to visit Germany and Switzerland.

Recent house guest of Miss Barbara Bradel, 606 S. Dryden, was her Chi Omega sorority sister, Miss Winna Harner of Warren, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton, will have their grandson, Scott Peterson of Flushing, N. Y., with them for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colburn, 535 Burton, will attend the National PGA tournament Thursday through Saturday at Olympia Fields.

Their daughter Marilyn, plans to return to Lake Forest college August 7 for summer school classes.

MRS. WILBUR Daeschner, 310 Mayfair, and her daughters, Becky and Martha, returned home last Tuesday from a visit with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Armstrong of Topeka.

It was Becky and Martha's first long train trip and they enjoyed the new experience.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Mills of Corinth, N. Y., spent the past week in Arlington Heights visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wolfinger, 409 Banbury.

During their stay, Mrs. Wolfinger entertained at a coffee and an afternoon tea for her daughter and gave a dinner party Saturday for friends and former area classmates of Rev. Mills.

Earlier in the month, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfinger had as their house guests, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Moore of Trenton, N. J. and their three children.

MISS SUE DEAN, 357 S. Belmont, celebrated her 18th birthday at a dinner party Saturday. Absent from the family circle was her brother, Wayne Knight, who left July 15 from Long Beach, Cal. for a 6-week cruise in the Pacific aboard the U.S.S. Providence with his NROTC unit from the University of Illinois.

Out-of-town house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean are the Everett Bakers and their two daughters, who arrived from Aston, N. Y. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gard, 336 S. Windsor, spent the past week at the Palmer House attending the National Association of Music Merchants convention and trade show. They were joined by their daughters, Barbara and Catherine, and Mr. Gard's mother Mrs. Mabel P. Gard, Thursday evening for the closing banquet.

AN INTERESTING visitor at the Fay Hamilton home, 127 S. Brighton, was Mlle. Marie-Claude Meyniel, an exchange student from Caussade-Tarn et garonne, France, who was here for a 3-day stay.

Mlle Meyniel, one of a group of 30 students who came to study in America through the American Field service plan, recently graduated from the Harrisburg, Pa. high school and was making a tour of the midwest.

The Hamiltons' daughter, Sue, and Miss Joan Wilcox entertained for her at a luncheon at the Milk Pail in Dundee, where they were joined by Miss Lynn Johnson and Miss Linda Seales of Stonegate and their respective exchange student guests, Miss Tuula Toizonen of Finland and Miss Mary Lu of Brazil.

A picnic was held Friday evening in Deer Grove Park for all the exchange students visiting in the area and their American hosts and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left the following day for Mercer, Wis. for a 2-week fishing vacation. They were accompanied by Mr. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hamilton, of Rockford.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. Becker of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., spent the past two weeks in Arlington Heights, visiting their son and family, the Robert Beckers, 1211 Woodford.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Daniel, 346 S. Derbyshire, and their sons, Ricky and Danny, vacationed for a week in Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brooksbank, 407 S. Windsor, and their six children arrived home Saturday from a 2-week vacation at their former home in Stillwater, Minn.

Before leaving for Stillwater, Mrs. Brooksbank and her daughter, Janet, went east for the wedding of her sister, Miss Gail Green, to William McCowan, at her parent's home in Winston Salem, N. C. Mrs. Brooksbank was a bridesmaid for her sister and Janet attended the bride as flower girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coobs, 401 S. Carlyle, had as their guests for three days, her sister and brother-in-law, the Walter Clarks of Des Moines, and their son, Charles.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Kellin, 105 Stratford, gave a party Saturday for her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson of Columbia, Ga. The Andesons are here with their two children, Karen and Warren, for a 2-week visit.

While Susan Kramer was spending two weeks vacationing at the Phantom ranch in Wisconsin, her parents left for a vacation in the west, spending a week in Las Vegas and a week in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, 211 S. Stratford, and the children are home from a 2-week vacation at Lake Geneva, Ill. Mrs. Sullivan's aunt, Miss Victoria Peddicord of Buenna Park, Cal., was with them for a week.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. Carns, 106 Stratford, became grandparents with the arrival of Christene Carns, born July 21 to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Carns of Kansas City.

Back from a visit in Drayton Plains, Mich., are Mrs. Marvin Brand, her daughter, Juliet, and son, Christopher, 1002 N. Walnut. They were house guests of the Donald R. Marches and daughters, Janet and Sheree. Mrs. March and Mrs. Brand are childhood friends. (A

Arlington Greens

A thank you is due to Mrs. George Roby, 1149 N. Beverly lane, for taking over the column while this correspondent joined her family for a 3-week vacation in northern Wisconsin.

Newcomers to the Greens are Melvin and Elizabeth Kasen, who moved into their new home at 1104 N. Haddow ct. July 1. Their children include: Mrs. Philip Gustafson of Chicago; Keith, 17, a recent graduate from Arlington high; Gayle, 15, a junior at Arlington and 7-year-old Ann Jocelyn who attends North school. The Kasens formerly resided on W. Hawthorne. Mr. Kasen is a music teacher at Miner and South junior high.

The Gale Duxburys, 1116 N. Pine ct., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruta and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rodzen and daughter, Colette, of Milwaukee recently.

THE JULY 10 meeting of Pine Court Canasta club was hosted by Mrs. Duxbury. Not only did the ladies enjoy an evening of cards, but they 'stork showered' Sylvia Damiano and Lil Woehlck.

Mrs. Tony Bengal of 1117 N. Haddow Court hosted a stork shower for neighbor Joy Haukey on July 17th. Attending were Ann Kushner, Nancy Jenkins, Doris Pressney, Marilyn Gardner and Mrs. Viola Pritchard, Mrs. Gardner's mother.

Mrs. Don Schreiner, 1156 N. Beverly lane, hosted a get-acquainted coffee for newcomer Emily Kingston last Thursday.

The Bill Millers, 1218 N. Hickory, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams in East Peoria. Joining them for the trip home was their 9-year-old nephew, Eli, who plans to visit for a few days.

IT WAS FOR a good cause and it was fun, the variety show held last Saturday afternoon at the Roby home, 1149 N. Beverly. It was planned and directed by 13-year-old Arlene. There was singing, tap dancing, baton twirling and violin selections besides refreshments to entertain the good sized audience of neighborhood youngsters and adults. The proceeds were donated to La Rabida sanitarium in Chicago. Sunday Arlene left by jet from O'Hare for Arlington, Va. to visit her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Demoody, for two weeks.

Mrs. John Parkin, 1151 N. Beverly lane, hosted a bridal shower for Miss Kay Hanson, bride-to-be of her nephew, Edward Kelly, last Tuesday evening. Ten relatives and friends attended the affair.

Schedules for the 1961-62 season for the Arlington Greens round robin bridge tournament are being prepared at this time. Residents interested in joining the group may call Mrs. Gordon Baer, CL 3-3929. (A

Eastwood Events

Though it may be mid-summer, beginning college students are busy with their fall plans. Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday Lenore Radosti attended Freshman Orientation at Bradley university in Peoria, where she will major in elementary education. Lenore and her roommate for the year, Bonnie Stien of LaGrange, made the trip together. On Friday a luncheon was planned for parents, which Mr. and Mrs. Radosti attended before driving the girls back home.

Lenore's 18th birthday on July 16 was observed with dinner at the Milk Pail. Besides her parents, sister Lynn enjoyed the occasion.

LAST WEEK John Cullison attended orientation and took placement tests at the University of Indiana, Bloomington, alma mater of both his mother and father. John will major in business and law, as did his father. On the return trip the Cullisons camped at McCormick's Creek in Indiana.

John's younger brother Sam has been wilderness camping with a group of boys this past week at Wild Rose, Wis. Sleeping in the open and cooking their own meals have provided a great adventure for the boys.

Mrs. Cullison's sister and family, the James Kettles, have recently moved to Winnetka from Riverside, Conn. Since it's been some time since the Kettles have seen all their relatives, they held a reunion at their home Saturday. Besides the Cullisons, among the 34 guests attending the affair were Mrs. Cullison's mother, Mrs. Jacob Wilkins from Gary and another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Deck and two daughters from Indianapolis.

GUESTS OF the Joseph Corcorans of N. Hickory have been Mr. and Mrs. Gene Price and two children and Mrs. Price of Oklahoma City. The teenagers, Sandra and Steven, who hadn't visited here for some years, particularly enjoyed swimming at Recreation park. During the Prices' 1-week stay the Corcorans took them to many of Chicago's showplaces, including the museums, aquarium, planetarium, Prudential building and also a day at our local race track.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Narquis and Cathie and Cliff returned Monday from a week's stay in Canada. They visited at a hunting and fishing lodge 60 miles from International Falls, which is owned by Mrs. Narquis' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Young. The lodge is famous for its fishing, and of course, the Narquis' spent most of their vacation doing just that. They had the unexpected pleasure of meeting a former neighbor, Bob White, and his son Bill who were staying at the lodge for a few days.

VISITORS AT the Eldon Glover home on N. Hickory are Mr. Glover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Glover of Milan, N.H. They have been enjoying Chicago sites including visits to the Stockyards and the museum of Natural Science and Industry. Their visit is coinciding with a 14-day furlough of their grandson, Robert, from Ft. Leonard Wood, and has added to their vacation pleasure and sightseeing as they went with the Glovers to Missouri to pick up Robert. The trip back to Arlington provided them the opportunity of seeing Mark Twain's home in Hannibal and all the Lincolniana at Springfield.

The Glover daughters, Natalie and Mary Ann, spent two weeks at Mattapoisette, Mass. on Cape Cod at the summer home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Christiansen. They visited in Provinceton and many historical New England places.

The girls drove their 14-year old cousin Richard Christiansen home to Keane, N. H. He had been visiting at the Glovers for a week and thoroughly enjoyed our green gardens, the swimming pool and Riverview park.

Two Couples Win Bridge Tournament

Two young married couples won first place in the duplicate bridge tournament at Pioneer park July 21. They were Mr. and Mrs. William Nightingale of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jacobs of Elk Grove.

Second place winners were Robert Doughty of Chicago, Bill Kehrer of Rolling Meadows, and R. L. Robertson of Mt. Prospect.

Duplicate bridge games are part of the recreational program sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District. Bridge is played on the first and third Fridays of the month at Pioneer park at 7:45 p.m.

The next game will be held on August 4. There will be a duplicate game at the Northwest Suburban Y.M.C.A. Friday, July 28, at 7:45 p.m. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

"Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds" would be good background music for some vacationing Terrace families . . .

The Ray Kelloggs of 1341 N. Wilke, for example, with children, Whitney and Jean, returned Friday from a week of camping at Devil's Lake, Wis. They enjoyed climbing the 50-foot bluffs, riding and fishing.

Camping also appeals to the Schluntz family, 1256 N. Chicago. John and Inge recently returned from Franklin Lake, Wis., where, with son, Hart, they enjoyed fishing.

Friends and neighbors of Kenneth and Eugenia Stevens, formerly of 1716 W. Olive, are glad their recent move has taken them only as far as 738 Belmont in Arlington Heights.

Jane, daughter of Bob and Jo Hult, 1108 N. Chicago, is vacationing in Grosse Pt. Shores, Mich., with her aunt, uncle and cousins, the David Larson family. Jane reports that she is having canoe lessons and learning sailboating.

EILEEN AND RAY Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, recently enjoyed a visit by former Terrace residents, the Bill Brown family, who are now living in Milwaukee.

Rev. Maynard Beal, 1440 N. Race, recently returned from the National Conference of Methodist Men held at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. Sunday the Beals entertained Jean's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moses, and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tapp, all of Park Ridge, at a family dinner.

Arthur and Barbara Friedberg, 1316 N. Yale, were pleased when their son, Billy, was chosen as a contestant at the American Accordionists' association nationwide conference recently held at the Congress hotel.

The Knolls, 1255 N. Wilke, recently returned home from a week's stay in Sister's Bay, Wis. Hank, Lorraine and the boys, Bruce and Keith, enjoyed their stay at a lakeside cottage as well as swimming, bowling and usual sightseeing trips.

A 3-PART birthday celebration was held for Loni, daughter of Ted and Edith Larson, 1202 N. Race, recently. A family dinner was held initially, with brothers, Larry and Mark, and sister, Thea, along with Aunt Sylvia Rockefeller of Chicago attending. Saturday there was a birthday luncheon with Thea and playmates, Dawn Dolejs, Kathy and Vicky Schmidt, Roxanne Petrucci and Cathy Narup, enjoying the lollipop cake and punch. The final celebration was held at a beach party at Wauconda with Loni's immediate family and her aunt, Mrs. Leon Burrs, and cousins, Karen and Susie.

Due to the fact the Ray Browns, 1504 W. Oakton, were spending a long weekend with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Higgins of Madison, Wis., they held Marianne's 10th birthday party early with a luncheon and scavenger hunt. Attending were her sister, Kathleen, Eileen and Kathleen Dunne, Mary Kay Henneman, Felicity and Ann Frisbie and Leslie Yates.

JOE AND JACKIE Koenig, 1255 N. Chicago, recently returned from a 2-week vacation in Colorado. Accompanied by their older children, Pam and Bobby, they toured the state from the National park to Colorado Springs, enjoying every step of the way. The younger boys, Tommy and Kenny, enjoyed a change of scenery while visiting grandma, Mrs. G. Anderson in Glenview.

A party celebrating his seventh birthday was recently held in honor of Kevin Wiederhold, 1322 N. Chicago. Joining in the festivities were Michael Adkins, "Booner" Kalous, Guy Eisenhuth, Kevin Corley, Jimmy Kohler and Robby Husted. Helping with the games and bike decorating was Kevin's oldest brother, Kim.

Front Royale, Va., was the site of a birthday celebration for Kim, daughter of Robert and Shirley Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race. More than a week ago Kim and her brother, Gary, flew to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vogtritter, whose restaurant, it was decided, would make a perfect location for Kim's eighth birthday party. On the subject of birthday parties, Shirley reports of one they attended Saturday night, held for Robert's brother, Curt Vogtritter, in Park Ridge and given by his fiancee, Miss Jane Amberg.

The Cates, 1334 N. Yale, had a big birthday weekend, too. Saturday, Margurite and James, together with daughter, Cynthia, hosted a dinner for Nancy's 15th birthday at the Hearthstone Restaurant in Palatine. The following night a birthday dinner was held at home for the youngest member, Robert, who was one. In addition to his sisters and brother, James, also attending were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Splon of River Forest.

DORIS AND KENETH Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, have been entertaining Doris' mother, Mrs. J. C. Durham of Galatia, Ill., who has enjoyed becoming reacquainted with her grandchildren, Kenny, Kathleen, James and Timothy.

A birthday picnic was held Sunday by the Bill Platte family, 1318 N. Race, in honor of Bill's mother, Mrs. C. J. Platte. Also attending were Bill's father and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster and children, and Mrs. Clara Weber, all of Chicago.

Nancy and Cynthia Cates, 1334 N. Yale, were recent house guests of their grandparents, the Harold Spions of River Forest. During their stay the girls reveled in downtown luncheons and visits to the Planetarium and museums.

Among Virginia Terrace fathers and sons who attended the camp-out at Kettle Moraine park near Whitewater, Wis., last weekend were Charles Millhouser and son, Bob, Al Schmitt and son, Bert, Ted Larson and sons, Larry and Mark, Ray Kellogg and son, Whitney, and Ed Cech and son, David.

BETTY AND JACK Sorenson, 1405 N. Chicago, with Nancy and Richard, enjoyed a 3-week vacation at a cottage in Glen Lake, Mich. While there, they entertained Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hewitt of Springfield, Ohio, and aunt, Mrs. Louise Sorensen of Detroit.

Barbara Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, celebrated her sixth birthday with a trip to Hawthorn Mellody farm. Joining her were Terry Ellen Trummer and Ellen Frisbie, who topped the day off with eating lunch out and birthday cake and ice cream at home. Due to illness, Lisa Yates couldn't attend.

Ted and Marcy Micek, 1325 N. Chicago, recently celebrated Marcy's birthday by dining at the Hearthstone restaurant, Palatine.

Out-of-town visitors have been keeping the Corleys, 1326 N. Chicago, busy on recent weekends. Meg and Martin initially entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentz of Milwaukee. This past weekend their guests were Martin's sister and family, the William Papes of Homewood, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Corley of Chicago.

Mary and Ray Funk, 1401 Clarendon, recently entertained Ray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Funk of Findlay, Ohio. They enjoyed visiting with their grandchildren, Jackie and Teri, and also excursions to Arlington Park, a White Sox game, bowling and going to the beach.

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS

Advertisement For Bids

The Board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, will receive sealed proposals for the construction of paving improvements in Willow Street, from State Road to Highland Avenue, as provided in Special Assessment No. 144 until 7:30 P.M. (Central Daylight Savings Time) on the 17th day of August, 1961, at the office of the Village Clerk at the Village Hall, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

All Proposals received will be publicly opened and real aloud in the Village Hall at Arlington Heights, Illinois, at 8:00 P.M. Central Daylight Savings Time, on August 17, 1961.

The Contract Documents, including plans and specifications are on file and available for inspection at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Arlington Heights, at the Village Hall.

Copies of documents, including plans and specifications required for review or bidding purposes, may be obtained only from the Village Clerk by depositing $5.00 with the Village Clerk for each set of documents so obtained.

The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents and one-half of the deposit for any additional sets of documents will be refunded to each Bidder who submits a formal proposal to the Board of Local Improvements and who also returns the plans (and specifications on additional sets) in good condition to the Village Clerk within ten (10) days after his bid security has been returned to him.

A certified check or cashier's check drawn on a solvent bank in the State of Illinois, payable without condition to the President of the Board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, in an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the bid shall be submitted with each Proposal.

No bid shall be withdrawn after the opening of Proposals without the consent of the Board of Local Improvements for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time for closing bids.

The Board of Local Improvements reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals and to waive any informalities in bidding.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the sum of the full amount of the Contract.

In general, the improvement on which Proposals are requested will require the installation, complete, of approximately 3600 Square Yards of Bituminous Pavement, 2750 Lineal Feet of Curb and Gutter, 13,500 Square Feet of 5" Concrete Sidewalk and appurtenant construction.

Plans and specifications for this project were prepared by Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Consulting Engineers, 360 East Grand Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois.

Payment will be made in Special Assessment Bonds bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

Dated at Arlington Heights, Illinois this 20th day of July, 1961.

Beverly and Jack McCall, 1406 W. Grove, and their children, Jeffrey, Kevin, Christopher, Bobby and Mary Margaret, attended their annual family picnic at Miami Woods Sunday. Aout 150 members of the McGovern family enjoyed the day of games and races for everybody.

Jack's brother and family, Bob and Ella McCall and their four children joined them in the day's activities.

A surprise bridge going away party was given for Mary Richard Wednesday evening by Hazel Herter and Millie Nelson in the latter's home. Both of the bridge clubs to which Mary belongs got together for the affair and presented her with a blender. On hand for the occasion were Meg Gaylon, Connie Townsend, Sarabel Lazor, Elaine Teletzke, Teresa Parsons, Margaret Meinhardt, Pat Jacobson, Lois Brask and Elaine O'Connell. Dotty Bledsoe and Gloria Kuehn were unable to attend.

Mary and Bob Richard returned home Sunday afternoon from New Jersey, where they spent the week house hunting. After much looking, they finally located a home they liked in Little Silver, and will move there the latter part of August.

Returning home last Monday from a week's trip through parts of Wisconsin were Velma and Bob Sindorf and their children, Patty and Sue Ann, 1502 W. Grove. They spent most of their time sightseeing and cooking-out in the various parks.

The Buzz Nelsons and their daughters, Jan and Jenee, reported a busy vacation. First they visited friends in Southern Illinois and then returned home to pack for a trip to Lake Totonta, where they visited Millie's sister and family at their lake side cabin.

AFTER THEIR STAY there they went on to Mankato, Minn., to visit relatives. Jan stayed on for a visit with her cousin, Barbara, while the rest of the family returned home. Jan and Barbara returned here by train the following week. The next few days were spent sightseeing, showing Barbara the high points of Chicago.

The Miresse family, 1414 W. Grove, returned home Saturday, browned and rested, after a 2-week vacation at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Pamela had been visiting relatives the two weeks before her parents and brother, Dennis, came for her. (A

A week ago Tuesday Dolores Smith, 1611 Johanna terr., attended the performance of 'Can-Can' at the Music theatre, Highland Park, with other members of her social club.

July 20 the Larry Smith family had a picnic and swimming party at a friend's cottage on Powers lake to celebrate the seventh birthday of their daughter, Maurita.

Alan and Gerald Van Bladel returned home last Friday evening after spending five days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Bladel, Maywood.

Dolores and Morris Miller recently moved to 111 N. Reuter with their children, Rex, 6, Stacy, 4, and Shauna, one, from Indianapolis. Morris, employed by D. F. Keller Co., Chicago, as a salesman, enjoys a game of golf and he and his wife appreciate good music.

A PARTY WAS HELD at the home of Helen and Jim Bathgate, 1618 Johanna terr., last Saturday and was attended by five couples. Guests of honor were Helen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson, who are returning to their home in Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., today after spending two weeks here.

Mrs. John Fortner returned to her home in Rockville, Ind., last Sunday after spending two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Esther and Carl Fortner, 112 N. Reuter. While here she became acquainted with the newest addition to the family, James Lewis, and gave some assistance to Esther. Weekend guests in the Fortner home were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kelly, Evansville, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kaetzel, Dale, Ind., who were on their way home from a fishing vacation in Minnesota.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

"Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds" would be good background music for some vacationing Terrace families . . .

The Ray Kelloggs of 1341 N. Wilke, for example, with children, Whitney and Jean, returned Friday from a week of camping at Devil's Lake, Wis. They enjoyed climbing the 50-foot bluffs, riding and fishing.

Camping also appeals to the Schluntz family, 1256 N. Chicago. John and Inge recently returned from Franklin Lake, Wis., where, with son, Hart, they enjoyed fishing.

Friends and neighbors of Kenneth and Eugenia Stevens, formerly of 1716 W. Olive, are glad their recent move has taken them only as far as 738 Belmont in Arlington Heights.

Jane, daughter of Bob and Jo Hult, 1108 N. Chicago, is vacationing in Grosse Pt. Shores, Mich., with her aunt, uncle and cousins, the David Larson family. Jane reports that she is having canoe lessons and learning sailboating.

EILEEN AND RAY Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, recently enjoyed a visit by former Terrace residents, the Bill Brown family, who are now living in Milwaukee.

Rev. Maynard Beal, 1440 N. Race, recently returned from the National Conference of Methodist Men held at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. Sunday the Beals entertained Jean's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moses, and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tapp, all of Park Ridge, at a family dinner.

Arthur and Barbara Friedberg, 1316 N. Yale, were pleased when their son, Billy, was chosen as a contestant at the American Accordionists' association nationwide conference recently held at the Congress hotel.

The Knolls, 1255 N. Wilke, recently returned home from a week's stay in Sister's Bay, Wis. Hank, Lorraine and the boys, Bruce and Keith, enjoyed their stay at a lakeside cottage as well as swimming, bowling and usual sightseeing trips.

A 3-PART birthday celebration was held for Loni, daughter of Ted and Edith Larson, 1202 N. Race, recently. A family dinner was held initially, with brothers, Larry and Mark, and sister, Thea, along with Aunt Sylvia Rockefeller of Chicago attending. Saturday there was a birthday luncheon with Thea and playmates, Dawn Dolejs, Kathy and Vicky Schmidt, Roxanne Petrucci and Cathy Narup, enjoying the lollipop cake and punch. The final celebration was held at a beach party at Wauconda with Loni's immediate family and her aunt, Mrs. Leon Burrs, and cousins, Karen and Susie.

Due to the fact the Ray Browns, 1504 W. Oakton, were spending a long weekend with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Higgins of Madison, Wis., they held Marianne's 10th birthday party early with a luncheon and scavenger hunt. Attending were her sister, Kathleen, Eileen and Kathleen Dunne, Mary Kay Henneman, Felicity and Ann Frisbie and Leslie Yates.

JOE AND JACKIE Koenig, 1255 N. Chicago, recently returned from a 2-week vacation in Colorado. Accompanied by their older children, Pam and Bobby, they toured the state from the National park to Colorado Springs, enjoying every step of the way. The younger boys, Tommy and Kenny, enjoyed a change of scenery while visiting grandma, Mrs. G. Anderson in Glenview.

A party celebrating his seventh birthday was recently held in honor of Kevin Wiederhold, 1322 N. Chicago. Joining in the festivities were Michael Adkins, "Booner" Kalous, Guy Eisenhuth, Kevin Corley, Jimmy Kohler and Robby Husted. Helping with the games and bike decorating was Kevin's oldest brother, Kim.

Front Royale, Va., was the site of a birthday celebration for Kim, daughter of Robert and Shirley Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race. More than a week ago Kim and her brother, Gary, flew to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vogtritter, whose restaurant, it was decided, would make a perfect location for Kim's eighth birthday party. On the subject of birthday parties, Shirley reports of one they attended Saturday night, held for Robert's brother, Curt Vogtritter, in Park Ridge and given by his fiancee, Miss Jane Amberg.

The Cates, 1334 N. Yale, had a big birthday weekend, too. Saturday, Margurite and James, together with daughter, Cynthia, hosted a dinner for Nancy's 15th birthday at the Hearthstone Restaurant in Palatine. The following night a birthday dinner was held at home for the youngest member, Robert, who was one. In addition to his sisters and brother, James, also attending were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Splon of River Forest.

DORIS AND KENETH Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, have been entertaining Doris' mother, Mrs. J. C. Durham of Galatia, Ill., who has enjoyed becoming reacquainted with her grandchildren, Kenny, Kathleen, James and Timothy.

A birthday picnic was held Sunday by the Bill Platte family, 1318 N. Race, in honor of Bill's mother, Mrs. C. J. Platte. Also attending were Bill's father and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster and children, and Mrs. Clara Weber, all of Chicago.

Nancy and Cynthia Cates, 1334 N. Yale, were recent house guests of their grandparents, the Harold Spions of River Forest. During their stay the girls reveled in downtown luncheons and visits to the Planetarium and museums.

Among Virginia Terrace fathers and sons who attended the camp-out at Kettle Moraine park near Whitewater, Wis., last weekend were Charles Millhouser and son, Bob, Al Schmitt and son, Bert, Ted Larson and sons, Larry and Mark, Ray Kellogg and son, Whitney, and Ed Cech and son, David.

BETTY AND JACK Sorenson, 1405 N. Chicago, with Nancy and Richard, enjoyed a 3-week vacation at a cottage in Glen Lake, Mich. While there, they entertained Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hewitt of Springfield, Ohio, and aunt, Mrs. Louise Sorensen of Detroit.

Barbara Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, celebrated her sixth birthday with a trip to Hawthorn Mellody farm. Joining her were Terry Ellen Trummer and Ellen Frisbie, who topped the day off with eating lunch out and birthday cake and ice cream at home. Due to illness, Lisa Yates couldn't attend.

Ted and Marcy Micek, 1325 N. Chicago, recently celebrated Marcy's birthday by dining at the Hearthstone restaurant, Palatine.

Out-of-town visitors have been keeping the Corleys, 1326 N. Chicago, busy on recent weekends. Meg and Martin initially entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentz of Milwaukee. This past weekend their guests were Martin's sister and family, the William Papes of Homewood, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Corley of Chicago.

Mary and Ray Funk, 1401 Clarendon, recently entertained Ray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Funk of Findlay, Ohio. They enjoyed visiting with their grandchildren, Jackie and Teri, and also excursions to Arlington Park, a White Sox game, bowling and going to the beach.

No bid shall be withdrawn after the opening of Proposals without the consent of the Board of Local Improvements for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time for closing bids.

The Board of Local Improvements reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals and to waive any informalities in bidding.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the sum of the full amount of the Contract.

In general, the improvement on which Proposals are requested will require the installation, complete, of approximately 3600 Square Yards of Bituminous Pavement, 2750 Lineal Feet of Curb and Gutter, 13,500 Square Feet of 5" Concrete Sidewalk and appurtenant construction.

Plans and specifications for this project were prepared by Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Consulting Engineers, 360 East Grand Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois.

Payment will be made in Special Assessment Bonds bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

Dated at Arlington Heights, Illinois this 20th day of July, 1961.

Balanced performance

It has always been the policy of Cadillac engineers to provide full-range performance . . . with no one phase accented at the expense of another. The 1961 Cadillac delivers the best balanced response in Cadillac history . . . smooth, alert and quiet from start to cruising . . . equally impressive in busy traffic as in turnpike passing. The Cadillac power plant for 1961 will influence the fine car field for years to come.

Experts Survey Future Needs Of High School, Cite Growth

by HELENE BRISTOL

The post-war baby boom and the surging suburban population growth have hit Arlington-Prospect high school district 214.

New building projects, long familiar to taxpayers and school administrators at the elementary school level, are now "immediate" for the high school, according to Dr. Jack R. Childress.

Dr. Childress headed a team of graduate experts from Northwestern university who have just completed a study of school plant and school site needs for the high school.

The startling "musts" of building and enrollment expansion of the school district were discussed with school board members and the public Monday night at a special meeting in the Arlington high school Little Theatre.

MAJOR recommendations of Dr. Childress include:

—Two new school sites of at least 40 acres, bringing the total sites owned by the district to eight;

—A new 2,500 pupil high school in the north Wheeling township area by 1963 or 1964 "at the latest";

—A fifth high school for the district in Elk Grove Village "no later than 1965 or 1966";

—A sixth high school by 1969.

ENROLLMENT in district 214 schools will reach 15,514 by 1969-70, according to Dr. Childress. This figure could be varied, depending on building patterns and development of parochial high schools, to a figure of 13,159. This compares to the 1960-61 enrollment of 4,416.

As an indication of the growth experienced by the schools in the area, Dr. Childress cited the elementary school population in the Wheeling and Elk Grove township area and Rolling Meadows area in 1950-1951 as 3,384. This area, which comprises the high school district, had an enrollment of 23,592 in 1960-61 — an increase of almost 600 per cent.

In the same period, the high school registration grew from 994 to 4,416 — an increase of about 350 per cent.

The registration of the present freshman class in district 214 schools is almost five times that of 1950-51, Dr. Charles noted.

GROWTH OF parochial high schools is not expected to affect district 214 enrollments to any increasing degree, according to the report, since about 47 per cent of Catholic grade school graduates go on to non-private high schools. This percentage will probably not increase because of lack of facilities, Dr. Childress said.

One of the survey team's findings was that, with annexations, the boundaries of existing municipalities in the district would be contiguous by 1980. They are now separated by farm fields and open spaces. This will present a picture similar to clusters of communities such as Skokie, Wilmette and Evanston or Cicero, Oak Park and Berwyn.

Compared to the 1960 total population of 97,000 in the district, Dr. Childress estimated a population of 173,000 in 1970 and 234,000 in 1980.

DR. CHILDRESS further indicated there were about 26,200 living units in the district today with a high school enrollment of .17 child per home. He stressed at least 20,000 new homes would be constructed in the area in the next ten years, with a much larger potential possible. Dr. Childress also emphasized the .17 high school child per home could be increased to .30 before 1970. In this event, the figures developed in the report would be "minimal" he said.

This would be borne out by a "saturation" population of the area with two homes per acre on land available for residential development. Using these figures the gross home potential swells to 84,400 homes. Since most development is done on less than ½-acre lots the usual development provides four to five homes per acre.

If the "saturation" building were extended to three per acre the number of potential homes would swell to 126,800. Using the high school attendance average figure of .17 this would bring a potential high school enrollment of 21,556. If the .30 figure were to be realized the high school district might someday have an enrollment of 44,040.

TO MEET the massive enrollment swell possible in the district, Dr. Childress proposed a specific time-schedule for action. The steps suggested included:

—Adoption of a basic long-range school plant development plan by the fall of 1961;

—Efforts to purchase or obtain options on two new school sites by spring of 1962;

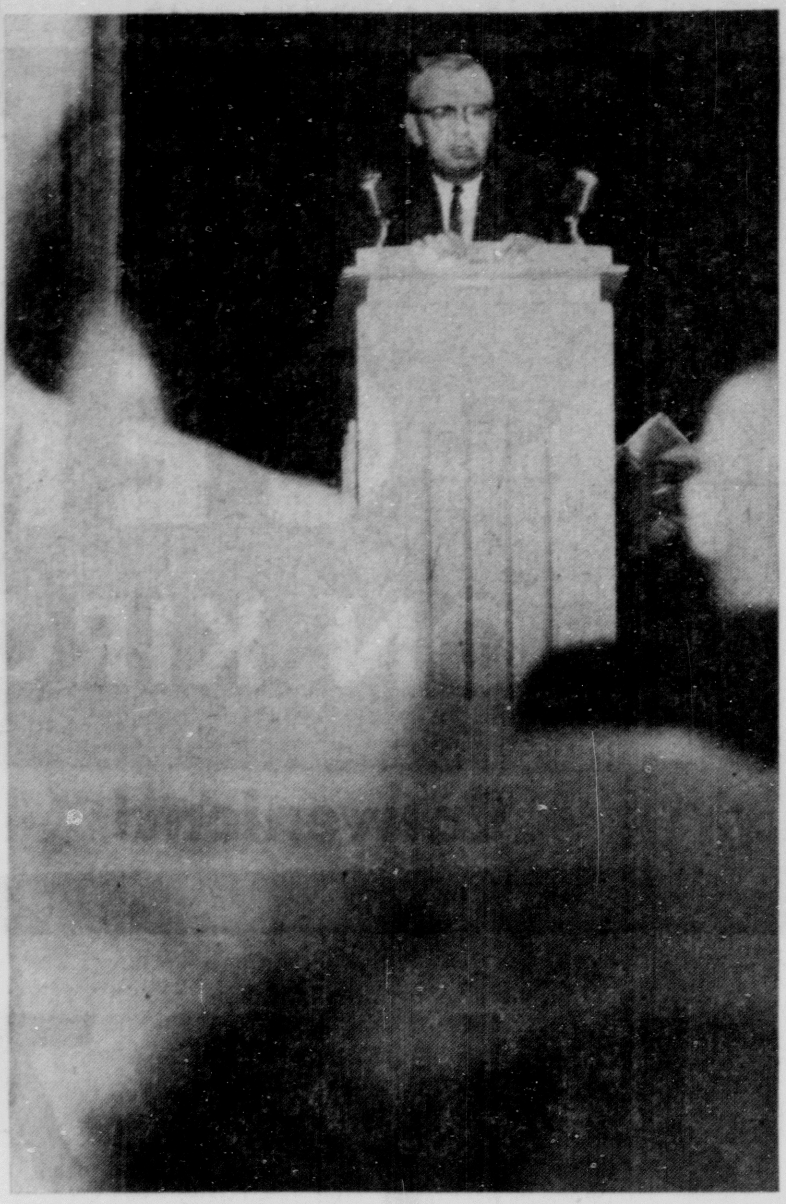
—Planning for a fourth high school in the 1961-62 school year;

—Construction of the fourth building for occupancy at the start of the 1964-65 school year at the latest;

—Planning for the fifth school plant in 1962-63;

—Construction of the fifth school to be opened by 1965 or no later than 1966.

Dr. Childress praised the school board and administration for their alertness to school growth problems and their devotion of time and energy in solution of them. He stated the administration, staff and school board of district 214 "deserve special commendation from and recognition by the community."



TWO NEW HIGH SCHOOLS by 1963-64 and 1965-66 was the emphatic advice of Dr. Jack Childress of Northwestern to members of the Arlington-Prospect district 214 high school board and public Monday night. Dr. Childress and a team of population-growth experts recently has completed a survey of district 214 showing a swelling high school enrollment and the need for new buildings and school sites.

Park Manor Plans Delayed to Sept.

Arlington Heights trustees voted 5-0 Monday to accept a special committee report which suggested recommendations concerning the Park Manor improvement program be delayed until September.

The report, submitted by Trustees Samuel Wit, Richard Glantz and William Moore, said:

"The committee has tried to digest the voluminous information presented and to come up with a recommendation for this meeting of July 24 as stipulated by the board of trustees."

"The committee feels that in view of the amount of data available, the size of the special assessment project involved, and its importance to all concerned, that more time should be allowed for this committee to arrive at a recommendation."

The committee, appointed June 19 to meet with Park Manor residents and members of the board of local improvements, suggested recommendations be made at the first board meeting in September.

Chairman Wit pointed out that revisions now being made to the project's engineering plans further complicated the committee making a decision.

Donald Burdick, president of the Park Manor Homeowners Assn., was assured trustees would not meet with the BOLI to discuss the project unless association members were present.

The $1 million project includes installation of sanitary and storm sewers, water lines and street paving for the 40-acre subdivision in southeastern Arlington Heights. (A

Annual Olympics Slated Saturday

The annual Lions Olympics will be held Saturday morning, July 29, at Recreation park. Morning activity begins at 9 a.m. with the wheel parade. Awards will be given for outstanding entries.

Following the parade, competition for boys and girls will be held in the following events: standing broad jump, standing hop-step and jump, softball throw, 50-yard dash, and a 200-yard shuttle relay.

GIRLS AND BOYS will be divided into four age groups with ribbons being awarded to the top three finishers in each event in each age group.

The digit class is for those children that just completed first or second grade, midget will be for those that were in third or fourth, intermediate for fifth and sixth, and junior for seventh and eighth.

Officiating at the Olympics will be members of the local Lions club and the park district recreation staff.

THE EVENING events will consist of individual swimming competition in crawl and back stroke. Boys and girls will be divided into five age groups: 8 and under, 9 and 10, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15 and 16. Starting time of the final will be 7:30 p.m.

The annual Lions Olympics is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club in cooperation with the Arlington Heights park district. (A

Reservoir Paint Bids Received

Six bids ranging from $1,590 to $3,190 were received by Arlington Heights trustees Monday for exterior painting of the two water reservoirs on Ridge st.

Trustees voted to refer the three lowest bids to Village Manager L. A. Hanson, who was authorized to study them and to award the contract to the company submitting the lowest and best bid.

APARENT LOW bidder was Clamandon Decorating Service, Chicago, at $1,590. Manager Hanson estimated cost of paint would run an additional $500 to $700.

Also referred to Hanson for study were two bids on a motorcycle for the police department. Low bid was $1,772.

Do not say, "He is nothing like as spry as he used to be" Say, "He is NOT NEARLY SO spry as he FORMERLY WAS."

FISHING FOR GOLDFISH at Westgate Park and Shop's anniversary celebration last Saturday were these Arlington Heights children, who enlisted the aid of their mothers.

Westgate Birthday Party Is Success

Features of Westgate Park and Shop's anniversary celebration Saturday were children fishing for goldfish and free anniversary prizes.

The $50 U. S. Savings bond was awarded by the Westgate merchants to Ralph McGee, 1819 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. Other prizes were a fishing reel given by National Tea Co. to Esther Van Bladel, 108 N. Reuter, Arlington Heights; and a chaise lounge given by Westgate Drugs to F. E. Gerfy, 1206 W. Sigwalt, Arlington Heights.

AN EVANS bicycle was given by the Four Seasons sporting goods to John Murray, 1402 Grove, Arlington Heights; free cleaning given by the Westgate Cleaners to Dolores Szwiec, 2504 Fremont, Rolling Meadows; and $5 gift certificates by Westgate Bootery to Allen Barry, 1511 St. James place, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. C. Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, Arlington Heights.

Francis Draut, 746 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, received a Hasty Bake from Freitag Hardware; G. Tierney, 1729 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, a jersey coat given by Miss Mayfield; and Mrs. Charles Kessler, 1608 Johanna terr., Arlington Heights, received a child's snowsuit given by Sugar 'n Spice.

CD Effort Is Slated

The subject of Civil Defense is to be placed on an agenda for a future meeting of Arlington Heights trustees.

Village President John G. Woods, who made the CD proclamation Monday, said he was "very impressed" by the nation's defense network he saw while on a four-day Army junket last week.

He quoted two Army generals and President John F. Kennedy as saying effective local Civil Defense systems are "highly essential."

Forest View News

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wulff, S. Douglas, attended a picnic supper at the Herman Wulff home, Des Plaines, in honor of Mr. Wulff's cousins, the Arthur Sander family from Conroe, Texas. Also attending were the senior Arthur Sanders from Texas, Mrs. Sander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mack, and her brother, Tom, who was home on leave from the navy.

July 11 Mrs. Wulff's birthday club held their annual picnic for their children at Bangs lake.

Mrs. Harry Smital and daughter, Melanie, recently returned from Kent, Ohio, where they visited friends. Mrs. Smital's nephew, P. J. Bartlett, was a visitor in the Smital home on S. Arlington Heights rd. for a week.

The John Turner family, Council trail, entertained June's sister and family, the Thomas Ryans of Chicago, at a barbecue Saturday evening.

Marion Dreiling's mother, Mrs. Roland Howard of Medford, Ore., is visiting her daughter and family.

STEVEN SPROULE is visiting his aunt, Mrs. H. J. Corson in Philadelphia, for three weeks. Joe Sproule took Steven to Philadelphia and spent a day with his sister before returning home.

Mrs. Anna Johnson of St. Joseph, Mich., was a weekend guest in the home of her daughter and family, the Thomas Baldassaris, W. Golf rd. Sunday the Norman Kroll family of Elmwood Park were visitors. Sherry Kroll is Tom and Goldie's godchild.

Thursday luncheon guest of Mrs. Otto Gorgius, S. Busse rd., was Mrs. Stewart Avildsen of Chicago.

The 16th birthday of Catherine Tagge, S. Arlington Heights rd., was celebrated Sunday at an afternoon and evening party. Guests were the Paul Joost family of Marengo, Walter Joost family of Elkhorn, Wis., Fred Settles family of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Tagge, Des Plaines, and Irene, Gretchen and Harriot Rath of Evanston.

The Richard Heinrich family of Shorewood, Wis., were the weekend guests of the Roger Bardwells, Brierwood dr.

THE DON Heidorns, S. Busse rd., spent their vacation fishing in Canada and visiting relatives in Mound, Minn. This week Heather Koeritz, Mr. Heidorn's niece, is visiting them.

Machinist Mate 2/c Dave Beigel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beigel, 135 Golf terr., was home on a 21-day leave from the navy. He reported back to his base, Charleston, S. C., July 16 and will leave for overseas August 3.

The Carroll Carter family, Council trail, went to Rockford last Sunday and dined with the L. M. Carter family.

The evening of July 21, the Jim Homers, Golf terr., were hosts at a going away party for Carroll and Ruby Carter, who are moving to California in the near future. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of humorous gifts pertaining either to California or some past experience here with the Carters. Guests, besides the Carters, were the Bernard Walkers, Robert Palmers, Joe Sproules, Ted Meyers, Kenneth Loverings, Don De Bertram and Larry Mailfold.

Mrs. Phil Ellefson had as her house guest for 10 days, her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hansen of St. Paul, Minn. Last week her mother, Mrs. Hildora Hood of Vallejo, Cal., came for an extended visit.

Thursday the Bernard Olson family, drove to Edgerton, Wis., where they met a group of relatives from Wisconsin Rapids and enjoyed a family picnic. Miss Pat Joling, a niece of Mrs. Olson, returned home with them. Sunday afternoon visitors in the Olson home were Mr. and Mrs. William Chilton of Evergreen Park.

During their vacation this month Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sullivan, Judy and Patsy drove to Kalamazoo, where they enjoyed visiting the Kellogg Bird sanctuary. They also spent a day at Green Lake, Wis. (AME

Reservoir Paint Bids Received

Six bids ranging from $1,590 to $3,190 were received by Arlington Heights trustees Monday for exterior painting of the two water reservoirs on Ridge st.

Trustees voted to refer the three lowest bids to Village Manager L. A. Hanson, who was authorized to study them and to award the contract to the company submitting the lowest and best bid.

APARENT LOW bidder was Clamandon Decorating Service, Chicago, at $1,590. Manager Hanson estimated cost of paint would run an additional $500 to $700.

Also referred to Hanson for study were two bids on a motorcycle for the police department. Low bid was $1,772.

INCESSANT; continuing without interruption; unceasing. "The farmers could not work because of incessant rains."

PROTRACT; to draw out or lengthen in time. "Why should he protract the argument?"

FISHING FOR GOLDFISH at Westgate Park and Shop's anniversary celebration last Saturday were these Arlington Heights children, who enlisted the aid of their mothers.

The use of SURE for SURELY is colloquial, and is never used in formal English in this sense. Do not say, "I sure am going." Say, "I SURELY am going."

Do not say, "He is nothing like as spry as he used to be" Say, "He is NOT NEARLY SO spry as he FORMERLY WAS."

Westgate Birthday Party Is Success

Features of Westgate Park and Shop's anniversary celebration Saturday were children fishing for goldfish and free anniversary prizes.

The $50 U. S. Savings bond was awarded by the Westgate merchants to Ralph McGee, 1819 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. Other prizes were a fishing reel given by National Tea Co. to Esther Van Bladel, 108 N. Reuter, Arlington Heights; and a chaise lounge given by Westgate Drugs to F. E. Gerfy, 1206 W. Sigwalt, Arlington Heights.

AN EVANS bicycle was given by the Four Seasons sporting goods to John Murray, 1402 Grove, Arlington Heights; free cleaning given by the Westgate Cleaners to Dolores Szwiec, 2504 Fremont, Rolling Meadows; and $5 gift certificates by Westgate Bootery to Allen Barry, 1511 St. James place, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. C. Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, Arlington Heights.

Francis Draut, 746 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, received a Hasty Bake from Freitag Hardware; G. Tierney, 1729 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, a jersey coat given by Miss Mayfield; and Mrs. Charles Kessler, 1608 Johanna terr., Arlington Heights, received a child's snowsuit given by Sugar 'n Spice.

WITH UNCLE SAM

Youths Must Register With Uncle Sam at 18

A youth who fails to register with selective service on reaching age 18 is liable to be declared delinquent and ordered for immediate induction into the armed forces.

THIS WARNING was issued today by Willard A. Manning, state director of selective service for Illinois.

Federal law requires all male citizens to register within five days after their 18th birthday. Aliens must register within six months after entering the United States.

A man should register at the local board in the area of his permanent residence. If away from home he may register at any convenient board and his registration will then be assigned to his home board.

In Mediterranean

In Meditterranean 14 bold Fighter Squadron 11 personnel, known as the world famous "Red Rippers," fly the 1,000-plus - mph Crusader aircraft while operating in the Mediterranean area.

Serving with the squadron is James A. Schneider, aviation structural mechanic 3/c, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schneider of 3907 Redwing ct., Rolling Meadows.

The squadron, the oldest continuously operating squadron in the world, is scheduled to return to the U.S. in September.

In Germany

PFC Elroy G. Storms, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Storms, 124 N. Garden ave., Bensenville, participated with other personnel from the Seventh U. S. Army's 8th Infantry Division in April Shower, a command post exercise in Germany which ended in mid-June.

A reproduction specialist in the division's 8th Administration Company in Bad Kreuznach, Storms entered the army in July 1959 and was stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga., before arriving overseas in February 1960.

He is a 1957 graduate of Fenton high school. Prior to entering the army, Storms was employed by the Vickers Corp. (WUS

In Germany

PFC Jerry W. Wilhite, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wilhite, 220 Medincal rd., Addison, recently became a member of the Seventh U. S. Army's Order of Gold Patriots while serving with the 32d artillery in Hanaw, Germany.

Members of this voluntary movement have pledged their support of President John F. Kennedy in reducing the outflow of gold from the U. S.

Wilhite, a supply clerk in the artillery's headquarters and service battery in Hanau, entered the Army in April 1960, completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., before arriving overseas in September 1960.

He attended Proviso high school in Maywood. (WUS

By-Laws Approved For Association

By-laws for the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health association were approved at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors July 20. Reports were given from the participating communities about the activities of their local groups.

Chairmen were given membership cards of the association to distribute. One dollar entitles a person to a membership bearing his name as associate member of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health association.

THE EXECUTIVE board meets this week to define boundaries for the area to be served by the proposed clinic. The association activities are being geared towards its Mental Health Week September 10-16.

All communities are still in need of more volunteers. Anyone interested in helping to establish a Mental Health Clinic in the Northwest area is asked to contact the local chairmen.

Sidewalk Replacement Program Set

The village of Arlington Heights is about to launch a cooperative sidewalk replacement program.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson said this week the village will share equally with homeowners the cost of replacing damaged residential sidewalks.

"The only exception under the 50-50 plan is the sidewalk area at driveways," Hanson explained. He said the homeowner will be asked to pay for the driveway walk replacement.

Residents interested in sidewalk repair are invited to phone John Best or Norman Toberman of the village engineering department, CL 3-2340. A field survey will be made and exact cost determined.

Mrs. Burns To Manage New Bureau

Mrs. C. E. Burns, owner and manager of the Northwest Suburban Credit Bureau of Palatine, will also manage the new Credit Bureau of Arlington Heights, scheduled to open August 1 at 11 S. Vail, Arlington Heights.

A direct telephone line to Chicago will provide low toll rates between suburban communities and the Chicagoland area, Mrs. Burns said.

NORTHWEST Suburban Credit Bureau is a member of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc., which affords nation-wide service.

In the near future, a plastic charge plate will be issued for Arlington Heights residents.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE July 12 Welcome Neighbor bus tour for Arlington Heights newcomers was a fashion show at the Arlington Heights National bank. Models showed women's teen and children's fashions during a refreshment stop in the tour. Fashions were provided by the Lorraine-Anne shops, Arlington Heights and Meadowdale, and the Terri Lee Specialty shop, Arlington Heights. The bus tours and receptions are sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce as a program to welcome new residents to the village. (A

Plan Little Miss Pioneer Contest

The second annual Little Miss Pioneer contest will be held Saturday, August 5, at 2 p.m., at the wading pool at Pioneer park, it was announced this week by Jane Schaefer, contest director.

The bathing beauty contest will be open to girls from ages two to seven years. Girls should wear swimming suits of any type, traditional one-piece, two-piece, or bikinis, Miss Schaefer said.

Last year's contest, built around an "itsy-bitsy, teeny-weenie, yellow, polka-dot bikini" theme was immensely successful, she noted. About 150 girls wearing bikinis of every kind were entered.

THE 1960 contest was won by Barbara Fortin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fortin, 401 S. Lincoln ln. Barbara will reign over the 1961 contest and crown the new Little Miss Pioneer.

Each year's winner has a court of three runnersup.

For additional information about the contest, call the park district administrative offices, CL 3-0620. (A

Industry Survey Report Is Sought

They're playing "button, button, who's got the button" at Arlington Furniture Mart.

Only it's the Industrial Survey Report of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce that's missing.

Industrial committee, chairmanned by Fritz Wolf of The Bank of Arlington Heights, recently compiled a 38-page report of information designed to answer location queries of light industries.

THE REPORT was in process of being passed around to Chamber board members for final approval before publication, and was resting on the desk of Ev Lindgren when it attracted the attention of an interested citizen of the community.

The report has not been seen since. Chamber officers hope publication of this story will mean return of the report.(A

The use of FIRE in the sense of "discharge from employment" is still considered slang, and should, therefore, be avoided in formal usage.

Lt. Robert Buchanan Joins AF Reserve Recovery Group

Lt. Robert B. Buchanan, 4004 Raven lane, Rolling Meadows, has been assigned as information staff officer with the 8570th Air Force reserve recovery group.

Lt. Buchanan started training with the 8570th group July 22 at O'Hare International airport when the group began supervision and inspection of three air force recovery squadrons located at Rockford, Rock Island, and Midway airport, Chicago.

A SEVEN-YEAR veteran with the air force, including two years on active duty at Sewart AFB, Tenn., Lt. Buchanan will assist Col. Marshall C. Strenger, commander, as his information staff oficer. In civilian life Buchanan is editor of The Bowling Proprietor, trade publication of The Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, Inc., of Park Ridge.

The newly organized reserve recovery mission is to provide a series of airfields across the nation, all manned by reservists who will be capable of refueling and returning friendly aircraft to action should their home base be wiped out in the initial stages of a major conflict. The new plan calls upon the use of existing commercial airports and the cooperation of the community and its leaders.

Lt. Buchanan, and his wife, Lorraine, are the parents of two sons, Keith, 5, and Kevin, 2. (WUS

Youths Must Register With Uncle Sam at 18

A youth who fails to register with selective service on reaching age 18 is liable to be declared delinquent and ordered for immediate induction into the armed forces.

THIS WARNING was issued today by Willard A. Manning, state director of selective service for Illinois.

Federal law requires all male citizens to register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Aliens must register within six months after entering the United States.

A man should register at the local board in the area of his permanent residence. If away from home he may register at any convenient board and his registration will then be assigned to his home board.

Plan Little Miss Pioneer Contest

The second annual Little Miss Pioneer contest will be held Saturday, August 5, at 2 p.m., at the wading pool at Pioneer park, it was announced this week by Jane Schaefer, contest director.

The bathing beauty contest will be open to girls from ages two to seven years. Girls should wear swimming suits of any type, traditional one-piece, two-piece, or bikinis, Miss Schaefer said.

Last year's contest, built around an "itsy-bitsy, teeny-weenie, yellow, polka-dot bikini" theme was immensely successful, she noted. About 150 girls wearing bikinis of every kind were entered.

THE 1960 contest was won by Barbara Fortin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fortin, 401 S. Lincoln ln. Barbara will reign over the 1961 contest and crown the new Little Miss Pioneer.

Each year's winner has a court of three runnersup.

For additional information about the contest, call the park district administrative offices, CL 3-0620.

Industry Survey Report Is Sought

They're playing "button, button, who's got the button" at Arlington Furniture Mart.

Only it's the Industrial Survey Report of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce that's missing.

Industrial committee, chairmanned by Fritz Wolf of The Bank of Arlington Heights, recently compiled a 38-page report of information designed to answer location queries of light industries.

THE REPORT was in process of being passed around to Chamber board members for final approval before publication, and was resting on the desk of Ev Lindgren when it attracted the attention of an interested citizen of the community.

The report has not been seen since. Chamber officers hope publication of this story will mean return of the report.(A

The use of FIRE in the sense of "discharge from employment" is still considered slang, and should, therefore, be avoided in formal usage.

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Lt. Robert Buchanan Joins AF Reserve Recovery Group

Lt. Robert B. Buchanan, 4004 Raven lane, Rolling Meadows, has been assigned as information staff officer with the 8570th Air Force reserve recovery group.

Lt. Buchanan started training with the 8570th group July 22 at O'Hare International airport when the group began supervision and inspection of three air force recovery squadrons located at Rockford, Rock Island, and Midway airport, Chicago.

A SEVEN-YEAR veteran with the air force, including two years on active duty at Sewart AFB, Tenn., Lt. Buchanan will assist Col. Marshall C. Strenger, commander, as his information staff oficer. In civilian life Buchanan is editor of The Bowling Proprietor, trade publication of The Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, Inc., of Park Ridge.

The newly organized reserve recovery mission is to provide a series of airfields across the nation, all manned by reservists who will be capable of refueling and returning friendly aircraft to action should their home base be wiped out in the initial stages of a major conflict. The new plan calls upon the use of existing commercial airports and the cooperation of the community and its leaders.

Lt. Buchanan, and his wife, Lorraine, are the parents of two sons, Keith, 5, and Kevin, 2.

Bugle Corps To Compete

The Norwood Park Imperials drum and bugle corp of Arlington Heights traveled to South Milwaukee, Wis., Saturday to compete in the annual Wisconsin Spectacle of Music and perform in the colorful and dramatic evening Spectacle in the South Milwaukee high school stadium.

The Imperials strutted their best in competition with some 50 other bands and drum and bugle corps in this event.

The Wisconsin Spectacle of Music opened with the start of the National Baton Twirling clinic on July 18. Barnstorming and fun-making closed the clinic on Friday and paved the way for the great Spectacle of Music on Saturday.

Three Teen Acts Chosen for Fair

UNSOLICITED AID was offered to musical group when 18-month-old Joy Sherry Manner, 210 Pine st., Roselle, climbed onto the stage Saturday at the Arlington high school during the Talented show. Show winners were chosen to participate in the DuPage county fair.

The Arlington Heights district Talented Teen show Saturday at Arlington high school brought young adults in the northwest area together to choose three acts to go to the DuPage county fair at Wheaton July 29. More than 1,000 teens have tried out in the area for this honor.

A saxophone selection of "Sleepy Time Gal" won first place honors for 15-year-old Emily Kastings in the instrumental division, while top prize for dancing went to Arlington Heights teen square dancers, Sheryl Crittenden, Ross Pattersson, Peggy Rathacker, Dave Tibbetts, Karen Sauerland, Bob Mendelsohn, Carol Retzike, James Sherwood and caller, Bill Moeglich.

JUDY MAYER, 18, of Des Plaines with a Russian song and Mary May, 17, 305 E. Chicago ave., Palatine with her song, "I Can't Say No," tied for first place in the vocal division.

Second honors in dancing went to Carol Radke, 14, from Elk Grove and Jan Miller, 15, from Arlington Heights with a modern dance.

A piano arrangement of "Indian Love Call" received a second place rating in the instrumental division for Marge Schroeder, 14, of Rohlwing rd., Rolling Meadows.

Second place in the singing division went to an Arlington Heights girls' sextet composed of Lucy Lynch, Sue Hiddings, Marti Watson, Mary Peifer, Alene Posselt, Sheryl Crittenden and their accompanist, Ellen Everhart.

SOON THE talented Teen club advisory committee will announce the schedule for regular workshops where members can practice and later perform at hospitals, orphanages and homes for the aged, according to chairman, Mrs. R. Crittenden.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Crittenden at 311 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, CL 3-2055.

Swingin' Squares

SWINGIN' SQUARES

Swingin' Squares of Arlington Heights are holding their annual picnic Sunday, July 30, from noon 'til dark at the Prairie club in Deer Grove, Palatine. To reach the grove from Arlington Heights take Northwest highway north to Ela rd., turn right on Ela, continue north to Hillside ave., turn right on Hillside to Prairie club. The picnic committee hopes to be able to place markers along the way so that everyone will be able to locate the grounds easily.

Games and contests for all age groups are being planned, with prizes for the winners. Square dancing will of course be the main feature, with Don Finfrock there to square 'em up. Each family is to bring its own picnic lunch and the club will furnish coffee, ice cream and soft drinks.

All square dancers are welcome to join club members for a midsummer's day of fun and dancing. Everybody come.

SUBURBANITE EMERGENCY PROTECTION
PERSONAL ACCIDENT POLICY
Designed Especially For Our
Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the Insured is or becomes age 70 and over.) It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

You, too, and each family household member can benefit by this valuable and vitally necessary personal accident protection program.

Don't wait until an accident strikes you!

Bugle Corps To Compete

The Norwood Park Imperials drum and bugle corp of Arlington Heights traveled to South Milwaukee, Wis., Saturday to compete in the annual Wisconsin Spectacle of Music and perform in the colorful and dramatic evening Spectacle in the South Milwaukee high school stadium.

The Imperials strutted their best in competition with some 50 other bands and drum and bugle corps in this event.

The Wisconsin Spectacle of Music opened with the start of the National Baton Twirling clinic on July 18. Barnstorming and fun-making closed the clinic on Friday and paved the way for the great Spectacle of Music on Saturday.

Three Teen Acts Chosen for Fair

UNSOLICITED AID was offered to musical group when 18-month-old Joy Sherry Manner, 210 Pine st., Roselle, climbed onto the stage Saturday at the Arlington high school during the Talented show. Show winners were chosen to participate in the DuPage county fair.

The Arlington Heights district Talented Teen show Saturday at Arlington high school brought young adults in the northwest area together to choose three acts to go to the DuPage county fair at Wheaton July 29. More than 1,000 teens have tried out in the area for this honor.

A saxophone selection of "Sleepy Time Gal" won first place honors for 15-year-old Emily Kastings in the instrumental division, while top prize for dancing went to Arlington Heights teen square dancers, Sheryl Crittenden, Ross Pattersson, Peggy Rathacker, Dave Tibbetts, Karen Sauerland, Bob Mendelsohn, Carol Retzike, James Sherwood and caller, Bill Moeglich.

JUDY MAYER, 18, of Des Plaines with a Russian song and Mary May, 17, 305 E. Chicago ave., Palatine with her song, "I Can't Say No," tied for first place in the vocal division.

Second honors in dancing went to Carol Radke, 14, from Elk Grove and Jan Miller, 15, from Arlington Heights with a modern dance.

A piano arrangement of "Indian Love Call" received a second place rating in the instrumental division for Marge Schroeder, 14, of Rohlwing rd., Rolling Meadows.

Second place in the singing division went to an Arlington Heights girls' sextet composed of Lucy Lynch, Sue Hiddings, Marti Watson, Mary Peifer, Alene Posselt, Sheryl Crittenden and their accompanist, Ellen Everhart.

SOON THE talented Teen club advisory committee will announce the schedule for regular workshops where members can practice and later perform at hospitals, orphanages and homes for the aged, according to chairman, Mrs. R. Crittenden.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Crittenden at 311 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, CL 3-2055.

Swingin' Squares

SWINGIN' SQUARES

Swingin' Squares of Arlington Heights are holding their annual picnic Sunday, July 30, from noon 'til dark at the Prairie club in Deer Grove, Palatine. To reach the grove from Arlington Heights take Northwest highway north to Ela rd., turn right on Ela, continue north to Hillside ave., turn right on Hillside to Prairie club. The picnic committee hopes to be able to place markers along the way so that everyone will be able to locate the grounds easily.

Games and contests for all age groups are being planned, with prizes for the winners. Square dancing will of course be the main feature, with Don Finfrock there to square 'em up. Each family is to bring its own picnic lunch and the club will furnish coffee, ice cream and soft drinks.

All square dancers are welcome to join club members for a midsummer's day of fun and dancing. Everybody come.

SUBURBANITE EMERGENCY PROTECTION
PERSONAL ACCIDENT POLICY
Designed Especially For Our
Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the Insured is or becomes age 70 and over.) It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

You, too, and each family household member can benefit by this valuable and vitally necessary personal accident protection program.

Don't wait until an accident strikes you!

Swim Festival Is Slated August 12

A REAL PRIZE "captured" by three local boys last week at Northwest Suburban YMCA day camp is this duck, which then posed the problem of whose home it would share. The three day campers are, left to right, Glenn Elvig and Mark Griffin, both of Arlington Heights, and Eric Yeater of Mount Prospect. According to a naturalist at Deer Grove, where it was found, the duck probably was "grounded" because of heavy moulting and therefore was easy to handle. The 'Y' day camp uses Deer Grove for morning outdoor activities, then returns the youngsters to the new 'Y' for an afternoon of swimming and indoor sports.

The Arlington Heights park district will sponsor a Synchronized Swimming Festival, Saturday, Aug. 12. The festival will feature the performance of show routines and regular AAU stunt competition.

About 10 park districts have been invited to participate in the festival by Jane Schaefer and Nancy Pearson, synchronized swimming instructors at Pioneer and Recreation pools.

TENTATIVE PLANS for the afternoon include a period set aside for each participating park district, during which group routines will be performed. Following this will be the age-group stunt competition with AAU judging and awards.

The festival is an effort by the Arlington Heights park district to provide a competitive program in synchronized swimming, for the north and west suburban areas.

Since there is no limit to invitation, any group, park district, country club or otherwise, interested in participating, is encouraged to contact Ken Bode, pool manager, Pioneer pool, CL 3-0620. (A ‘Youth Gang’ Outbreaks in Suburbs?

No Critical Problems Yet, Say Officials

by TOM EDWARDS

Destructive outbreaks by youth gangs seem to be a remote possibility in the northwest suburbs.

Such disturbances have occurred recently in Chicago and are a regular event in New York and other large metropolitan cities.

But suburban authorities discount any similar problems at the local level. They also deny existence of any large, well-organized gangs such as those in crowded, lower-income urban residential districts.

Nor is there any record of inter-gang fights, of organized crime or deadly assaults, or of large scale revenge beatings such as took place in Chicago two weeks ago.

Yet the northwest area does have its cliques of teenagers. Many incidents of vandalism have been attributed to them, and crimes to the extent of auto larceny.

FROM THE LOCAL DuPage county area come reports of some unsavory activities by groups of teens. However, the reports are sometimes conflicting.

In Cook county, from Mt. Prospect to Palatine to Wheeling, police chiefs say groups of teens pose no special problems or are they showing signs of doing so. But shoplifting and vandalism by individuals or groups of two or three have caused some concern.

The most recent serious incidents attributable to a teen group of any size have been reported from Wood Dale in Du Page county. According to police chief Ernest Lynch, one group in the 18 to 19 age bracket has apparently been responsible for vandalisms and thefts. Last week he booked two members for the third time, this time for stealing an automobile.

Also, he has on file photographs of vandalisms, including obscene words painted on buildings and malicious breakage of windows.

SUCH TEEN activities are not new to the area, but a continuing occurrence, Lynch said.

Apprehension is made more difficult because citizens sometimes balk at reporting offending youths.

Allegations have been made of personal intimidations to potential informants, according to Lynch. Sometimes they express fear of repercussions to smaller children of their own.

Yet the police chief does not know of any actual reprisal incidents.

But when citizens refuse to take action against teen lawbreakers, the police “might as well lock up shop and go home,” he said.

OUTSIDE OF the one, teen groups in his area behave, Lynch notes. He agrees with Arlington Heights police chief L. W. Calderwood that most cliques of teens are fine.

Formation of youngsters into groups is natural, Calderwood related. The groups serve as a nucleus of activities. “Youths are better now than they ever were,” he added.

Still, some other area police chiefs indicated, as did Lynch, that residents are often lax in reporting troublesome teens to police.

On the other hand, Calderwood notes that there are occasional unfounded and magnified accusations lodged by adults against teens. The actual intent of these persons, he said, is “to disturb the equilibrium of the entire community” by drumming something up.

ALSO, IT IS possible that some police chiefs may whitewash teen activities in order to protect the “good name” of their communities. It is not unusual that what is construed as adverse publicity is suppressed with the idea that this is best for a community’s well being.

STUART R. PADDOCK (left), president of Paddock Publications, Inc., presents the first claim check under Paddock’s personal accident insurance program to Arthur Jaques, 420 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights. Jaques was the first to subscribe to the insurance plan and the first to make a claim.

In addition, publicity promulgates teen trouble rather than helping to eliminate it, it is often held.

Wood Dale’s neighboring villages report less trouble with teens than Wood Dale, or none at all.

In Itasca, police chief George Cites admits some difficulties with a group of 16 to 20-year-olds up to about a month ago, but believes this to have either subsided, or more probably, the group is hanging out elsewhere.

INCIDENTS attributed to unruly teens in Itasca include turning on six fire hydrants simultaneously in May, breaking a plate glass window, and obscene heckling of adults on one occasion. One individual thought a citizens vigilante group to control teens should be formed.

Bloomingdale police chief George Mueller says that loitering teen groups are immediately broken up and suspicious activities checked. There has been no loitering for about a year, he said.

Addison police chief Nels Anderson reported only one incident with a teen group, a heckling of people in a bowling alley.

“No trouble” was the report from Roselle.

A Mount Prospect police officer also said that teen gangs troubles have been non-existant there.

“We try to get along with them (teens) rather than always telling them what to do,” Bensenville police chief Walter Tett said. “So far we have been very fortunate in the amount of teenage vandalism.”

WHEELING POLICE chief M. O. Horcher stated that groups of teens have not been a trouble factor there. But he pointed to a different aspect of juvenile problems, involving children from five to 12 years of age.

Two 12-year-olds were recently apprehended in Wheeling for setting fire to some construction equipment, causing about $1,200 damage.

Horcher also noted that elementary school youths have commited petty larcenies and have broken several business area windows. On one occasion, several boys slashed the tires of two girls’ bicycles.

MOST PUBLICIZED incident in Wheeling was a complaint by a railroad company that young children were standing in the paths of trains, jumping out of the way at the last minute. Once they caused a train to come to a nearly complete stop. Other daredevil acts have been related by citizens.

A group of 18-year-old girls and young adult men was a focus of attention in Wheeling and Maine townships early last spring. In one raid, several were booked on charges of disorderly conduct, and some of the same persons were involved in bad check charges.

MOST AREA communities have curfews ranging from 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. for youths up through 15 or 16 years of age. Palatine is in the process of putting a curfew into effect; Arlington Heights has a curfew but leaves its enforcement mainly to the parents.

Although police may not rigidly enforce curfew laws, they do provide them with a lever by which to control teens when necessary.

A hindrance to smaller villages in coping with teen outbreaks may be a lack of funds to provide an adequate police department. Wood Dale, with a population of about 3,000, has only one official squad car and three regular police officers, including the chief. However, a new, unmarked patrol car is on order.

To combat delinquency, Lynch notes that youth activities are being planned on a larger scale in Wood Dale.

BUT HE pooh-poohs the reasoning that a major cause of trouble is that there is nothing for teens to do. Teens can be expected to and should use their own initiative to find constructive activities. It isn’t the sole responsibility of the community to provide teen activities, he maintains.

Many parents, Lynch points out, can give their children much more work around the house than they do.

The major reason for wayward teens remains their parents, he asserts. In many cases parents refuse to cooperate with police in handling a child who is having difficulties.

Also, he takes exception with the handling of juveniles by the courts. Teens can practically be assured of a probation sentence, he said.

“They come out (of court) as big heroes” to other members of their group. “They show no remorse. It is just a big deal, a big joke” to them.

MINOR OFFENSES during youth may lead to major ones later, Lynch reminds. He wishes that teen offenders would take into account that police officers may have some worthwhile advice on this score.

And he wishes that more trained personnel could be made available to handle juvenile cases.

‘Beatniks’ Win Prizes For Dress

The party was “cool” and the guests were “way out” at the beatnik party held at Recreation park last Friday. Seven first place prizes were given for the most original and creative beatnik costumes.

Winners were Susan Hauf, June Gilmore, Sharon Hicks, Holly Schulze, Claudia Leet, Linda Elwess and Mike Parish.

Judges were Warren Philips, Ralph Gregory and Dale Goble. They had a difficult time picking winners when two “cool’ and “way out” local mothers came and started the party going.

WINTER IN AUGUST?

No – but it’s time to do something about the Home Improvements you’ll appreciate next winter.

You’ll have to forgive Gene Lies. He has been talking to so many people about improvements that will make their homes more livable next winter that he’s beginning to believe it is winter.

These people know that right now is the time to be thinking about all the things that must be done to a home before winter comes. There’s plenty of time to shop around for the best price, and the weather will permit working outside.

And another reason so many people are going ahead with winter plans with such confidence is that they know they don’t have to worry about the money. Citizens Bank will supply it.

How about your house? Is there anything listed below that would make your home more comfortable, attractive, or save you money on heating costs next winter?

Whatever it is, why don’t you call Gene Lies at Citizens (TAlcott 3-1155 or NEwcastle 1-4270) and let him explain how easy it is to arrange a Home Improvement Loan. You hire any contractor you wish, receive your loan at low bank rates with as long as 5 years to pay and in some cases no down payment is necessary. You even get a free life insurance policy that will pay off the loan should anything happen to the breadwinner.

Call Gene Lies right now while you’re thinking about it. Don’t be like the man with the leaking roof who said, “No one would expect me to get up on that roof while it’s raining — and when it isn’t raining the roof doesn’t leak.”

'Youth Gang' Outbreaks in Suburbs?

No Critical Problems Yet, Say Officials

by TOM EDWARDS

Destructive outbreaks by youth gangs seem to be a remote possibility in the northwest suburbs.

Such disturbances have occurred recently in Chicago and are a regular event in New York and other large metropolitan cities.

But suburban authorities discount any similar problems at the local level. They also deny existence of any large, well-organized gangs such as those in crowded, lower-income urban residential districts.

Nor is there any record of inter-gang fights, of organized crime or deadly assaults, or of large scale revenge beatings such as took place in Chicago two weeks ago.

Yet the northwest area does have its cliques of teenagers. Many incidents of vandalism have been attributed to them, and crimes to the extent of auto larceny.

FROM THE LOCAL DuPage county area come reports of some unsavory activities by groups of teens. However, the reports are sometimes conflicting.

In Cook county, from Mt. Prospect to Palatine to Wheeling, police chiefs say groups of teens pose no special problems or are they showing signs of doing so. But shoplifting and vandalism by individuals or groups of two or three have caused some concern.

The most recent serious incidents attributable to a teen group of any size have been reported from Wood Dale in Du Page county. According to police chief Ernest Lynch, one group in the 18 to 19 age bracket has apparently been responsible for vandalisms and thefts. Last week he booked two members for the third time, this time for stealing an automobile.

Also, he has on file photographs of vandalisms, including obscene words painted on buildings and malicious breakage of windows.

SUCH TEEN activities are not new to the area, but a continuing occurrence, Lynch said.

Apprehension is made more difficult because citizens sometimes balk at reporting offending youths.

Allegations have been made of personal intimidations to potential informants, according to Lynch. Sometimes they express fear of repercussions to smaller children of their own.

Yet the police chief does not know of any actual reprisal incidents.

But when citizens refuse to take action against teen lawbreakers, the police "might as well lock up shop and go home," he said.

OUTSIDE OF the one, teen groups in his area behave, Lynch notes. He agrees with Arlington Heights police chief L. W. Calderwood that most cliques of teens are fine.

Formation of youngsters into groups is natural, Calderwood related. The groups serve as a nucleus of activities. "Youths are better now than they ever were," he added.

Still, some other area police chiefs indicated, as did Lynch, that residents are often lax in reporting troublesome teens to police.

On the other hand, Calderwood notes that there are occasional unfounded and magnified accusations lodged by adults against teens. The actual intent of these persons, he said, is "to disturb the equilibrium of the entire community" by drumming something up.

ALSO, IT IS possible that some police chiefs may whitewash teen activities in order to protect the "good name" of their communities. It is not unusual that what is construed as adverse publicity is suppressed with the idea that this is best for a community's well being.

In addition, publicity promulgates teen trouble rather than helping to eliminate it, it is often held.

Wood Dale's neighboring villages report less trouble with teens than Wood Dale, or none at all.

In Itasca, police chief George Cites admits some difficulties with a group of 16 to 20-year-olds up to about a month ago, but believes this to have either subsided, or more probably, the group is hanging out elsewhere.

INCIDENTS attributed to unruly teens in Itasca include turning on six fire hydrants simultaneously in May, breaking a plate glass window, and obscene heckling of adults on one occasion. One individual thought a citizens vigilante group to control teens should be formed.

Bloomingdale police chief George Mueller says that loitering teen groups are immediately broken up and suspicious activities checked. There has been no loitering for about a year, he said.

Addison police chief Nels Anderson reported only one incident with a teen group, a heckling of people in a bowling alley.

"No trouble" was the report from Roselle.

A Mount Prospect police officer also said that teen gangs troubles have been non-existant there.

"We try to get along with them (teens) rather than always telling them what to do," Bensenville police chief Walter Tett said. "So far we have been very fortunate in the amount of teenage vandalism."

WHEELING POLICE chief M. O. Horcher stated that groups of teens have not been a trouble factor there. But he pointed to a different aspect of juvenile problems, involving children from five to 12 years of age.

Two 12-year-olds were recently apprehended in Wheeling for setting fire to some construction equipment, causing about $1,200 damage.

Horcher also noted that elementary school youths have commited petty larcenies and have broken several business area windows. On one occasion, several boys slashed the tires of two girls' bicycles.

MOST PUBLICIZED incident in Wheeling was a complaint by a railroad company that young children were standing in the paths of trains, jumping out of the way at the last minute. Once they caused a train to come to a nearly complete stop. Other daredevil acts have been related by citizens.

Rulon Tours Nation

New Director Finds Boom in Legion Ball

by JIMMIE ANGELOPOLOUS
The Sporting News

Take it from George W. Rulon, American Legion baseball is healthier, more mature and more streamlined than ever — and the new director of the program has a pared-down waist, a 17,000 mile itinerary and 26 airline stubs to prove he traveled that distance.

By mid-July Rulon had completed a cross-country tour of the nine Legion regional tournament sites. He criss-crossed the continent from Keene, N.H., to Bend, Ore., and from Minot, N.D., to Sumter, S. C., laying the administrative groundwork for this year's eliminations and the eight-team national finals at Hastings, Neb., August 26 to September 4.

"I was very much pleased with the playing conditions in the cities," Rulon reported, "and I found an increase in interest in every town I visited."

RULON was also encouraged by the fine prospects of continued growth of Legion baseball.

"Memphis is indiciative of Legion baseball growth," he said. "Participation has increased until there are now 14 teams playing in that city."

One of the most thriving hotbeds is Bend, Ore., population about 13,000, "where there are more than 1,000 boys playing baseball in the summer on the playgrounds," Rulon related.

Why the general increase? Rulon cited several reasons:

"THE BOYS have eight more months of eligibility because of the new age-limit rule. We're tending to get more outside sponsorship when the boys show a willingness to play ball. More facilities, too, are being provided and this provides additional opportunities for more participation.

"We expect about 16,000 post teams this year. But, of course, will select their championship all of them can't be certified for tourney play. Some states teams through district eliminations. Other states will base their champs on season standings.

"Every place I visited was very enthusiastic about this year's program. These meetings took place a month before the deadline so this is especially encouraging. Naturally, a few were afraid the personnel change in our baseball program might reflect a different policy toward American Legion baseball's future program, but that's not the situation.

WE'RE LOOKING forward to continued growth in the future," the 40-year-old director added. Rulon, who is a native of Fargo, N.D., succeeded ex-big leaguer Lou Brissie as head of the Legion program last May.

"We'll be seeking the best possible transportation and accommodations for the teams in the nine tournaments," Rulon added.

He estimated it will cost about $115 to $120 a day to house and feed each qualifying team.

THE NATIONAL finals, which are scheduled at baseball-primed Hastings for the third consecutive year, cost about $35,000 last year, including transportation of teams, and the expenses will probably amount to the same figure, Rulon indicated.

Winner of the Illinois State American legion championship at Arlington's Recreation Park will be hooked up in the Princeton, Ind. regional. Serving as local administrator of that tourney is Roy Owens, who will oversee teams from Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri and Ohio in regional 5.

Tankers Rip Mt. Prospect

Arlington Heights' Park District Swim team decisively trounced visiting Mt. Prospect last Wednesday evening, 348-94. Arlington, traditionally a strong club in the Northern Illinois Conference, holds a record of 3-0 for the season in conference competition; Mount Prospect is now 1-2.

Enroute to their victory, the Arlington swimmers racked up a total of 38 firsts in individual events while giving up only six to the visitors. Victors made a clean sweep of the eight relays.

Barbara Raasch was as usual, outstanding for Arlington. In winning three individual events, she set two new pool records.

BARB BROKE her own 11 and 12 breaststroke record, turning in a :40.1, and then set a new butterfly record for that age group with a :37.9. She returned to swim and win the girls' 17 and over 100 yard breaststroke.

Two other pool records fell by the wayside as Bill Nendel won the 11 and 12 backstroke in a :37.4, cutting four seconds off the record he set last year, and Nancy Nitch broke the girls' 11 and 12 freestyle record with a :32.4.

BARBARA Raasch and Margurite Dalton were the only triple winners for Arlington. Margurite won the 15 and 16 girls' freestyle breaststroke and butterfly and also anchored the winning relay for that age group.

Double winners for Arlington Pioneer, Arlington will host a strong Des Plaines unit. Paul Hembd, 11 and 12 freestyle and breaststroke; Bill Raasch, 15 and 16 backstroke and breaststroke; Doug Rice, 15 and 16 freestyle and 17 and over backstroke; Todd Behrens, 9 and 10 freestyle and backstroke; and Richard Leckband, 17 and over freestyle and butterfly.

Other first place winners in the individual events for Arlington included Dawn Mayer, Dick Evans, Jim Philo, Nancy Crawford, John Shively, Bill Sayre, Cindy Miller, Mary Hetzel, Norm Zeller, Dave Wollerman, Mary Alice Brophy, Dick Robinson, Hugh Wessler, Bob Brown and Sue Brosseit.

PARTICULARLY outstanding for Mt. Prospect was Meier who ranked among the triple winners, placing first in the 13 and 14 freestyle, backstroke and butterfly.

Other Mount Prospect winners were Pam DeMent in the girls' 15 and 16 backstroke, Steve Reiser in the boys' eight and under freestyle and Mike Zadel in junior diving.

This Saturday at 9:00 a.m. the Arlington tankers will have a non-conference go with Willow Springs at Recreation pool. Wednesday at 7 p.m. back at included Nancy Nitch, 11 and 12 and 17 and over girls' freestyle;

Nation's Top Pros Seek '61 PGA Crown

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

A field consisting of 169 of the nation's top professional golfers will tee off shortly after sunrise this morning (Thursday) on the first leg of the 1961 PGA Championships.

Site of this year's extravaganza that will reach a blazing conclusion at dusk Sunday is Olympia Fields Country Club, located in Olympia Fields on south Western ave. just north of U.S. 30.

Included in that field of 169 are the champions of 42 of the PGA's 45 co-sponsored tournaments, 16 former PGA champs, 33 sectional PGA titlists, the 20 leading money winners of 1961, eight National Open champions and seven Masters' champs.

BUT GOLF, like any other sport, offers untold glory for that great American Institution, the Underdog, many of which will be in evidence for at least the initial 36 holes.

Included among the ranks of the underdog are such local names as Chuck Malchaski of Brookwood Country club, Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Felice Torza of Aurora, Sam Bernardi of Indian Hill, Dick Hart of Hinsdale, George Keyes of Tam O'Shanter, Joe Zelazny of Briarwood and Bob Harris of Sunset Ridge.

Harris, by the way, topped the Illinois PGA qualifying section.

MALCHASKI, the young Missourian who has been at the Addison rd. club for the past eight years, will launch his bid at 2:26 p.m. today. His tee-off time Friday will be at 10:26 a.m.

This will be Chuck's second PGA appearance. He failed to survive the 36-hole cut by a single stroke at the '59 meet in Minneapolis.

He was around at the finish of this year's National Open, however, and earned a share of 51st place.

OLYMPIA FIELDS' 6,722 yard North Course should prove to be quite an experience for even the sharpest of the country's swingers. It's built to offer hazards from sand traps, trees, rough, water and just about everything else that can hamper a player on a hot round.

Jay Hebert, defending champion, discovered its intricacies in two successive rounds last month. He carded a 67 on his first tour and then slumped to a 73 the next day.

Arnold Palmer, the 1960 National Open titlist and popular choice for this year's PGA crown, posted a 69 on his only tour.

TWELVE of the eighteen holes offer par four situations and eight of those par fours are over 400 yards in length. And most of them are strung out along narrow paths that require precision as well as distance.

The course will favor men who are particularly adept at the long iron shot. Hebert, Palmer and 1961 Masters Champion Gary Player are included in this group.

Slopping greens will require a true putter, such as the one possessed by young Ken Venturi.

PGA Account In Next Issue

Paddock Publications Assistant Sports Editor Dick Gottsegan will trail local pro Chuck Malchaski along Olympia Fields' North Course during the PGA championships to be held today (Thursday) through Sunday.

An account of Malchaski's experiences in the third leg of professional golf's "triple crown" will appear in next week's issue.

Six Furlong Test For 2-Year-Olds

The $200,000-plus Arlington Park Futurity, expected to provide the crucible for Mrs. Moody Jolley's undefeated and nationally ranked Ridan, will be decided for the 32d time this Saturday at Arlington Park.

The 6 furlongs Futurity climaxes the next six days of sport here, with Arlington's sixth week getting off to an interesting start on Monday with the fourth edition of the $25,000 added Miss Illinois Stakes for two-year-old fillies bred in the State of Illinois.

A field of about 10 is projected for the 6 furlongs Futurity which would swell the gross purse to $215,750 as against last year's $218,940 Arlington Futurity which served as victory ground for the California invader, Pappa's All, who squeaked past Crozier and Beau Prince.

THE 1961 winner would haul down a prize of $129,450, with $43,150 to second, $21,575 to third and $10,787, to be distributed to the original nominators of the first four under the wire.

Ridan, the towering, impressive son of Nantallah, has not tasted defeat in four starts, including his recent six-length victory in the Hyde Park Stakes here three weeks ago. There are some who already call him the best two-year-old to be seen this year, while others opine he is one of the best of the past decade.

In all likelihood Ridan will be accompanied by the Claiborne Farm Nasrullah juvenile, Ruler, who also is unbeaten in two starts. Ruler is pedigree personified, being by Nasrullah out of Doubledogdare—thus having every license to be "one of the great ones."

AS OF NOW, other Futurity possibilities include Pin Oak Stable's twosome of Safety Zone and Intercepted, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herff's Obey, Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage and possibly Mrs. Adele Rand's Green Ticket, among others.

Two-year-old allowance dashes here each afternoon turn up Futurity candidates but at the moment Saturday's race stacks up as Ridan against the field.

JOCKEY KENNY Church piloted Run For Nurse to an upset victory over favored Pied D'Or in Saturday's $33,925 Equipoise Mile before a gathering of 25,017.

Toting 115 pounds, Run For Nurse charged up from eighth place on the outside to take a three-quarters-of a length lead over top-weighted Pied D'Or at the wire.

Two lengths back in third was John Williams followed by Roman Colonel, Winonly, Heroshogala, Hillsborough, Hymient, Resolved, Free Copy and Grey Eagle in that order.

JOHN E. HUGHES' Island Belle dashed to an easy victory in the $30,250 Miss Illinois stakes at Arlington Park Monday. It was the second victory in as many starts for the two-year-old daughter of Hueso - Batavia Belle.

Ridden by Robert Nono, Island Belle finished a full six lengths ahead of runner-up Oil Date. Unique Roman was third followed by Flagidero.

Paddock Classic League to Open Play August 26

Paddock Classic Traveling League will open play Saturday night, Aug. 26, it was announced this week by Ron Fogarett, secretary of the fast-traveling loop. Fogarett has been working with the advisory committee of the league to develop the 32-week schedule, and hopes to have it completed by August 5.

Many changes in personnel are expected by the time the new season opens, according to first rosters turned in for approval to the advisory committee. Eight franchise holders of last season will be back again this time with teams a bit stronger than before.

THE LEAGUE voted to remain in the 940-970 class for the new season, creating openings for a few additional 190-plus average bowlers.

The loop attempts to draw bowlers living within the area, so any 190-plus keglers wishing to inquire into the possibility of bowling in the Saturday evening circuit are urged to contact sports promoter Bob Paddock at CLearbrook 3-1520, and he will turn the information over to the team captains still looking for bowlers.

THE SEASON will be a bit shorter than last year; rules committee requested the officers to come up with a 32-game schedule for this fall. Bowling into the month of May proved too long a season last year.

A couple of open dates will be provided for special events, such as the all-star eliminations for the Northwest area to be held during the second weekend in October.

Four sponsors have been secured to date. Businessmen or others wishing to sponsor a squad in the Paddock League are invited to contact Paddock to learn details. The league is one of the fastest in the Chicago area, and gaining more and more attention as the seasons roll by.

THE AMERICAN LEGION HALL, home of Merle Guild Post No. 208, Arlington Heights, will serve as the base of operations for the upcoming tournament. In addition, all luncheons and suppers for the players and their coaches will be served at the hall.

FIVE SPACIOUS, air-conditioned rooms will be allotted each team during their stay at the Park Ridge Inn. Four boys will share a room.

THE PARK RIDGE INN, located in downtown Park Ridge, will house members of the competing teams with the exception of the First Division representative during the State Legion tourney at Arlington Heights Recreation park August 4-7.

New Director Finds Boom in Legion Ball

by JIMMIE ANGELOPOLOUS
The Sporting News

Take it from George W. Rulon, American Legion baseball is healthier, more mature and more streamlined than ever — and the new director of the program has a pared-down waist, a 17,000 mile itinerary and 26 airline stubs to prove he traveled that distance.

By mid-July Rulon had completed a cross-country tour of the nine Legion regional tournament sites. He criss-crossed the continent from Keene, N.H., to Bend, Ore., and from Minot, N.D., to Sumter, S. C., laying the administrative groundwork for this year's eliminations and the eight-team national finals at Hastings, Neb., August 26 to September 4.

"I was very much pleased with the playing conditions in the cities," Rulon reported, "and I found an increase in interest in every town I visited."

RULON was also encouraged by the fine prospects of continued growth of Legion baseball.

"Memphis is indiciative of Legion baseball growth," he said. "Participation has increased until there are now 14 teams playing in that city."

One of the most thriving hotbeds is Bend, Ore., population about 13,000, "where there are more than 1,000 boys playing baseball in the summer on the playgrounds," Rulon related.

Why the general increase? Rulon cited several reasons:

"THE BOYS have eight more months of eligibility because of the new age-limit rule. We're tending to get more outside sponsorship when the boys show a willingness to play ball. More facilities, too, are being provided and this provides additional opportunities for more participation.

"We expect about 16,000 post teams this year. But, of course, will select their championship all of them can't be certified for tourney play. Some states teams through district eliminations. Other states will base their champs on season standings.

"Every place I visited was very enthusiastic about this year's program. These meetings took place a month before the deadline so this is especially encouraging. Naturally, a few were afraid the personnel change in our baseball program might reflect a different policy toward American Legion baseball's future program, but that's not the situation.

WE'RE LOOKING forward to continued growth in the future," the 40-year-old director added. Rulon, who is a native of Fargo, N.D., succeeded ex-big leaguer Lou Brissie as head of the Legion program last May.

"We'll be seeking the best possible transportation and accommodations for the teams in the nine tournaments," Rulon added.

He estimated it will cost about $115 to $120 a day to house and feed each qualifying team.

THE NATIONAL finals, which are scheduled at baseball-primed Hastings for the third consecutive year, cost about $35,000 last year, including transportation of teams, and the expenses will probably amount to the same figure, Rulon indicated.

Winner of the Illinois State American legion championship at Arlington's Recreation Park will be hooked up in the Princeton, Ind. regional. Serving as local administrator of that tourney is Roy Owens, who will oversee teams from Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri and Ohio in regional 5.

Tankers Rip Mt. Prospect

Arlington Heights' Park District Swim team decisively trounced visiting Mt. Prospect last Wednesday evening, 348-94. Arlington, traditionally a strong club in the Northern Illinois Conference, holds a record of 3-0 for the season in conference competition; Mount Prospect is now 1-2.

Enroute to their victory, the Arlington swimmers racked up a total of 38 firsts in individual events while giving up only six to the visitors. Victors made a clean sweep of the eight relays.

Barbara Raasch was as usual, outstanding for Arlington. In winning three individual events, she set two new pool records.

BARB BROKE her own 11 and 12 breaststroke record, turning in a :40.1, and then set a new butterfly record for that age group with a :37.9. She returned to swim and win the girls' 17 and over 100 yard breaststroke.

Two other pool records fell by the wayside as Bill Nendel won the 11 and 12 backstroke in a :37.4, cutting four seconds off the record he set last year, and Nancy Nitch broke the girls' 11 and 12 freestyle record with a :32.4.

BARBARA Raasch and Margurite Dalton were the only triple winners for Arlington. Margurite won the 15 and 16 girls' freestyle breaststroke and butterfly and also anchored the winning relay for that age group.

Double winners for Arlington Pioneer, Arlington will host a strong Des Plaines unit.

Paul Hembd, 11 and 12 freestyle and breaststroke; Bill Raasch, 15 and 16 backstroke and breaststroke; Doug Rice, 15 and 16 freestyle and 17 and over backstroke; Todd Behrens, 9 and 10 freestyle and backstroke; and Richard Leckband, 17 and over freestyle and butterfly.

Other first place winners in the individual events for Arlington included Dawn Mayer, Dick Evans, Jim Philo, Nancy Crawford, John Shively, Bill Sayre, Cindy Miller, Mary Hetzel, Norm Zeller, Dave Wollerman, Mary Alice Brophy, Dick Robinson, Hugh Wessler, Bob Brown and Sue Brosseit.

PARTICULARLY outstanding for Mt. Prospect was Meier who ranked among the triple winners, placing first in the 13 and 14 freestyle, backstroke and butterfly.

Other Mount Prospect winners were Pam DeMent in the girls' 15 and 16 backstroke, Steve Reiser in the boys' eight and under freestyle and Mike Zadel in junior diving.

This Saturday at 9:00 a.m. the Arlington tankers will have a non-conference go with Willow Springs at Recreation pool. Wednesday at 7 p.m. back at included Nancy Nitch, 11 and 12 and 17 and over girls' freestyle;

Three Units Share Top Position

The Mt. Prospect park district Men's Softball league is shaping up into a tight battle for first place in the second round.

Stan's Standard remained undefeated with close 12-11 victory over the JC's, Golden Point won its third straight by edging Tri State Manufacturing, 10-9, and Froehlichs Jets defeated Bailey's Bombers 9-3.

In a protested game, Goryn's Sluggers went down to defeat to Tower Cleaners, 10-9. The game will be replayed.

Nation's Top Pros Seek '61 PGA Crown

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

A field consisting of 169 of the nation's top professional golfers will tee off shortly after sunrise this morning (Thursday) on the first leg of the 1961 PGA Championships.

Site of this year's extravaganza that will reach a blazing conclusion at dusk Sunday is Olympia Fields Country Club, located in Olympia Fields on south Western ave. just north of U.S. 30.

Included in that field of 169 are the champions of 42 of the PGA's 45 co-sponsored tournaments, 16 former PGA champs, 33 sectional PGA titlists, the 20 leading money winners of 1961, eight National Open champions and seven Masters' champs.

PGA Account In Next Issue

Paddock Publications Assistant Sports Editor Dick Gottsegan will trail local pro Chuck Malchaski along Olympia Fields' North Course during the PGA championships to be held today (Thursday) through Sunday.

An account of Malchaski's experiences in the third leg of professional golf's "triple crown" will appear in next week's issue.

BUT GOLF, like any other sport, offers untold glory for that great American Institution, the Underdog, many of which will be in evidence for at least the initial 36 holes.

Included among the ranks of the underdog are such local names as Chuck Malchaski of Brookwood Country club, Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Felice Torza of Aurora, Sam Bernardi of Indian Hill, Dick Hart of Hinsdale, George Keyes of Tam O'Shanter, Joe Zelazny of Briarwood and Bob Harris of Sunset Ridge.

Harris, by the way, topped the Illinois PGA qualifying section.

MALCHASKI, the young Missourian who has been at the Addison rd. club for the past eight years, will launch his bid at 2:26 p.m. today. His tee-off time Friday will be at 10:26 a.m.

This will be Chuck's second PGA appearance. He failed to survive the 36-hole cut by a single stroke at the '59 meet in Minneapolis.

He was around at the finish of this year's National Open, however, and earned a share of 51st place.

OLYMPIA FIELDS' 6,722 yard North Course should prove to be quite an experience for even the sharpest of the country's swingers. It's built to offer hazards from sand traps, trees, rough, water and just about everything else that can hamper a player on a hot round.

Jay Hebert, defending champion, discovered its intricacies in two successive rounds last month. He carded a 67 on his first tour and then slumped to a 73 the next day.

Arnold Palmer, the 1960 National Open titlist and popular choice for this year's PGA crown, posted a 69 on his only tour.

TWELVE of the eighteen holes offer par four situations and eight of those par fours are over 400 yards in length. And most of them are strung out along narrow paths that require precision as well as distance.

The course will favor men who are particularly adept at the long iron shot. Hebert, Palmer and 1961 Masters Champion Gary Player are included in this group.

Slopping greens will require a true putter, such as the one possessed by young Ken Venturi.

Six Furlong Test For 2-Year-Olds

The $200,000-plus Arlington Park Futurity, expected to provide the crucible for Mrs. Moody Jolley's undefeated and nationally ranked Ridan, will be decided for the 32d time this Saturday at Arlington Park.

The 6 furlongs Futurity climaxes the next six days of sport here, with Arlington's sixth week getting off to an interesting start on Monday with the fourth edition of the $25,000 added Miss Illinois Stakes for two-year-old fillies bred in the State of Illinois.

A field of about 10 is projected for the 6 furlongs Futurity which would swell the gross purse to $215,750 as against last year's $218,940 Arlington Futurity which served as victory ground for the California invader, Pappa's All, who squeaked past Crozier and Beau Prince.

THE 1961 winner would haul down a prize of $129,450, with $43,150 to second, $21,575 to third and $10,787, to be distributed to the original nominators of the first four under the wire.

Ridan, the towering, impressive son of Nantallah, has not tasted defeat in four starts, including his recent six-length victory in the Hyde Park Stakes here three weeks ago. There are some who already call him the best two-year-old to be seen this year, while others opine he is one of the best of the past decade.

In all likelihood Ridan will be accompanied by the Claiborne Farm Nasrullah juvenile, Ruler, who also is unbeaten in two starts. Ruler is pedigree personified, being by Nasrullah out of Doubledogdare—thus having every license to be "one of the great ones."

AS OF NOW, other Futurity possibilities include Pin Oak Stable's twosome of Safety Zone and Intercepted, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herff's Obey, Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage and possibly Mrs. Adele Rand's Green Ticket, among others.

Two-year-old allowance dashes here each afternoon turn up Futurity candidates but at the moment Saturday's race stacks up as Ridan against the field.

JOCKEY KENNY Church piloted Run For Nurse to an upset victory over favored Pied D'Or in Saturday's $33,925 Equipoise Mile before a gathering of 25,017.

Toting 115 pounds, Run For Nurse charged up from eighth place on the outside to take a three-quarters-of a length lead over top-weighted Pied D'Or at the wire.

Two lengths back in third was John Williams followed by Roman Colonel, Winonly, Heroshogala, Hillsborough, Hymient, Resolved, Free Copy and Grey Eagle in that order.

JOHN E. HUGHES' Island Belle dashed to an easy victory in the $30,250 Miss Illinois stakes at Arlington Park Monday. It was the second victory in as many starts for the two-year-old daughter of Hueso - Batavia Belle.

Ridden by Robert Nono, Island Belle finished a full six lengths ahead of runner-up Oil Date. Unique Roman was third followed by Flagidero.

Paddock Classic League to Open Play August 26

Paddock Classic Traveling League will open play Saturday night, Aug. 26, it was announced this week by Ron Fogarett, secretary of the fast-traveling loop. Fogarett has been working with the advisory committee of the league to develop the 32-week schedule, and hopes to have it completed by August 5.

Many changes in personnel are expected by the time the new season opens, according to first rosters turned in for approval to the advisory committee. Eight franchise holders of last season will be back again this time with teams a bit stronger than before.

THE LEAGUE voted to remain in the 940-970 class for the new season, creating openings for a few additional 190-plus average bowlers.

The loop attempts to draw bowlers living within the area, so any 190-plus keglers wishing to inquire into the possibility of bowling in the Saturday evening circuit are urged to contact sports promoter Bob Paddock at CLearbrook 3-1520, and he will turn the information over to the team captains still looking for bowlers.

THE SEASON will be a bit shorter than last year; rules committee requested the officers to come up with a 32-game schedule for this fall. Bowling into the month of May proved too long a season last year.

A couple of open dates will be provided for special events, such as the all-star eliminations for the Northwest area to be held during the second weekend in October.

Four sponsors have been secured to date. Businessmen or others wishing to sponsor a squad in the Paddock League are invited to contact Paddock to learn details. The league is one of the fastest in the Chicago area, and gaining more and more attention as the seasons roll by.

An all-star aggregation from Rolling Meadows will tackle Barrington at 6 p.m. today (Thursday) at Barrington Park in the opener of district Little League play.

The winner of the Barrington-Rolling Meadows clash will then meet Mt. Prospect at Rolling Meadows' Lindheimer Field at 6 p.m. Friday.

Members of all six teams earned slots on the tournament team which boasts a .451 batting average.

THE FOURTEEN members of the all-star squad are: Ernie Troutman of the Yankees; Jeff Jacoby, Phil Sporleder, Mark Krammer, Pat Lynch and Mike Gersie of the Cubs; Jack Byrnes of the Sox; Ed Duffy of the Cards; Jeff Mordlund and George Szwiec of the Braves; Geoffry Mugler, Tom Kelly, Dwayne Matzl and Jim Bejrowski of the Indians.

The Indians kept up their torrid pace, hiking their season mark to nine victories in 11 tries. The tribe handled the Cardinals, 8-4, in Rolling Meadows loop play as Timmy Bejrowski fired a six-hitter.

The victory boosted Bejrowski's season standard to four wins without a loss. Jacoby absorbed the loss.

THE CARDS put the lid on the Yankees' coffin, sealing them in the cellar, 16-1 on a no-hitter by Rossi. Lavigne and Caltagirone headed the Cardinal charge with three hits each.

Wisniewski served up only four hits and added a home run to an 11 hit attack as the Sox took a turn at bouncing the lowly Yanks, 18-2. The Yankee defense made three miscues.

The Cubs kept a share of second place by beating the Braves, 11-7. Krammer walked away with the win while Murray was charged with the loss.

JACOBY belted two home runs for the Cubs, who wound up with a total of 11 hits.

Dropping a 4-1 decision to the Sox, the Braves joined the Yanks in the cellar. Jack Byrnes of the winners posted his third win against three defeats as he sent 10 Braves back to the bench on strikes.

Playoffs Highlight Action In Arlington Little League

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

A set of playoff battles highlighted play last week in the Arlington Heights Little League as the extensive summertime show is rapidly nearing the wire.

In the North West Juniors class the Gophers captured a first half playoff game from the Robins, 11 to 6. Scott Gunnison and Bill Cardinell paced the winning attack with a four-bagger and a double each.

Cardinell allowed only four singles in gaining the win.

THE GOPHERS followed their playoff victory with a season championship, knocking the Owls off their perch with a 13 to 5 win.

Ron Dolejis took credit for the win, and added a home run and double to the Gopher's collection of 11 hits. The Gophers are slated to go against the Sox of the North East Division for the North Side crown.

In the North East Intermediate League, Hull blasted Bruin pitching for two home runs, a triple and a single to account for seven runs, as the Mohawks outslugged the Bruins, 15 to 10, in the season championship contest.

THE VICTORY earned the Mohawks a shot at the North Side title; they will battle the Lancers in the championship test.

The National League race is going right down to the wire with a rained out game responsible for the Cub's half game edge on the second place Giants.

Pat Martin of the Cubs staged a one man show in a win over the Twins, twirling a no-hitter highlighted by 16 strike outs.

THE TWINS averted a shutout in the third when Martin walked four and hit a batter making the final tally, 4-2. The league leaders also bombed the last place Angels, 12-5, with Nastal going the distance.

J. Donahue matched Martin's performance with a no-hitter for the Giants over the Braves thanks to J. Loughman's three run homer.

Donahue traded his curve ball for a bat in the Giants 20-2 romp over the Twins. He blasted a grand slam homerun and drove in 11 runs as Loughman coasted to a three-hit victory.

WITH THREE runs in the sixth and final frame, the Cardinals edged the Dodgers, 7-6, behind Hogan. Shawhan hurled six-hit ball as the Cards went on to bomb the Angels, 17-2.

The Priates nipped the Braves, 1-0, in a pitchers duel between Schneberger and Guilfoil. Schneberger needed help from Baer in racking up a neat one-hit shutout.

The Bucs couldn't put together a string, however, dropping their next contest to the Dodgers, 9-2. Horcher rested on an early eight run lead to pick up the decision.

IN THE VARSITY division, the Generals held on to their first place rating, trimming the Wildcats, 6-4, behind the four-hit pitching of Collins.

The fast closing Raiders tamed the Wildcats, 9-4, with Dix adding two four-baggers to his mound performance. Rigsby kept things rolling with an 11-5 triumph over the Falcons.

Frase, Radcliffe, and Martin had round-trippers for the Raiders.

PUSHING ACROSS eight runs in the final stanza, the Phillies grabbed a 13-12 decision for Gow Wagner made it two in a row for the Phils, with Sayre, Gow and Burke supplying the power in an 11-4 battle.

John Brunner turned in a four-hit effort as the orioles dealt the Rams a 12-2 spanking. Scoring three runs in the fourth inning, the Orioles nipped the Knights, 4-2.

Rick Whiteman led the Birds at the plate with a triple and double.

The Eagles flew away with a 14-7 victory over the cellar-dwelling Vikings with E. Schneider toiling on the mound for the winners.

IN SENIOR League play, the Lions continued to dominate, tripping the Bears, 5-3, behind Juhl. The Bears came back to bounce the Reds, 10-3, thanks to Ralph Law's home run with three on.

Bakas hurled two-hit ball as the Bears hung one on the slumping Hawks, 9-5.

Joe Mueller worked for the Hawks in a 6-5 win over the Browns. Furlong tripled to give Mueller the decision.

A TWO RUN first inning proved to be all that the Indians needed to nail the Browns, 5-1, as Kroll tossed a three-hitter.

The surprising Senators also came through with three tallies in the sixth to drop the Tigers, 6-4, as Guy Pasvogel picked up the win. Gary Bozee homered for the losers.

THE YANKEES and Doug Fink bombed the Athletics, 8-1. Fink and Earlbacker headed a three-run sixth inning splurge that spelled doom for the losers.

The Yanks made it two in a row, edging the Nats, 4-3, behind Jon Keys three-hit masterpiece.

Coming up with a bevy of runs in the last inning, the Wrens of the South East Junior ranks went home with an 11-7, victory over the Colts and a second half championship.

Yankees, Dodgers Battle for Loop Lead

Like their Major League counterparts, the Yankees and Dodgers of the Mt. Prospect American Division Little League find themselves involved in a two team scrap for season honors.

Coasting comfortably on an 8-0 record at the end of last week's action, the Yanks suddenly find the fast finishing Dodgers only a length behind as they enter the stretch.

With Mike Erbach working on the mound, the Dodgers slugged their way to a 15-7 triumph over the Yanks as Billy Sieler and Charley Stiefbold hit circuit clouts for the winners. Mike Carroll took the loss for the Yankees.

THE DODGERS continued to make up ground, dunking the Orioles, 6-5, with Billy Sieler receiving the win. Randy Palubicki blasted a home run for the fast closing Dodgers.

Mike Dubay and the Bruning Sox were the next to fall before the onrushing unit, as Danny Klingberg came through with a clutch three-hit performance to baffle the Sox, 8-1.

The Sox bombed the Orioles, 21-7, hanging up 17 markers in the second and third stanzas, but their heroics were nullified when the contest was called after three innings.

IN THE NATIONAL division, the Lions increased their lead by nipping the Giants, 7-6, in an extra inning affair. The victors picked up the deciding run when Ruthowski doubled and scored on a wild pitch by Gordy.

Winning two out of two, the Senators knocked the Tigers out of second place, scalping the Braves, 24-4, and taking the big one from the Tigers, 4-3. Ziele breezed home with the win over the Braves, with J. Phillips, and Robinson connecting for home runs for the Nats.

Krause and Robinson paced the Nats to their clutch victory over the Tigers.

IN THE NATIONAL Minor A ranks, the Pirates moved into a deadlock with the Redlegs for top honors, blasting the Dukes, 13-5, behind the pitching of Riggs, who held onto an early lead for the win.

Opening the first inning with 10 runs, the Bucs captured a 22-3 contest for J. McDonough.

RESTING ON the 18-hit attack of the Eagle offense, Mike Kineman eased his way to a 28-8 butchering of the Elks with Oswald the loser.

Dropping a 4-1 decision to the Sox, the Braves joined the Yanks in the cellar. Jack Byrnes of the winners posted his third win against three defeats as he sent 10 Braves back to the bench on strikes.

Playoffs Highlight Action In Arlington Little League

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

A set of playoff battles highlighted play last week in the Arlington Heights Little League as the extensive summertime show is rapidly nearing the wire.

In the North West Juniors class the Gophers captured a first half playoff game from the Robins, 11 to 6. Scott Gunnison and Bill Cardinell paced the winning attack with a four-bagger and a double each.

Cardinell allowed only four singles in gaining the win.

THE GOPHERS followed their playoff victory with a season championship, knocking the Owls off their perch with a 13 to 5 win.

Ron Dolejis took credit for the win, and added a home run and double to the Gopher's collection of 11 hits. The Gophers are slated to go against the Sox of the North East Division for the North Side crown.

In the North East Intermediate League, Hull blasted Bruin pitching for two home runs, a triple and a single to account for seven runs, as the Mohawks outslugged the Bruins, 15 to 10, in the season championship contest.

THE VICTORY earned the Mohawks a shot at the North Side title; they will battle the Lancers in the championship test.

The National League race is going right down to the wire with a rained out game responsible for the Cub's half game edge on the second place Giants.

Pat Martin of the Cubs staged a one man show in a win over the Twins, twirling a no-hitter highlighted by 16 strike outs.

THE TWINS averted a shutout in the third when Martin walked four and hit a batter making the final tally, 4-2. The league leaders also bombed the last place Angels, 12-5, with Nastal going the distance.

J. Donahue matched Martin's performance with a no-hitter for the Giants over the Braves thanks to J. Loughman's three run homer.

Donahue traded his curve ball for a bat in the Giants 20-2 romp over the Twins. He blasted a grand slam homerun and drove in 11 runs as Loughman coasted to a three-hit victory.

WITH THREE runs in the sixth and final frame, the Cardinals edged the Dodgers, 7-6, behind Hogan. Shawhan hurled six-hit ball as the Cards went on to bomb the Angels, 17-2.

The Priates nipped the Braves, 1-0, in a pitchers duel between Schneberger and Guilfoil. Schneberger needed help from Baer in racking up a neat one-hit shutout.

The Bucs couldn't put together a string, however, dropping their next contest to the Dodgers, 9-2. Horcher rested on an early eight run lead to pick up the decision.

IN THE VARSITY division, the Generals held on to their first place rating, trimming the Wildcats, 6-4, behind the four-hit pitching of Collins.

The fast closing Raiders tamed the Wildcats, 9-4, with Dix adding two four-baggers to his mound performance. Rigsby kept things rolling with an 11-5 triumph over the Falcons.

Frase, Radcliffe, and Martin had round-trippers for the Raiders.

PUSHING ACROSS eight runs in the final stanza, the Phillies grabbed a 13-12 decision for Gow Wagner made it two in a row for the Phils, with Sayre, Gow and Burke supplying the power in an 11-4 battle.

John Brunner turned in a four-hit effort as the orioles dealt the Rams a 12-2 spanking. Scoring three runs in the fourth inning, the Orioles nipped the Knights, 4-2.

Rick Whiteman led the Birds at the plate with a triple and double.

The Eagles flew away with a 14-7 victory over the cellar-dwelling Vikings with E. Schneider toiling on the mound for the winners.

IN SENIOR League play, the Lions continued to dominate, tripping the Bears, 5-3, behind Juhl. The Bears came back to bounce the Reds, 10-3, thanks to Ralph Law's home run with three on.

Bakas hurled two-hit ball as the Bears hung one on the slumping Hawks, 9-5.

Joe Mueller worked for the Hawks in a 6-5 win over the Browns. Furlong tripled to give Mueller the decision.

A TWO RUN first inning proved to be all that the Indians needed to nail the Browns, 5-1, as Kroll tossed a three-hitter.

In American League action the red-hot White Sox moved into a tie with the Tigers on the heels of an 8-0 conquest of the Red Sox. Roy Retberg hurled a two-hitter as the pale hose belted the Athletics 6-1.

LOCKWOOD PACED the victors' attack against the A's with a double and a home run.

With Tom LeStarge firing two-hit ball, the Tigers retained their hold on a share of first place by stopping the Red Sox 8-1.

The surprising Senators also came through with three tallies in the sixth to drop the Tigers, 6-4, as Guy Pasvogel picked up the win. Gary Bozee homered for the losers.

THE YANKEES and Doug Fink bombed the Athletics, 8-1. Fink and Earlbacker headed a three-run sixth inning splurge that spelled doom for the losers.

The Yanks made it two in a row, edging the Nats, 4-3, behind Jon Keys three-hit mas-

Gratzer worked for the winners.

BUT THE COLTS bounced back to take the championship contest, 14-4, with Maguire taking credit for the win.

In the South Side Junior championship game, the Colts and Stags battled to a 6-6 tie. John Brodnan came on in the fourth to strike out nine of the 11 batters he faced, saving the game for the Stags of the South West division.

Mount Prospect LL

Yankees, Dodgers Battle for Loop Lead

Like their Major League counterparts, the Yankees and Dodgers of the Mt. Prospect American Division Little League find themselves involved in a two team scrap for season honors.

Coasting comfortably on an 8-0 record at the end of last week's action, the Yanks suddenly find the fast finishing Dodgers only a length behind as they enter the stretch.

With Mike Erbach working on the mound, the Dodgers slugged their way to a 15-7 triumph over the Yanks as Billy Sieler and Charley Stiefbold hit circuit clouts for the winners. Mike Carroll took the loss for the Yankees.

THE DODGERS continued to make up ground, dunking the Orioles, 6-5, with Billy Sieler receiving the win. Randy Palubicki blasted a home run for the fast closing Dodgers.

Mike Dubay and the Bruning Sox were the next to fall before the onrushing unit, as Danny Klingberg came through with a clutch three-hit performance to baffle the Sox, 8-1.

The Sox bombed the Orioles, 21-7, hanging up 17 markers in the second and third stanzas, but their heroics were nullified when the contest was called after three innings.

IN THE NATIONAL division, the Lions increased their lead by nipping the Giants, 7-6, in an extra inning affair. The victors picked up the deciding run when Ruthowski doubled and scored on a wild pitch by Gordy.

Winning two out of two, the Senators knocked the Tigers out of second place, scalping the Braves, 24-4, and taking the big one from the Tigers, 4-3. Ziele breezed home with the win over the Braves, with J. Phillips, and Robinson connecting for home runs for the Nats.

Krause and Robinson paced the Nats to their clutch victory over the Tigers.

IN THE NATIONAL Minor A ranks, the Pirates moved into a deadlock with the Redlegs for top honors, blasting the Dukes, 13-5, behind the pitching of Riggs, who held onto an early lead for the win.

Opening the first inning with 10 runs, the Bucs captured a 22-3 contest for J. McDonough.

RESTING ON the 18-hit attack of the Eagle offense, Mike Kineman eased his way to a 28-8 butchering of the Elks with Oswald the loser.

Recreation Park Falls

Pioneer Park Heads 12-Inch Softball Loop

Pioneer Park steamrolled to its fourth consecutive victory last week to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Arlington Heights park district 12-inch softball league.

Falling from first was Recreation Park thanks to a pair of setbacks absorbed during the past week.

4-0, in a one hour ball game. Both teams played good defensive ball with the Bombers capitalizing on every break to score two runs in the first and sixth innings.

A SENSATIONAL catch by Glen Carlson in right field saved two more Bomber runs in the sixth.

Jim Kenney, Frank DeRosa and Jim Welton paced Pioneer's offensive attack while Jim Wittington, Mary Lawandowski and Randy Magytych totaled all of the Green hits.

Erratic fielding by Virginia Terrace in the sixth inning coupled with hits by Marc Josephson and Van Ostermik enabled the Evergreen Eagles to break open a 2-2 deadlock and pick up their third victory by a score of 7-2.

and Tom Murray added three hits for Pioneer Park.

THE EAGLES tallied two in the first on hits by Scott Brooksbank and Ostermik but Virginia tied the score on a two run homer by Joe Hemity.

A pitching duel between Evergreen's Steve Levan and Jim Keane of Virginia prevailed until the big sixth inning.

Defensive action highlighted the contest between Hasbrook Park and the High School as the two teams combined for five double plays. The High School added a tight pitching performance by Bill Von Voechman and picked up their first victory, 5-2.

JIM DEASEY drove in both of Hasbrook's runs and Jerry Enright added three hits for the Hawks. Von Boechmann drove in two runs and key hits were collected by Jim Manos and Mark Thomas.

Recreation Park dropped from the undefeated ranks by forfeiting to Evergreen Park and absorbed a second defeat from Dryden Park, 8-3.

Shortstop Paul Gustitus drove in seven runs for Dryden to personally supply the offensive punch. A battery of Mike Gilmore and Donald Hall provided an effective center line of defense.

TERRY TAEGE and Rick Mader homered to account for Recreation's three runs and Emmet Quill made several fine defnsive efforts in the outfield.

In the Midget action, Recreation took the lead and held on to defeat Pioneer Park, 11-10. Bob Laughman of Recreation pitched the victory and Ray Thorsen, his battery mate, collected three hits. Terry Ormsbee hit safely twice

District Tourney Stalled

Park Ridge Nine Rolls On; Route Jackson Park Twice

Park Ridge's Ninth District American Legion champs steamed into this week's First Division finals at Berwyn with a decisive two-straight quarterfinal conquest of Jackson Park.

Coach Glen Van Proyen's outfit, behind the three-hit hurling of Frank Machac, ripped the Chicagoans, 7-1, at Park Ridge in Saturday's opener.

It was Steve Benson's turn Monday and the former Maine township East high mound standout responded with a nifty six-hitter to pace his teammates to a runaway 16-1 triumph at Jackson Park.

BY VIRTUE of those victories, Park Ridge earned a shot at defending State champ Berwyn in today's (Thursday) opening game of the First Division meet slated for the Morton West high school field, 26th st. and Harlem ave.

Game time has been set for 1:30 p. m.

This summer's Divisional tourney, which is hosted by Cicero Post No. 96, will be played on a double elimination basis. Two games will be played both this afternoon and Friday with a single contest slated for Saturday.

THE TWO SURVIVING units will lock horns at 4 p. m. Sunday for the championship with a return match, if needed, tentatively set up for 4 p. m. Monday.

The eventual champ will then move into the Departmental, or State, finals at Arlington Heights August 4-7 along with four other Divisional titlists.

Rain and state tournament play has slowed the Ninth District's post-season double elimination tournament to a standstill.

DES PLAINES earned a berth in the finals by routing guest team Cicero, 11-2, Saturday but Coach Al Carsten's crew has been idle ever since and will not return to action before Wednesday evening at the earliest.

Park Ridge and Palatine will fight it out in the losers' bracket Monday with the winner slated to meet Cicero Tuesday. Tuesday's winner will then move into the championship showdown.

Park Ridge advanced by eliminating Arlington, 3-2, Tuesday evening. The Fernstrom's had previously beaten Park Ridge in first round play but dropped to the losers' division on the heels of a 6-3 loss to Cicero Thursday.

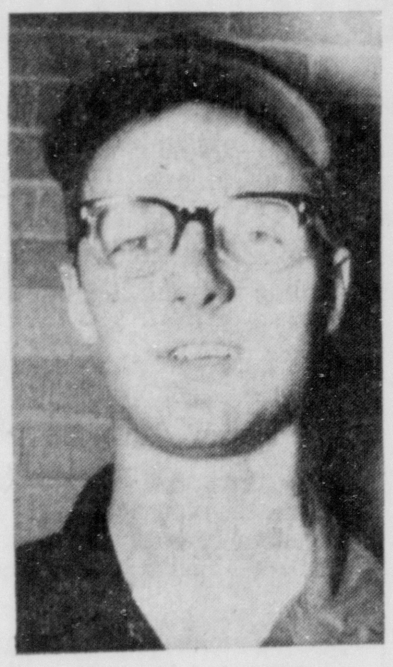
PALATINE whipped Edison Park, 6-3, in its opener last Wednesday but fell to Des Plaines, 4-2, the following night. Facing possible elimination, Claude Bailey's boys nipped Northlake, 3-2, Saturday to stay alive.

Mt. Prospect dropped out of tourney play in short order by dropping a 14-7 decision to Cicero last Wednesday and then forfeiting to Park Ridge Thursday.

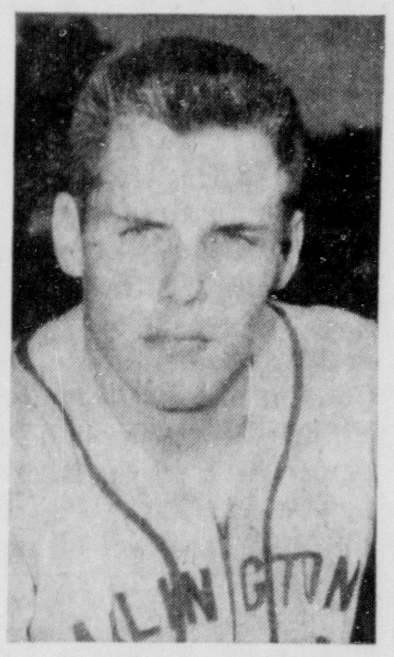
Palatine rammed across all its runs in the first inning to throttle Edison Park. Bill Phillips started it off with a single and moved to second when Ken O'Rielly was safe on an error.

LENNY ROSE walked to fill the bases but Wayne Lewin flied to left for the first out. Ken Petke walked, however, to force in a run and Jim Smith singled home two more.

Mel Helms grounded out, short to first, but Petke scored on the play. Before the inning ended, Bailey's crew notched two more runs and were in command of what turned out to be an insurmountable 6-0 lead.



WAYNE KEHE



GREG BECKWAY

Edison Park picked up its first hits of the game in the third frame and parlayed them with a couple walks for two counters. Two more singles after a walk to Coody produced the game's final tally in the fourth.

WAYNE KEHE went the route to pick up the victory, fanning 11 and allowing only four hits.

Des Plaines wiped out a 2-1 Palatine lead with a pair of counters in the bottom of Thursday's third inning and went on to take a tight 4-2 decision.

Palatine drew first blood with a pair in the second. Petke walked and moved around to third on Jim Donahoe's single. Smith then beat out a fielder's choice with both runners racing home on the play.

A HOMERUN by Murdock cut the deficit to 2-1 for the Des Plaines unit in the bottom portion of the same round before the victors pulled away for keeps in the third.

With one gone in the third, Seagren singled but was cut down on Warnicke's force play at second. Dan Humay singled Warnicke to second from which point he scored on Reese's single.

Lorentz gained the victory on the hill for Des Plaines while Donahoe took the loss.

LEWIN'S SIXTH inning single scored Phillips with the run that gave Palatine its 3-2 triumph over Northlake at Palatine Saturday. Phillips had tripled with one gone.

Northlake stepped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first only to watch Palatine draw even in its portion of the round.

With two out for Palatine in the first, Rose reached first on Bower's error and took second on Fred Barr's single. Gary Chessman walked to load the bases setting the stage for Lewin's first single, a two-run biast.

KEHE PICKED up the victory, his second of the week; Schaurge suffered the setback.

Cicero fought from behind with three runs in the fifth inning Thursday enroute to its win over Arlington.

The victors opened up a 2-0 lead with single runs in the second and third rounds without a reply from Coach Lloyd Meyer's aggregation.

BUT THE Fernstroms found the range in the bottom of the third and forged ahead temporarily, 3-2. With one gone, Vince Furlong singled and moved to second on a walk to Jack Lane.

Ray Miller was safe on a fielder's choice with Furlong scoring on the play and Lane stole home moments later for Arlington's second run. A Cicero boot on Greg Beckway's roller produced the third run of the inning.

But Cicero tied together two hits, an error and a walk for three deciding runs in the fifth.

BEARD AND McIntyre teamed up to hurd a no-hitter Tuesday as Park Ridge nipped Arlington, 3-2, in the latter's season finale.

Meyer's lads picked up a run in the second for a short-lived edge. Skip Witt walked with one gone and stole second from which point he scored on a Park Ridge error.

The Ninth District Champs tied it up in the fourth on walks to L. Eichler, Mel Makos and Grammit's boot and then went ahead for keeps in the sixth with a pair.

ARLINGTON fought desperately to pull the game out in the seventh but couldn't quite make the grade. Bob Hutchinson, Joe Wertheimer and Miller walked to fill the bases and another walk to Beckway forced in a run.

But Wertheimer was erased in an attempted theft of home to end the game.

In a practice game played Monday, Beckway hurled Arlington to a thrilling 6-5 upset win over State Legion Champ Berwyn at Berwyn.

WITH THE COUNT knotted at five-all in the sixth and final stanza, Wertheimer whacked out a single to score Grammit with what proved to be the deciding run.

Wishful Thinking Makes Sense; Ask Skokie Hospital

Golfing enthusiasts did a lot of wishful thinking that made dollars and sense.

When 4G's Practice Fairways, Dempster Street and Waukegan road, Morton Grove, opened its beautiful $100,000 miniature golf course known as Par King Skillgolf in June of 1960, George Boznos, the owner, inaugurated a unique idea.

Visitors to the Disneyland like courses' wishing well could make a wish and toss a coin of any denomination into the well. The money eventually would be turned over to the Skokie Valley Community Hospital Building Fund.

ONLY THREE persons would each have a key to the steel-grated top "vault" into which the coins fell: Ernest C. Gray Jr., administrator of Skokie Valley Community Hospital; Roland F. Dilg, president of the First National Bank of Morton Grove; and Boznos.

They were to be trustees of the fund.

Recently, the three men met and opened the vault. They counted the money which is being presented to the hospital. The pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and half-dollars came to $168.13.

BOZNOS, SO impressed by the amount of good that can come from wishful thinking which sometimes makes cents, decided to match the sum contributed by wish-makers and presented the Skokie Valley Community Hospital with a check for $168.13.

The hospital is thus receiving a total of $336.26.

"Wishful thinking can make sense, don't you think?" asked Mr. Boznos.

Arlington Tennis Squads Roll Over Elmhurst Club

The Arlington Tennis Club blasted Elmhurst Saturday at the high school courts, sweeping all four divisions of play in a north and west suburban league match.

Wins by the men and juniors came as no surprise since the local club currently tops the league in these divisions, but the girls came through with a surprising upset of their league-leading guests.

The Juniors ran their undefeated string to eight with a 5-2 win over the Elmhurst youngsters.

THE ONLY close match was Bob Shineflug's three-set victory over Arlington's Rusty Walters in the number one singles contest. Walters took the first set 6-3, but the momentum of play reversed and the Arlington contestant went down, 6-2, 6-4.

In the Women's Division, Elmhurst stepped out to an early lead as Charlotte Ranke, one of the league's top players, took her match from Donna Cunningham in straight sets, 6-4, 6-0.

But the Arlington ladies came back with three in a row before dropping an anticlimactic doubles match to win, 5-2.

THE LOCAL men broke in the newly-resurfaced high school courts with a double victory. In the A Division, Arlington's racketmen overpowered the opposition with a 6-1 triumph.

Roger King was tagged with the only home team loss in a close match with Ranke of Elmhurst, 11-9, 2-6, 6-2.

Sweeping the singles competition, Arlington's B team landed their guests an easy 5-2 drubbing. Ken Schaller, Tommy Benson, Bob Sir and Dave Bone all took their matches in straight sets.

The impressive play of the juniors, now 8-0 in league competition, and the handwork of several high school girls in the women's division has prompted the Arlington Tennis Club to set up a tournament fund with the goal of soliciting enough money to aid in paying for the entrance fees and transportation costs of their under 18-year-old-members.

KEN SCHALLER, Arlington tennis coach, points out that: "Many of our young players have reached a point in their development where they need to play in Chicago area tournaments if they are to continue to improve."

Anyone interested in helping out may send his contribution to Roger Steingraber, club treasurer.

All-Stars Boast Explosive Speed In '61 Backfield

Few College All-Star teams of the past could lay claim to the explosive backfield speed possessed by the 1961 squad now preparing for its date with the Philadelphia Eagles, Aug. 4, at Soldier Field.

Head Coach Otto Graham doesn't attempt to conceal his pleasure over the array of speedsters at his command. In his fourth season at the All-Star helm, Otto feels that this year's backfield contingent has the speed potential of his first squad in 1958.

The '58 team that trampled the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19, contained such standout speedsters as Bobby Mitchell of Illinois, Jim Pace of Michigan, Lenny Lyles of Louisville, and Johnny Sample of Maryland.

HIGH ON THE list of fleet halfbacks being groomed to harass the Eagles, is Tommy Mason of Tulane, leading ball carrier in the south last year with 663 yards in 120 carries. He caught 28 passes, five for touchdowns.

Other fine running backs at Graham's disposal are Keith Lincoln who set a new rushing record at Washington State last fall and, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State who led the nation in offense with a 14.7 average for over-all performance, breaking the old mark of 14.3 set by Glenn Davis in 1944.

A brilliant array of flanker backs is topped by Joe Bellino of Navy, just about everyone's choice for All-American honors last fall and winner of the Heisman and Maxwell trophies.

THE FLANKING back group also includes Bernie Casey of Bowling Green of Little All-American fame who has run the 100 in :09.8; Glynn Gregory of Southern Methodist, top pass receiving end in the southwest last fall; Jim Johnson of U.C.L.A., brother of Rafer Johnson, Olympic decathlon champion, and Bob Crespino of Mississippi.

The All-Stars boast speed as well as power at fullback. Topping the line smashing brigade is Bill Brown, 215 pound block buster from Illinois, who ranked third among Big Ten rushers last year and second in 1959.

Brown climaxed his college career by scoring three touchdowns in the North-South Shrine game in which he was chosen the North's outstanding player.

Other offensive fullbacks are Art Baker, king pin of the Syracuse attack over the past three seasons, and Bob Gaiters of New Mexico State who led all major college players in net yards rushing and scoring last fall. The compactly built 5 foot 10 inch 210-pounder scored 145 points and gained 1,338 yards in 197 carries. "Bullet Bob" has tremendous speed for his heft, having been clocked in :09.8 for the 100.

Yankees Near Pony Crown

With only two scheduled contests remaining, the Yankees of the Mt. Prospect Pony League moved to within one step of the loop title and clinched at least a tie for the circuit crown.

Tom Wilkes picked up his eighth win of the season with assistance from Ralph Kaspari, who stroked a tremendous homer into left field. Manderschield was tagged with the loss.

In his initial appearance on the mound this year, Rick Lynch scattered five hits and gave up only one marker as the Giants pounded the Sox, 13-1. Wayne Klukinski and Rick Profita homered for the winners, who collected 11 safeties off of loser Mullieaux.

THE BRAVES toppled the Cubs, 4-3, in an extra inning stint which was capped by Mike Burke's game-winning single in the bottom of the seventh.

The Cardinals muffed their chances to repeat as league champ when the third place Pirates upset them and virtually pushed the Yanks into a first place finish.

Recreation Park Falls

Pioneer Park Heads 12-Inch Softball Loop

Pioneer Park steamrolled to its fourth consecutive victory last week to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Arlington Heights park district 12-inch softball league.

Falling from first was Recreation Park thanks to a pair of setbacks absorbed during the past week.

4-0, in a one hour ball game. Both teams played good defensive ball with the Bombers capitalizing on every break to score two runs in the first and sixth innings.

A SENSATIONAL catch by Glen Carlson in right field saved two more Bomber runs in the sixth.

Jim Kenney, Frank DeRosa and Jim Welton paced Pioneer's offensive attack while Jim Wittington, Mary Lawandowski and Randy Magytych totaled all of the Green hits.

Erratic fielding by Virginia Terrace in the sixth inning coupled with hits by Marc Josephson and Van Ostermik enabled the Evergreen Eagles to break open a 2-2 deadlock and pick up their third victory by a score of 7-2.
and Tom Murray added three hits for Pioneer Park.

THE EAGLES tallied two in the first on hits by Scott Brooksbank and Ostermik but Virginia tied the score on a two run homer by Joe Hemity.

A pitching duel between Evergreen's Steve Levan and Jim Keane of Virginia prevailed until the big sixth inning.

Defensive action highlighted the contest between Hasbrook Park and the High School as the two teams combined for five double plays. The High School added a tight pitching performance by Bill Von Voechman and picked up their first victory, 5-2.

JIM DEASEY drove in both of Hasbrook's runs and Jerry Enright added three hits for the Hawks. Von Boechmann drove in two runs and key hits were collected by Jim Manos and Mark Thomas.

Recreation Park dropped from the undefeated ranks by forfeiting to Evergreen Park and absorbed a second defeat from Dryden Park, 8-3.

Shortstop Paul Gustitus drove in seven runs for Dryden to personally supply the offensive punch. A battery of Mike Gilmore and Donald Hall provided an effective center line of defense.

TERRY TAEGE and Rick Mader homered to account for Recreation's three runs and Emmet Quill made several fine defnsive efforts in the outfield.

In the Midget action, Recreation lead and held on to defeat Pioneer Park, 11-10. Bob Laughman of Recreation pitched the victory and Ray Thorsen, his battery mate, collected three hits. Terry Ormsbee hit safely twice

Wishful Thinking Makes Sense; Ask Skokie Hospital

Golfing enthusiasts did a lot of wishful thinking that made dollars and sense.

When 4G's Practice Fairways, Dempster Street and Waukegan road, Morton Grove, opened its beautiful $100,000 miniature golf course known as Par King Skillgolf in June of 1960, George Boznos, the owner, inaugurated a unique idea.

Visitors to the Disneyland like courses' wishing well could make a wish and toss a coin of any denomination into the well. The money eventually would be turned over to the Skokie Valley Community Hospital Building Fund.

ONLY THREE persons would each have a key to the steel-grated top "vault" into which the coins fell: Ernest C. Gray Jr., administrator of Skokie Valley Community Hospital; Roland F. Dilg, president of the First National Bank of Morton Grove; and Boznos.

They were to be trustees of the fund.

Recently, the three men met and opened the vault. They counted the money which is being presented to the hospital. The pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and half-dollars came to $168.13.

BOZNOS, SO impressed by the amount of good that can come from wishful thinking which sometimes makes cents, decided to match the sum contributed by wish-makers and presented the Skokie Valley Community Hospital with a check for $168.13.

The hospital is thus receiving a total of $336.26.

"Wishful thinking can make sense, don't you think?" asked Mr. Boznos.

District Tourney Stalled

Park Ridge Nine Rolls On; Route Jackson Park Twice

Park Ridge's Ninth District American Legion champs steamed into this week's First Division finals at Berwyn with a decisive two-straight quarterfinal conquest of Jackson Park.

Coach Glen Van Proyen's outfit, behind the three-hit hurling of Frank Machac, ripped the Chicagoans, 7-1, at Park Ridge in Saturday's opener.

It was Steve Benson's turn Monday and the former Maine township East high mound standout responded with a nifty six-hitter to pace his teammates to a runaway 16-1 triumph at Jackson Park.

BY VIRTUE of those victories, Park Ridge earned a shot at defending State champ Berwyn in today's (Thursday) opening game of the First Division meet slated for the Morton West high school field, 26th st. and Harlem ave.

Game time has been set for 1:30 p. m.

This summer's Divisional tourney, which is hosted by Cicero Post No. 96, will be played on a double elimination basis. Two games will be played both this afternoon and Friday with a single contest slated for Saturday.

THE TWO SURVIVING units will lock horns at 4 p. m. Sunday for the championship with a return match, if needed, tentatively set up for 4 p. m. Monday.

The eventual champ will then move into the Departmental, or State, finals at Arlington Heights August 4-7 along with four other Divisional titlists.

Rain and state tournament play has slowed the Ninth District's post-season double elimination tournament to a standstill.

DES PLAINES earned a berth in the finals by routing guest team Cicero, 11-2, Saturday but Coach Al Carsten's crew has been idle ever since and will not return to action before Wednesday evening at the earliest.

Park Ridge and Palatine will fight it out in the losers' bracket Monday with the winner slated to meet Cicero Tuesday. Tuesday's winner will then move into the championship showdown.

Park Ridge advanced by eliminating Arlington, 3-2, Tuesday evening. The Fernstrom's had previously beaten Park Ridge in first round play but dropped to the losers' division on the heels of a 6-3 loss to Cicero Thursday.

PALATINE whipped Edison Park, 6-3, in its opener last Wednesday but fell to Des Plaines, 4-2, the following night. Facing possible elimination, Claude Bailey's boys nipped Northlake, 3-2, Saturday to stay alive.

Mt. Prospect dropped out of tourney play in short order by dropping a 14-7 decision to Cicero last Wednesday and then forfeiting to Park Ridge Thursday.

Palatine rammed across all its runs in the first inning to throttle Edison Park. Bill Phillips started it off with a single and moved to second when Ken O'Rielly was safe on an error.

LENNY ROSE walked to fill the bases but Wayne Lewin flied to left for the first out. Ken Petke walked, however, to force in a run and Jim Smith singled home two more.

Mel Helms grounded out, short to first, but Petke scored on the play. Before the inning ended, Bailey's crew notched two more runs and were in command of what turned out to be an insurmountable 6-0 lead.

GREG BECKWAY

Edison Park picked up its first hits of the game in the third frame and parlayed them with a couple walks for two counters. Two more singles after a walk to Coody produced the game's final tally in the fourth.

WAYNE KEHE went the route to pick up the victory, fanning 11 and allowing only four hits.

Des Plaines wiped out a 2-1 Palatine lead with a pair of counters in the bottom of Thursday's third inning and went on to take a tight 4-2 decision.

Palatine drew first blood with a pair in the second. Petke walked and moved around to third on Jim Donahoe's single. Smith then beat out a fielder's choice with both runners racing home on the play.

A HOMERUN by Murdock cut the deficit to 2-1 for the Des Plaines unit in the bottom portion of the same round before the victors pulled away for keeps in the third.

With one gone in the third, Seagren singled but was cut down on Warnicke's force play at second. Dan Humay singled Warnicke to second from which point he scored on Reese's single.

Lorentz gained the victory on the hill for Des Plaines while Donahoe took the loss.

LEWIN'S SIXTH inning single scored Phillips with the run that gave Palatine its 3-2 triumph over Northlake at Palatine Saturday. Phillips had tripled with one gone.

Northlake stepped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first only to watch Palatine draw even in its portion of the round.

With two out for Palatine in the first, Rose reached first on Bower's error and took second on Fred Barr's single. Gary Chessman walked to load the bases setting the stage for Lewin's first single, a two-run blast.

KEHE PICKED up the victory, his second of the week; Schaurge suffered the setback.

Cicero fought from behind with three runs in the fifth inning Thursday enroute to its win over Arlington.

The victors opened up a 2-0 lead with single runs in the second and third rounds without a reply from Coach Lloyd Meyer's aggregation.

BUT THE Fernstroms found the range in the bottom of the third and forged ahead temporarily, 3-2. With one gone, Vince Furlong singled and moved to second on a walk to Jack Lane.

Ray Miller was safe on a fielder's choice with Furlong scoring on the play and Lane stole home moments later for Arlington's second run. A Cicero boot on Greg Beckway's roller produced the third run of the inning.

But Cicero tied together two hits, an error and a walk for three deciding runs in the fifth.

BEARD AND McIntyre teamed up to hurd a no-hitter Tuesday as Park Ridge nipped Arlington, 3-2, in the latter's season finale.

Meyer's lads picked up a run in the second for a short-lived edge. Skip Witt walked with one gone and stole second from which point he scored on a Park Ridge error.

The Ninth District Champs tied it up in the fourth on walks to L. Eichler, Mel Makos and Grammit's boot and then went ahead for keeps in the sixth with a pair.

ARLINGTON fought desperately to pull the game out in the seventh but couldn't quite make the grade. Bob Hutchinson, Joe Wertheimer and Miller walked to fill the bases and another walk to Beckway forced in a run.

But Wertheimer was erased in an attempted theft of home to end the game.

In a practice game played Monday, Beckway hurled Arlington to a thrilling 6-5 upset win over State Legion Champ Berwyn at Berwyn.

WITH THE COUNT knotted at five-all in the sixth and final stanza, Wertheimer whacked out a single to score Grammit with what proved to be the deciding run.

Arlington Tennis Squads Roll Over Elmhurst Club

The Arlington Tennis Club blasted Elmhurst Saturday at the high school courts, sweeping all four divisions of play in a north and west suburban league match.

Wins by the men and juniors came as no surprise since the local club currently tops the league in these divisions, but the girls came through with a surprising upset of their league-leading guests.

The Juniors ran their undefeated string to eight with a 5-2 win over the Elmhurst youngsters.

THE ONLY close match was Bob Shineflug's three-set victory over Arlington's Rusty Walters in the number one singles contest. Walters took the first set 6-3, but the momentum of play reversed and the Arlington contestant went down, 6-2, 6-4.

In the Women's Division, Elmhurst stepped out to an early lead as Charlotte Ranke, one of the league's top players, took her match from Donna Cunningham in straight sets, 6-4, 6-0.

But the Arlington ladies came back with three in a row before dropping an anticlimactic doubles match to win, 5-2.

THE LOCAL men broke in the newly-resurfaced high school courts with a double victory. In the A Division, Arlington's racketmen overpowered the opposition with a 6-1 triumph.

Roger King was tagged with the only home team loss in a close match with Ranke of Elmhurst, 11-9, 2-6, 6-2.

Sweeping the singles competition, Arlington's B team landed their guests an easy 5-2 drubbing. Ken Schaller, Tommy Benson, Bob Sir and Dave Bone all took their matches in straight sets.

The impressive play of the juniors, now 8-0 in league competition, and the handwork of several high school girls in the women's division has prompted the Arlington Tennis Club to set up a tournament fund with the goal of soliciting enough money to aid in paying for the entrance fees and transportation costs of their under 18-year-old-members.

KEN SCHALLER, Arlington tennis coach, points out that: "Many of our young players have reached a point in their development where they need to play in Chicago area tournaments if they are to continue to improve."

Anyone interested in helping out may send his contribution to Roger Steingraber, club treasurer.

All-Stars Boast Explosive Speed In '61 Backfield

Few College All-Star teams of the past could lay claim to the explosive backfield speed possessed by the 1961 squad now preparing for its date with the Philadelphia Eagles, Aug. 4, at Soldier Field.

Head Coach Otto Graham doesn't attempt to conceal his pleasure over the array of speedsters at his command. In his fourth season at the All-Star helm, Otto feels that this year's backfield contingent has the speed potential of his first squad in 1958.

The '58 team that trampled the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19, contained such standout speedsters as Bobby Mitchell of Illinois, Jim Pace of Michigan, Lenny Lyles of Louisville, and Johnny Sample of Maryland.

HIGH ON THE list of fleet halfbacks being groomed to harass the Eagles, is Tommy Mason of Tulane, leading ball carrier in the south last year with 663 yards in 120 carries. He caught 28 passes, five for touchdowns.

Other fine running backs at Graham's disposal are Keith Lincoln who set a new rushing record at Washington State last fall and, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State who led the nation in offense with a 14.7 average for over-all performance, breaking the old mark of 14.3 set by Glenn Davis in 1944.

A brilliant array of flanker backs is topped by Joe Bellino of Navy, just about everyone's choice for All-American honors last fall and winner of the Heisman and Maxwell trophies.

THE FLANKING back group also includes Bernie Casey of Bowling Green of Little All-American fame who has run the 100 in :09.8; Glynn Gregory of Southern Methodist, top pass receiving end in the southwest last fall; Jim Johnson of U.C.L.A., brother of Rafer Johnson, Olympic decathlon champion, and Bob Crespino of Mississippi.

The All-Stars boast speed as well as power at fullback. Topping the line smashing brigade is Bill Brown, 215 pound block buster from Illinois, who ranked third among Big Ten rushers last year and second in 1959.

Brown climaxed his college career by scoring three touchdowns in the North-South Shrine game in which he was chosen the North's outstanding player.

Other offensive fullbacks are Art Baker, king pin of the Syracuse attack over the past three seasons, and Bob Gaiters of New Mexico State who led all major college players in net yards rushing and scoring last fall. The compactly built 5 foot 10 inch 210-pounder scored 145 points and gained 1,338 yards in 197 carries. "Bullet Bob" has tremendous speed for his heft, having been clocked in :09.8 for the 100.

Yankees Near Pony Crown

With only two scheduled contests remaining, the Yankees of the Mt. Prospect Pony League moved to within one step of the loop title and clinched at least a tie for the circuit crown.

Tom Wilkes picked up his eighth win of the season with assistance from Ralph Kaspari, who stroked a tremendous homer into left field. Manderschield was tagged with the loss.

In his initial appearance on the mound this year, Rick Lynch scattered five hits and gave up only one marker as the Giants pounded the Sox, 13-1. Wayne Klukinski and Rick Profita homered for the winners, who collected 11 safeties off of loser Mullieaux.

THE BRAVES toppled the Cubs, 4-3, in an extra inning stint which was capped by Mike Burke's game-winning single in the bottom of the seventh.

The Cardinals muffed their chances to repeat as league champ when the third place Pirates upset them and virtually pushed the Yanks into a first place finish.

Schaumburg Unit Climbs To 2nd Spot

The big news of the week was supplied by Schaumburg Ace Hardware who soundly trounced Jupiter Cleaners and leaped into the second spot from sixth last week.

Mel Doup's even par gross 36 was good for three points against Angie Patel as Captain Harold Akers led three of his teammates to three point victories against their opponents.

Jim Brewner was a winner as was Earl Conrad whose 41-13, net 28, was eight under at the Golden Acres country club's front nine, and good enough for the best low net of the season. Herb Keesee was the only match winner for Jupiter.

TONY'S SINCLAIR, led by Capt. Ray Larson, scored a stunning victory over the Roselle State Bank and added 12½ points to their total to move them up into fifth place.

Art Murphy, Joe MGibbon, Don Kolp and George Davis all turned in wins to contribute to that total while there wasn't a match winner on the Roselle Bank team though it accumulated three and one half points in losing.

The Roselle Color Center started their second push of the season by taking 12 of 16 points from Harve's Food Mart. Captain Chuck Pugh, John Milke, John Aquino and Dick Moon came out victors in their matches to push them three notches up the ladder.

Bill Harvey turned in a 45-10, net 35, card to record the only victory for Harve's to keep them in the running.

Harry Grover's Rainbow Inn team came through in fine style, scoring a 10½ point victory over the league leading Higgins Shell team. Harry's new swing with a bigger arc brought him in with a 39 and a three-point win in his match.

BILL HANSON and Chuck Davey were also match winners for Rainbow while Captain Roy Jenkins and John Warnock kept Higgins Shell alive by earning five and one-half points between them.

The Hoffman Lions team, led by Captain Don Specht, squeezed a 9-7 win out of Snyder's Hoffman Drugs. Don, Paul Kiczula and John Steffens turned in match wins to help their team come out victors while Captain Jack Sheridan and Jules Swerdlow carded victories for Snyder's to make it a tough fight.

The Schaumrose Inn and Hoffman Plaza Liquors battled to an eight-all tie which wasn't good enough for either team to keep them from losing ground in this rough and tumble race.

FIVE OF the bottom seven teams won victories last week while the other two broke even to make this race tighter than a size ten foot in a size eight shoe.

In addition to wanting to come out on top of the heap when the season comes to an end, these teams are fighting for the privilege of representing the Hoffman Men's Golf League in the Paddock Publications Annual Inter-League Golf Tournament to be held August 20.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Dog Hero judges . . .

Judges for the eighth annual Ken-L-Ration Dog Hero of Heroes award competition were recently announced. They are LaRue P. Daniels, kennel editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and winner of the 1960 Kilbon Memorial award of the Dog Writers Association of America for outstanding journalism in the field of dogs; Dr. Robert E. Storm, president of the Chicago Veterinary Medical association; and Victor Elting, vice president in charge of advertising and merchandising, The Quaker Oats company.

The individual who has been asked to present the award to the winning dog and his owners at the eighth annual awards banquet in Chicago's Palmer House on Wednesday evening, August 16, has just a little something to do with food—just a little. That person is Maj. Gen. Hugh Mackintosh, executive director, Military Subsistence Supply agency. He is responsible for wholesale food supplies for the army, navy, air force and marines. The agency, through a nationwide system of 10 market centers, purchases, inspects, stores and distributes in excess of 700 million dollars of food annually for the armed forces. Boy — "Mother, how would you like to collect green stamps for that bill."

Wheaton show . . .

The Wheaton All Breed Dog show held this month had a few sideline wins of general interest to folks in the area. In the Collies, Best of Breed went to Eljay's Gallant Topper, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuldee of Mount Prospect. Topper continued on in the show to place second in the working dog group.

In the obedience trials held in connection with the show, Kay Blackwood of Arlington Heights with her miniature poodle, Lisa, won the first place spot in the Open "A" class with a score of 196½ out of a possible 200. This makes the third show at which "Lisa" has had a score of 170 or better and Kay will be awarded the American Kennel club's "CDX" award for her dog. It takes a lot of hard work to get the award, and now the final step up the ladder begins, working for the "UD," or utility degree.

Speaking of obedience . . .

Speaking of obedience brings to mind that the Northwest Obedience Club, Inc., of Palatine will be holding its annual obedience trial and tracking test Sunday, Aug. 20, at Prospect high school, Foundry rd., Arlington Heights. More news will appear elsewhere in the paper in later issues about this event.

Don't forget the water . . .

In your travels this summer, don't forget that the family hound might like the idea of going along on the trip, however, make sure that his comfort is considered.

A drink of fresh, cool water is a must every so often, along with a rest stop. One thing more to consider is not to change foods while on your trip, especially if the dog is excitable. Stick to things that he knows and likes—both you and the hound will have a much easier time.

Arlington Tankers Falter

Glen Ellyn's Invitational Swimming Meet proved to be too much for the Arlington Park District tankers as the local unit was dunked by a powerful West Suburban League field.

Competing outside the Northern Illinois Conference for the first time this season, Heights placed last, drifting home in the wake of the host team, Downers Grove, and Wheaton.

SEVERAL of Arlington's standout swimmers skipped the contest in order to compete in the qualifying rounds of the Chicago Tribune meet held the same day.

Despite their shortcomings, the locals did manage to surface with a handful of medals. Margo Hauff turned in a winning performance in the backstroke and led off the successful 15 and 16-year-old girls' freestyle relay.

Jackie Bruscato stroked an outstanding anchor leg in the 11 and 12-year-old girls' medley relay, sharing the victory with Hogg, Spomer, and Raasch.

Booming Bats

In the club's first 95 games this year, the Chicago White Sox walloped 94 home runs. Last season they hit 112 to finish seventh in the league. The club record is 128 by the 1956 team.

THAT'S MONEY, as a result of wishful thinking, is what Roland F. Dilg (left), president of First National Bank of Morton Grove is saying. Dilg points to spilled pailful of coins contributed in 1960-61 by visitors who made wishes at unique wishing well at Par King Skillgolf, $100,000 miniature course on Dempster Street and Waukgan Road, Morton Grove. George Boznos (center) presents check for $168.13, matching sum visitors contributed, to Ernest C. Gray, Jr. (right), administrator of Skokie Valley Community Hospital Building Fund.

Paddock Spectacle

Arlington Bank Won First Golf Tourney

Eleven years old, battered and worn, but still standing straight and true—that's the large traveling trophy of the Paddock golf tournament as it awaits a new claimant Sunday, Aug. 20, at Nordic Hills golf club.

The Paddock tournament among first place teams only of the local twilight leagues has become legendary since the meet's inception in 1950. Arlington Bank's team of the Arlington Heights league won that event with Carl Engel, Tony Felker, Dick Dieball and Bill Shasberger on the firing line.

That first meeting called to organize the tournament was held at Mt. Prospect country club with Pat McDonald of Rob Roy golf club, Ernie Simons of Mt. Prospect golf league, Bob Paddock of Paddock Publications and others in attendance. Ray Sophie of Mt. Prospect country club conducted the meeting.

FROM THAT meeting the Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap golf tournament took shape with more and more loops added as the area (and golf) expanded. The golfing event was so successful, by the way, that the bowling tournaments of the same nature were started the following winter.

First place ties have occurred twice in the Paddock golf tourney. Whitton Realtors of Mt. Prospect's Tuesday division and Wulbecker Furniture of Rob Roy tied for the trophy in 1952. Roselle Bakery of Roselle loop and Pines Motel of Arlington Heights hit the same tally in '53.

Those ties mean extra medals for the promoters plus a coin-tossing ceremony to determine which name makes the trophy.

HOOK'S Nursery of Mt. Prospect's Tuesday league won the first place battle in 1951. Mt. Prospect Monday loop won the event three years running, starting in 1954.

Mt. Prospect Hardware took the trophy in 1954, Mt. Prospect Lions won in '55 and Whitton Realtors repeated in '56. Whitton is the only sponsor repeating his Paddock golf tournament title, by the way.

Wheeling Lumber took home the championship in 1957, competing in the Arlington country club loop. In 1958 it was Busse Texaco of the St. Raymond's league winning with stablemate Kirchhoff Insurance of the other St. Raymond's division finishing second.

IN 1959 it was Tioga VFW of Bensenville's league that took the title, and last summer Morton Pontiac of the Mt. Prospect Tuesday division claimed the big prize.

This year the first place teams as of August 5 will compete in the big event at Nordic Hills August 20. Just one foursome from each of the local twilight leagues will be eligible with league officers to decide any internal disputes.

Obedience Trial Entry Deadline Set for August 7

Entries for the fourth annual AKC licensed, obedience trial sponsored by Northwest Obedience club of Suburban Chicago, Inc. will close Monday noon, Aug. 7, for the Sunday, Aug. 20, event.

More than 100 owners of obedience-trained, pure-bred dogs in Illinois and nearby states have already submitted entries.

One of the largest shows of its kind in the country, the trial will be held on the grounds of Prospect high school, Foundry rd., Mt. Prospect. A tracking test, to be held on the Becher Hungerford estate in Barrington, will also be a feature of the trial.

LIMIT FOR novice A classes has been set at 60 dogs, as has novice B. There will be 50 entries each for open A and B and 40 for utility classes; tracking has been limited to six.

If all classes are filled, there will be 266 dogs going through their paces during the day, beginning at 9 a.m.

More than 100 awards in the form of ribbons and trophies are being offered by the club and individuals. Show secretary is Mrs. Evelyn E. Berry, 1636 N. Highland, Arlington Heights.

Northwest Obedience club's training hall is in Palatine, however members represent at least a dozen communities, north, south, east and west of Palatine. President of the club is Stanton Petry of Arlington Heights and show chairman is DeForest Muster of Bensenville. Larry Sebastian of Arlington Heights is assistant chairman of the show.

Midget Grid Registration Scheduled

Registration for the Mount Prospect Midget Football association will be held at Lions Park Saturday, August 5 and Saturday, August 12 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Officers, coaches and parents of the association met recently to formulate plans for the coming season and decided that all grammar school boys between the ages of eight and 13 again will be eligible to compete. There will be Junior and Senior divisions this year.

New coaches, assistant coaches and trainers are urgently needed to supplement the existing staffs. Any fathers who are interested in this program and can spend a few hours a week with the boys should contact association President Al Christenson at CL 5-5474.

Old Orchard Ladies League

Winners of Tuesday's Old Orchard Ladies Blind Hole Golf event were Elsie Jedd and Peg Hendricks. Elsie was the front nine winner while Peg copped top honors on th sporty nine.

League Meet Slated

Mount Prospect park district will host the 12-team Northern Illinois Swimming Conference meet on Monday, Aug. 7 and Tuesday, Aug. 8. Activities will start at 4 p.m. each day.

The preliminaries will be held Monday at 4 p.m. for all contestants 12 years old and under. They will compete in freestyle, breast stroke, back stroke, butterfly and freestyle relays.

AT 7 p.m., the preliminaries will begin for all contestants 13 and over; they will compete in the same strokes.

Diving preliminaries will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m.. The first group of contestants will be 14 and under followed by the 15 and over group.

The finals in all events will be held at the completion of the diving preliminaries.

Teams competing in the meet are Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Broodview, Lombard, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Barrington, Dundee, West Chicago, Belvedere, DeKalb and St. Charles.

Goetz Unit Reduces L-Nor Lead

Goetz Upholstery took five and one half points from Wheeling Lumber to reduce L-Nor Cleaners, lead to only 1½ points in the Arlington Country Club Friday night golf league. Portage Auto Parts also gained on the leaders by taking six points from Union Hotel.

Russ Knight proved to be the best stormy weather golfer for the night by coming in with low gross and low net - a soggy 39 - 33.

Birdies were tallied by Bob Martin and Doc Drazba on the 11th hole, Cygan on the 12th, McCandless and Snell on the 14th and Russ Knight on the 17th.

Meet The Pro

Arlington High Grad Recalls Prep Career

Al Griffith, the lad that sparked Arlington high's maiden golf venture, is now one of the men upon whom falls the responsibility for the sweeping and much-talked about improvements at Golden Acres Country club.

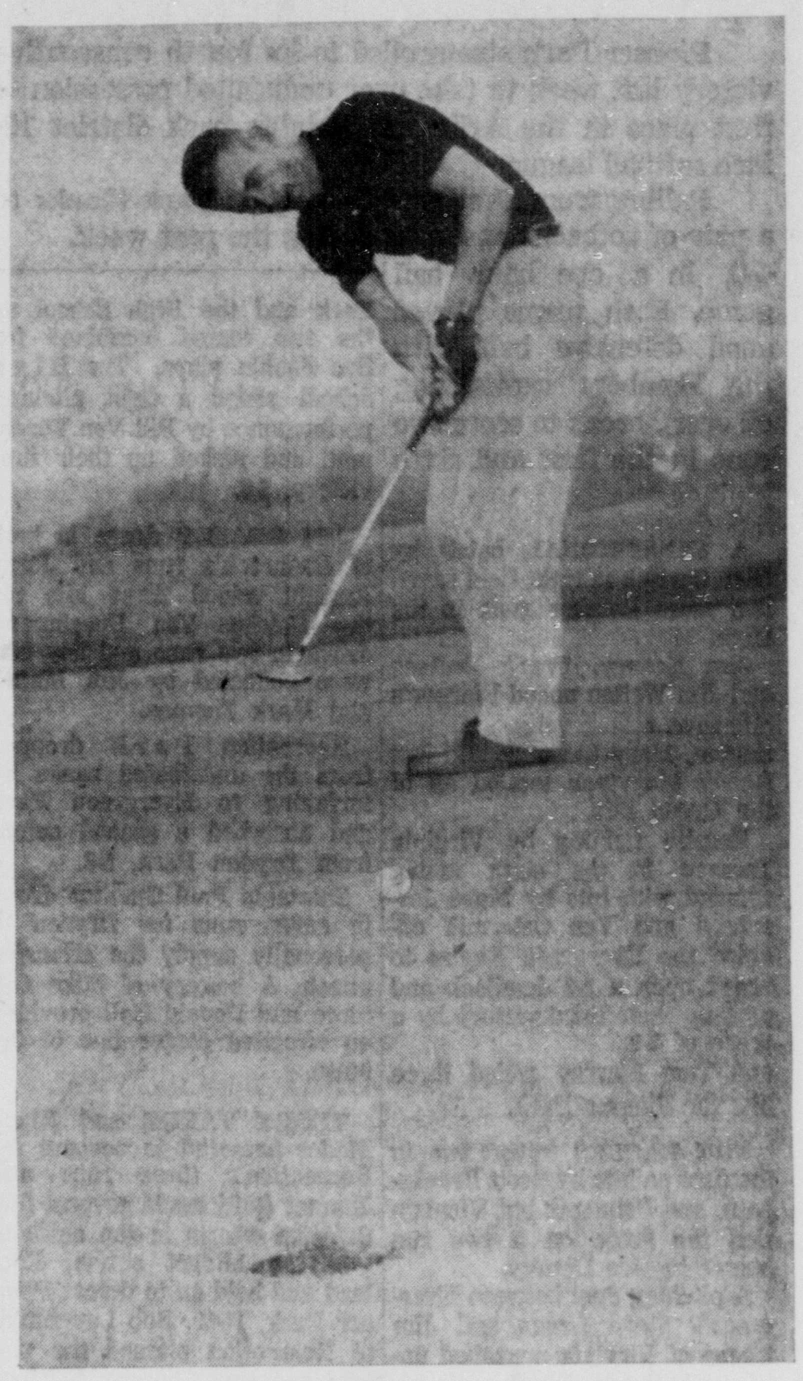
Actually Griffith's tale is only in its beginnings. At the still tender age of 32, Al has assumed the managerial duties at what seems destined to become one of the area's top clubs.

Since its purchase last winter by tile tycoon George M. Sloan, the Roselle rd. layout has changed in appearance from a dingy, ill-kept pasture to a modern, progressive sportsman's retreat.

AND ACCORDING to Sloan and Griffith, this is just the beginning. Before the last piece of construction equipment is evacuated from the area, Golden Acres will boast such facilities as a spacious swimming pool, tennis courts and a brand new, completely equipped pro shop.

And that's not all! The hilly terrain at Golden Acres will be converted into a tobogganing paradise this winter.

Already completed is a glass inclosed dining room that can accommodate up to 500 persons. This area will be utilized for weekend dances and other events during the winter season.



GOLDEN ACRES' AL GRIFFITH

GROUND WILL BE broken for a swimming pool this fall with construction expected to be completed well in advance of next spring. Access to the pool will be by membership for which applications are now being accepted.

Tentatively, the pool will cover an area 120 feet by 60 feet and will hold a capacity of 2500 persons!

Also undergoing an extensive program of improvement is the course itself.

"This course was ranked as the best in the midwest when constructed in 1928," Griffith pointed out, "and we intend to return it to championship status."

AS A MEMBER of Arlington high's first golf squad of 1946, Griffith captured top medalist honors at the Illinois High School Association District meet at Mt. Prospect Country club.

After serving in the United States Armed Forces for two years, Al entered Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington from where he graduated in '53. While at Wesleyan, he was a member of the varsity golf squad.

It was at Wesleyan that Al met his wife, the former Shirlee Haegele. The couple currently lives in Hoffman Estates with their son Jeffrey, 8, and daughter, Leslie, 4.

GRIFFITH was one of the original founders of the now thriving Old Orchard Scratch League. Established in 1954, the league is believed to be the only one of its kind in existence.

Representing the Scratch circuit, Griffith captured medalist honors at the Paddock Publications inter-league tourney of 1956 held at the old Roselle golf club.

Al previously served as pro for three years at Roselle before the club's purchase by Sloan.

Griffith's best round? He carded a highly respectable 69 at Highland Park golf course in Bloomington. His best effort at Golden Acres is an even par 72.

Frost Cops Second Win

Before another large crowd of 3,100 persons, Jack Frost of Zion, Ill., captured his second feature race of the current season and set a new Waukegan Speedway track record in doing so.

His average speed of 50.68 m.p.h. erases the former mark of 50.59 set by the Slinger, Wis., ace, Miles Melius on October 9, 1960.

Ironically, Frost's machine is the same one that Melius set the record with last year. Frost purchased Melius' car after Melius set the record in winning the last event of the season in 1960.

Darv Nissen of Zion, led the main event from the first through the half way point in the 25 lap run when Frost took over for the remainder of the event. Nissen developed mechanical troubles and finished far back in the event.

THE RACE for the second spot featured a battle between Gary Sheldon, Beloit, Bob Ratajczyk, Ed Stillman and Greg Krieger, all of Milwaukee.

The position changed hands quite frequently but Sheldon held it the longest time. On the final lap, Krieger breezed by on the back stretch taking second ahead of Sheldon, Ratajczyk and Stillman in that order.

Deerfield's Bay Darnell captured the 15 lap semi-feature in an action packed program that was stopped in the seventh lap by an accident.

DARNELL took the lead from Dick Vanderspool of Grayslake, on the restart lap and went on for the victory, averaging 49.13 m.p.h.

In the special attraction, the rough and tumble Miller Brothers race, Bob Miller triumphed after rolling over early in the event.

On tap for Sunday is the special 50 lap mid-season championship event for the modified drivers headlining the speedway's twelvth consecutive Sunday night program of racing.

ALL QUALIFIERS for the feature event will receive double championship points in the main event. In addition, the amateurs will also return for added thrills.

Tix trials will begin at 7:15 p.m. with racing getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The speedway is located on West Washington st. between Green Bay rd. and U. S. 41.

Schaumburg Unit Climbs To 2nd Spot

The big news of the week was supplied by Schaumburg Ace Hardware who soundly trounced Jupiter Cleaners and leaped into the second spot from sixth last week.

Mel Doup's even par gross 36 was good for three points against Angie Patel as Captain Harold Akers led three of his teammates to three point victories against their opponents.

Jim Brewner was a winner as was Earl Conrad whose 41-13, net 28, was eight under at the Golden Acres country club's front nine, and good enough for the best low net of the season. Herb Keesee was the only match winner for Jupiter.

TONY'S SINCLAIR, led by Capt. Ray Larson, scored a stunning victory over the Roselle State Bank and added 12½ points to their total to move them up into fifth place.

Art Murphy, Joe MGibbon, Don Kolp and George Davis all turned in wins to contribute to that total while there wasn't a match winner on the Roselle Bank team though it accumulated three and one half points in losing.

The Roselle Color Center started their second push of the season by taking 12 of 16 points from Harve's Food Mart. Captain Chuck Pugh, John Milke, John Aquino and Dick Moon came out victors in their matches to push them three notches up the ladder.

Bill Harvey turned in a 45-10, net 35, card to record the only victory for Harve's to keep them in the running.

Harry Grover's Rainbow Inn team came through in fine style, scoring a 10½ point victory over the league leading Higgins Shell team. Harry's new swing with a bigger arc brought him in with a 39 and a three-point win in his match.

BILL HANSON and Chuck Davey were also match winners for Rainbow while Captain Roy Jenkins and John Warnock kept Higgins Shell alive by earning five and one-half points between them.

The Hoffman Lions team, led by Captain Don Specht, squeezed a 9-7 win out of Snyder's Hoffman Drugs. Don, Paul Kiczula and John Steffens turned in match wins to help their team come out victors while Captain Jack Sheridan and Jules Swerdlow carded victories for Snyder's to make it a tough fight.

The Schaumrose Inn and Hoffman Plaza Liquors battled to an eight-all tie which wasn't good enough for either team to keep them from losing ground in this rough and tumble race.

FIVE OF the bottom seven teams won victories last week while the other two broke even to make this race tighter than a size ten foot in a size eight shoe.

In addition to wanting to come out on top of the heap when the season comes to an end, these teams are fighting for the privilege of representing the Hoffman Men's Golf League in the Paddock Publications Annual Inter-League Golf Tournament to be held August 20.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Dog Hero judges . . .

Judges for the eighth annual Ken-L-Ration Dog Hero of Heroes award competition were recently announced. They are LaRue P. Daniels, kennel editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and winner of the 1960 Kilbon Memorial award of the Dog Writers Association of America for outstanding journalism in the field of dogs; Dr. Robert E. Storm, president of the Chicago Veterinary Medical association; and Victor Elting, vice president in charge of advertising and merchandising, The Quaker Oats company.

The individual who has been asked to present the award to the winning dog and his owners at the eighth annual awards banquet in Chicago's Palmer House on Wednesday evening, August 16, has just a little something to do with food—just a little. That person is Maj. Gen. Hugh Mackintosh, executive director, Military Subsistence Supply agency. He is responsible for wholesale food supplies for the army, navy, air force and marines. The agency, through a nationwide system of 10 market centers, purchases, inspects, stores and distributes in excess of 700 million dollars of food annually for the armed forces. Boy — "Mother, how would you like to collect green stamps for that bill."

Wheaton show . . .

The Wheaton All Breed Dog show held this month had a few sideline wins of general interest to folks in the area. In the Collies, Best of Breed went to Eljay's Gallant Topper, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuldee of Mount Prospect. Topper continued on in the show to place second in the working dog group.

In the obedience trials held in connection with the show, Kay Blackwood of Arlington Heights with her miniature poodle, Lisa, won the first place spot in the Open "A" class with a score of 196½ out of a possible 200. This makes the third show at which "Lisa" has had a score of 170 or better and Kay will be awarded the American Kennel club's "CDX" award for her dog. It takes a lot of hard work to get the award, and now the final step up the ladder begins, working for the "UD," or utility degree.

Speaking of obedience . . .

Speaking of obedience brings to mind that the Northwest Obedience Club, Inc., of Palatine will be holding its annual obedience trial and tracking test Sunday, Aug. 20, at Prospect high school, Foundry rd., Arlington Heights. More news will appear elsewhere in the paper in later issues about this event.

Don't forget the water . . .

In your travels this summer, don't forget that the family hound might like the idea of going along on the trip, however, make sure that his comfort is considered.

A drink of fresh, cool water is a must every so often, along with a rest stop. One thing more to consider is not to change foods while on your trip, especially if the dog is excitable. Stick to things that he knows and likes—both you and the hound will have a much easier time.

Arlington Tankers Falter

Glen Ellyn's Invitational Swimming Meet proved to be too much for the Arlington Park District tankers as the local unit was dunked by a powerful West Suburban League field.

Competing outside the Northern Illinois Conference for the first time this season, Heights placed last, drifting home in the wake of the host team, Downers Grove, and Wheaton.

SEVERAL of Arlington's standout swimmers skipped the contest in order to compete in the qualifying rounds of the Chicago Tribune meet held the same day.

Despite their shortcomings, the locals did manage to surface with a handful of medals. Margo Hauff turned in a winning performance in the backstroke and led off the successful 15 and 16-year-old girls' freestyle relay.

Jackie Bruscato stroked an outstanding anchor leg in the 11 and 12-year-old girls' medley relay, sharing the victory with Hogg, Spomer, and Raasch.

Booming Bats

In the club's first 95 games this year, the Chicago White Sox walloped 94 home runs. Last season they hit 112 to finish seventh in the league. The club record is 128 by the 1956 team.

THAT'S MONEY, as a result of wishful thinking, is what Roland F. Dilg (left), president of First National Bank of Morton Grove is saying. Dilg points to spilled pailful of coins contributed in 1960-61 by visitors who made wishes at unique wishing well at Par King Skillgolf, $100,000 miniature course on Dempster Street and Waukgan Road, Morton Grove. George Boznos (center) presents check for $168.13, matching sum visitors contributed, to Ernest C. Gray, Jr. (right), administrator of Skokie Valley Community Hospital Building Fund.

Paddock Spectacle

Arlington Bank Won First Golf Tourney

Eleven years old, battered and worn, but still standing straight and true—that's the large traveling trophy of the Paddock golf tournament as it awaits a new claimant Sunday, Aug. 20, at Nordic Hills golf club.

The Paddock tournament among first place teams only of the local twilight leagues has become legendary since the meet's inception in 1950. Arlington Bank's team of the Arlington Heights league won that event with Carl Engel, Tony Felker, Dick Dieball and Bill Shasberger on the firing line.

Kirchoff Squad Takes Slim Lead In League No. 2

After setting a blistering pace the week before last with over a third of the league shooting under 35, the men of St. Raymond's cooled off considerably with only 18 golfers shooting under 45 and not a man breaking into the "select thirties."

Illinois Range, after having held on to first place in League No. 2 for several weeks, was nudged out of the top spot by the Kirchhoff Insurance team.

The men of the Kirchhoff team have been real rough on the other teams in the league in the past five weeks, winning 43 points out of a possible 60 points, and moving all the way from seventh place to the top rung. Illinois Range now finds itself in the second place with Mc Mahons moving up from fourth to third just seven and a half points away from the leader.

WITH BUT seven more weeks of play remaining, Spooner Engineering seems like almost a sure winner in League No. 1. Spooner now has 92 points to its credit after having trampled the hapless Mount Prospect Savings Team last week to the tune of eight and a half points.

Spooner's nearest threat is Moran Furs, a long 13 points off the pace. Strass Ladies is still holding down third spot with Trapani Plumbing close behind in fourth place.

Stearns Eyes Top Spot in Rob Roy Tuesday Loop

John Stearns & co. crept closer to the leading Webber Paint team by downing a scrappy Prospect Heights Service Station gang, 5-2.

The Stearns team was led by their sharpshooting number four man, Len Dunteman, who shot a 39-7-32. Bob Noble, number one man of the opposing Service Station team carded a par 35-3 to tie Len for low net honors for the evening.

Len Arnold continued his steady play for the leading Webber Paint boys by scoring a par 36 to help his team edge a hard fighting Brennan Pharmacy bunch, 4-3.

NICK ZANINI playing number one for Ray Statz & associates caught fire with a fine round of 38-6-32 to lead his team out of the cellar and dump Borchardt's Restaurant into the bottom position by gaining a 6½-½ advantage.

Dick Craig again had one of his sizzling rounds with a par 35-2-33 to snatch two points for low net honors as L-Nor Cleaners administered a crushing defeat to the recently high flying Kelter Insurance Company foursome.

The 6½-½ win shot Dick's L-Nor Cleaners team to fifth place just six points back of the second place John Stearns & Co.

BERNEY MAGNESEN continued his torrid play after suffering an early season slump by clubbing through the back nine with a 39-5-34 to give Rusty's Marathon Service a 4-3 edge over C-P Floor Tile.

Bob Hornbostel led the alternate group with a well-played round of 38-5-33 to gain top honors in this bracket.

Harold "Red" Grange is one of the most fabulous members of Football's Hall of Fame.

His feats on the football field were fantastic. In 20 college games, he gained over two miles of ground. In one game against Michigan, he handled the ball 5 times in the first 12 minutes of play and made 4 touchdowns.

In 1925, Sports promoter, Charley Pyle, got him to turn pro. He was paid by the game and the first year earned $12,000. Next, he went on tour and earned $100,000. In December, he played in New York to a crowd of 73,000, which at that time was a record, and earned $35,000 for that day's game.

So, in his first year of professional play, he earned a fortune of $150,000 plus $150,000 from movie and advertising endorsements.

Keefer's Unit Zeroes-In On Loop Lead

With only one more night of play remaining before the August 5 deadline for the Paddock Publications tournament, competition last week in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league got pretty fierce.

Kersting's Garden Center remained in first place but only by a narrow half-point margin as last place Morton Pontiac succumbed, 5½-4½.

Pressing the Gardeners is the second place Keefer's Pharmacy squad which gained a full point by defeating Kirchhoff Insurance 6½ to 3½.

IN THIRD place only three-and-one-fourth points out of first was Mt. Prospect Electric Construction Co. which turned in one of the best performances of the evening in defeating Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes, 8-2.

Wille Lumber and Fuel, former league leaders, continued its slump and dropped to fourth place after suffering their second successive 8-2 defeat, this time losing to Golden's Food Shop.

In the remaining team contests, Carl's Food Shop defeated Mt. Prospect State Bank, 7½-2½, and George O'Day Realty dropped a close one to Vern's Pure Oil, 4½-5½.

MOST UNUSUAL features of the evening were the eagles scored by Pete Petersen and Hal Jauch. Pete scored his on the long par five first hole by belting his second shot two feet from the pin and sinking his putt.

Jauch made his on the tough par five dogleg 17th when his eight-iron approach shot bounced into the cup and stayed there. Ironically, the eagles failed to demoralize the opposition and both eagle shooters lost their individual matches.

After reporting eagles, birdies seem harly worth mentioning but the birdies were scored by J. Foster No. 4, C. Robinson No. 8, K. LeMay No. 9, W. Swanson No. 13, and W. Welky No. 12.

SENIOR PRESIDENT Glenn Adams of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League announced recently that plans have been completed for the league's annual Father and Son or Daughter tournament.

The outing will take place at Mt. Prospect Country club at 2 p. m. Sunday, July 30. It will be conducted as a two-ball foursome with father and offspring hitting alternate shots. Prizes totaling $200.00 will be awarded the winners who will be determined on a handicap basis.

All league members and alternates with their children are eligible to enter, but only one child per father is allowed.

Darnell Whips Mussatto; Takes Evans' Golf Title

Mike Darnell, 21-year-old Purdue university senior, whipped Harry Mussatto, 2 and 1, to capture top honors at the sixth Golf tournament held last week at White Pines Golf club.

Darnell gained a two-up advantage on the front nine and maintained that edge for the remainder of the match.

MUSSATTO, who, by the way, is head golf coach at Western Illinois university at Macomb, muffed two short putts late in the match to eliminate any hope for a comeback victory.

A heavy downpour delayed Friday's finale for almost an hour but the White Pines south course drained sufficiently so as not to hinder play.

Mussatto gained his only advantage of the encounter on the fourth hole when Darnell drove into a trap and then two-putted for a double bogey six.

BUT THE six-foot premed student evened the match on the next hole when he hit the green with his drive and two-putted for a birdie three.

Darnell then forged ahead for keeps on the sixth with a par four as Mussatto was short with his approach. He increased his advantage to two-up on the par three eighth as Mussatto ran into putting trouble.

Darnell moved into the finals by virtue of close victories over Wayne Osborne and Jim Kershasky during Thursday's double session. Mussatto disposed of Julio Campagni and Albin Ogrin in his quarterfinal and semifinal tests.

Sand Offers Mental Hazard for Golfer

(This is another in a series of instructional golf columns by Chuck Pederson, Class A, PGA professional at Rolling Greens Country club. Chuck deals with the difficult sand shot in this issue.)

For the high handicap golfer, the mental approach to the awe-inspiring sand shot is one of stark terror. Time and time again I have watched the unlucky victim take two and even three shots before leaving the trap.

The sand shot is the only shot in golf in which you do not have to hit the ball.

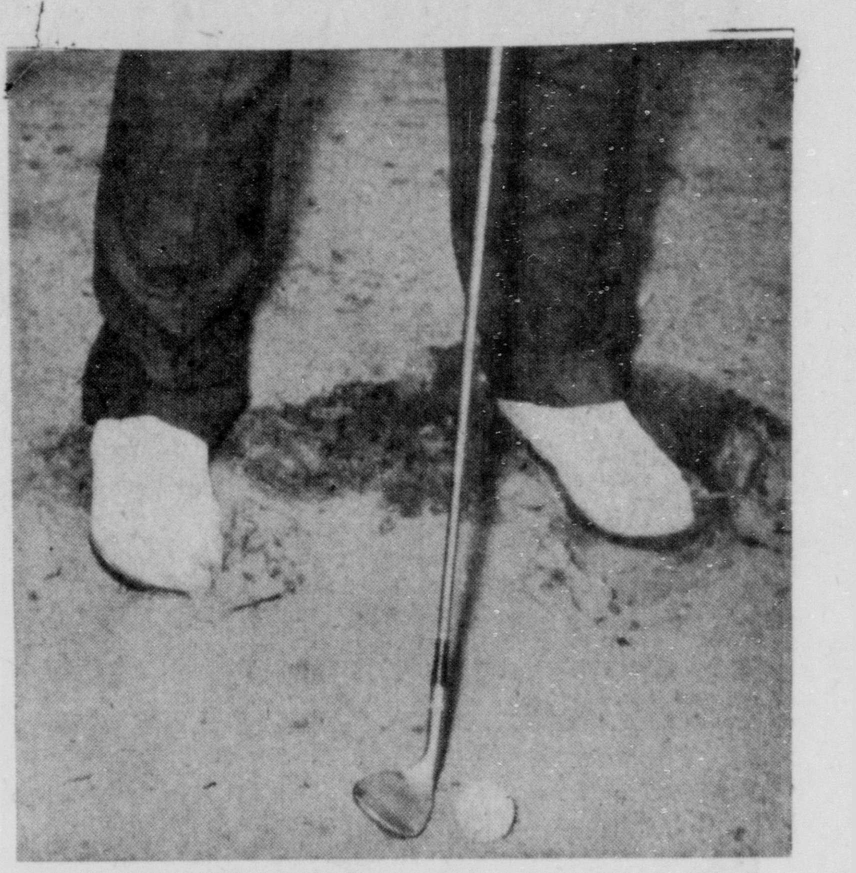
The sand shot can be divided into two categories—the shot from a trap directly off the green and the approach to the green from a fairway trap.

SECRET OF SUCCESS of an effective sand shot lies in the positioning of the feet as is illustrated in the adjoining photos.

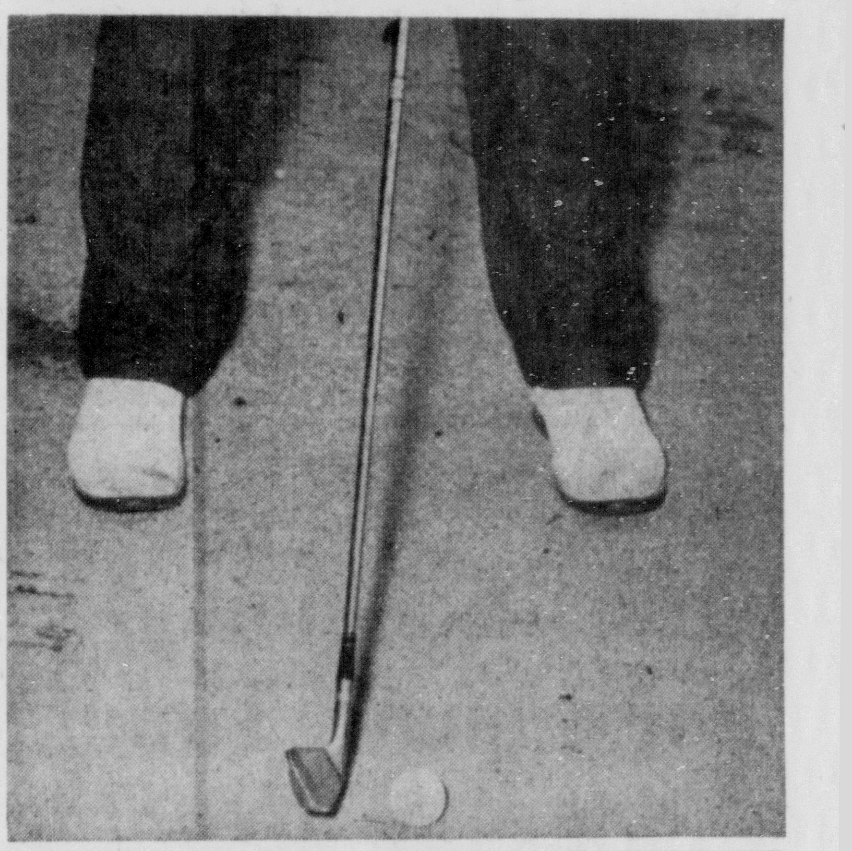
I try to set my feet deeper in the sand for the shot from a trap off to the side of the green while the feet are not buried for the longer fairway blast. If the feet were buried on the longer shot, there would be a danger of taking too much sand and merely rolling the ball out of the trap.

ON THE SAND SHOT from around the green I take aim at a spot about two inches behind the ball but on the fairway shot I try to hit the ball as if the shot were a regular one from fairway grass.

Sand shots can be very beneficial to your game and are easily mastered with proper practice. A quick way to learn this shot is to throw down forty to sixty balls in the trap and keep blasting until all are on the green.



THERE ARE TWO TYPES of basic sand shots—one directly of the green and the other a long fairway lie. In the above photo, Pederson illustrates the proper "digging-in" of the feet for the short sand shot while the bottom photo shows the relation of the feet to the sand on the longer blast.



1st Half Champs Top Wayside Loop

Lauterburg and Oehler served notice that it's shooting for both the first and second half titles of the Wayside—Colette Golf League by trouncing Arlington Plating, 5-1, on wins by Rafferty, Pedal and Swett with Galitz contributing low net.

Larry Barrett garnered the lone point for the Platers.

F. J. Die Mold kept right on the leader's heels with a 4-2 win over Catino Builders. Hickey and Bill Austin won and Nagle tied his match for the victors while Jorstad won and Hoss tied for the builders.

DETROIT STEEL won a close match from Beverly Lanes on the strength of a tie by Rademacher, a victory by Stinson, a low net by Al Austin and a team low net. Boland and Kron wins coupled with Jack's tie accounted for the Beverly Lanes points.

Continental Can hung up a 4-2 victory over Coyle Agency Pacific Mutual. Waldron and Rud won their matches and Howard picked up low net for the winners. Burke and Scherrer salvaged the two points for the Insurance men.

Jim's Service manhandled Quadriga Manufacturing co. 4-2. McGrath, Egitto and Kloske turned in victories for Jim's with Gilmore picking up low net. Bob Ulbrich, Sr. garnered the lone win for the Quadriga team.

Pederson On Golf

Sand Offers Mental Hazard for Golfer

(This is another in a series of instructional golf columns by Chuck Pederson, Class A, PGA professional at Rolling Greens Country club. Chuck deals with the difficult sand shot in this issue.)

For the high handicap golfer, the mental approach to the awe-inspiring sand shot is one of stark terror. Time and time again I have watched the unlucky victim take two and even three shots before leaving the trap.

The sand shot is the only shot in golf in which you do not have to hit the ball.

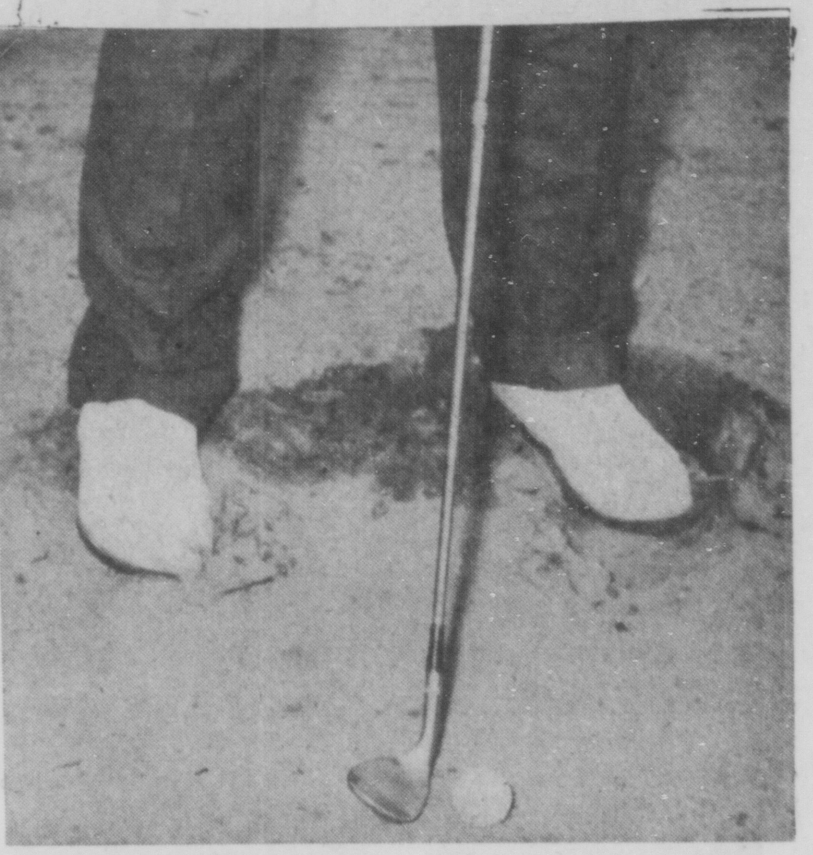
The sand shot can be divided into two categories—the shot from a trap directly off the green and the approach to the green from a fairway trap.

SECRET OF SUCCESS of an effective sand shot lies in the positioning of the feet as is illustrated in the adjoining photos.

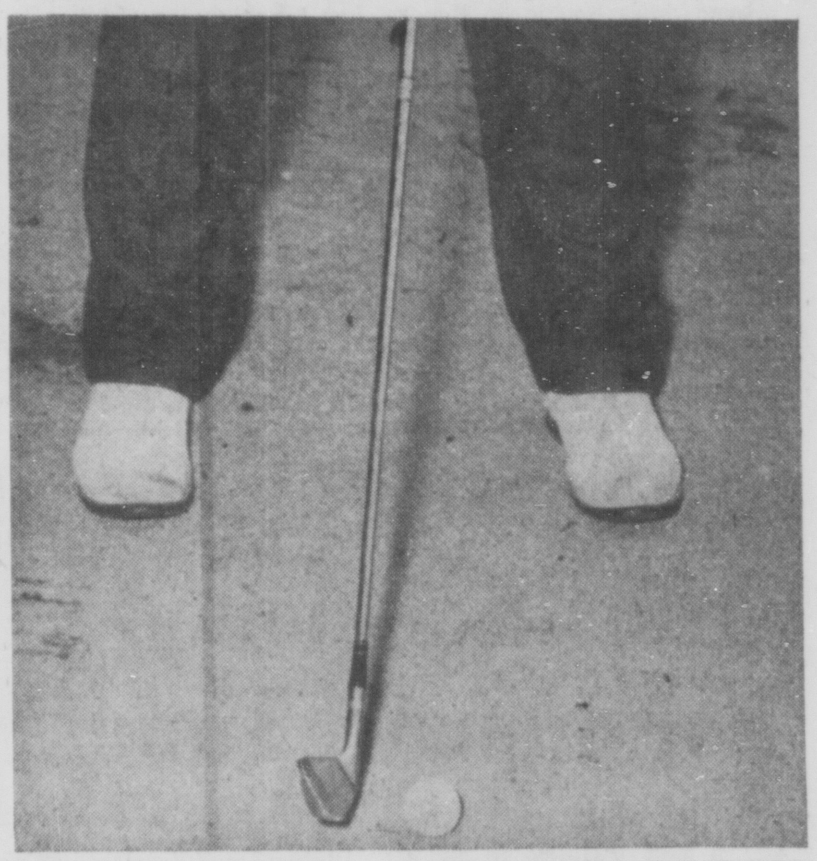
I try to set my feet deeper in the sand for the shot from a trap off to the side of the green while the feet are not buried for the longer fairway blast. If the feet were buried on the longer shot, there would be a danger of taking too much sand and merely rolling the ball out of the trap.

ON THE SAND SHOT from around the green I take aim at a spot about two inches behind the ball but on the fairway shot I try to hit the ball as if the shot were a regular one from fairway grass.

Sand shots can be very beneficial to your game and are easily mastered with proper practice. A quick way to learn this shot is to throw down forty to sixty balls in the trap and keep blasting until all are on the green.



THERE ARE TWO TYPES of basic sand shots—one directly of the green and the other a long fairway lie. In the above photo, Pederson illustrates the proper "digging-in" of the feet for the short sand shot while the bottom photo shows the relation of the feet to the sand on the longer blast.



1st Half Champs Top Wayside Loop

Lauterburg and Oehler served notice that it's shooting for both the first and second half titles of the Wayside—Colette Golf League by trouncing Arlington Plating, 5-1, on wins by Rafferty, Pedal and Swett with Galitz contributing low net.

Larry Barrett garnered the lone point for the Platers.

F. J. Die Mold kept right on the leader's heels with a 4-2 win over Catino Builders. Hickey and Bill Austin won and Nagle tied his match for the victors while Jorstad won and Hoss tied for the builders.

DETROIT STEEL won a close match from Beverly Lanes on the strength of a tie by Rademacher, a victory by Stinson, a low net by Al Austin and a team low net. Boland and Kron wins coupled with Jack's tie accounted for the Beverly Lanes points.

Continental Can hung up a 4-2 victory over Coyle Agency Pacific Mutual. Waldron and Rud won their matches and Howard picked up low net for the winners. Burke and Scherrer salvaged the two points for the Insurance men.

Jim's Service manhandled Quadriga Manufacturing co. 4-2. McGrath, Egitto and Kloske turned in victories for Jim's with Gilmore picking up low net. Bob Ulbrich, Sr. garnered the lone win for the Quadriga team.

Sox Sluggers

The Chicago White Sox have hit five grand slams this season with Roy Sievers hitting two grand-slam home runs (off Lary and Antonelli), Wes Covington off Turley, Al Smith off Kline and Sherm Lollar off Funk. The American League and Major League record is 10 by the 1938 Detroit Tigers.

Busse Tops Monday Nite Golf Loop

Despite Carl Dilsaver's eagle on the 17th hole and a scratch 37 for the Toy Shop, the Busse Motors squad forged into a one-and a half game lead in the Mt. Prospect Monday Night League.

Bob Herman led the Illinois Range team with a 54-24 net 30. Stan Deming, Jack Staples, and Bob Ryan grabbed net 31's.

Clubbing a birdie on the ninth hole, alternate Bob Sbarbaro carded a gross 40. Paul Seleski Bersted, and Delph also found birdies on the ninth, with Deming shooting one under on the 18th.

Arlington Grad Tours As Top Baton Twirler

FEATURED TWIRLER with the Northern Illinois University band, Miss Bonnie Jo Benson, has taught baton twirling to more than 2000 students to date and is presently travelling throughout the United States to give exhibition performances as well as teach. The twirling corps of which she is a member has won 250 trophies and more than 355 medals in twirling competition.

Bonnie Jo Benson, 718 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, a graduate of Arlington High school, has been travlling during the summer months teaching baton twirling and giving exhibition performances.

Miss Benson, who is Miss Northern Starlette, featured twirler with the Northern Illinois university band, has taught over 2,000 students to date and will teach this summer in New York, North Dakota, Canada, Indiana, and Illinois.

SHE FIRST directed a twirling workshop in Muncie, Ind., for twirlers from first grade through high school. Then, as director of the NIU twirling corps, she and the corps took an all-expense paid trip to Canada to be featured at the Red River exhibition.

The corps, members of which have won 250 trophies and more than 355 medals in twirling competition, were featured in the grand parade viewed by 100,000 spectators, as well as making appearances with four Canadian and American bands and performing with Gordon MacRae, the Crewcuts and other stars.

MISS BENSON is now director of twirling for the International Peace Gardens music camp located on the border of North Dakota and Canada.

In August she will be on the staff at Hidden Valley camp, Watkins Glen, N. Y., and will work with the NIU Marching Huskies for the 1961 football season.

Announce Winners In Park Pet Show

The Arlington Heights park district sponsored a pet show at Pioneer park July 18 with a turn-out of more than 50 pets with their owners. Winners are as follows:

For having the pet with the longest tail, Nancy Crawford with her cat won the first prize award; Jim Moos and his dog, second, and Bruce Bedingfield and his dog, third.

THE PET-WITH-the-shortest-tail award went to Tom and Bob Waldbuesser with their hamster, first; and turtle owners Alexia Adsitt, second; and Kathy Pepio, third.

Having the oldest pets were Connie Wysocki and her parakeet, first; Bruce Bedingfield and his dog, second; and Nancy Crawford and her cat, third.

Denise Dalton with her snail had the youngest pet, with Sandy Ormsbee and her turtle taking second in this category and Tom and Bob Waldbuesser with their hamster, third.

Best trained pets were owned by Bruce Bedingfield, dog; Sandy Hilton, schnauzer, and Ron Weber, guinea pig. They took first, second and third respectively.

A MANCHESTER dog owned by Pat Baptiste was the best dressed with second place going to Ron Weber's pig and third to Sandy Hilton's dog.

The smallest-pet award went to Denise Dalton, first; Sandy Ormsbee, second; and Tom and Bob Waldbuesser, third.

Longest pets were owned by Bruce Bedingfield, Pat Zeller and Jim Moos.

Susan Doherty's schnauzer has the distinction of being the "best pet in the show."

DiMucci's Street Offer Postponed For Fourth Time

For the fourth time in two and a half months, Arlington Heights trustees voted Monday to postpone a decision on a street construction offer made by Salvatore DiMucci, a Mt. Prospect builder.

DiMucci offered in May to construct a 32-foot street between his M-1 (manufacturing) property and the village's inactive sewage treatment plant.

Twice trustees voted to table the offer. On July 10, they referred the matter to a three-man committee consisting of Richard Glantz, chairman, Eugene Schlickman and Norval Stephens.

THE COMMITTEE'S report of meetings with DiMucci and Harold Carlson, chairman of the plan commission, was submitted Monday. It was not read, however, as trustees decided to refer the topic to the plan commission.

DiMucci and trustees do not agree on how wide the proposed street should be. The village wants a 38-foot street, six feet wider than the builder suggests.

Other complications are found in regard to ingress and egress to the industrial area southeast of Arlington Heights, sidewalk width and easements.

The committee recommended these identifiable problems be solved before any decision is made. (A

WANT A PHARMACIST IN YOUR FAMILY?
Soon our colleges of pharmacy will again begin to each embryo pharmacists how to practice this ancient profession.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE ELIGIBLE.
They will study Chemistry, Biology, Physiology, Physics, Latin, Mathematics, Anatomy, Public Health, advanced English, Bacteriology, Clinical Microscopy and Pharmocology.

THEY WILL LEARN HOW TO DISPENSE PRESCRIPTIONS.
But, first they must be taught the properties, dosage and incompatabilities of all medicines, herbs and chemicals, including the newer discoveries. They will compound lotions, pills, tablets, suppositories and ointments accurately, carefully and skillfully in the college laboratory.

AND, BEFORE RECEIVING A REGISTERED PHARMACIST'S license they must pass a state examination and serve an apprenticeship in a pharmacy.

WHY IS SO MUCH KNOWLEDGE NEEDED?
Because, everytime we dispense a medicine we hold your life in our care.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall

CLearbrook 5-2936

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bakewell, 536 S. Phelps, are back home. While Mr. Bakewell spent two weeks with the Army Reserve at Fort Jackson, S. C., Mrs. Bakewell and their daughter, Sharon, visited her sister, Mrs. E. K. Graham Jr. in Towson, Md.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to L. Q. Yowell, 441 S. Forrest, who entered Henrotin hospital Sunday for minor surgery.

Visitors at the home of the Don Allisons, 515 S. Gibbons, were Mrs. Allison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fritsche of St. Paul, Minn. Their daughter, Susan, was able to see her grandparents for only a few days, as she had to leave to attend a 6-week speech course at Northwestern university.

Marcia and Mark, children of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Longrie, 429 S. Forrest, spent three weeks in Oconto, Wis., visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Longrie. While away Marcia had a virus and spent a week in bed. After she recovered both children did a lot of swimming and visited several farms.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Chappell, 440 S. Forrest, their son, Jimmy, and daughter, Patty, have returned from a vacation in the east. They visited Mrs. Chappell's mother, Mrs. Helen Witoslowski at Natrona, Pa., and stopped to see friends in Elyria, Ohio.

Newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Feltes, 429 S. Gibbons, and Mr. Feltes' mother, Mrs. Gertrude Feltes. Mr. Feltes is a draftsman with the Grigsby company. The family has come to Arlington Heights from Des Plaines.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest, has spent a great part of the summer traveling. Last month he spent 10 days in Indianapolis visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerke, family friends. While there he visited a paint factory, a children's museum and an amusement park.

This month Mark visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Davis in LaPorte, Ind., where he visited several farms and went swimming every day.

The Lynches' younger son, Frank, celebrated his second birthday July 14.

THE RECENT happy event at the Gust Hermanson home, 437 S. Forrest, was a dinner in honor of Mr. Hermanson's brother, Carl of Seattle, Wash., who was in Chicago on business. Also present at the dinner were Carl's in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. McCambridge of Chicago.

Happy birthday wishes go to Mrs. Richard Pulling, 429 S. Phelps, and Mrs. Gordon Knudson, 413 S. Phelps. Both belong to the birthday club of Phelps, which celebrates members' birthdays with a get-together and a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McGuire, 409 S. Gibbons, and their sons, Jeff, Kevin and Darrell, have returned from a week's vacation at Booth Lake, Wis. They stayed at Linden Terrace resort and got in a lot of swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Swede Swenson, 428 S. Forrest, and their children, Paul, Wendy, Tommy and Lisa, have returned from a busy 2 weeks in Minnesota. They attended a family reunion in Duluth, where Mrs. Swenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, gave a dinner for 72 people at Svithiod hall.

Making the visit particularly enjoyable for Mrs. Swenson was the fact that the reunion was also attended by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and their six children of Sacramento, Cal., and her brother and family, the Roger Andersons of St. Paul. The three couples spent a week at Maple lake near Duluth. From there the Swensons went to St. Paul, where Paul stayed with a cousin who is his age.

The birthday party for Chuck Miner, 421 S. Gibbons, Friday evening was a surprise planned by his wife. It was attended by 16 friends from Arlington Heights, Palatine and Chicago.

John Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, left Sunday to spend two weeks with the Air Force Reserve at Biloxi, Miss. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bakewell, 536 S. Phelps, are back home. While Mr. Bakewell spent two weeks with the Army Reserve at Fort Jackson, S. C., Mrs. Bakewell and their daughter, Sharon, visited her sister, Mrs. E. K. Graham Jr. in Towson, Md.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to L. Q. Yowell, 441 S. Forrest, who entered Henrotin hospital Sunday for minor surgery.

Visitors at the home of the Don Allisons, 515 S. Gibbons, were Mrs. Allison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fritsche of St. Paul, Minn. Their daughter, Susan, was able to see her grandparents for only a few days, as she had to leave to attend a 6-week speech course at Northwestern university.

Marcia and Mark, children of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Longrie, 429 S. Forrest, spent three weeks in Oconto, Wis., visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Longrie. While away Marcia had a virus and spent a week in bed. After she recovered both children did a lot of swimming and visited several farms.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Chappell, 440 S. Forrest, their son, Jimmy, and daughter, Patty, have returned from a vacation in the east. They visited Mrs. Chappell's mother, Mrs. Helen Witoslowski at Natrona, Pa., and stopped to see friends in Elyria, Ohio.

Newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Feltes, 429 S. Gibbons, and Mr. Feltes' mother, Mrs. Gertrude Feltes. Mr. Feltes is a draftsman with the Grigsby company. The family has come to Arlington Heights from Des Plaines.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest, has spent a great part of the summer traveling. Last month he spent 10 days in Indianapolis visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerke, family friends. While there he visited a paint factory, a children's museum and an amusement park.

This month Mark visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Davis in LaPorte, Ind., where he visited several farms and went swimming every day.

The Lynches' younger son, Frank, celebrated his second birthday July 14.

THE RECENT happy event at the Gust Hermanson home, 437 S. Forrest, was a dinner in hono of Mr. Hermanson's brother, Carl of Seattle, Wash., who was in Chicago o.. business. Also present at the dinner were Carl's in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. McCambridge of Chicago.

Happy birthday wishes go to Mrs. Richard Pulling, 429 S. Phelps, and Mrs. Gordon Knudson, 413 S. Phelps. Both belong to the birthday club of Phelps, which celebrates members' birthdays with a get-together and a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McGuire, 409 S. Gibbons, and their sons, Jeff, Kevin and Darrell, have returned from a week's vacation at Booth Lake, Wis. They stayed at Linden Terrace resort and got in a lot of swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Swede Swenson, 428 S. Forrest, and their children, Paul, Wendy, Tommy and Lisa, have returned from a busy 2 weeks in Minnesota. They attended a family reunion in Duluth, where Mrs. Swenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, gave a dinner for 72 people at Svithiod hall.

Making the visit particularly enjoyable for Mrs. Swenson was the fact that the reunion was also attended by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and their six children of Sacramento, Cal., and her brother and family, the Roger Andersons of St. Paul. The three couples spent a week at Maple lake near Duluth. From there the Swensons went to St. Paul, where Paul stayed with a cousin who is his age.

The birthday party for Chuck Miner, 421 S. Gibbons, Friday evening was a surprise planned by his wife. It was attended by 16 friends from Arlington Heights, Palatine and Chicago.

John Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, left Sunday to spend two weeks with the Air Force Reserve at Biloxi, Miss. (A

Year-End Report

What's the Toughest High School Course?

What's the toughest high school course?

Well, that depends on how you look at it. Fewer students excel in English at Arlington and Prospect high schools, but according to a recent High School District 214 year-end report, students fail mathematics.

Science, too, claims a larger percentage of failures than does English.

The report shows that students generally earn much better grades in elective courses than they earn in required subjects. Also, the more advanced courses usually show fewer failures because weaker students are "counseled out."

ENGLISH grades at Arlington high were 9.2 per cent A; 28.8 per cent B; 41.1 per cent C; 18.4 per cent D; and 1.5 per cent F.

Mathematics teachers' grades were 15.7 per cent A; 21.7 per cent B; 35 per cent C; 23.4 per cent D; and 3.6 per cent F.

Science grades were 12:5 per cent A; 26.4 per cent B; 32.4 per cent C; 26.2 per cent D; and 1.5 per cent F.

Social science grades were 11.3 per cent A; 29.6 per cent B; 37.1 per cent C; 20.6 per cent D; and .9 per cent F.

Language grades were 22.4 per cent A; 30.2 per cent B; 33.6 per cent C; 12.7 per cent D; and .8 per cent F.

PROSPECT HIGH grades followed the same pattern, although Arlington students, on the whole, earned slightly better marks.

At both district 214 schools the marking pattern did not follow the "normal curve" system of marking with the majority of students receiving "C" grade with "A" and "B" grades about equal in number to the "D" and failures.

Both Arlington and Prospect had about 35 per cent "C" grades with only about 20 per cent "D" grades and about three per cent failures. In contrast there were about 28 per cent "B" grades and 14 per cent "A" grades.

SCHOOL officials note this grading pattern reflects the higher scholastic achievement of suburban schools in comparison to national averages. (ACM

VANDALS HAVE DESTROYED about 20 trees valued at over $600 in various neighborhood parks in Arlington Heights during the past two years. The tree shown above is located in Greens park at Douglas and Olive sts. Dick Julison, park district maintenance foreman, said that a number of trees in Evergreen, Virginia and Westgate parks have also been damaged by vandals who peel their bark.

Suburban Art Show Is Slated

Nearly 50 artists will exhibit their wares at the seventh annual Northwest Suburban Art Exhibition to be held at Arlington Market shopping center in Arlington Heights Friday and Saturday, July 28 and 29.

In addition to local artists who have contributed in the past, a number of north shore and Chicago artists will be included in this year's show.

There will be a special area for artists of high school age and younger. Exhibitions will include paintings in oil and water colors, mosaics, ceramics and sculpture.

Many items will be offered for sale by their creators, and there will be sidewalk artists to sketch visitors "while they wait." (ACM

FROM SHERWOOD

Get well wishes go to Charlotte Auld, 1009 Watling, who is at home recuperating from surgery in Northwest Community hospital last week.

The next best thing to a trip back to Columbus, Ohio, for the Bob Choderas, 1216 Marion rd., is for Columbus to come to them in the form of Dr. and Mrs. Max Reed. The Reeds spent all of last week with them. The men golfed every day, but with a new baby in the Chodera home, the wives felt lucky to play a couple of days. Gail was especially glad to see the Reeds, because they have a daughter her age, and the two girls are as close as their parents. Susan went back with the Reeds to visit one of her friends in Columbus and the two girls will fly back here next week, when Susan will have her turn to play hostess for a week.

The R. J. Ehrkes, 1106 N. Patton, are infecting everyone with their enthusiasm of Cape Cod after spending three weeks at a cottage at Orleans. This was a combination of relaxing, sightseeing and schoolwork, with Mrs. Ehrke concentrating on the schoolwork portion as she is doing a report on the restoration of the Plymouth colony. She took innumerable slides which she plans to use in the assembly program at Prospect Heights Primary school where she teaches.

They were surrounded by history, their cottage being located on an Indian burial ground from which two baby skeletons had been removed recently. They were near the area where the Vikings landed and saw where they moored their ships. Plymouth, however, offered more in the way of reproducing the early life of the settlers. Even Mayflower II is there, complete with figures of the Pilgrims showing conditions just as they were when they made their voyage to the new world.

The Ehrkes stopped at The Wayside Inn and also at the little red school house which inspired John Rawlston to write the poem "Mary Had a Little Lamb" after seeing Mary Elizabeth Sawyer's lamb follow her to school. All their time was not spent sightseeing, however. Mary did a good bit of sailing. In fact, on the way over to Nantucket Island they sailed past the Kennedy mansion, linking the present with the past.

COMING BACK from a weekend in Grand Rapids, Mich., with Janie, Sam and the baby, the Wayne Holloways, 1004 Oakton, have mixed emotions about their transfer to New Orleans which is coming up soon. This is a promotion for Sam, who is connected with Bestwall-Gypsum, and for that the Holloways are happy. Having them 1,000 miles away is a different matter and they are already checking the airlines to find out how long it takes to fly to New Orleans by jet.

As soon as Johnny Moore's 13th birthday passed, June 25, he headed east to his grandparents in Cambridge, Ohio, where his horse, Queenie, was waiting.

The son of the Henry Moores, 1303 Watling, has been riding since he was 6, so his parents weren't surprised when he called Sunday morning to tell them he came in third at the horse show there. After the parade in the afternoon, Johnny competed with 30 others that night in stunts and showing of the horses.

FROM PARK RIDGE

Charlotte Ronayne had breakfast ready early Sunday morning when Jim brought his sister and her family, Mickey, Joe and the baby, Joe Aiu, back from O'Hare field. The Aius spent the last three weeks in Hawaii visiting his family and before boarding the plane for the States, they were loaded down with leis. Charlotte got the benefit of them too, and with a corsage of seven orchids Mickey brought her, there was nothing left to do but for the family to have dinner at the Milk Pail. The Ronayes live at 1011 N. Kennicott.

RIGHT NEXT door at 1015 N. Kennicott, the Larry Stockings were at O'Hare field later in the day to meet Nan's sistr, Sil Parson, who was flying in from Tokyo. Sil had been visiting her younger sister and her family who are stationed with the army at Misawa Air Base in northern Japan. Her present plans are to stay with the Stockings for a few days before leaving for Madison, Wis.

Seeing Cole Porter's "Can Can" at the Music Theater in Highland Park, were Janet and Bob Kay, 1008 N. Kaspar. They went Friday night as a continuation of her birthday celebration. Kathleen and Joe Dunne, 1016 N. Illinois, were there Saturday evening with the Ray Browns, Bill Hennemans and the Dave Morehans. They stopped for snacks in Buffalo Grove afterward. Sunday night your reporter and her husband met the Ray Howes, 945 N. Kaspar, there.

At a poolside cook-out July 20, Margie Lurtz celebrated her 16th birthday with her family. The daughter of Lil and George Lurtz, 909 N. Patton, also visited with relatives who had come to wish her many happy returns of the day. Among her gifts was a flower corsage with six sugar cubes tucked inside.

LAST WEDNESDAY Paul Cryer helped his buddy, Jeff Platt, celebrate his 13th birthday at a dinner party in his honor. After the boys tucked away a spaghetti dinner, they took in a double feature—"Snow White and the Three Stooges" and "All Hands on Deck." The son of Ruth and Dick Platt, 806 N. Kennicott, is feeling much better now after having been "under the weather" due to an infection resulting from his appendectomy.

Butch has been the shadow since the latter came to spend a few weeks with the Ed Bakowskis, 716 N. Kennicott. Claire and Ed have a few plans for the children, which include a trip to the zoo and fishing trips.

Kathleen Dunne recently received a letter from former Illinois ave. neighbors, the Ken Zadwicks, assuring them of a safe arrival in San Jose, Cal., their new home. They drove out, and while they miss our town, they are enjoying sunny California weather.

It is hard for James Kilbury's friends to believe that he made a snowball in the mountains on his recent trip west, but he has a picture to prove it. The Winston Kilburys, 1011 N. Illinois, spent 10 days in Colorado, sightseeing in Ester Park and Rocky Mountain National park.

THE HOUSE at 1016 N. Harvard, where the Burt O. Gaenzles live, was bulging with children yesterday, all helping Meg celebrate her seventh birthday. Fifteen neighborhood and school friends began arriving at two in the afternoon for games, cake and ice cream. Originally planned for an outdoor party, Mrs. Gaenzle was prepared to "move in" should the heat or the rain force them inside.

Ridge Park extends a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dohrmann and their children, who have moved to 921 N. Salem from Glenview. The children are Diana, 8, and Walter Jr., 6, and 3-year-old Amy. Mr. Dohrmann is connected with Continental Assurance co. in Chicago. They have been hard at work on their house because next week, they will take time out to visit with his parents, the Adolph Dohrmanns, who are coming from Hollis, N. Y., for a visit.

With between 95 and 100 people invited to an open house July 9, the Don Holmes, 823 N. Salem, got what they were hoping for, a sunny day. Friends, neighbors and relatives began streaming in at one and a buffet lunch was ready for them. There were plenty of children to go around and plenty for them to do outside.

The Ellwood Huffs, 1022 N. Patton, are back from a "visiting vacation" with relatives in St. Joseph and Kansas City. Jane went on to Port Aransas, Texas, to visit her aunt and uncle. She will be home August 4, after jetting here from Kansas City, the highlight of her trip.

MARY KLIPPERT is "having a ball" at Twin Lakes, where she is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Fischer. The Fischers live near the lake, which is about all Mary asks for in the summer. She is the daughter of the C. A. Klipperts, 1003 N. Fernandez.

When the fish are jumpin' the A. F. Jandas, 1015 N. Yale, head for Eagle lake in Canada. This year when they were there with friends for three weeks, one of their party pulled an 11-pound walleye out of the lake. When they tired of walleyes and northerns, the menfolk flew to another lake to get some trout, and every time they dropped their lines they didn't wait long for a bite.

Over the weekend, Sharon Koeneman's roommate at the University of Louisville, Betty Shipp of Hammond, Ind., visited her. The Herman Koenemans, 908 N. Fernandez, will have two daughters at Louisville this fall.

Beth Steven's "nana," Mrs. Raymond Leonard, came all the way from Toledo to help celebrate her first birthday Saturday. Flash bulbs were really popping when her brothers, Bobby and Billy, helped make the party a festive occasion. There was one candle on her "pink" cake and the picture they have of her eating a piece is proof positive she had it from head to foot. Bob, Nancy and their three children live at 1007 Oakton.

THE WEDDING of their granddaughter, Barbara Ann Oosten, and Thomas Newman Saturday at St. Peter Catholic church in Skokie prompted a visit from the John Oostens of S. San Gabriel, Cal., to their daughter and her family, the John F. Millers, 836 N. Ridge. This is their first visit back in three years and the Miller household has seen a steady stream of relatives who have come to pay them a visit. After the wedding, the Oostens will spend a week with Barbara's parents in Skokie.

Because Don Goetz and Bill Dechard work together at the American Assurity company, Chicago, it was hard to keep Bill's surprise party a complete secret. When Bill arrived at the Goetz home, 913 N. Harvard, Saturday night he was not only amazed to find his wife, children and mother-in-law there, but also the Ed Platells, Margie and Barbara, as well as his mother-in-law and three houseguests, Lloyd Denslow, the Ray Demarests and the Bob Walkers. The occasion was Bill's 25th anniversary with the company.

After congratulations were extended and Bill got used to the idea of a party in his honor, the group was served a buffet supper by Mrs. Goetz. (A

Q. Will you please mention some of the duties of the best man at a wedding?

A. The best man looks after the bridegroom, generally driving him to the church. He takes care of the ring, giving it to the bridegroom at the proper moment in the ceremony. He gives the clergyman his fee, and takes care of any tips incidental to the going-away, being of course reimbursed by the bridegroom at a convenient time.

FROM SHERWOOD

Get well wishes go to Charlotte Auld, 1009 Watling, who is at home recuperating from surgery in Northwest Community hospital last week.

The next best thing to a trip back to Columbus, Ohio, for the Bob Choderas, 1216 Marion rd., is for Columbus to come to them in the form of Dr. and Mrs. Max Reed. The Reeds spent all of last week with them. The men golfed every day, but with a new baby in the Chodera home, the wives felt lucky to play a couple of days. Gail was especially glad to see the Reeds, because they have a daughter her age, and the two girls are as close as their parents. Susan went back with the Reeds to visit one of her friends in Columbus and the two girls will fly back here next week, when Susan will have her turn to play hostess for a week.

The R. J. Ehrkes, 1106 N. Patton, are infecting everyone with their enthusiasm of Cape Cod after spending three weeks at a cottage at Orleans. This was a combination of relaxing, sightseeing and schoolwork, with Mrs. Ehrke concentrating on the schoolwork portion as she is doing a report on the restoration of the Plymouth colony. She took innumerable slides which she plans to use in the assembly program at Prospect Heights Primary school where she teaches.

They were surrounded by history, their cottage being located on an Indian burial ground from which two baby skeletons had been removed recently. They were near the area where the Vikings landed and saw where they moored their ships. Plymouth, however, offered more in the way of reproducing the early life of the settlers. Even Mayflower II is there, complete with figures of the Pilgrims showing conditions just as they were when they made their voyage to the new world.

The Ehrkes stopped at The Wayside Inn and also at the little red school house which inspired John Rawlston to write the poem "Mary Had a Little Lamb" after seeing Mary Elizabeth Sawyer's lamb follow her to school. All their time was not spent sightseeing, however. Mary did a good bit of sailing. In fact, on the way over to Nantucket Island they sailed past the Kennedy mansion, linking the present with the past.

COMING BACK from a weekend in Grand Rapids, Mich., with Janie, Sam and the baby, the Wayne Holloways, 1004 Oakton, have mixed emotions about their transfer to New Orleans which is coming up soon. This is a promotion for Sam, who is connected with Bestwall-Gypsum, and for that the Holloways are happy. Having them 1,000 miles away is a different matter and they are already checking the airlines to find out how long it takes to fly to New Orleans by jet.

As soon as Johnny Moore's 13th birthday passed, June 25, he headed east to his grandparents in Cambridge, Ohio, where his horse, Queenie, was waiting.

The son of the Henry Moores, 1303 Watling, has been riding since he was 6, so his parents weren't surprised when he called Sunday morning to tell them he came in third at the horse show there. After the parade in the afternoon, Johnny competed with 30 others that night in stunts and showing of the horses.

FROM PARK RIDGE

Charlotte Ronayne had breakfast ready early Sunday morning when Jim brought his sister and her family, Mickey, Joe and the baby, Joe Aiu, back from O'Hare field. The Aius spent the last three weeks in Hawaii visiting his family and before boarding the plane for the States, they were loaded down with leis. Charlotte got the benefit of them too, and with a corsage of seven orchids Mickey brought her, there was nothing left to do but for the family to have dinner at the Milk Pail. The Ronayes live at 1011 N. Kennicott.

RIGHT NEXT door at 1015 N. Kennicott, the Larry Stockings were at O'Hare field later in the day to meet Nan's sistr, Sil Parson, who was flying in from Tokyo. Sil had been visiting her younger sister and her family who are stationed with the army at Misawa Air Base in northern Japan. Her present plans are to stay with the Stockings for a few days before leaving for Madison, Wis.

How big must a company be to have a Savings Bond Plan for its employees?

We know of one man with 3 employees who recently established for them a Payroll Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Bonds.

That's an extreme example, of course. But U.S. Treasury files list thousands of companies with less than 100 employees which have set up this convenient way—many on their own initiative—for their people to save for the future.

Security is for all men

People are people wherever they work, with much the same needs and desires for education, new homes, travel, a comfortable retirement—and a strong America.

Whether you're a stenographer in a billion dollar corporation or a clerk in the corner drugstore, the Payroll Savings Plan is the world's easiest way to save for these needs. You simply tell your payroll office once how much to set aside each payday. The rest is automatic.

Guaranteed safety-guaranteed growth

U.S. Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government guarantees $4 for every $3 you invest when you hold your Bonds to maturity. You can get your money, with interest, whenever you need it. And if your Bonds are lost or destroyed, they will be replaced at no cost.

Why not ask your employer to sign you up today? (P.S. to employers: If you don't have the Payroll Savings Plan, a letter to the U.S. Savings Bonds Division, Washington 25, D.C., will bring a prompt reply with materials and easy instructions.)

says Cortland J. Silver, President,
C. J. Silver Jewelers, Inc., St. Paul, Minn., and Vice Chairman, National Small Business Advisory Council.

Small companies account for a large percentage of the 8 million Payroll Savers who buy a million dollars' worth of U.S. Savings Bonds every hour of every working day. We are proud to help our employees save for security—proud of our part in helping to keep America strong and free.

OFTEN MISUSED

The expression "inclement weather" has become a trite, or hackneyed, phrase. It is better to be explicit, and say, "cold, rainy, severe, or unfavorable weather."

Do not say, "Harding and Smith, our best account, have asked that we review their last invoice." In this case, "Harding and Smith" is a company or firm name, and should be treated as singular. Say, "Harding and Smith, our best account, HAS asked that we review ITS last invoice."

INASMUCH is usually written as one word. It is followed by AS, but this second AS is not joined to it.

Do not say, "He was scared of the results of such action." Say, "He FEARED the results."

Do not say, "A crowd of people were there." "Crowd" means a great number of persons. Simply say, "A crowd WAS there."

Either HELPMATE or HELPMEET is correct. Both usually mean wife, but at times refer simply to a fellow or companion or helper.

Planning Legislation Opposed by Officials

By BOB SETLIK

The Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has been caught in a squeeze between county and municipal interests over a bill it sponsored.

This bill, which has passed the legislature and awaits Gov. Kerner's signature, amends the existing municipal planning act.

Its most controversial section gives municipalities planning jurisdiction over unincorporated lands up to one and a half miles beyond the corporate limits.

The one and a half mile limit applies to planning only in Chicago and the area within a 30 mile radius of Chicago.

COUNTY OFFICIALS object to the provision as an invasion of their powers.

At its quarterly meeting in Chicago Monday, NIMAPC President Chester Davis noted that Cook, DuPage, and the four other northeastern counties are pressuring Gov. Kerner not to sign the bill.

For example, he said, DuPage officials fear losing regulatory powers over road and subdivisions in the mile and half area.

Davis said he had informed county officials that the amendment would not interfere with existing county powers.

However, the counties still chose to object to the bill, Davis remarked.

Davis said he regrets the commission could not reconcile county interests, since the commission needs county cooperation.

ONE OF THE less controversial proposals allows a municipality to establish either a plan commission or planning department. The municipality would have control over organization and expenditures of the commission.

The bill also allows municipalities to accept services and grants from the federal or the state government or private organizations.

Within the existing act planning departments and commissions are not authorized. Also, communities are not allowed to authorize expenditures or accept grants from outside bodies.

The bill provides for an "official map" upon which specific public improvement projects are placed as they are enacted by ordinance. No allowance for an "official map" is made under present law.

UNDER EXISTING law, the comprehensive plan is regulatory, not advisory as the amendment proposes. In effect, the amendment hopes to make the "official map" the municipality's regulatory planning instrument.

The comprehensive plan, the commission notes, should be long-range in concept. An official map would portray short-range projects that the municipality has definitely decided upon.

By consulting the official map, the developer would have definite knowledge of which areas the municipality plans to use.

In such a form, the official map would serve to measure how closely the comprehensive plan is being followed.

The new bill requires public hearings, properly advertised, before the municipality adopts any part of a plan. It sets a 90-day limit between the hearing and adoption or rejection of the plan.

THE BILL ALSO sets up a time-table for subdivision approval.

It requires that a final subdivision proposal be submitted within a year of approval of the preliminary proposal. When the final proposal is submitted and meets all municipal requirements, the municipality must approve it within 60 days.

When a subdivision is approved, the bill requires the purchase of any school or park sites or other public lands assigned by the official map within a year after approval.

Or, if the land has not been purchased, the bill requires the beginning of condemnation procedures within the year limit.

Davis said the new bill represents "a great advance" over existing law.

"FOR THE PRIVATE developer it offers clearly-defined procedures which will let him know where he stands and what the community intends.

"For the municipality it offers a freer choice—both in the kind of planning agency it will use and in the kinds of plans it will prepare," he noted. (A-14

New Record In Births At Hospital

During the month of June, 191 babies were born at Lutheran General hospital establishing a new high for the hospital in the number of births for a single month.

This figure is in sharp contrast to the 94 born at the new hospital during June 1960, and is indicative of the increasing number of patients cared for at Lutheran General.

ADDITIONAL statistics compiled by the hospital's medical record department show that 2,278 babies were born at Lutheran General from the opening of the hospital on January 4, 1960 to June 30, 1961.

During this past June, two pairs of twins were born. Since it opened, a total of 28 pairs of twins have been born at the hospital on Dempster st. in Park Ridge. (B8

A. While not exactly necessary, this still seems to be expected in some places — especially when one's change is returned in a small tray.

OFTEN MISUSED

The expression "inclement weather" has become a trite, or hackneyed, phrase. It is better to be explicit, and say, "cold, rainy, severe, or unfavorable weather."

Do not say, "Harding and Smith, our best account, have asked that we review their last invoice." In this case, "Harding and Smith" is a company or firm name, and should be treated as singular. Say, "Harding and Smith, our best account, HAS asked that we review ITS last invoice."

INASMUCH is usually written as one word. It is followed by AS, but this second AS is not joined to it.

Do not say, "He was scared of the results of such action." Say, "He FEARED the results."

Do not say, "A crowd of people were there." "Crowd" means a great number of persons. Simply say, "A crowd WAS there."

Either HELPMATE or HELPMEET is correct. Both usually mean wife, but at times refer simply to a fellow or companion or helper.

Planning Legislation Opposed by Officials

By BOB SETLIK

The Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has been caught in a squeeze between county and municipal interests over a bill it sponsored.

This bill, which has passed the legislature and awaits Gov. Kerner's signature, amends the existing municipal planning act.

Its most controversial section gives municipalities planning jurisdiction over unincorporated lands up to one and a half miles beyond the corporate limits.

The one and a half mile limit applies to planning only in Chicago and the area within a 30 mile radius of Chicago.

COUNTY OFFICIALS object to the provision as an invasion of their powers.

At its quarterly meeting in Chicago Monday, NIMAPC President Chester Davis noted that Cook, DuPage, and the four other northeastern counties are pressuring Gov. Kerner not to sign the bill.

For example, he said, DuPage officials fear losing regulatory powers over road and subdivisions in the mile and half area.

Davis said he had informed county officials that the amendment would not interfere with existing county powers.

However, the counties still chose to object to the bill, Davis remarked.

Davis said he regrets the commission could not reconcile county interests, since the commission needs county cooperation.

ONE OF THE less controversial proposals allows a municipality to establish either a plan commission or planning department. The municipality would have control over organization and expenditures of the commission.

The bill also allows municipalities to accept services and grants from the federal or the state government or private organizations.

Within the existing act planning departments and commissions are not authorized. Also, communities are not allowed to authorize expenditures or accept grants from outside bodies.

The bill provides for an "official map" upon which specific public improvement projects are placed as they are enacted by ordinance. No allowance for an "official map" is made under present law.

UNDER EXISTING law, the comprehensive plan is regulatory, not advisory as the amendment proposes. In effect, the amendment hopes to make the "official map" the municipality's regulatory planning instrument.

The comprehensive plan, the commission notes, should be long-range in concept. An official map would portray short-range projects that the municipality has definitely decided upon.

By consulting the official map, the developer would have definite knowledge of which areas the municipality plans to use.

In such a form, the official map would serve to measure how closely the comprehensive plan is being followed.

The new bill requires public hearings, properly advertised, before the municipality adopts any part of a plan. It sets a 90-day limit between the hearing and adoption or rejection of the plan.

THE BILL ALSO sets up a time-table for subdivision approval.

It requires that a final subdivision proposal be submitted within a year of approval of the preliminary proposal. When the final proposal is submitted and meets all municipal requirements, the municipality must approve it within 60 days.

When a subdivision is approved, the bill requires the purchase of any school or park sites or other public lands assigned by the official map within a year after approval.

Or, if the land has not been purchased, the bill requires the beginning of condemnation procedures within the year limit.

Davis said the new bill represents "a great advance" over existing law.

"FOR THE PRIVATE developer it offers clearly-defined procedures which will let him know where he stands and what the community intends.

"For the municipality it offers a freer choice—both in the kind of planning agency it will use and in the kinds of plans it will prepare," he noted. (A-14

New Record In Births At Hospital

During the month of June, 191 babies were born at Lutheran General hospital establishing a new high for the hospital in the number of births for a single month.

This figure is in sharp contrast to the 94 born at the new hospital during June 1960, and is indicative of the increasing number of patients cared for at Lutheran General.

ADDITIONAL statistics compiled by the hospital's medical record department show that 2,278 babies were born at Lutheran General from the opening of the hospital on January 4, 1960 to June 30, 1961.

During this past June, two pairs of twins were born. Since it opened, a total of 28 pairs of twins have been born at the hospital on Dempster st. in Park Ridge. (B8

Q. Is a man, sitting at a cocktail bar, supposed to tip the bar man?

A. While not exactly necessary, this still seems to be expected in some places — especially when one's change is returned in a small tray.

Summer Sunday Evening Services at North Park

More, than 1,000 persons heard Dr. Elmer S. Hjortland, pastor of the United Lutheran church, Oak Park, at the first in a series of special Sunday evening services held in the auditorium of North Park college, Foster and Kedzie ave., Chicago, July 16.

A SIMILAR attendance is expected at each of the seven remaining weekly services featuring prominent American churchmen. The services begin at 7:30 p.m. each Sunday evening through September 3.

The services are sponsored cooperatively by 12 northside Evangelical Covenant churches, in conjunction with North Park college and Theological Seminary, and the Swedish Covenant hospital, 5145 N. California ave.

Speakers for the next seven Sunday evenings are as follows:

JULY 23, Dr. Louis H. Evans, minister-at-large in the United Presbyterian Church of the United States;

JULY 3, Dr. A. Reuben Gornitzka, pastor of the Central Lutheran church, Minneapolis, Minn.;

AUGUST 6, Dr. August M. Hintz, pastor of the North Shore Baptist church, Chicago;

AUGUST 13, Dr. Jitsuo Morikawa, secretary for evangelism, American Baptist Home Missions society;

AUGUST 20, Dr. Martin Marty, pastor of the Elk Grove Lutheran church, Elk Grove;

AUGUST 27, Dr. Paul M. Robinson, president of Bethany Biblical Seminary, Church of Brethren; September 3, Dr. Frank C. Laubach, director of the World Literacy Movement.

Each of the weekly services is preceded by a 30 minute hymn sing beginning at 7 p.m. and led by the Rev. J. Irving Erickson, Chicago.

Special music is provided by a choir of representative members of the cooperating Covenant churches under the direction of Wayne H. Balch, 7373 Caldwell, and Oscar E. Olson, Chicago. (BB

ARTIST'S DRAWING of the restaurant building under construction at Chicago-O'Hare International Airport, which will house facilities capable of serving almost eight million meals a year. The three story circular building is 200 feet in diameter and is connected at the second floor with the two new terminal buildings. Diners will have an unobstructed view of the air field through gray tinted glass walls.

Summer Sunday Evening Services at North Park

More, than 1,000 persons heard Dr. Elmer S. Hjortland, pastor of the United Lutheran church, Oak Park, at the first in a series of special Sunday evening services held in the auditorium of North Park college, Foster and Kedzie ave., Chicago, July 16.

A SIMILAR attendance is expected at each of the seven remaining weekly services featuring prominent American churchmen. The services begin at 7:30 p.m. each Sunday evening through September 3.

The services are sponsored cooperatively by 12 northside Evangelical Covenant churches, in conjunction with North Park college and Theological Seminary, and the Swedish Covenant hospital, 5145 N. California ave.

Speakers for the next seven Sunday evenings are as follows:

JULY 23, Dr. Louis H. Evans, minister-at-large in the United Presbyterian Church of the United States;

JULY 3, Dr. A. Reuben Gornitzka, pastor of the Central Lutheran church, Minneapolis, Minn.;

AUGUST 6, Dr. August M. Hintz, pastor of the North Shore Baptist church, Chicago;

AUGUST 13, Dr. Jitsuo Morikawa, secretary for evangelism, American Baptist Home Missions society;

AUGUST 20, Dr. Martin Marty, pastor of the Elk Grove Lutheran church, Elk Grove;

AUGUST 27, Dr. Paul M. Robinson, president of Bethany Biblical Seminary, Church of Brethren; September 3, Dr. Frank C. Laubach, director of the World Literacy Movement.

Each of the weekly services is preceded by a 30 minute hymn sing beginning at 7 p.m. and led by the Rev. J. Irving Erickson, Chicago.

Jobless Youth Are 'Social Dynamite'

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, speaking before a congressional subcommittee, labeled the problem of youth unemployment in the nation's urban slums as "potentially the most dangerous social condition in America today."

The Secretary testified before the special subcommittee on education of the House Committee on Education and Labor in support of House Resolution 7178, the Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Offense Control Act of 1961.

Goldberg followed Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff in testimony on the measure. These three Cabinet officers make up the Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime, recently established by President Kennedy.

"THE GREAT population of unemployed and out-of-school young people in our city slums is social dynamite," Goldberg said. "It is potentially the most dangerous social condition in America today.

"If we consider that by 1965 we will have 40 per cent more persons under 20 years of age in our labor force than we do today, it is evident that it is not a condition that is scheduled to go away."

The Secretary pointed out that in May of this year there were more than half of a million youths unemployed and out of school. In June the unemployment rate for youths 16 and 17 years of age was 24 per cent for boys and about 31 per cent for girls.

"I think it is clear that we have to do better, not only in seeing that jobs are available to young people, in urban environments," Goldberg continued, "but also in seeing to it that they know about their employment opportunities. We have to do a much better counseling and guidance job than we have done."

HE EMPHASIZED that juvenile delinquency is essentially a local problem, and that this measure is aimed at stimulating more comprehensive and more effective action on the local level.

"This is the approach embodied in (H.R. 7178)" the Secretary said. "It will provide the seed money to get these operations under way. It is the approach of cooperation—within and among all levels of government, and between public and private agencies.

"Most particularly, it is the approach which emphasizes the development, testing, and dissemination of new ideas and new methods." (BB

Higher Security Payments Are Set

About a million and a half older people—the widows, dependent widowers, and dependent parents of workers who have died—are due to receive increased payments under the new amendments to the social security law.

The benefits payable to widows age 62 or over will be raised about 10 per cent. Widows eligible for the increased payments do not need to get in touch with their social security offices. The increase will be added automatically to the checks they will receive in early September.

CONGRESS called this increase "one of the most needed changes in the social security program." Aged widows not only get lower benefits than do retired workers, but they also have less income from other sources than retired workers have.

The average benefit being paid to an aged widow early this year was $57.80 a month. The yearly income for half the women receiving widow's benefits, not counting their social security benefits, was less than $270 a year.

AGED DEPENDENT widowers and some aged parents of deceased workers are also due automatic 10 per cent increases with the social security checks payable to them in early September. However, an increase in a parent's benefit check will be made in those cases where only one parent is receiving benefits based on the deceased son's or daughter's work under social security.

Where more than one dependent parent receives a parents benefit, there will be no increase. (BB

Hoffman Leads June Building

Hoffman Estates outdistanced all other area communities in value of total building permits issued during June, 1961.

Arlington Heights ran a close second. In the value of home construction permits issued, the leaders were the same.

The total value of permits issued in the Chicago metropolitan area this June dropped 13 per cent from last year, according to a report compiled by Bell Saving and Loan association.

AREA LEADERS in the number of and value of home construction permits issued during June, 1961, were as follows:

Hoffman Estates, 56 permits, $1,120,000 in value; Arlington Heights, 42, $873, 250; Palatine, 52, $818,003; Streamwood, 41, $596,300; Wheeling, 15, $275,000; Addison, 11, $202,000; Wood Dale, 11, $176,400; Buffalo Grove, 5, $53,970.

Leaders in the value of all construction permits issued during June were:

HOFFMAN Estates, $1,143,895; Arlington Heights, $1,079,655; Palatine, $834,803; Addison, $506,100; Elk Grove Village, $471,833; Wheeling, $435,512; Wood Dale, $206,900; Rolling Meadows, $185,904; Bensenville, $133,416; Buffalo Grove $63,754; Itasca, $800.

Wheeling and Addison were issued apartment permits.

Wheeling's permit covers 16 units valued at $140,000; Addison's permit covers 20 units valued at $198,000. (BB

Red Owl Chief Declares

Businessmen Needed In Political Life

Should a businessman get involved in politics? Why should a businessman want to get into politics?

These were the questions which Alf L. Bergerud, president of the Red Owl food chain, asked himself and answered.

Bergerud is a state senator in Minnesota. He entered politics nearly 20 years ago.

"As to why I entered politics —a long time ago I became concerned about the threat to our free enterprise system from dangerous legislation pushed by pressure groups."

BERGERUD wrote an article why businessmen should go into politics for Advance News, a trade newspaper distributed by Everywoman's Family Circle magazine.

He said that the United States was founded upon the theory that the ingenuity of the individual should be given free play.

"Yet," he noted, "the people who believe in free enterprise, and thus free and open competition, were the very ones who could be found in the legislative halls urging passage of legislation that restricts competition and stifles American industry.

"Such legislation, sought by pressure groups to promote their own selfish interests, is almost always at the expense of the consumer."

Bergerud decided that the thing to do about it was get into politics. He recommends getting into politics to other like-minded businessmen.

HE SAID businessmen often tell him, "Don't ask me to get into politics—I wouldn't think of it!"

Bergerud's answer to such a statement is, "Take a look at your tax bill, and maybe you don't think you are in politics, but I think you are in up to your neck, whether you like it or not."

He urges businessmen to join parties, get involved in local issues, support candidates actively.

The field of politics in his state of Minnesota is dominated on the state level by farmers and lawyers.

"There are very few businessmen from substantial concerns. They are too busy making the money to pay the taxes."

Bergerud said his company encourages its executives to get active in local politics. He stressed that personal relationship with legislators is much more influential than when they are complete strangers.

HE REPRESENTS the largest legislative district in Minnesota with a population of 360,000.

He said that politics and running for office is expensive; so, he urges that citizens contribute to the political parties. However, one should not try to control the legislator.

"All one can do is to help find good candidates, support them personally and financially, and trust that their judgment on matters affecting the general welare will be good," he said. (BB

Hoffman Leads June Building

Hoffman Estates outdistanced all other area communities in value of total building permits issued during June, 1961.

Arlington Heights ran a close second. In the value of home construction permits issued, the leaders were the same.

The total value of permits issued in the Chicago metropolitan area this June dropped 13 per cent from last year, according to a report compiled by Bell Saving and Loan association.

AREA LEADERS in the number of and value of home construction permits issued during June, 1961, were as follows:

Hoffman Estates, 56 permits, $1,120,000 in value; Arlington Heights, 42, $873, 250; Palatine, 52, $818,003; Streamwood, 41, $596,300; Wheeling, 15, $275,000; Addison, 11, $202,000; Wood Dale, 11, $176,400; Buffalo Grove, 5, $53,970.

Leaders in the value of all construction permits issued during June were:

HOFFMAN Estates, $1,143,895; Arlington Heights, $1,079,655; Palatine, $834,803; Addison, $506,100; Elk Grove Village, $471,833; Wheeling, $435,512; Wood Dale, $206,900; Rolling Meadows, $185,904; Bensenville, $133,416; Buffalo Grove $63,754; Itasca, $800.

Wheeling and Addison were issued apartment permits.

Wheeling's permit covers 16 units valued at $140,000; Addison's permit covers 20 units valued at $198,000. (BB

Medical insurance plans are far ahead of the public in recognizing the changes in psychiatric care, according to the administrator of one of the nation's leading private psychiatric hospitals.

"While the public still thinks of years and years in hospitals for the average psychiatric patient, the insurance plans realize that this is no longer so," said Morris B. Squire, administrator of Forest hospital, Des Plaines.

"IN FACT," Squire added, "the various insurance plans almost all make provision for the psychiatric patient because they have found the need great and the idea financially feasible."

He pointed out that 60 of the 79 Blue Cross plans in the U. S. now make payments for some part of psychiatric care, including Illinois. "Forest hospital is a member hospital of Blue Cross-Blue Shield and many of our patients benefit from this fact," Squire stated.

Also pointed out was that most of the private medical insurance companies now cover psychiatric care and that a majority of patients in private psychiatric hospitals are covered by some form of medical insurance.

He explained that the shortened stay in hospitals for psychiatric patients has made possible the insurance coverage. "Psychiatric patients, by and large, no longer need to spend months or years in hospitals. Modern drugs, intensive treatment and other advances have greatly shortened their hospital stay.

"AT FOREST hospital, for example, average patient stay is less than six weeks. With adequate facilities in all psychiatric hospitals the stay could be shortened everywhere."

Squire also said that a new concept was shortening the stay in psychiatric hospitals. "Hospitalization is now looked on as only one phase in psychiatric care. Most patients need hospitalization only during acute periods," he said.

"EXCEPT FOR certain times they can get along very well under the care of their doctor outside of the hospital.

"This new, sparing use of psychiatric hospitals is the trend of the future," Squire said. "If it continues," he added, "it may result in saving many millions of dollars for taxpayers.

"IT MAKES about as much sense to keep a psychiatric patient in the hospital for years and years as it does to permanently hospitalize a patient with diabetes.

"With proper medical care, both are much better living normal lives at home." (BB

Area Physicians Appointed To Hospital Committees

Three area physicians received committee 1961-62 appointments on the Sherman hospital medical staff at a meeting of the newly constituted executive committee held in the hospital's private dining room on July 18. Dr. Earl S. Stephenson, 4 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, chairman of the radiology committee; Dr. Donald Lloyd, 45 E. Thorndale, Roselle, is chairman of the anesthesia committee and editor of the "Staff News," issued from time to time to staff members. Dr. Pola Piotrowski, 5 N. Northwest hwy., Palatine, is a member of the library committee.

Drs. Herbert J. Rohr and Thomas Sammons, 222 Hicks pl., Arlington Heights, were appointed to the Sherman medical staff as associate members at the annual meeting held recently. Dr. Lloyd was re-elected as member of the executive committee at that time.

Including those listed above the Sherman medical staff includes at present nine active and five associate members with offices in Arlington Heights, Palatine or Roselle.

Area Residents To Attend Meeting

Jim Faetz of Mount Prospect, Harold Nebel of Arlington Heights and Walt Olsen of Palatine all will attend the National Convention of State Farm Insurance companies in Toronto, Canada during the week of August 6th.

To qualify for this award, all three men exceeded production goals and maintained superior service for State Farm insured in their respective cities.

All of these men have been local agency representatives for State Farm for a number of years and all three men have qualified for several previous national conventions. Faetz maintains his office at 2 E. Northwest hwy., Mt. Prospect; Nebel at 212 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, and Walt Olsen at 436 E. Northwest hwy., Palatine. (BB

Research Expert Directs New Studebaker Division

Establishment of an applied research division to develop new products and improve existing products for Studebaker-Packard Corp. was announced today by Sherwood H. Egbert, president.

Egbert also made known the appointment of Maynard J. Isley, a research pioneer in ballistic weapon systems, as the first of a group of specialized engineers who will be in charge of the division. Isley has been associated with Chrysler corp. since 1937.

THE NEW DIVISION will enable Studebaker to participate more fully in the research revolution now in progress," Egbert said. "National surveys indicate we are on the threshold of the greatest outpouring of new products and services in the history of American inventions and innovations."

"We are planning to expand our ability to supply governmental and defense needs, principally in the electronic and electro-mechanical manufacturing categories," Egbert continued. "Our division staff members will have specialized backgrounds in chemicals, exotic fuels, electro-mechanical devices and control systems."

ISLEY, 48, has more than 18 years of consecutive experience in engineering management of research, development, test and evaluation programs for ballistic missile weapon systems, automobile and aircraft engines and air conditioning equipment. This was preceded by six years of automotive developmental engineering.

Since 1958, Isley has been chief project engineer for the Chrysler Missile division, Warren, Mich. Earlier, he was chief engineer of laboratories and general supervisor of mechanical and structures laboratories and field operations for the missile division.

FROM 1939 TO 1952, Isley's positions with Chrysler at Highland Park, Mich., included test engineer and assistant laboratory supervisor.

Isley is a gradaute of the University of Michigan and Chrysler Institute of Engineering. (BB

The Way We See It

Illegal Activities Cloaked in Charity

One of Frank O'Connor's memorable stories begins with Michael John Cronin stealing the funds of the Carricknabreena Hurling, Football and Temperance Association, "commonly called the club."

The chairman of the club committee was Father Crowley, parish priest, and he proposed to prosecute Michael John for the theft.

The rest of the committee wanted to send Michael John to America, and let the whole thing blow over. Father Crowley refused.

So the others formed a Michael John Cronin Fund committee, and collected the money to cover the theft. Father Crowley would not accept that settlement.

Then they offered a "bargain" to Father Crowley, asking that he "give the boy a character" so that the judge "would leave him off and there'll be no stain on the parish."

" 'Is it out of your minds you are, you halfwitted angashores?' asked Father Crowley. 'Here am I all these years preaching to ye about decency and justice and truth and ye no more understand me than that wall there.' "

In the evening the committee returned, its spokesman saying to the priest: "Now, supposing — just supposing for the sake of argument — that you do what we say, there's a few of us here, and between us, we'd raise whatever little contribution to the parish fund you'd think would be reasonable to cover the expense and trouble to yourself. Now do you follow me?"

" 'Con Norton,' said Father Crowley, rising and holding the edge of the table, 'I follow you. This morning it was perjury, and now 'tis bribery, and the Lord knows what 'twill be next.' "

So Father Crowley said no word in Michael John's favor the day of the trial, and Michael John got three months.

"As for Father Crowley, till he was shifted twelve months later, he never did a day's good in the parish. The dues went down and the presents went down, and people with money to spend on Masses took it fifty miles away sooner than leave it to him. They said it broke his heart."

Somehow this story comes to mind when reading the reports of renewed efforts at bingo at carnivals in suburban towns, and the confiscation of slot machines at some veterans posts in DuPage county.

It is common knowledge that such illegal activities have existed over the years. Probably they existed because the villages were not too much larger than Carricknabreena and the leading citizens who tolerated gambling had a clannishness like that Father Crowley had to contend with.

Now things are changing. Suburban villages are no longer Carricknabreenas. The larger of them are becoming cities in all but name. The premise that "everyone knows everyone else and all will turn out for the best" no longer applies as a substitute for impartial enforcement of all laws, if it ever did.

In the past, well-meaning officers of civic and veterans groups have relied on gambling to finance "good works" in their communities. The wiser of them should realize that, in their larger, more impersonal communities, they cannot retain influence if they knowingly violate the laws.

Provided, of course, that devotion to principle has more supporters in our suburban towns than Father Crowley found in Carricknabreena.

Lohman's Departure Is Tragic Loss for Illinois

Joseph D. Lohman announced Tuesday he will resign as state treasurer to assume new duties for the fall semester as dean of the University of California school of criminology.

Lohman said he will leave for California as soon as he is able to work out details of his resignation with Governor Kerner. His decision to voluntarily quit his post, to which he was elected in 1958, is virtually unprecedented in state politics. His term expires Jan. 1, 1963.

This dramatic ending to his Illinois political career is appropriate since Lohman himself was unprecedented as a politician.

He has successfully demonstrated his abilities and administrative capacities in the public arena through a varied and distinguished involvement in public affairs, ranging from the municipal to the international level.

Lohman has played an active role in the fields of education, finance, health, welfare, transportation, law enforcement, race relations, penal reforms, housing, and planning.

He holds citations from former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower for his achievements, as head of the National Capital Planning Commission. He was awarded the Medal of Freedom for his work in Korea as a consultant on psychological warfare.

His service as chairman of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board under Gov. Adlai Stevenson gained for that board the reputation as one of the best in the state's history.

Nominated as a blue-ribbon candidate for Cook county sheriff in 1954, he won national acclaim for his war on crime syndicate activities and his anti-delinquency programs. He fought to elevate the sheriff's office from the mire of political influence which had traditionally engulfed it.

Elected as state treasurer in 1958, Lohman put state funds to work, transferring them from non-interest bearing accounts into government securities. He cracked down on justices of the peace for their reluctance to forward certain fines to the state treasury. His was one of the first voices raised in concern over the dilemma of state finances and the need for a sweeping overhaul of the state's revenue system.

In addition to serving on advisory boards across the country, he has held membership on the Illinois Citizens Committee for a Study of Illinois Tax Structure and the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

Lohman is one of the few public officials we have found to be authentically conversant with suburban needs. He has consistently concerned himself with metropolitan growth and problems of water shortages, drainage, planning, and other needs similar to those we face in the northwest suburban area. His interest in our problems was aptly demonstrated in 1957, when he participated in our first Suburban Problems Clinic.

This newspaper's regard for Joe Lohman is, of course, no secret. We supported him for sheriff in 1954. We urged the State Central Committee to slate him for State Treasurer in 1958, and we endorsed his successful candidacy. He was our choice in the 1960 Democratic gubernatorial primary. At that time, we said he was best qualified to be Governor of Illinois; we believe subsequent events have confirmed our original estimate.

In accepting the deanship at University of California, Lohman is returning to a career in which he early distinguished himself. He held teaching positions in sociology and criminology at the University of Chicago before entering politics.

We lament Lohman's departure from the Illinois political scene. His talents and accomplishments are respected throughout the state. He brought to Illinois politics a unique quality: the intellectual capacity and experience needed to grasp governmental problems in depth. We had high hopes for his future in public affairs.

Joseph D. Lohman has ably and loyally served his community and his state. He has our gratitude, and our best wishes for his continued success.

New Feature Introduced

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS this week introduces a new feature for its Page of Opinion — the People's Forum.

We believe a real contribution to sound discussion of vital issues can be made by our suburban readers.

Periodically, we will invite qualified readers, representing divergent opinions on specific questions, to express their views. To initiate the People's Forum this week, we invited two northwest suburban citizens to discuss politics. Carl R. Hansen defines the GOP's "modern look," and Dr. Norbert Hruby relates the "New Frontier" to our suburban scene.

It is not essential — or possible — that this series should reveal the "ultimate truth." No one knows the ultimate truth about current history; and truth is always truth from a point of view. What does matter is that these articles intelligibly, and as authentically as space permits, define and explain vital issues with the principal purpose of helping us to think about the public affairs of the day.

What Do You Think

THE PURPOSE OF THE People's Forum is to afford you — our readers — with an opportunity to express your opinions.

Meaning of Modern Republicanism

by CARL R. HANSEN

The challenge of today's problems is intensified by change as rapid as any in recorded history. In facing such challenge, each of us must ask, "How can I best search for the answers, and how can I best find voice to represent what I believe?"

To me, the Republican party is clearly the better of the two bodies of political representation in our country. It is the one voice on which I feel I can rely in meeting these problems.

The problems we face themselves outline both the scope of the challenge to all Americans and, as a consequence, the importance of selecting a "political voice."

In the economy: development of natural resources, capital formation, agriculture, inflation.

IN OUR society: equality, the opportunity to earn a respectable living, housing, the pressures of population growth.

In the world: a role of leadership in world affairs, the continuing "cold war," the maintenance of a clearly superior military establishment.

In approaching all of these, we must speak through a party which understands the need for preserving our individual freedoms, not simply one which takes advantage of these freedoms to appeal to our basest emotions.

WE MUST rely on a party which realizes the great degree of inseparability of free economic decision—freedom of enterprise—and this individual freedom. Not on a party whose first inclination is to seek unattainable economic perfection at the risk of atrophied personal decision.

We can only work through a party which recognizes government for the servant it must remain, not through a party which would make the servant master in the house by abdicating to it all responsibility.

In short, the best way we can continue our search for truth and the preservation of our way of life is through the Republican party. It is the only party which exhibits an understanding of the fact that our individual liberty cannot be preserved through rash economic and foreign experimentation. It is the party which understands the need for a basic reliance on the capabilities of individual free men.

OF COURSE, the maintenance of our freedoms depends on an obligation to ourselves.

We cannot expect to stand idly by and have our freedoms of speech and the press continue. We cannot exhibit an air of indolent disinterest in the political processes which select our representatives, and then assume a right to criticize their actions. We cannot deride the policies of our own party, moreover, if we show no willingness to participate in building the party itself.

In a larger sense, we cannot expect our republic itself to persevere in the face of a community of superior indifference.

YOUR ROLE, and mine, in our own communities, must be one of participation in the selection of our representatives and the positions which they take on issues confronting us.

And to me, the opportunity to participate in a way most consistent with the interests of our country, as it faces the challenge of the future, is best offered by the Republican party.

A Democrat Voices Concern, Says

The 'New Frontier' Needs Suburbia

by NORBERT J. HRUBY

Even in the northwest suburbs of Chicago, the sun rose on schedule on January 21, 1961. Ben Heinemann's trains, not quite as regular as the solar system, made it downtown with the usual number of commuters. Housewives found the stores open and did whatever it is that housewives do on Wednesday mornings. The schools were open, and fifth-graders were learning long-division in that curious manner that baffles their fathers.

In short, everything was normal — this, despite the fact that there was a Democrat in the White House for the first time in eight years!

Six months have passed since that fatefully unfateful morning. Aside from the fact that Ben Heinemann's trains are doing a little better and the fact that the fifth-graders are now playing Little League baseball in that curious manner that baffles their fathers, nothing much has changed. The sun makes it up over the horizon, the housewives do their shopping, and the Cubs are in the second division. Life goes on.

NO BANKS have closed. There has been no shotgun wedding between church and state. No major corporations have donated their stock to the Teamsters' Union. Westbrook Pegler has found nothing redeeming in the character of Eleanor Roosevelt. As noted, life goes on.

New Frontiers in Suburbia? Six months after the fact of President Kennedy's inauguration, what outposts of the Welfare State, so direly warned against by Republican orators last fall, do we see at the intersection of Dunton and the Highway? None that even the most suspicious viewer-with alarm can detect. None that even the most sanguine pointer-with-pride can invent. Life merely goes on.

O, things have been going on in Washington and Moscow and Paris and Vienna and London and—God help us all! —Berlin, not to mention Havana and Tokyo and Peiping and Bonn, but in the northwest suburbs of Chicago the price of power mowers is mighty crucial.

THE CRITICAL failure, in the first six months, of the bright and energetic young men on the New Frontier has been their inability to convey to us, the middle-class suburbanites, the urgency, the mortal danger, the absolute need for dedication implied in every complex convolution of a world in the agony of revolution. The occassional TV documentary on Africa or South America or the Far East seems wonderfully antiseptic, remote, and miniature, even on a 24-inch screen.

Elsewhere in the world there are people struggling for their identity and dignity and, antecedently, food; but all this is so far away from the intersection of Dunton and the Highway.

We know who we are and what we are worth, and, aside from a few migrant workers, whom, as we tell ourselves, nobody invited here in the first place, we never have to give a thought to the source of the next meal. No, the documentaries and the foreign news pages have no more reality for us than "Gunsmoke."

IT'S HARD to get charged up over Berlin or Laos or Kuwait or Cuba or space when the Cubs are in the second division and all's right with our middle-class world. The New Frontiersmen have not got through to us in these six months.

Perhaps we should start listening. Possibly we should wipe the picture tube and sit closer to the set when the networks report on "disturbances" in Latin America.

Maybe we ought to read the fine print and even between the lines of large print when we look at the international news in the papers. Just conceivably our very future as Americans—whether we are Republicans or Democrats or Prohibitionists or Single Taxers—depends on how clearly we hear and how compassionately we understand what the man in the White House is saying.

The Way We See It

Illegal Activities Cloaked in Charity

One of Frank O'Connor's memorable stories begins with Michael John Cronin stealing the funds of the Carricknabreena Hurling, Football and Temperance Association, "commonly called the club."

The chairman of the club committee was Father Crowley, parish priest, and he proposed to prosecute Michael John for the theft.

The rest of the committee wanted to send Michael John to America, and let the whole thing blow over. Father Crowley refused.

So the others formed a Michael John Cronin Fund committee, and collected the money to cover the theft. Father Crowley would not accept that settlement.

Then they offered a "bargain" to Father Crowley, asking that he "give the boy a character" so that the judge "would leave him off and there'll be no stain on the parish."

" 'Is it out of your minds you are, you halfwitted angashores?' asked Father Crowley. 'Here am I all these years preaching to ye about decency and justice and truth and ye no more understand me than that wall there.' "

In the evening the committee returned, its spokesman saying to the priest: "Now, supposing — just supposing for the sake of argument — that you do what we say, there's a few of us here, and between us, we'd raise whatever little contribution to the parish fund you'd think would be reasonable to cover the expense and trouble to yourself. Now do you follow me?"

" 'Con Norton,' said Father Crowley, rising and holding the edge of the table, 'I follow you. This morning it was perjury, and now 'tis bribery, and the Lord knows what 'twill be next.' "

So Father Crowley said no word in Michael John's favor the day of the trial, and Michael John got three months.

"As for Father Crowley, till he was shifted twelve months later, he never did a day's good in the parish. The dues went down and the presents went down, and people with money to spend on Masses took it fifty miles away sooner than leave it to him. They said it broke his heart."

Somehow this story comes to mind when reading the reports of renewed efforts at bingo at carnivals in suburban towns, and the confiscation of slot machines at some veterans posts in DuPage county.

It is common knowledge that such illegal activities have existed over the years. Probably they existed because the villages were not too much larger than Carricknabreena and the leading citizens who tolerated gambling had a clannishness like that Father Crowley had to contend with.

Now things are changing. Suburban villages are no longer Carricknabreenas. The larger of them are becoming cities in all but name. The premise that "everyone knows everyone else and all will turn out for the best" no longer applies as a substitute for impartial enforcement of all laws, if it ever did.

In the past, well-meaning officers of civic and veterans groups have relied on gambling to finance "good works" in their communities. The wiser of them should realize that, in their larger, more impersonal communities, they cannot retain influence if they knowingly violate the laws.

Provided, of course, that devotion to principle has more supporters in our suburban towns than Father Crowley found in Carricknabreena.

Lohman's Departure Is Tragic Loss for Illinois

Joseph D. Lohman announced Tuesday he will resign as state treasurer to assume new duties for the fall semester as dean of the University of California school of criminology.

Lohman said he will leave for California as soon as he is able to work out details of his resignation with Governor Kerner. His decision to voluntarily quit his post, to which he was elected in 1958, is virtually unprecedented in state politics. His term expires Jan. 1, 1963.

This dramatic ending to his Illinois political career is appropriate since Lohman himself was unprecedented as a politician.

He has successfully demonstrated his abilities and administrative capacities in the public arena through a varied and distinguished involvement in public affairs, ranging from the municipal to the international level.

Lohman has played an active role in the fields of education, finance, health, welfare, transportation, law enforcement, race relations, penal reforms, housing, and planning.

He holds citations from former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower for his achievements, as head of the National Capital Planning Commission. He was awarded the Medal of Freedom for his work in Korea as a consultant on psychological warfare.

His service as chairman of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board under Gov. Adlai Stevenson gained for that board the reputation as one of the best in the state's history.

Nominated as a blue-ribbon candidate for Cook county sheriff in 1954, he won national acclaim for his war on crime syndicate activities and his anti-delinquency programs. He fought to elevate the sheriff's office from the mire of political influence which had traditionally engulfed it.

Elected as state treasurer in 1958, Lohman put state funds to work, transferring them from non-interest bearing accounts into government securities. He cracked down on justices of the peace for their reluctance to forward certain fines to the state treasury. His was one of the first voices raised in concern over the dilemma of state finances and the need for a sweeping overhaul of the state's revenue system.

In addition to serving on advisory boards across the country, he has held membership on the Illinois Citizens Committee for a Study of Illinois Tax Structure and the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

Lohman is one of the few public officials we have found to be authentically conversant with suburban needs. He has consistently concerned himself with metropolitan growth and problems of water shortages, drainage, planning, and other needs similar to those we face in the northwest suburban area. His interest in our problems was aptly demonstrated in 1957, when he participated in our first Suburban Problems Clinic.

This newspaper's regard for Joe Lohman is, of course, no secret. We supported him for sheriff in 1954. We urged the State Central Committee to slate him for State Treasurer in 1958, and we endorsed his successful candidacy. He was our choice in the 1960 Democratic gubernatorial primary. At that time, we said he was best qualified to be Governor of Illinois; we believe subsequent events have confirmed our original estimate.

In accepting the deanship at University of California, Lohman is returning to a career in which he early distinguished himself. He held teaching positions in sociology and criminology at the University of Chicago before entering politics.

We lament Lohman's departure from the Illinois political scene. His talents and accomplishments are respected throughout the state. He brought to Illinois politics a unique quality: the intellectual capacity and experience needed to grasp governmental problems in depth. We had high hopes for his future in public affairs.

Joseph D. Lohman has ably and loyally served his community and his state. He has our gratitude, and our best wishes for his continued success.

New Feature Introduced

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS this week introduces a new feature for its Page of Opinion — the People's Forum.

We believe a real contribution to sound discussion of vital issues can be made by our suburban readers.

Periodically, we will invite qualified readers, representing divergent opinions on specific questions, to express their views. To initiate the People's Forum this week, we invited two northwest suburban citizens to discuss politics. Carl R. Hansen defines the GOP's "modern look," and Dr. Norbert Hruby relates the "New Frontier" to our suburban scene.

It is not essential — or possible — that this series should reveal the "ultimate truth." No one knows the ultimate truth about current history; and truth is always truth from a point of view. What does matter is that these articles intelligibly, and as authentically as space permits, define and explain vital issues with the principal purpose of helping us to think about the public affairs of the day.

What Do You Think

THE PURPOSE OF THE People's Forum is to afford you — our readers — with an opportunity to express your opinions.

We invite the comments and observations of our readers on this new editorial feature, and on the political questions raised by this week's contributors.

Letters to the Editor

Commissioner Offers Report On Wood Dale Road Problems

There have been so many phone calls about our roads that I felt a statement regarding our plans and our problems was called for and that it would reach the greatest number of villagers through the newspaper. This article may not please a great number of you, but it will call a "spade a spade."

The most repeated question is "what are you doing with our $10 vehicle tax?" and, although many of you are familiar with the sizeable amount you invested in a black-top driveway, you still feel your $10 tax should black-top a road past your home.

In the first place, the increase in vehicle tax was never intended to rebuild the entire road-system of Wood Dale but was to meet the increased demands for road maintenance.

In the spring of 1960, you may recall, we could hardly get in or out of our streets after a particularly rough winter. We had knee deep mud and in many places the spring thaw raised the street 12 to 15 inches high. Most real estate people would not even handle the sale of property in our village because of the condition of our roads.

THE VILLAGE spent $6,700.00 just for gravel to cover the mud and get people in and out of town. This gravel was ordered on my authority because I felt it was an extreme necessity.

I also knew when the gravel was ordered that the only way the village could ever hope to recover this expense was to increase the vehicle tax. I also ordered half of the village streets tarred and chipped at that time, and the cost for that work was a little more than $11,000. This figure does not include gas, oil, tires, repairs, insurances, or another miscellaneous costs.

The tarring and chipping I hoped would end our eternal "to oil or not to oil" problem. Half of the people complained about the dust, before the oiling, and the other half of the people would complain after the oiling. "We can't open our windows, we can't hang out clean washed clothes, we can't breathe." These are the dust complaints. "You are ruining our cars, our rugs, our shoes and everything else with that lousy oil of yours." These are the oil complaints.

LAST YEAR when one-half of the roads were tarred and chipped many persons were kind enough to call and express their thanks for a somewhat improved road.

This year some of the same people are calling to complain on how the roads are breaking up. We can no longer hold these roads together with chewing gum and baling wire with the amount of traffic our streets are getting.

I am sorry to say that many of these complaints will have to go unanswered until the second half of our roads receive their first treatment of tar and chip. To those of you whose street received treatment last year, try to appreciate the fact that half of our people got nothing. Give them a chance to get what they rightfully have coming. They pay a vehicle tax too.

FOR THOSE of you whose street has not been treated I can only say it is our plan to do them all.

Just how far we get depends on many things; weather, manpower, materials, and work output. The village has only one man and a helper, who are doing their best. It took us quite some time this year to find a good helper. How many of you would do this work for $1.50 per hour. Our road superintendent, George Filczer, has just been raised to $4,700 per year. Not only does this man make very little money, but he has to listen to all of the complaints, and take the abuse of inconsiderate people. This man is only earning his living. His orders come from either the village council or me. He should not bear the brunt of your anger.

MOST OF THE summer we have been begging or borrowing materials to patch the worst of our holes. Just last week were we able to start tarring and chipping. I have been making every excuse under the sun for why we are not farther along than we are, and I am tired of these excuses myself.

The real reason is that our credit is very bad. It seems the village has been busy paying every bill that comes in except those that apply to the road dept., our two biggest creditors being Chicago-Elmhurst Stone co. and the Lenz Oil co. Not until our road man told me that he was no longer able to get materials from either party was I fully aware of just how little had been paid to these people.

The $12,000 we all paid in vehicle tax was used for everything else but road bills. As late as last week we still owed $8,000 for materials from both companies. It wasn't until last week that the mayor demanded that checks be made out for at least $500.00 to each company along with his promise that more would be paid shortly. It was on this assurance that both companies agreed to furnish some materials.

I PERSONALLY do not believe that either company could have been more fair and patient with us than they have been. They have been waiting for almost one year. Not only do we buy from these people at reasonable prices, the Lenz Oil co. allows us to use, at no cost, their spreader for spreading the chips onto the hot tar. Without this it would cost an additional $25 per day to rent one. Our way of making payouts on past due bills is a disgrace, and only the members of the council are to blame.

As to the question of what is going to be done about our road and drainage problems, I cannot speak for the council. What will be done and what I would like to see done might be two different things. This is a question perhaps you should answer, and it should be done by both council action and a referendum.

I personally am for cleaning up the entire village in one year and at one crack. A referendum could be called whereas the people can vote on a road and drainage program. The entire village could be done at one time with regard to drainage and black-top roads. One is nothing without the other. Either one done alone is a waste of money. I sincerely believe that each parcel of property should be reasonably assessed with the balance of funds (motor fuel tax funds) and long term G.O. bonds. (20 or 30 years)

YOU MAY not agree with this but I hope you will give it some thought. I'm sure we all could write a book about Wood Dale, but this, or any other village, is only as good as the people are interested in making it.

We all like to criticize, but, instead you could decide to sacrifice a little and, constructively do something to improve our village.

Sharp Reply For Hoffman

Who is Dick Hoffmann? From where did he come? What are his credentials giving him a right to present a series of conclusions to the fact that "All are in Danger" (Mount Prospect Herald July 20, 1961)?

I have "news" for Mr. Hoffmann — most of us know we

I have "news" for Mr. Hoffmann — most of us know we "all are in danger" in the context Mr. Hoffmann belabors. I have some more news" for Mr. Hoffmann — many of his readers also know — or suspect — we "all are in danger" if leadership and responsible journalism is represented by para-intellectuals such as Mr. Hoffmann.

Candidly, I cannot fathom why a reputable newspaper can devote about 20 per cent of its editorial page to a by-line from an individual for the purpose or apparent purpose of attempting to influence the public by the presentation of a warmed-up hash of statements (possibly out of context) of Walter Lippman, General MacArthur, etc. - seasoned with such a mouth puckering sauce as "German mentality" . . . "militarists . ." etc.

THE ONLY purpose I can see Mr. Hoffmann has in his article is to create fear, hoping through fear to influence his readers to not support the use of force (and I include nuclear force) if a possible choice of surrender or die is forced upon us. I say "possible" because this is not the only alternate - even if there is nuclear war. Here lies the crux of Mr. Hoffmann's "anachronism."

Philosophically he does not believe the continuation of our Western Heritage is worth the price of nuclear war. Would he substitute a few Pasternaks for the heritage of Western culture since the time of Greece? Personally, I'll take my chances (and I think they are better) on survival of a conflict which may decimate my economic wealth but leave my spirit intact.

One final thought, least I be labelled a "warmonger" by Mr. Hoffmann and his ilk; negotiate if there is true negotiation of our mutual interests - interests because we cannot currently negotiate our differences. Mr. K. has just this week again affirmed that Russia will use military means to obtain its ends if "negotiations" do not give them those ends. Consequently, if our enemies insist on obtaining its ends through either "negotiating" concessions or through military adventure we had better be ready to use force.

P.S.

To reduce Mr. Hoffmann's contention on "German mentality" to "ad absurdum," may I ask what is his ethnic background?

Car Insurance Plight Cited

I was interested in your article pertaining to the insurance problem of the underage, unmarried, male driver. Since we specialize in this type of risk we are familiar with the problem.

Your article indicated that you had checked with some insurance companies and all said they would insure the single male driver under age 25. I would be delighted if you would supply me with the names of these companies since the market for this type of risk is limited, and about 85 per cent of the companies with which I am familiar are unwilling to insure this group.

There are a number of inaccuracies in the article, particularly in regard to costs. Specifically, a standard risk policyholder who is single, male, under age 25, and living in this area would pay us $206.60 for a policy giving him the basic coverages of $10/20,000 bodily injury liability and $5,000 property damage. If he increased his property damage coverage to $10,000, his premium would only be increased to $212.70 which is far short of the average of $250.00 stated in the article. Your author further wrote that a standard risk policy holder in this same class could pay as much as $430.00 for a policy affording him $50/-100,000 bodily injury liability and $10,000 property damage coverage. I suppose that this is possible, but anyone paying that kind of premium for that amount of insurance would be foolish, since he could purchase the same coverage elsewhere for $254.14. Rates for this class of business are high enough now, so please don't make them worse than they really are.

THE ILLINOIS Assigned Risk Plan is designed to provide the minimum required insurance for those people who are unable (for many reasons) to get a policy elsewhere, but all too often people are in this plan who need not be. Many agents or brokers are unable or unwilling to offer a better alternative and so they get insurance for their client through the plan. This is primarily the case with those agents doing business with or in the employ of only one company, and as a result many people don't have the insurance they need, and they are paying too much for what they have.

The insurance problem of the under age male driver can be difficult, but it is not as bad as the article indicates. Most local brokers are full-time professional insurance men who represent a number of companies and as such they have facilities for the under age driver. It is usually only that person who buys his insurance from a part timer or a one company agent that experiences unnecessary difficulty in insuring his underage son.

Citizen Help Acknowledged

The support of the numerous citizens who have called or written letters of encouragement to the Mt. Prospect park district board of commissioners during its recent problems is sincerely appreciated.

Many of the letters of those writing to accept appointment to the Citizens' Advisory Committee included words of commendation for the board.

THESE AND other letters of approval on our stand on the liquor license and the clearing up of the bond issue matters are appreciated. Of course, we appreciate too, the forthright manner in which citizens offered constructive criticism at our special meeting.

I feel sure I express the thanks of Commissioners Boddy, Houchins, Skuban and Hurley as well. We believe the citizens will unite behind us now in carrying forward our immediate objectives of obtaining a new park on the northside and a golf course for the use of all our residents.

The continued fair treatment of our problems by the local press is appreciated, too.

Tabasco Brings African Bean Bredee To America

Something GOOD is cooking
Paddock Publications
FOOD PAGES
BETTER MEALS BUILD BETTER FAMILIES
Beth Weir, Food Editor

With Africa and its newly independent nations garnering so much of the headlines these days, the once-dark continent is in sharper focus than ever before.

An awareness of Africa's culture, customs and way of life is even finding its way into the kitchen. From South Africa comes a favorite dish of the local residents called Bean Bredee, adapted to American cooking in the recipe that follows.

BEAN BREDEE is a thick stew made from lamb, which is eaten extensively in South Africa. Contents: dried pea beans, tomato, apple, raisins and a variety of seasonings including Tabasco, the zesty liquid red pepper, are found on all the continents.

If you're planning a party on a warm summer night you can really have some fun with this dish by providing a colorful table setting for it.

Create a lot of atmosphere with a little imagination by using straw place mats and wooden serving dishes and for added decor carved masks, figurines and china or stuffed toy jungle animals.

Bean Bredee

1 cup dried pea beans
4 cups water, divided
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 pounds lamb shoulder, cut in 1½-inch pieces
1 cup chopped onion
4 medium tomatoes, chopped
2½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder, optional
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 medium sour apple, chopped
½ cup seedless raisins

Cover beans with 2 cups of the water; bring to a boil. Remove from heat; soak one hour. Drain and cover with remaining 2 cups water. Bring to a boil; cook over medium heat one hour. Drain.

While beans are cooking, heat oil in a heavy saucepan or Dutch oven. Add meat and onion; brown meat well on all sides. Stir in tomatoes, salt and Tabasco.

Cover tightly and cook over low heat 30 minutes. Blend together curry powder and sugar; stir in ¼ cup water and vinegar. Combine with meat mixture.

Add drained beans, apple and raisins. Cover and cook over low heat 45 minutes, or until meat is tender. Add small amount of water, if necessary. (The stew should be quite thick). Yield: 4 servings. (SH

FROM AFRICA TO AMERICA comes Bean Bredee, a thick stew made with lamb, dried pea beans, tomato, apple and raisins, with a variety of seasonings including Tabasco. The recipe, adapted for use here, is delightfully different for entertaining.

Pep Up Garden Vegetables With 3 New Sauce Recipes

Best vegetables deserve the very best sauces. Whether you are enjoying fresh vegetables from a home garden or the fine selection in local markets representing the best from all parts of the country, prepare them with care.

The simplest sauce, and one that is suitable over both boiled and broiled vegetables, is Tabasco Butter. The liquid red peper seasoning can be easily stirred into melted butter, leaving no unsightly specks.

ITS PURE pepper flavor provides just the lift vegetables require.

Chili sauce, onion and other seasonings can be added to Tabasco Butter for a sauce delicious on spinach, asparagus or beans. Suitable with cauliflower, potatoes and onions is an easy-to-make cheese sauce that also depends upon Tabasco for pep.

Tabasco Butter Sauce

1/4 cup butter
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco

Melt butter; stir in Tabasco. Serve on vegetables, using two teaspoons per serving. If desired, one tablespoon lime or lemon juice may be added to serve with seafood, or to brush over broiled steak or chicken. Yield: ¼ cup.

Tabasco Chili Butter Sauce

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Melt butter in small saucepan; add onion and cook over low heat until onion is tender but not brown. Add remaining ingredients, mix well. Heat. Serve over hot cooked spinach, asparagus or beans. Yield: six servings.

Shortcut Cheese Sauce

½ pound processed American cheese, shredded
⅓ cup milk
¼ teaspoon Tabasco

Melt cheese with milk in top of double boiler. Add Tabasco. Serve over cooked cauliflower, potatoes or onions. Yield: Six servings. (SH

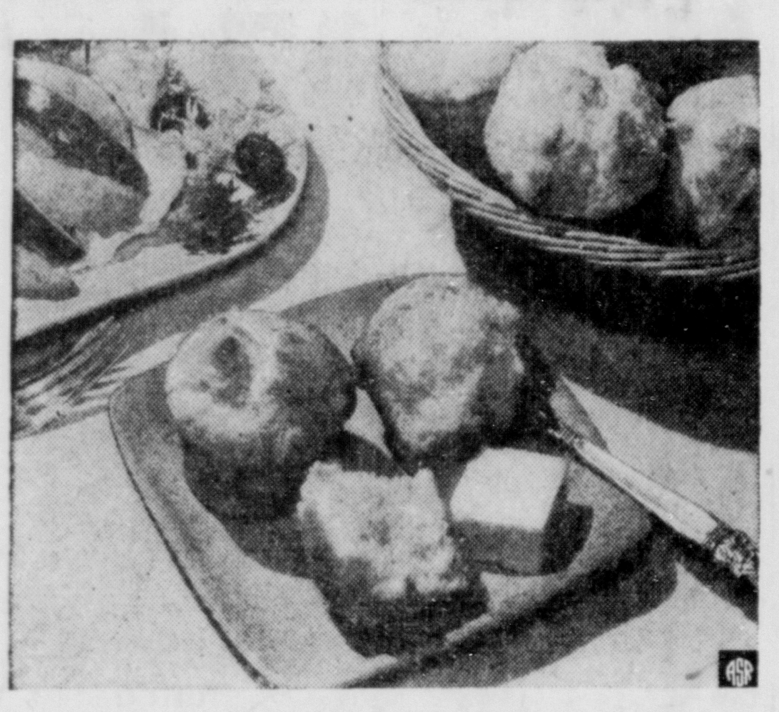
Homemade Muffins Know All Seasons



Yes, even in the hottest weather it's best to serve one warm or hot food at each meal. This practice contributes to good digestion and a feeling of well being.

For example, if a chilled fruit salad and iced beverage are planned for the mid-day meal, some type of hot bread would provide the needed temperature balance.

Homemade muffins are always good and peanut butter ones are different and especially tempting

Peanut Butter Muffins

2 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¼ cup margarine
¼ cup chunk-style peanut butter
1 cup milk

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together into mixing bowl. Make well in center. Beat eggs until foamy. Melt margarine and peanut butter in small sauce pan.

ADD TO EGGS and stir in milk. Pour into well in dry ingredients and stir, lightly and quickly, just until flour mixture is moistened. Batter should be lumpy.

Pour into greased muffin pans, filling cups 2/3 full. Bake in 425 degrees oven, 25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 10 to 12 medium-sized muffins.

Fruit Salad Dressings

Try one of these dressings to turn a combination of fruits in season into a very special salad.

Peanut Mayonnaise: combine two tablespoons chunk-style peanut butter and one teaspoon grated lemon rind. Gradually blend in one cup of real mayonnaise Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fluffy Orange Mayonnaise: Blend ¾ cup real mayonnaise with ¼ cup orange juice, one teaspoon grated orange rind and 1½ teaspoons confectioner's sugar. Beat one egg white until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Fold in mayonnaise mixture.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Currant-Nut Mayonnaise: Beat ¼ cup currant jelly with rotary beater until smooth. Gradually blend in one cup of real mayonnaise. Mix in three tablespoons chopped nuts. Makes 8 to 10 servings. (SH

Commissioner Offers Report On Wood Dale Road Problems

There have been so many phone calls about our roads that I felt a statement regarding our plans and our problems was called for and that it would reach the greatest number of villagers through the newspaper. This article may not please a great number of you, but it will call a "spade a spade."

The most repeated question is "what are you doing with our $10 vehicle tax?" and, although many of you are familiar with the sizeable amount you invested in a black-top driveway, you still feel your $10 tax should black-top a road past your home.

In the first place, the increase in vehicle tax was never intended to rebuild the entire road-system of Wood Dale but was to meet the increased demands for road maintenance.

In the spring of 1960, you may recall, we could hardly get in or out of our streets after a particularly rough winter. We had knee deep mud and in many places the spring thaw raised the street 12 to 15 inches high. Most real estate people would not even handle the sale of property in our village because of the condition of our roads.

THE VILLAGE spent $6,700.00 just for gravel to cover the mud and get people in and out of town. This gravel was ordered on my authority because I felt it was an extreme necessity.

I also knew when the gravel was ordered that the only way the village could ever hope to recover this expense was to increase the vehicle tax. I also ordered half of the village streets tarred and chipped at that time, and the cost for that work was a little more than $11,000. This figure does not include gas, oil, tires, repairs, insurances, or another miscellaneous costs.

The tarring and chipping I hoped would end our eternal "to oil or not to oil" problem. Half of the people complained about the dust, before the oiling, and the other half of the people would complain after the oiling. "We can't open our windows, we can't hang out clean washed clothes, we can't breathe." These are the dust complaints. "You are ruining our cars, our rugs, our shoes and everything else with that lousy oil of yours." These are the oil complaints.

LAST YEAR when one-half of the roads were tarred and chipped many persons were kind enough to call and express their thanks for a somewhat improved road.

This year some of the same people are calling to complain on how the roads are breaking up. We can no longer hold these roads together with chewing gum and baling wire with the amount of traffic our streets are getting.

I am sorry to say that many of these complaints will have to go unanswered until the second half of our roads receive their first treatment of tar and chip. To those of you whose street received treatment last year, try to appreciate the fact that half of our people got nothing. Give them a chance to get what they rightfully have coming. They pay a vehicle tax too.

FOR THOSE of you whose street has not been treated I can only say it is our plan to do them all.

Just how far we get depends on many things; weather, manpower, materials, and work output. The village has only one man and a helper, who are doing their best. It took us quite some time this year to find a good helper. How many of you would do this work for $1.50 per hour. Our road superintendent, George Filczer, has just been raised to $4,700 per year. Not only does this man make very little money, but he has to listen to all of the complaints, and take the abuse of inconsiderate people. This man is only earning his living. His orders come from either the village council or me. He should not bear the brunt of your anger.

MOST OF THE summer we have been begging or borrowing materials to patch the worst of our holes. Just last week were we able to start tarring and chipping. I have been making every excuse under the sun for why we are not farther along than we are, and I am tired of these excuses myself.

The real reason is that our credit is very bad. It seems the village has been busy paying every bill that comes in except those that apply to the road dept., our two biggest creditors being Chicago-Elmhurst Stone co. and the Lenz Oil co. Not until our road man told me that he was no longer able to get materials from either party was I fully aware of just how little had been paid to these people.

The $12,000 we all paid in vehicle tax was used for everything else but road bills. As late as last week we still owed $8,000 for materials from both companies. It wasn't until last week that the mayor demanded that checks be made out for at least $500.00 to each company along with his promise that more would be paid shortly. It was on this assurance that both companies agreed to furnish some materials.

I PERSONALLY do not believe that either company could have been more fair and patient with us than they have been. They have been waiting for almost one year. Not only do we buy from these people at reasonable prices, the Lenz Oil co. allows us to use, at no cost, their spreader for spreading the chips onto the hot tar. Without this it would cost an additional $25 per day to rent one. Our way of making payouts on past due bills is a disgrace, and only the members of the council are to blame.

As to the question of what is going to be done about our road and drainage problems, I cannot speak for the council. What will be done and what I would like to see done might be two different things. This is a question perhaps you should answer, and it should be done by both council action and a referendum.

I personally am for cleaning up the entire village in one year and at one crack. A referendum could be called whereas the people can vote on a road and drainage program. The entire village could be done at one time with regard to drainage and black-top roads. One is nothing without the other. Either one done alone is a waste of money. I sincerely believe that each parcel of property should be reasonably assessed with the balance of funds (motor fuel tax funds) and long term G.O. bonds. (20 or 30 years)

YOU MAY not agree with this but I hope you will give it some thought. I'm sure we all could write a book about Wood Dale, but this, or any other village, is only as good as the people are interested in making it.

We all like to criticize, but, instead you could decide to sacrifice a little and, constructively do something to improve our village.

Car Insurance Plight Cited

I was interested in your article pertaining to the insurance problem of the underage, unmarried, male driver. Since we specialize in this type of risk we are familiar with the problem.

Your article indicated that you had checked with some insurance companies and all said they would insure the single male driver under age 25. I would be delighted if you would supply me with the names of these companies since the market for this type of risk is limited, and about 85 per cent of the companies with which I am familiar are unwilling to insure this group.

There are a number of inaccuracies in the article, particularly in regard to costs. Specifically, a standard risk policyholder who is single, male, under age 25, and living in this area would pay us $206.60 for a policy giving him the basic coverages of $10/20,000 bodily injury liability and $5,000 property damage. If he increased his property damage coverage to $10,000, his premium would only be increased to $212.70 which is far short of the average of $250.00 stated in the article. Your author further wrote that a standard risk policy holder in this same class could pay as much as $430.00 for a policy affording him $50/-100,000 bodily injury liability and $10,000 property damage coverage. I suppose that this is possible, but anyone paying that kind of premium for that amount of insurance would be foolish, since he could purchase the same coverage elsewhere for $254.14. Rates for this class of business are high enough now, so please don't make them worse than they really are.

THE ILLINOIS Assigned Risk Plan is designed to provide the minimum required insurance for those people who are unable (for many reasons) to get a policy elsewhere, but all too often people are in this plan who need not be. Many agents or brokers are unable or unwilling to offer a better alternative and so they get insurance for their client through the plan. Sharp Reply For Hoffman

Who is Dick Hoffmann? From where did he come? What are his credentials giving him a right to present a series of conclusions to the fact that "All are in Danger" (Mount Prospect Herald July 20, 1961)?

I have "news" for Mr. Hoffmann — most of us know we

I have "news" for Mr. Hoffmann — most of us know we "all are in danger" in the context Mr. Hoffmann belabors. I have some more news" for Mr. Hoffmann — many of his readers also know — or suspect — we "all are in danger" if leadership and responsible journalism is represented by para-intellectuals such as Mr. Hoffmann.

Candidly, I cannot fathom why a reputable newspaper can devote about 20 per cent of its editorial page to a by-line from an individual for the purpose or apparent purpose of attempting to influence the public by the presentation of a warmed-up hash of statements (possibly out of context) of Walter Lippman, General MacArthur, etc. - seasoned with such a mouth puckering sauce as "German mentality" . . . "militarists . . ." etc.

THE ONLY purpose I can see Mr. Hoffmann has in his article is to create fear, hoping through fear to influence his readers to not support the use of force (and I include nuclear force) if a possible choice of surrender or die is forced upon us. I say "possible" because this is not the only alternate - even if there is nuclear war. Here lies the crux of Mr. Hoffmann's "anachronism."

Philosophically he does not believe the continuation of our Western Heritage is worth the price of nuclear war. Would he substitute a few Pasternaks for the heritage of Western culture since the time of Greece? Personally, I'll take my chances (and I think they are better) on survival of a conflict which may decimate my economic wealth but leave my spirit intact.

One final thought, least I be labelled a "warmonger" by Mr. Hoffmann and his ilk; negotiate if there is true negotiation of our mutual interests - interests because we cannot currently negotiate our differences. Mr. K. has just this week again affirmed that Russia will use military means to obtain its ends if "negotiations" do not give them those ends. Consequently, if our enemies insist on obtaining its ends through either "negotiating" concessions or through military adventure we had better be ready to use force.

J. A. Corrigan
Mount Prospect

P.S.

To reduce Mr. Hoffmann's contention on "German mentality" to "ad absurdum," may I ask what is his ethnic background?

Mr. James McCabe of Palatine, and Miss Isabelle Dohmeyer of Barrington were married Tuesday. Mr. McCabe has lived here all his life and is known to all in Palatine as a young man of exceptional merits and one sure to make a success in the world.

Schaumburg: Ten loads of new potatoes went from here to Elgin last week.

H. E. Quindel nearly broke his back lifting eighteen pounds of ice.

The Schaumburg Band has been engaged to furnish music for the Fairfield Church- Missions Fest, near Gilmer, Lake County.

Frederich Heinrich William Fasse, aged 19 years, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Fasse, met a sad death July 15. While on his way home from hauling hay to Roselle, his team took fright. He was thrown from the wagon but his foot caught in the hay rack. The team ran home two miles, dragging the young man on the gravel road.

Meacham: R. Baker is hauling corn to Harlem. He gets 45 cents per bushel.

Mr. Wertz lost a lot of hay which was set on fire by sparks from a passing train. They had to plow to keep the fire from the M. E. Church.

Wheeling: Fred and Chester had quite an exciting time one morning last week. Fred lost his hat and jumping off to get it, his horse started to run and caught Chester's hind wheel, capsizing both buggies and spilling the milk all over town. Then Fred's horse ran away, throwing one wheel clear over the fence and the other rolling down hill.

Aptakisic: Garlic is being proved to be a most unhealthy article to plant, causing headache, backache, kneeache, rheumatism, nausea, and other stomach ailments, dizziness, fainting, and sunstroke. And still they plant it, and always more.

Arlington Heights: Ed Durban had his left leg broken twice in two in a scuffle at Milbratz auction last Saturday.

The pupils who graduated from the eighth grade this June presented their teacher, Mr. N. M. Banta, a fine chair, as a wedding gift.

E. B. Wheeler's home is crowded with reporters from the city who come to enjoy country air, eat pure food, including fresh milk and genuine dairy butter at the "Pineries."

The Arlington Heights Military Band will give a grand moonlight picnic in Meyer's Park after the Almira Club leaves on the 9 p.m. train for Chicago, Sunday, July 21.

The Chicago Telephone Co. has added ten phones to its exchange here this week: F. E. Davis store, Fred Sieburg market, Knigg Bros., Union Hotel, Uriel Reese, livery and furniture store; H. W. Boeger and Sons, coal and lumber office; E. N. Berbecker, A. T. Kates, R. Bray, Burton Noyes and J. J. Dietrich, residences.

Wednesday July 17, at 3 p.m. occurred the marriage of Miss Minnie E. Muller to Mr. N. Moore Banta.

The Village Board held a special session at the Village Hall Thursday evening to confer with the special committee Messrs. Peter Beyer, Dr. Best, Hon. Wm. Thiemann, U. A. Reese and Christian Volz, who were appointed at the recent mass meeting to sound the taxpayers out on the now all-important question of water works. The committee which is composed of the most influential and most successful men in town in the management of their own affairs, showed a vital interest in water works. They reported about two-thirds of the taxpayers interviewed favored a system of water works, but three-fourths of these thought it should be done by general taxation rather than special assessment.

Arlington Heights: Work on the new sewer system for Arlington Heights will begin as soon as the contract can be let. By mutual agreement all the objectors gave their consent and the special assessment was confirmed in the county court July 7.

W. W. Guild has taken down the steeple and bell of the Presbyterian church. He will have the old church moved in two weeks to his residence lot so the trustees can start work early in August on the new Presbyterian Church.

At last Arlington Heights has found a real baseball team. The Arlington Colts, which was organized recently played their first game last Sunday at Park Ridge. The Colts line up: Baker, 3d base; Traub, 1st base; Mors, S. Stop; Toepfer, catcher; Beoger, 2d base; Hieber, O. Field; Duinn, pitcher; Niemeyer, R. Field and Guild, L. Field.

Arlington Heights: The cleanup asked of the Village Board by the Woman's club, Parent-Teacher Assn., and Boy Scout Committee, has been started by your Uncle Sam. About 20 agents of the Federal Government landed in town Tuesday afternoon, with a definite schedule of six raids, and found liquor in every one of their scheduled stops. Arrests were made and arrested persons arraigned next morning before U. S. Commissioner Walker, and it is probable that some of the places will be padlocked on federal injunction for one year. At one place they found a small brewery, 3400 quarts of home brew beer, wine, whiskey, and some home brew mash in process of fermentation. The others all had home brew beer, colored spirits (whiskey) wine, gin, etc.

Three hundred fifty-five gallons of water a minute is the most to be had from the Arlington Heights village water system, running pumps at four wells at a time, according to tests made last week by the Village Board water Committee, Trustee Albert Goedke, chairman. This means that 355 gallons of water a minute has to take care of 5,000 people in hot weather, plus many visitors during the racing season.

Christian Niemeyer, one of Arlington Heights' two surviving Civil War veterans, died last Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Scheunemann, of Palatine. Mr. Niemeyer, 80, a member of General Willich post of the Grand Army of the Republic; he served for four years in Company H, Fourth Missouri cavalry, enlisting in the fall of 1861, again in 1863, and was mustered out only when the war was over. The last Civil War veteran remaining in Arlington Heights is Mr. Robert Reed of East Euclid Ave.

Arlington Heights: A sad accident Friday, July 15, when a team of mules ran away, caused the death of Fred Albrecht, Jr. Klehms' Nurseries had a force of men harvesting hay on the East side of town. Mr. Albrecht and Chas. Trost had just completed loading and were starting for home. Both were on the load, when Mr. Albrecht dropped one of the lines. He got onto the wagon tongue to pick them up, the mules took fright, rushed ahead, turning into Miner street, Mr. Albrecht being thrown under their feet. Trost leaped from the load just before it was spilled over. Fred Albrecht, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Albrecht, was born Oct. 10, 1883.

Great plans are being made to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mrs. Mary Kennicott, our towns-woman, on August 2d.

County and State are to pay cash for right-of-way along Route 53, and will hasten road construction. A meeting of property owners along the proposed Route 53 was held at Palatine Tuesday evening when the property owners of Palatine and Elk Grove townships affected by this route, gathered at the Village Hall to meet with members of Cook County board and representatives of the State and County highway departments. Homer J. Bird, chairman of the road and bridge committee of the Cook County Board called the meeting to order and introduced County Board President Emmett Whealan.

Arlington Heights: Arlington Heights is becoming a real city, and it costs real money to operate it along city lines. The budget of $83,000 for 1941-1942 passed last month was $15,000 greater than the previous year.

The housewives of our town are demonstrating this week their willingness to do their part for national defense by turning over surplus aluminumware to the local committee, headed by Homer J. Byrd. Boy Scouts in uniform, each wearing a badge reading "Authorized collector of aluminum for defense" are doing the actual collecting.

Palatine: The cornerstone for the new St. Theresa Catholic Church building at Palatine will be laid Sunday by Father Raymond Hillinger. Some 75 families now compose the parish of St. Theresa church, three times the number that rented the old, village hall and started St. Theresa church in 1930. (1961—1700 families). The little group in the village hall were able to muster $1,243 in its initial fund drive, which was gradually increased to $5,000.

Tabasco Brings African Bean Bredee To America

With Africa and its newly independent nations garnering so much of the headlines these days, the once-dark continent is in sharper focus than ever before.

An awareness of Africa's culture, customs and way of life is even finding its way into the kitchen. From South Africa comes a favorite dish of the local residents called Bean Bredee, adapted to American cooking in the recipe that follows.

BEAN BREDEE is a thick stew made from lamb, which is eaten extensively in South Africa. Contents: dried pea beans, tomato, apple, raisins and a variety of seasonings including Tabasco, the zesty liquid red pepper, are found on all the continents.

If you're planning a party on a warm summer night you can really have some fun with this dish by providing a colorful table setting for it.

Create a lot of atmosphere with a little imagination by using straw place mats and wooden serving dishes and for added decor carved masks, figurines and china or stuffed toy jungle animals.

Bean Bredee

1 cup dried pea beans
4 cups water, divided
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 pounds lamb shoulder, cut in 1½-inch pieces
1 cup chopped onion
4 medium tomatoes, chopped
2½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder, optional
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 medium sour apple, chopped
½ cup seedless raisins

Cover beans with 2 cups of the water; bring to a boil. Remove from heat; soak one hour. Drain and cover with remaining 2 cups water. Bring to a boil; cook over medium heat one hour. Drain.

While beans are cooking, heat oil in a heavy saucepan or Dutch oven. Add meat and onion; brown meat well on all sides. Stir in tomatoes, salt and Tabasco.

Cover tightly and cook over low heat 30 minutes. Blend together curry powder and sugar; stir in ¼ cup water and vinegar. Combine with meat mixture.

Add drained beans, apple and raisins. Cover and cook over low heat 45 minutes, or until meat is tender. Add small amount of water, if necessary. (The stew should be quite thick). Yield: 4 servings. (SH

FROM AFRICA TO AMERICA comes Bean Bredee, a thick stew made with lamb, dried pea beans, tomato, apple and raisins, with a variety of seasonings including Tabasco. The recipe, adapted for use here, is delightfully different for entertaining.

Pep Up Garden Vegetables With 3 New Sauce Recipes

Best vegetables deserve the very best sauces. Whether you are enjoying fresh vegetables from a home garden or the fine selection in local markets representing the best from all parts of the country, prepare them with care.

The simplest sauce, and one that is suitable over both boiled and broiled vegetables, is Tabasco Butter. The liquid red peper seasoning can be easily stirred into melted butter, leaving no unsightly specks.

ITS PURE pepper flavor provides just the lift vegetables require.

Chili sauce, onion and other seasonings can be added to Tabasco Butter for a sauce delicious on spinach, asparagus or beans. Suitable with cauliflower, potatoes and onions is an easy-to-make cheese sauce that also depends upon Tabasco for pep.

Tabasco Butter Sauce

1/4 cup butter
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco

Melt butter; stir in Tabasco. Serve on vegetables, using two teaspoons per serving. If desired, one tablespoon lime or lemon juice may be added to serve with seafood, or to brush over broiled steak or chicken. Yield: ¼ cup.

Tabasco Chili Butter Sauce

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Melt butter in small saucepan; add onion and cook over low heat until onion is tender but not brown. Add remaining ingredients, mix well. Heat. Serve over hot cooked spinach, asparagus or beans. Yield: six servings.

Shortcut Cheese Sauce

½ pound processed American cheese, shredded
⅓ cup milk
¼ teaspoon Tabasco

Melt cheese with milk in top of double boiler. Add Tabasco. Serve over cooked cauliflower, potatoes or onions. Yield: Six servings. (SH

Homemade Muffins Know All Seasons

Yes, even in the hottest weather it's best to serve one warm or hot food at each meal. This practice contributes to good digestion and a feeling of well being.

For example, if a chilled fruit salad and iced beverage are planned for the mid-day meal, some type of hot bread would provide the needed temperature balance.

Homemade muffins are always good and peanut butter ones are different and especially tempting

Peanut Butter Muffins

2 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¼ cup margarine
¼ cup chunk-style peanut butter
1 cup milk

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together into mixing bowl. Make well in center. Beat eggs until foamy. Melt margarine and peanut butter in small sauce pan.

ADD TO EGGS and stir in milk. Pour into well in dry ingredients and stir, lightly and quickly, just until flour mixture is moistened. Batter should be lumpy.

Pour into greased muffin pans, filling cups 2/3 full. Bake in 425 degrees oven, 25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 10 to 12 medium-sized muffins.

Fruit Salad Dressings

Try one of these dressings to turn a combination of fruits in season into a very special salad.

Peanut Mayonnaise: combine two tablespoons chunk-style peanut butter and one teaspoon grated lemon rind. Gradually blend in one cup of real mayonnaise Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fluffy Orange Mayonnaise: Blend ¾ cup real mayonnaise with ¼ cup orange juice, one teaspoon grated orange rind and 1½ teaspoons confectioner's sugar. Beat one egg white until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Fold in mayonnaise mixture.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Currant-Nut Mayonnaise: Beat ¼ cup currant jelly with rotary beater until smooth. Gradually blend in one cup of real mayonnaise. Mix in three tablespoons chopped nuts. Makes 8 to 10 servings. (SH

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 YEARS AGO
July 20, 1901

Palatine: H. C. Matthei and Co. have purchased one of the latest commuting scales. The machine cost $175.

H. J. Reese brought a sample of prize rye for exhibition at Enterprise office. It is over 6 feet high.

The Board of Education have engaged all the teachers for the coming year. They are: W. L. Smyser, principal and high school; Miss Mary I. Kean of Evanston, assistant; Miss Hallie Mason of Columbia City, Ind.

A Carter Harrison League is being formed in the country towns of Cook County.

Mr. John Joachin Fritz Knoll, born in Germany Dec. 7, 1824;, died July 16.

Mr. James McCabe of Palatine, and Miss Isabelle Dohmeyer of Barrington were married Tuesday. Mr. McCabe has lived here all his life and is known to all in Palatine as a young man of exceptional merits and one sure to make a success in the world.

Schaumburg: Ten loads of new potatoes went from here to Elgin last week.

H. E. Quindel nearly broke his back lifting eighteen pounds of ice.

The Schaumburg Band has been engaged to furnish music for the Fairfield Church Missions Fest, near Gilmer, Lake County.

Frederich Heinrich William Fasse, aged 19 years, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Fasse, met a sad death July 15. While on his way home from hauling hay to Roselle, his team took fright. He was thrown from the wagon but his foot caught in the hay rack. The team ran home two miles, dragging the young man on the gravel road.

Meacham: R. Baker is hauling corn to Harlem. He gets 45 cents per bushel.

Mr. Wertz lost a lot of hay which was set on fire by sparks from a passing train. They had to plow to keep the fire from the M. E. Church.

Wheeling: Fred and Chester had quite an exciting time one morning last week. Fred lost his hat and jumping off to get it, his horse started to run and caught Chester's hind wheel, capsizing both buggies and spilling the milk all over town. Then Fred's horse ran away, throwing one wheel clear over the fence and the other rolling down hill.

Aptakisic: Garlic is being proved to be a most unhealthy article to plant, causing headache, backache, kneeache, rheumatism, nausea, and other stomach ailments, dizziness, fainting, and sunstroke. And still they plant it, and always more.

Arlington Heights: Ed Durban had his left leg broken twice in two in a scuffle at Milbratz auction last Saturday.

The pupils who graduated from the eighth grade this June presented their teacher, Mr. N. M. Banta, a fine chair, as a wedding gift.

E. B. Wheeler's home is crowded with reporters from the city who come to enjoy country air, eat pure food, including fresh milk and genuine dairy butter at the "Pineries."

The Arlington Heights Military Band will give a grand moonlight picnic in Meyer's Park after the Almira Club leaves on the 9 p.m. train for Chicago, Sunday, July 21.

The Chicago Telephone Co. has added ten phones to its exchange here this week: F. E. Davis store, Fred Sieburg market, Knigg Bros., Union Hotel, Uriel Reese, livery and furniture store; H. W. Boeger and Sons, coal and lumber office; E. N. Berbecker, A. T. Kates, R. Bray, Burton Noyes and J. J. Dietrich, residences.

Wednesday July 17, at 3 p.m. occurred the marriage of Miss Minnie E. Muller to Mr. N. Moore Banta.

The Village Board held a special session at the Village Hall Thursday evening to confer with the special committee Messrs. Peter Beyer, Dr. Best, Hon. Wm. Thiemann, U. A. Reese and Christian Volz, who were appointed at the recent mass meeting to sound the taxpayers out on the now all-important question of water works. The committee which is composed of the most influential and most successful men in town in the management of their own affairs, showed a vital interest in water works. They reported about two-thirds of the taxpayers interviewed favored a system of water works, but three-fourths of these thought it should be done by general taxation rather than special assessment.

Arlington Heights: Work on the new sewer system for Arlington Heights will begin as soon as the contract can be let. By mutual agreement all the objectors gave their consent and the special assessment was confirmed in the county court July 7.

W. W. Guild has taken down the steeple and bell of the Presbyterian church. He will have the old church moved in two weeks to his residence lot so the trustees can start work early in August on the new Presbyterian Church.

At last Arlington Heights has found a real baseball team. The Arlington Colts, which was organized recently played their first game last Sunday at Park Ridge. The Colts line up: Baker, 3d base; Traub, 1st base; Mors, S. Stop; Toepfer, catcher; Beoger, 2d base; Hieber, O. Field; Duinn, pitcher; Niemeyer, R. Field and Guild, L. Field.

Arlington Heights: The cleanup asked of the Village Board by the Woman's club, Parent-Teacher Assn., and Boy Scout Committee, has been started by your Uncle Sam. About 20 agents of the Federal Government landed in town Tuesday afternoon, with a definite schedule of six raids, and found liquor in every one of their scheduled stops. Arrests were made and arrested persons arraigned next morning before U. S. Commissioner Walker, and it is probable that some of the places will be padlocked on federal injunction for one year. At one place they found a small brewery, 3400 quarts of home brew beer, wine, whiskey, and some home brew mash in process of fermentation. The others all had home brew beer, colored spirits (whiskey) wine, gin, etc.

Three hundred fifty-five gallons of water a minute is the most to be had from the Arlington Heights village water system, running pumps at four wells at a time, according to tests made last week by the Village Board water Committee, Trustee Albert Goedke, chairman. This means that 355 gallons of water a minute has to take care of 5,000 people in hot weather, plus many visitors during the racing season.

Christian Niemeyer, one of Arlington Heights' two surviving Civil War veterans, died last Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Scheunemann, of Palatine. Mr. Niemeyer, 80, a member of General Willich post of the Grand Army of the Republic; he served for four years in Company H, Fourth Missouri cavalry, enlisting in the fall of 1861, again in 1863, and was mustered out only when the war was over. The last Civil War veteran remaining in Arlington Heights is Mr. Robert Reed of East Euclid Ave.

Arlington Heights: A sad accident Friday, July 15, when a team of mules ran away, caused the death of Fred Albrecht, Jr. Klehms' Nurseries had a force of men harvesting hay on the East side of town. Mr. Albrecht and Chas. Trost had just completed loading and were starting for home. Both were on the load, when Mr. Albrecht dropped one of the lines. He got onto the wagon tongue to pick them up, the mules took fright, rushed ahead, turning into Miner street, Mr. Albrecht being thrown under their feet. Trost leaped from the load just before it was spilled over. Fred Albrecht, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Albrecht, was born Oct. 10, 1883.

Great plans are being made to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mrs. Mary Kennicott, our towns-woman, on August 2d.

Mr. Fred Meyer, Jr. who lives on the old Warwick farm, was overcome by the heat, Monday.

George Dunton and his mother recently bought a new automobile and George is already proving himself a skillful driver.

Palatine: Net receipts of the American Legion Fourth of July activities are over $260.

Palatine: Mr. Henry Senne, a Palatine resident for many years, died at the home of his daughter, Adeline, Thursday evening.

County and State are to pay cash for right-of-way along Route 53, and will hasten road construction. A meeting of property owners along the proposed Route 53 was held at Palatine Tuesday evening when the property owners of Palatine and Elk Grove townships affected by this route, gathered at the Village Hall to meet with members of Cook County board and representatives of the State and County highway departments. Homer J. Bird, chairman of the road and bridge committee of the Cook County Board called the meeting to order and introduced County Board President Emmett Whealan.

Arlington Heights: Arlington Heights is becoming a real city, and it costs real money to operate it along city lines. The budget of $83,000 for 1941-1942 passed last month was $15,000 greater than the previous year.

The housewives of our town are demonstrating this week their willingness to do their part for national defense by turning over surplus aluminumware to the local committee, headed by Homer J. Byrd. Boy Scouts in uniform, each wearing a badge reading "Authorized collector of aluminum for defense" are doing the actual collecting.

Palatine: The cornerstone for the new St. Theresa Catholic Church building at Palatine will be laid Sunday by Father Raymond Hillinger. Some 75 families now compose the parish of St. Theresa church, three times the number that rented the old, village hall and started St. Theresa church in 1930. (1961—1700 families). The little group in the village hall were able to muster $1,243 in its initial fund drive, which was gradually increased to $5,000.

Here's How to Look Like Great Artist

By LUCILE ERNST

I'm sorry I can't tell anyone how to be a great artist. No one can. If I or they could, instead of talking, I or they would be one. Having more than a nodding acquaintance with the arty set, I do know, however, how to look like a great artist. It is easy.

First, one must believe in oneself. No matter what anyone else believes, you must think you have an inside track on all knowledge and wisdom. Be sure you keep your brush and palette prominently displayed for otherwise this quality marks you as an egomaniac. Carried to the proper extreme, you can be considered just a plain old maniac and will be put away. As long as you are an artist, however, it will be considered a sign of genius.

NEVER, under any circumstances, should you learn anything about the history of mankind. Though art is a reflection of what people were or did in any period, discount all this when it comes to your painting. You are not influenced by anything but your almighty genius.

This attitude will help to keep you from learning anything about art before the twentieth century, those irrational days of learning craftmanship and boring technique. This is the sort of thing that gets in the way of sheer inspiration, in case you have any.

Most art schools will aid and abet your cause. Any effort to learn anything about the more mundane details of art are dismissed with a frown in most of our art schools.

DESPISE humanity. This in itself will show how superior you are. Don't lower yourself to trying to understand ordinary human beings. They aren't worth it. Get all your information from a psychology text book. This will assure you a place of honor among other people who achieve all their understanding of humanity from a psychology text book.

Knock all artists who paint in any way differently than you do. If any idiot should consider actually buying a painting, other than your own, be sure to point out how inferior the artist is. Despair openly of the ordinary man ever gaining any insight into what art is and isn't, in case you know. Be especially sure to knock the confidence out of anyone who is trying to learn about art. Show them by sneering at their pathetic efforts that they can never achieve your great wisdom and knowledge.

Never under any circumstances try and make art understandable. If you condescend to discuss the subject always use words that no one can understand, following the example of the leading art magazines. In this way, you keep from being left out on a limb. In case some one else, who is more of a genius than you, says a painting is spiritual, you didn't say it wasn't. No one knows what you said.

I CAN GUARANTEE if you will follow the procedure I have outlined, you will be considered a great artist among the arty sets. Of course, you will die unmourned by other human beings, such as family, neighbors, and would-be friends. As for the future, they will never know your name nor paintings.

They will honor the man who could love deeply, be hurt deeply, understand his own times and live within and beyond them.

This is the surest lesson history has to teach and one a pseudo artist never learns. It is a lesson a real artist does not have to learn since he can do nothing but paint what is true. (Bill

Al Hirt Is Scheduled for Edgewater Beach Playhouse

Bearded, jovial, exciting Al Hirt — called the "world's greatest horn" by critics everywhere — stars in the first musical presentation ever seen at the Edgewater Beach Playhouse, for one week only, August 1-6.

The demand has been so great for tickets that an extra performance was added on Sunday, August 6, so that the great showman will be seen with his fabulous jazz program twice nightly on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 4-5-6, at 7 and 10 p.m. each evening. Other nights will have single performances.

NO NAME in show business has risen to such rapid heights in the past year as the gifted Al Hirt. His sweep to the top has been witnessed by multi-millions, on the Dinah Shore show, the Ed Sullivan show, and in his jazz programs in the biggest theatres and arenas in America.

Time, Life, Newsweek and many other national periodicals have hailed Al Hirt in the most lavish terms. Life wrote: "Stomping on the bandstand, the trumpet-blowing behemoth looked, quite literally, as though he might bring the house down. Al Hirt, 6-foot-2 and 300 pounds, really throws his weight around when he plays. But it is not so much his razzle-dazzle mugging as his distinctive jazz style that has catapulted him from a New Orleans saloon to the nation-wide night-club circuit at $8,500 a week."

HIRT HAS a classical background, from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, played with Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Ray McKinelly and Horace Heidt, then settled in New Orleans where his fame came out of the colorful Dan's Pier 600. He appears with symphony orchestras as brilliantly as in jazz rooms and on TV.

The Playhouse has performances on Sunday at 7, Tuesday through Thursday at 8:30, two performances on Friday at 7 and 10, two performances on Saturday at 7 and 10 and for this performance two on Sunday at 7 and 10.

There are no Monday performances. For information call LO 1-6308. (Bill

Hawaiian Luau Craze Sweeps Area-Complete Plans Herein

by LOIS SEILER

With Hawaii fast becoming one of the most popular vacation spots in the United States, the Hawaiian Luau is becoming equally as popular as a party theme on the mainland.

For the past four years the Frank Stratman family of Arlington Heights has given backyard luaus and their parties have been so successful that this year they are planning two!

"We love giving big parties," explained Mrs. Stratman, "and I especially enjoy cooking for special occasions when I can be really creative."

Mrs. Stratman is not only creative, but both she and her husband are imaginative and resourceful as well. A good deal of research and planning preceeded their first luau, but through the years they have become experts in luau "know-how" and have even organized a complete shopping list to satisfy the needs of 24 guests.

THE MENU IS authentically Hawaiian except for the assorted breads." commented Mrs. Stratman. "We compiled the recipes from various cook books, magazines and restaurants and some of the recipes, such as the barbecued ribs, we have changed during the years to suit our taste."

"All of our guests enter into the spirit of the party too," said Mrs. Stratman, "which helps to make it a success. The women wear sarongs, muumuus, or grass skirts and the men are attired in Hawaiian shirts, clam digger pants, straw hats and other ingenious costumes. We furnish leis for everyone and of course everybody goes barefoot."

TO EFFECT THE appropriate atmosphere, soft Hawaiian music is played on the phonograph, and the patio is available for dancing. The soft glow of citronella candles and kerosene torches light the yard and keep mosquitoes from venturing near. This is a perfect setting for the "feast," which goes on most of the evening making any additional entertainment unnecessary.

To start the festivities, Passion Punch Cocktails are served first with several hors d' oeuvres of the "cook it yourself" variety. Hibachis are set up on a number of low tables, around which guests gather to cook their own appetizers.

SUCH TEMPTING tidbits as Po Po (tiny meat balls rolled in Romano cheese), Beef Teriyaki (marinated strips of beef) and Rumaki (chicken livers and water chestnuts rolled up in bacon), are grilled over the hibachis on bamboo skewers.

Grilled garlic shrimp, coconut chips, pineapple chunks and macadamia nuts complete this tempting assortment of hors d' oeuvres and whet the appetite of guests for the food yet to come.

"When everyone seems to have their fill, watermelon punch is brought out along with the main course," said Mrs. Stratman.

Mr. Stratman makes the watermelon punch from his own original recipe. This is done several days prior to the party.

A SECTION is cut from each watermelon, the meat removed and all excess water drained free. The pulp is mixed in a blender with lime, orange juice and other ingredients, then returned to the melon. The cap is sealed with paraffin and the punch is chilled for at least 36 hous.

Before serving holes are pierced in the melon for inserting drinking straws. One melon serves 12 to 18 persons.

This punch is sipped while the guests munch on delicious fried chicken, barbecued ribs, Hona Pow Salad and assorted breads. To top off the meal there is Kona coffee and fortune cookies.

As is obvious from the scope of this menu, much of the preparation must be done in advance.

MRS. STRATMAN prepares all of the food the week preceding the party and Mr. Stratman has all of the beverages mixed in advance. Chicken is fried ahead of time, wrapped in foil and re-heated before serving.

The spareribs, too, are precoked and need only be grilled for 15 to 20 minutes on the outdoor barbecue. "My husband has a bit of the 'ham' in him," Mrs. Stratman jokingly admitted, "and he likes the spare ribs left in long strips so he can flip them on the grill and cut them with a flourish before serving the guests."

Everything is eaten with the fingers except the Hona Pow Salad which Mrs. Stratman serves in paper ice cream cups. This unusual salad combines onions, tomatoes, celery, cucumber, chives, parsley and mushrooms with several seasonings as well as tomato juice. It is quite juicy but very flavorful.

MOST OF THE essentials for this party can be purchased locally from your favorite grocer, but a few of the items, such as the Kona coffee and Macadamia nuts can be found at Stop and Shop in Chicago and the bamboo skewers at Trader Vics or Marshall Fields.

No novice is Mrs. Stratman at giving unusual parties, for she and her husband have given a variety of unique parties ranging from corned beef and cabbage St. Patrick's Day dinners to real "honest-to-gosh" pig roasts.

None of the work involved in planning a luau daunts charming Mrs. Stratman, who thrives on this creative-type cooking. And with all the work behind her, she can thoroughly enjoy her own party.

IF YOU FOLLOW her very complete and detailed instructions for a luau, you, too, can become an expert party giver and have lots of fun to boot!

The Stratmans moved from Glen Rock, N. J., to their home at 830 S. Burton in Arlington Heights three years ago. They have four children: Frank, almost 12; Teri, 9; Debbie, 8, and Cindy, who is 3½.

Mrs. Stratman is a member of the Junior Woman's club and Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Women's club.

Shopping List for Luau
(Planned for 24 guests)

4 pounds shrimp
3 pounds round steak
2 pounds ground round steak
2 pounds chicken livers
2 pounds bacon
15 pounds meaty spare ribs
15 chicken breasts, quartered
2 cans coconut chips
4 cans fresh frozen pineapple chunks
1 can water chestnuts
1 jar Ramano cheese
1 pound Kona coffee
2 jars Macadamia nuts
1 pound butter
15 cans frozen limeade
3 cans frozen orange juice
2 watermelons (large)
Plastic straws
4 boxes fortune cookies

Makings for Hona Pow Salad

Assorted breads (Golden, Oatmeal, Hovis Corn and Molasses, Party Rye and Pumpernickel).

Po Po

2 pounds round steak, ground twice
1 jar Ramano cheese

Season ground round steak to taste. Form in balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Roll in Ramano cheese. Insert bamboo skewers. Refrigerate until time of serving. Grill over hibachis.

Beef Teriyaki

3 pounds round steak
½ cup soy sauce
2 tablespons sherry
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons grated fresh ginger
1 clove garlic, grated

Have the butcher cut round steak into thin strips. Combine soy sauce, sherry, sugar, ginger and garlic. Marinate beef in this sauce overnight.

Ripple the meat on bamboo skewers. Refrigerate until time of serving. Grill over hibachis just long enough to sear on all sides.

Rumaki

1½ pounds chicken livers
1½ pounds medium sliced bacon
1 can water chestnuts

Cut chicken livers and bacon slices in halves. Slice water chestnuts in 3 rounds each. Arrange bacon slices on a tray in a 325 degree oven and cook until they are translucent and a good deal of the fat cooked away. Drain on absorbant paper.

Place a half a liver and a slice of water chestnut on each half rasher of bacon. Roll and secure with picks. Return to oven for approximately five minutes. Insert bamboo skewers. Store in refrigerator until ready to use. Grill over hibachis to finish cooking.

Makes 50 Rumakis.

Garlic Shrimp

4 pounds cleaned shrimp
1 cup oil
½ cup lemon juice
1 cup chopped parsley
3 cloves garlic, chopped
Salt, pepper and cayenne to taste

Combine oil, lemon juice, parsley, garlic and seasonings. Soak shrimp in this mixture for one-half hour at room temperature.

Lift shrimp onto a hinged broiler (hamburger broiler). Grill over a large charcoal grill close to the coals for about five minutes or until shrimp are a bright pink. Guests skewer these from the broiler with wooden picks.

Hona Pow Salad

2 cloves garlic
4 teaspoons salt
2/3 cup chopped mushrooms
6 tablespoons olive oil
2 teaspoons freshly - ground black pepper
½ teaspoon tabasco sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup tarragon wine vinegar
2 cups finely chopped onions
4 cups finely chopped tomatoes
2 cups finely chopped celery
2 cups finely chopped cucumber
4 teaspoons chopped chives
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
3 cups tomato juice

Crush garlic in one teaspoon of the salt. Saute mushrooms in olive oil until slightly browned.

Combine mushrooms and garlic with remaining ingredients in a stainless steel or glass bowl. Cover and chill overnight.

Makes 16 to 24 servings.

Fried Chicken

Have butcher quarter 15 chicken breasts.

Pour olive oil in a skillet until it reaches a depth of one inch. Heat oil and dip chicken pieces in seasoned flour and brown quickly on all sides in hot oil.

Turn the heat down slightly and let chicken cook until it is tender, about 25 to 28 minutes. Drain and cool; wrap each piece separately in foil. Reheat approximately 20 minutes before serving.

Chinese-Style Barbecued Spareribs

15 pounds meaty spareribs
3 cups soy sauce
3 cups orange marmalade
9 finely-chopped garlic cloves
6 tablespoons grated fresh ginger

Combine soy sauce, orange marmalade, garlic and ginger. Marinate the long, uncut strips of ribs in this mixture for 12 hours. Turn during the marinating period.

Place ribs in a single layer on broiler rack over roasting pan so that they won't soak in fat and juices. Baste often with the marinade and bake for one hour in 325 degree oven. Finish cooking on an outdoor grill for 15 to 20 minutes.

Cut into individual ribs with a heavy, sharp knife. Serve at once. (SH

AN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS back yard becomes a Hawaiian paradise when the Frank H. Stratmans give their annual summer luau. Watermelon punch, made from an original recipe, is the featured beverage at the feast which is served with the main course following an appealing assortment of cook-it yourself hors d' oeuvres. Enjoying this festive party with their hosts are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rustemeyer (left) of Arlington Heights.

LONG STRIPS OF TEMPTING barbecued ribs are grilled with a flourish by Frank Stratman of Arlington Heights, to be served to guests at the Stratmans' back yard luau. They are part of the main course which also featured delicious fried chicken, Hona Pow salad and assorted breads.

Here's How to Look Like Great Artist

By LUCILE ERNST

I'm sorry I can't tell anyone how to be a great artist. No one can. If I or they could, instead of talking, I or they would be one. Having more than a nodding acquaintance with the arty set, I do know, however, how to look like a great artist. It is easy.

First, one must believe in oneself. No matter what anyone else believes, you must think you have an inside track on all knowledge and wisdom. Be sure you keep your brush and palette prominently displayed for otherwise this quality marks you as an egomaniac. Carried to the proper extreme, you can be considered just a plain old maniac and will be put away. As long as you are an artist, however, it will be considered a sign of genius.

NEVER, under any circumstances, should you learn anything about the history of mankind. Though art is a reflection of what people were or did in any period, discount all this when it comes to your painting. You are not influenced by anything but your almighty genius.

This attitude will help to keep you from learning anything about art before the twentieth century, those irrational days of learning craftmanship and boring technique. This is the sort of thing that gets in the way of sheer inspiration, in case you have any.

Most art schools will aid and abet your cause. Any effort to learn anything about the more mundane details of art are dismissed with a frown in most of our art schools.

DESPISE humanity. This in itself will show how superior you are. Don't lower yourself to trying to understand ordinary human beings. They aren't worth it. Get all your information from a psychology text book. This will assure you a place of honor among other people who achieve all their understanding of humanity from a psychology text book.

Knock all artists who paint in any way differently than you do. If any idiot should consider actually buying a painting, other than your own, be sure to point out how inferior the artist is. Despair openly of the ordinary man ever gaining any insight into what art is and isn't, in case you know. Be especially sure to knock the confidence out of anyone who is trying to learn about art. Show them by sneering at their pathetic efforts that they can never achieve your great wisdom and knowledge.

Never under any circumstances try and make art understandable. If you condescend to discuss the subject always use words that no one can understand, following the example of the leading art magazines. In this way, you keep from being left out on a limb. In case some one else, who is more of a genius than you, says a painting is spiritual, you didn't say it wasn't. No one knows what you said.

I CAN GUARANTEE if you will follow the procedure I have outlined, you will be considered a great artist among the arty sets. Of course, you will die unmourned by other human beings, such as family, neighbors, and would-be friends. As for the future, they will never know your name nor paintings.

They will honor the man who could love deeply, be hurt deeply, understand his own times and live within and beyond them.

This is the surest lesson history has to teach and one a pseudo artist never learns. It is a lesson a real artist does not have to learn since he can do nothing but paint what is true.

(Bill

At Des Plaines

AS WRITER, producer, director and star, Jerry Lewis dominates "The Ladies Man," new Paramount Technicolor comedy opening Friday at the Des Plaines Theatre. Helen Traubel and Pat Stanley, discovered by Lewis in the cast of the Broadway success "Fiorello!," co-star.

"BEN HUR" held over at the Catlow

Because of the huge crowds, the Catlow Theatre in Barrington is holding over William Wyler's presentation of "Ben-Hur" through Thursday, Aug. 3rd so that all may get a chance to see this outstanding motion picture. In the above scene from "Ben-Hur," Haya Harareet, as Esther, pleads with Charlton Heston (Ben Hur) to forget his hatred of the Romans. The all time high Academy Award winner was filmed in Technicolor and Camera 65.

Al Hirt Is Scheduled for Edgewater Beach Playhouse

Bearded, jovial, exciting Al Hirt — called the "world's greatest horn" by critics everywhere — stars in the first musical presentation ever seen at the Edgewater Beach Playhouse, for one week only, August 1-6.

The demand has been so great for tickets that an extra performance was added on Sunday, August 6, so that the great showman will be seen with his fabulous jazz program twice nightly on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 4-5-6, at 7 and 10 p.m. each evening. Other nights will have single performances.

NO NAME in show business has risen to such rapid heights in the past year as the gifted Al Hirt. His sweep to the top has been witnessed by multi-millions, on the Dinah Shore show, the Ed Sullivan show, and in his jazz programs in the biggest theatres and arenas in America.

Time, Life, Newsweek and many other national periodicals have hailed Al Hirt in the most lavish terms. Life wrote: "Stomping on the bandstand, the trumpet-blowing behemoth looked, quite literally, as though he might bring the house down. Al Hirt, 6-foot-2 and 300 pounds, really throws his weight around when he plays. But it is not so much his razzle-dazzle mugging as his distinctive jazz style that has catapulted him from a New Orleans saloon to the nation-wide night-club circuit at $8,500 a week."

HIRT HAS a classical background, from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, played with Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Ray McKinelly and Horace Heidt, then settled in New Orleans where his fame came out of the colorful Dan's Pier 600. He appears with symphony orchestras as brilliantly as in jazz rooms and on TV.

The Playhouse has performances on Sunday at 7, Tuesday through Thursday at 8:30, two performances on Friday at 7 and 10, two performances on Saturday at 7 and 10 and for this performance two on Sunday at 7 and 10.

There are no Monday performances. For information call LO 1-6308.

Hawaiian Luau Craze Sweeps Area-Complete Plans Herein

by LOIS SEILER

With Hawaii fast becoming one of the most popular vacation spots in the United States, the Hawaiian Luau is becoming equally as popular as a party theme on the mainland.

For the past four years the Frank Stratman family of Arlington Heights has given backyard luaus and their parties have been so successful that this year they are planning two!

"We love giving big parties," explained Mrs. Stratman, "and I especially enjoy cooking for special occasions when I can be really creative."

Mrs. Stratman is not only creative, but both she and her husband are imaginative and resourceful as well. A good deal of research and planning preceeded their first luau, but through the years they have become experts in luau "know-how" and have even organized a complete shopping list to satisfy the needs of 24 guests.

THE MENU IS authentically Hawaiian except for the assorted breads." commented Mrs. Stratman. "We compiled the recipes from various cook books, magazines and restaurants and some of the recipes, such as the barbecued ribs, we have changed during the years to suit our taste."

"All of our guests enter into the spirit of the party too," said Mrs. Stratman, "which helps to make it a success. The women wear sarongs, muumuus, or grass skirts and the men are attired in Hawaiian shirts, clam digger pants, straw hats and other ingenious costumes. We furnish leis for everyone and of course everybody goes barefoot."

TO EFFECT THE appropriate atmosphere, soft Hawaiian music is played on the phonograph, and the patio is available for dancing. The soft glow of citronella candles and kerosene torches light the yard and keep mosquitoes from venturing near. This is a perfect setting for the "feast," which goes on most of the evening making any additional entertainment unnecessary.

To start the festivities, Passion Punch Cocktails are served first with several hors d' oeuvres of the "cook it yourself" variety. Hibachis are set up on a number of low tables, around which guests gather to cook their own appetizers.

SUCH TEMPTING tidbits as Po Po (tiny meat balls rolled in Romano cheese), Beef Teriyaki (marinated strips of beef) and Rumaki (chicken livers and water chestnuts rolled up in bacon), are grilled over the hibachis on bamboo skewers.

Grilled garlic shrimp, coconut chips, pineapple chunks and macadamia nuts complete this tempting assortment of hors d' oeuvres and whet the appetite of guests for the food yet to come.

"When everyone seems to have their fill, watermelon punch is brought out along with the main course," said Mrs. Stratman.

Mr. Stratman makes the watermelon punch from his own original recipe. This is done several days prior to the party.

A SECTION is cut from each watermelon, the meat removed and all excess water drained free. The pulp is mixed in a blender with lime, orange juice and other ingredients, then returned to the melon. The cap is sealed with paraffin and the punch is chilled for at least 36 hous.

Before serving holes are pierced in the melon for inserting drinking straws. One melon serves 12 to 18 persons.

This punch is sipped while the guests munch on delicious fried chicken, barbecued ribs, Hona Pow Salad and assorted breads. To top off the meal there is Kona coffee and fortune cookies.

As is obvious from the scope of this menu, much of the preparation must be done in advance.

MRS. STRATMAN prepares all of the food the week preceding the party and Mr. stratman has all of the beverages mixed in advance. Chicken is fried ahead of time, wrapped in foil and re-heated before serving.

The spareribs, too, are precoked and need only be grilled for 15 to 20 minutes on the outdoor barbecue. "My husband has a bit of the 'ham' in him," Mrs. Stratman jokingly admitted, "and he likes the spare ribs left in long strips so he can flip them on the grill and cut them with a flourish before serving the guests."

Everything is eaten with the fingers except the Hona Pow Salad which Mrs. Stratman serves in paper ice cream cups. This unusual salad combines onions, tomatoes, celery, cucumber, chives, parsley and mushrooms with several seasonings as well as tomato juice. It is quite juicy but very flavorful.

MOST OF THE essentials for this party can be purchased locally from your favorite grocer, but a few of the items, such as the Kona coffee and Macadamia nuts can be found at Stop and Shop in Chicago and the bamboo skewers at Trader Vics or Marshall Fields.

No novice is Mrs. Stratman at giving unusual parties, for she and her husband have given a variety of unique parties ranging from corned beef and cabbage St. Patrick's Day dinners to real "honest-to-gosh" pig roasts.

None of the work involved in planning a luau daunts charming Mrs. Stratman, who thrives on this creative-type cooking. And with all the work behind her, she can thoroughly enjoy her own party.

IF YOU FOLLOW her very complete and detailed instructions for a luau, you, too, can become an expert party giver and have lots of fun to boot!

The Stratmans moved from Glen Rock, N. J., to their home at 830 S. Burton in Arlington Heights three years ago. They have four children: Frank, almost 12; Teri, 9; Debbie, 8, and Cindy, who is 3½.

Mrs. Stratman is a member of the Junior Woman's club and Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Women's club.

Shopping List for Luau (Planned for 24 guests)

4 pounds shrimp
3 pounds round steak
2 pounds ground round steak
2 pounds chicken livers
2 pounds bacon
15 pounds meaty spare ribs
15 chicken breasts, quartered
2 cans coconut chips
4 cans fresh frozen pineapple chunks
1 can water chestnuts
1 jar Ramano cheese
1 pound Kona coffee
2 jars Macadamia nuts
1 pound butter
15 cans frozen limeade
3 cans frozen orange juice
2 watermelons (large)
Plastic straws
4 boxes fortune cookies

Makings for Hona Pow Salad

Assorted breads (Golden, Oatmeal, Hovis Corn and Molasses, Party Rye and Pumpernickel).

Po Po

2 pounds round steak, ground twice
1 jar Ramano cheese

Season ground round steak to taste. Form in balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Roll in Ramano cheese. Insert bamboo skewers. Refrigerate until time of serving. Grill over hibachis.

Beef Teriyaki

3 pounds round steak
½ cup soy sauce
2 tablespons sherry
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons grated fresh ginger
1 clove garlic, grated

Have the butcher cut round steak into thin strips. Combine soy sauce, sherry, sugar, ginger and garlic. Marinate beef in this sauce overnight.

Ripple the meat on bamboo skewers. Refrigerate until time of serving. Grill over hibachis just long enough to sear on all sides.

Rumaki

1½ pounds chicken livers
1½ pounds medium sliced bacon
1 can water chestnuts

Cut chicken livers and bacon slices in halves. Slice water chestnuts in 3 rounds each. Arrange bacon slices on a tray in a 325 degree oven and cook until they are translucent and a good deal of the fat cooked away. Drain on absorbant paper.

Place a half a liver and a slice of water chestnut on each half rasher of bacon. Roll and secure with picks. Return to oven for approximately five minutes. Insert bamboo skewers. Store in refrigerator until ready to use. Grill over hibachis to finish cooking.

Makes 50 Rumakis.

Garlic Shrimp

4 pounds cleaned shrimp
1 cup oil
½ cup lemon juice
1 cup chopped parsley
3 cloves garlic, chopped
Salt, pepper and cayenne to taste

Combine oil, lemon juice, parsley, garlic and seasonings. Soak shrimp in this mixture for one-half hour at room temperature.

Lift shrimp onto a hinged broiler (hamburger broiler). Grill over a large charcoal grill close to the coals for about five minutes or until shrimp are a bright pink. Guests skewer these from the broiler with wooden picks.

Hona Pow Salad

2 cloves garlic
4 teaspoons salt
2/3 cup chopped mushrooms
6 tablespoons olive oil
2 teaspoons freshly - ground black pepper
½ teaspoon tabasco sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup tarragon wine vinegar
2 cups finely chopped onions
4 cups finely chopped tomatoes
2 cups finely chopped celery
2 cups finely chopped cucumber
4 teaspoons chopped chives
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
3 cups tomato juice

Crush garlic in one teaspoon of the salt. Saute mushrooms in olive oil until slightly browned.

Combine mushrooms and garlic with remaining ingredients in a stainless steel or glass bowl. Cover and chill overnight.

Makes 16 to 24 servings.

Fried Chicken

Have butcher quarter 15 chicken breasts.

Pour olive oil in a skillet until it reaches a depth of one inch. Heat oil and dip chicken pieces in seasoned flour and brown quickly on all sides in hot oil.

Turn the heat down slightly and let chicken cook until it is tender, about 25 to 28 minutes. Drain and cool; wrap each piece separately in foil. Reheat approximately 20 minutes before serving.

Chinese-Style Barbecued Spareribs

15 pounds meaty spareribs
3 cups soy sauce
3 cups orange marmalade
9 finely-chopped garlic cloves
6 tablespoons grated fresh ginger

Combine soy sauce, orange marmalade, garlic and ginger. Marinate the long, uncut strips of ribs in this mixture for 12 hours. Turn during the marinating period.

Place ribs in a single layer on broiler rack over roasting pan so that they won't soak in fat and juices. Baste often with the marinade and bake for one hour in 325 degree oven. Finish cooking on an outdoor grill for 15 to 20 minutes.

Cut into individual ribs with a heavy, sharp knife. Serve at once.

AN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS back yard becomes a Hawaiian paradise when the Frank H. Stratmans give their annual summer luau. Watermelon punch, made from an original recipe, is the featured beverage at the feast which is served with the main course following an appealing assortment of cook-it yourself hors d' oeuvres. Enjoying this festive party with their hosts are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rustemeyer (left) of Arlington Heights.

LONG STRIPS OF TEMPTING barbecued ribs are grilled with a flourish by Frank Stratman of Arlington Heights, to be served to guests at the Stratmans' back yard luau. They are part of the main course which also featured delicious fried chicken, Hona Pow salad and assorted breads.

Week's Best food buys

Consumers are offered many retail bargain opportunities at meat counters this week as wholesale poultry prices seem headed for a bottomless pit to establish sensational low retail quotes, and retail red meat prices hold motionless over a wide range of selective values as trade alternatives provide ample opportunity to play a waiting game.

Over in the produce sector, roles reverse to place fresh fruits, berries and melons in unpredictable situations and at the same time lengthen the list of fresh vegetable values. As an off-shoot, new-crop packs also help to haul down the processed food index.

ALL OF THIS augurs well for the consumer who shops Chicago area stores for bargains based on the University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey for the period ending July 29. The U of I consensus value list shows:

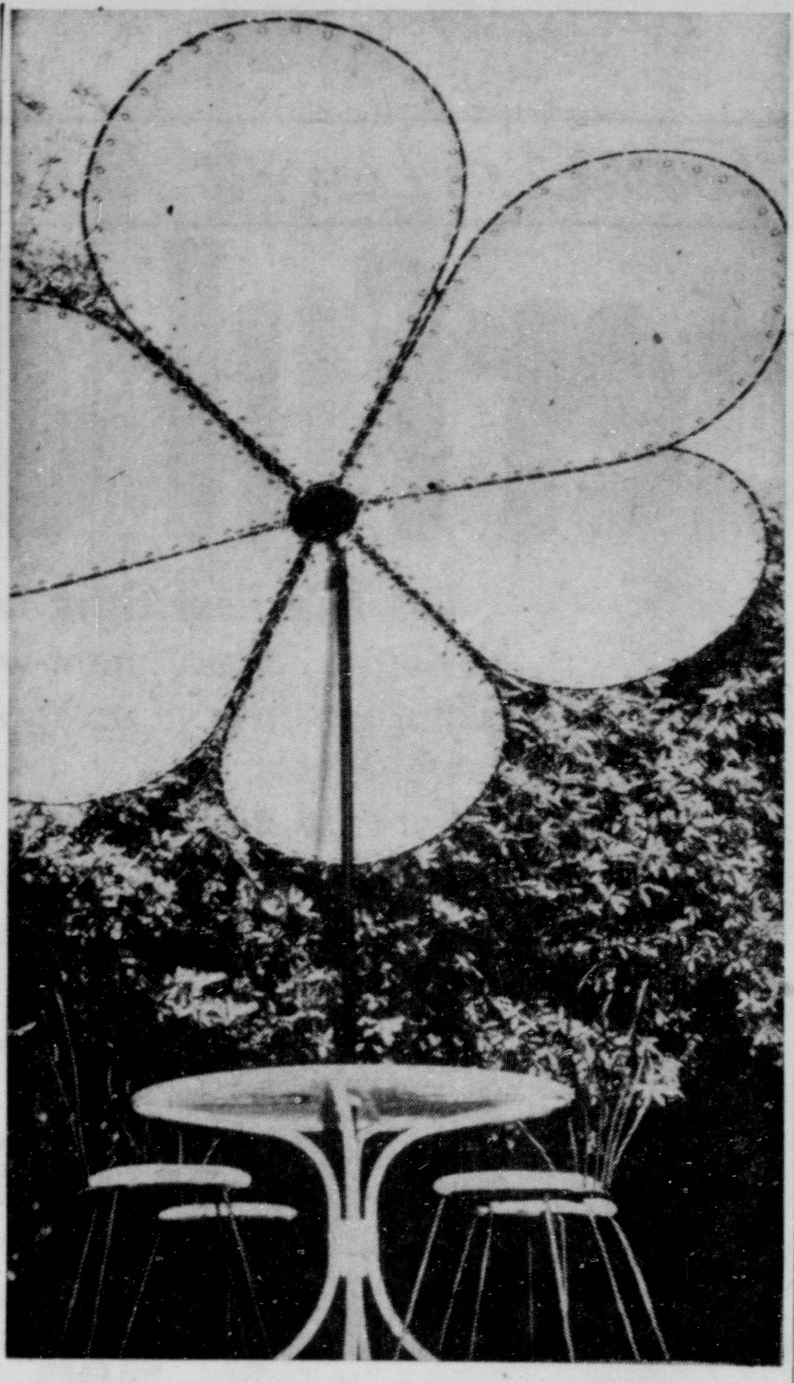
Poultry—turkeys and fryers; meats—beef chuck roasts, round steaks, ground beef, lamb shoulder and leg roasts, bacon and pork butts; produce—green beans, cucumbers, celery, tomatoes, lettuce and more limited strawberries, raspberries and peaches.

POULTRY sources say they are unable to measure the depth of the possible drop in turkey and even fryer costs. Fryers are in such volume as to warrant general store pricing of 29-33 cents but when on promotion as much as a full 10 cents below this range. The spongy floor of the turkey market helps support little more than a 29-35 cents competitive retail range for toms and hens respectively.

Moderate volume of quality egg supplies, a weak breaker trade and new data on the laying hen population point to higher egg prices in the near future, but at the moment retail tags are steady at the 49-55 cent range for grade A large.

HIGHER pork costs reflect little at retail where consumer resistance is quickly felt. Besides the generally steady to lower costs for beef, lamb and for the first time in weeks, veal, create ample opportunity for change of pace promotion and serve to provide consumers with good retail choices.

Weather set-backs effect mostly fresh fruits from distant points, while nearby local supplies of vegetables are rated cheaper on the wholesale scale including radishes, green onions, cucumbers, green beans, Michigan carrots, lettuce, celery, tomatoes and green peppers. (SH



SHAPELY SUNSHADE—This man-made "sunflower" is designed to outsmart the summer sun. A striking umbrella in the shape of a mammoth bloom has been created by lacing heavy cotton canvas on a tubular framework. The umbrella by McNew Custom House, Sepulveda, Cal., adjusts to any angle to cast shade where desired.

Summer Solstice Timed For 'Salad Slim' Fare

Sultry days of the summer solstice are upon us and for the homemaker who must still make three meals a day, this is indeed a problem.

Tempting tired appetites requires a bit of elementary psychology. The first thing that comes to mind is a refreshing salad mold, good summer fare for keeping weight down, spirits up.

THIS DELICIOUS Asheville Salad can be fixed early in the morning and then served for supper. It features a delicious complement of flavors: tomato soup mix, cream cheese, lemon, celery, green pepper, stuffed olives, chopped onion and hard cooked eggs.

Flavor base of this salad mold is provided by a convenient package of tomato soup mix. You will find this particular soup mix a great boon this summer for adding flavor to everything from barbecue sauces to Chicken Cacciatore.

And keep a supply handy for those cool rainy days when a bowl of hot tomato soup is a welcome treat for the family.

A COOL BUT NOURISHING salad mold made with a handy package of tomato soup mix and flavored with crisp bits of celery, green pepper, olives, onion and hard-cooked eggs is a welcome treat on a summer day.

Asheville Salad

1 package tomato soup mix
2 cups cold water
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 (8-oz.) package cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup copped stuffed olives
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped

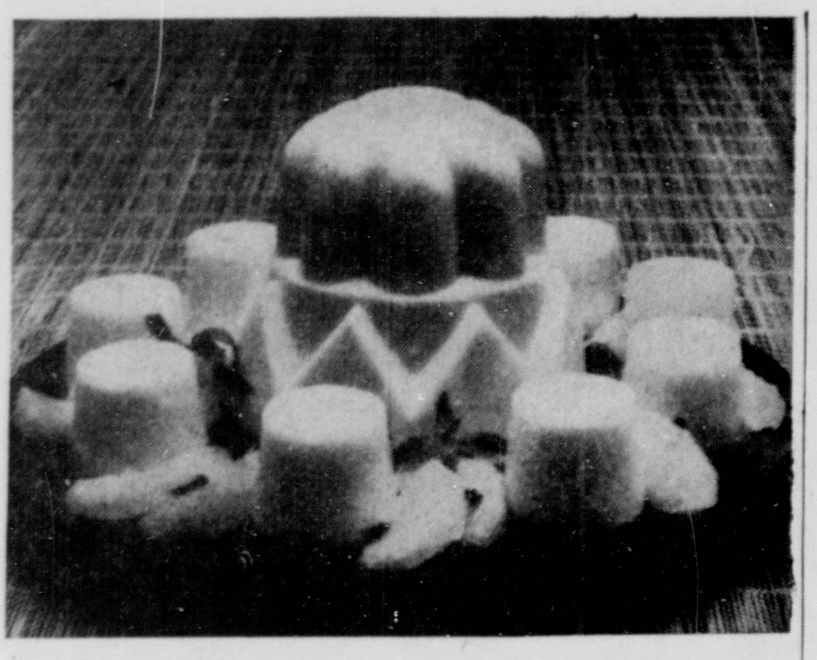
In a saucepan gradually stir water into soup mix. Heat and continue stirring until soup comes to a boil. Simmer 5 minutes, uncovered, stirring occasionally.

Remove from heat and add gelatin softened in cold water. Gradually add this to cream cheese, blending until smooth. Add lemon juice; chill until slightly thickened.

FOLD IN CELERY, green pepper, olives, onion and egg. Pour into a one quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and surround with salad greens.

Garnish with stuffed olives and slices of hard cooked egg, if desired. Makes 6-8 servings.

Cool, Cooler, Coolest Majestic Citrus Snow



The lightest, frothiest dessert for a hot summer's day is unquestionably a cool snow, looking almost too lovely to spoon into. The most refreshing snows are made from frozen Florida concentrated grapefruit or orange juice or, better still, the two in tandem.

Molded snows are elegant enough to serve at a small family wedding reception for the August bride, and they couldn't be simpler to make with unflavored gelatine.

YOU CAN ENJOY the cool flavor and color appeal of the citrus juices by chilling the grapefruit snow in a 6-cup mold and the orange mixture in six or eight individual molds.

Unmold the larger snow in the center of your prettiest platter, surround with the small ones, and garnish with chilled spiced canned grapefruit sections and sprigs of fresh mint.

The grapefruit sections are savored by boiling the syrup and adding brown sugar, whole cloves and nutmeg, returning the sections and chilling.

Grapefruit Snow

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¾ cup cold water
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida concentrated grapefruit juice
1 tablespoon Angostura bitters
2 unbeaten egg whites

Sprinkle gelatine on cold water in top of double boiler to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Add undiluted grapefruit juice concentrate and stir unil melted. Chill.

(To chill quickly, half fill lower part of double boiler with ice cubes and water; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt).

SET UPPER PART of double boiler with gelatine mixture over ice water; chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white, stirring frequently. Add egg whites. Beat with electric or rotary beater until mixture begins to hold its shape.

Turn into a 6-cup mold or individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold to serve. Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE SNOW: Follow directions for Grapefruit Snow substituting one can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate for grapefruit concentrate and substituting ¼ teaspoon almond flavoring for Angostura bitters.

Note: For 12 servings, grapefruit mold and orange mold may be served together. Chill grapefruit snow in a 6-cup mold; chill orange snow in six or eight individual molds. Unmold grapefruit snow in center of large serving plate.

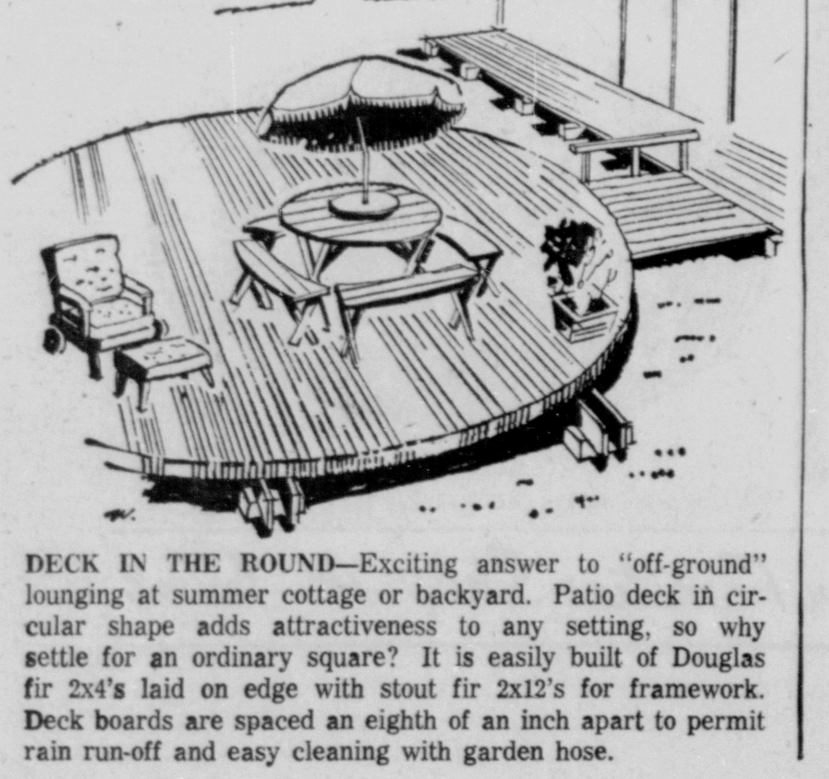
Unmold smaller molds around grapefruit snow. Garnish with Spiced Grapefruit Sections.

Chilled Grapefruit Sections

2 cans (1 pound each) Florida grapefruit sections
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ teaspoon whole cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Drain grapefruit sections. Bring grapefruit syrup to a boil; boil rapidly 2 minutes. Add brown sugar and spices; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add Florida grapefruit sections. Chill before serving. (SH

Deck In The Round



DECK IN THE ROUND—Exciting answer to "off-ground" lounging at summer cottage or backyard. Patio deck in circular shape adds attractiveness to any setting, so why settle for an ordinary square? It is easily built of Douglas fir 2x4's laid on edge with stout fir 2x12's for framework. Deck boards are spaced an eighth of an inch apart to permit rain run-off and easy cleaning with garden hose.

'Islanders' Bask in Polynesian Splendor

ELABORATE POLYNESIAN FEAST was recently enjoyed at exotic Hawaiian luau given by the Harry F. Nobles in their Rolling Meadows home. The hosts, left, greeted their 16 appropriately-costumed guests with Hawaiian customs, warm alohas and colorful fresh-flowered leis. The Alvin Estrellas, right, also of Rolling Meadows, were among the "islanders" who were seated on pillows at a foot-high festive table which was arranged alongside a warmly glowing fireplace. Fresh flowers, fern leaves and tiki lanterns enhanced the display of the succulent feast which featured roasted ribs, shrimp tempuri and sauces, fried chicken rice, chilled fruit in melon halves, assorted salads, relishes and iced fruit punch.

AUTHENTIC ISLAND ATTIRE was donned by guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Noble recently when they attended an exotic Hawaiian luau held in Polynesian splendor. Brightly burning torches lit up the pathway to the Noble home where guests enjoyed a gay, festive evening that will long be remembered as one of the most elaborate parties ever. Sipping iced fruit punch are the Gil Dahms and John Mechers, all of Rolling Meadows.

Selling Gimmicks

Dear Peg:

Bridget met the postman at the door a few mornings ago and came running excitedly upstairs. "Mother!" she called, "look here, there's a letter for me and it's important!"

The business size envelope in a little girl's hands looked suspicious before she even opened it.

"Listen, Mother, to what it says, 'How would you like to wake up some morning and find $50 or even $100 in your top drawer? . . . And you could too if you would like to spend just a little time visiting your friends and your mother's friends. They will all love these lovely Christmas cards and will probably order many boxes from you. Think of all the money you can make for Christmas since you get 50 cents for every box you sell! Just send in the order blank and we will send you the cards to sell and by Christmas you'll be rich!' Oh, Mom, I gotta send it in right away. Think of all the money I'll make. Look Mother how pretty the cards are. I'll bet everyone will want some."

How do you tell a nine year old that this is a racket? No, it's not the most harmful racket on the market—in fact there are people who even think it's O. K. But I'm not one of them. If a bunch of guys can get enough kids to do their selling for them, then they can sit back and wait for the money to roll in. I'm not against this sort of thing if it's for a charitable organization—I think it's very good for children to be a part of whatever the family agrees is a worthy cause, but for a group of people to use some children especially without the consent of their parents is quite unfair to both children and parents.

"Bridget," I started patiently, "you don't understand that you will have to sell many boxes before you will make any money—you only get a small part of the cost of the box. Furthermore, dear, there will be many boxes delivered to you and you will be expected to sell all or most of them—or pay for them. I think they're very pretty from the sample you showed me, but even we have ordered our cards from the same person we always order them from, and people we know, if they haven't already will do the same thing when it gets closer to Christmas."

"But, Mama, it says I can make $100 or $50. Wouldn't that be wonderful?" she insisted.

"Yes, if that were true," I answered a little sharply. "But it isn't because you couldn't sell enough boxes to make that much money. Look dear, you can earn all the money you want to right here at home. There are many little extra jobs I can give you."

You see how this sort of thing puts parents on the spot. I don't want to discourage her from earning money, saving money, etc. But this is simply not the way. I saw a very good friend of mine take several boxes of all occasion greeting cards to a bridge meeting and try to sell them to all her friends, explaining that they were sent to her son. Of course, we all bought a box, but I don't believe in doing this myself and I don't think the friend will do it again either. She later explained that her son was on a mailing list from a magazine subscription. This was exactly the case with Bridget. She subscribes to a child's comic book, which some time ago made this offer on its back cover. Apparently it didn't get the desired response, so decided on direct mailing.

She was disappointed for awhile, but the more I pointed out that it was a great deal more work than she anticipated, the cooler she became to the idea—especially the part about the possibility of having to pay for the unsold boxes. I know we'd find this thing hard to fight—but if you or any of your friends know people who do this sort of thing—selling through children without parents' consent—I wish you'd point out how difficult it makes homelife for awhile. Thanks!

My love,

Patty

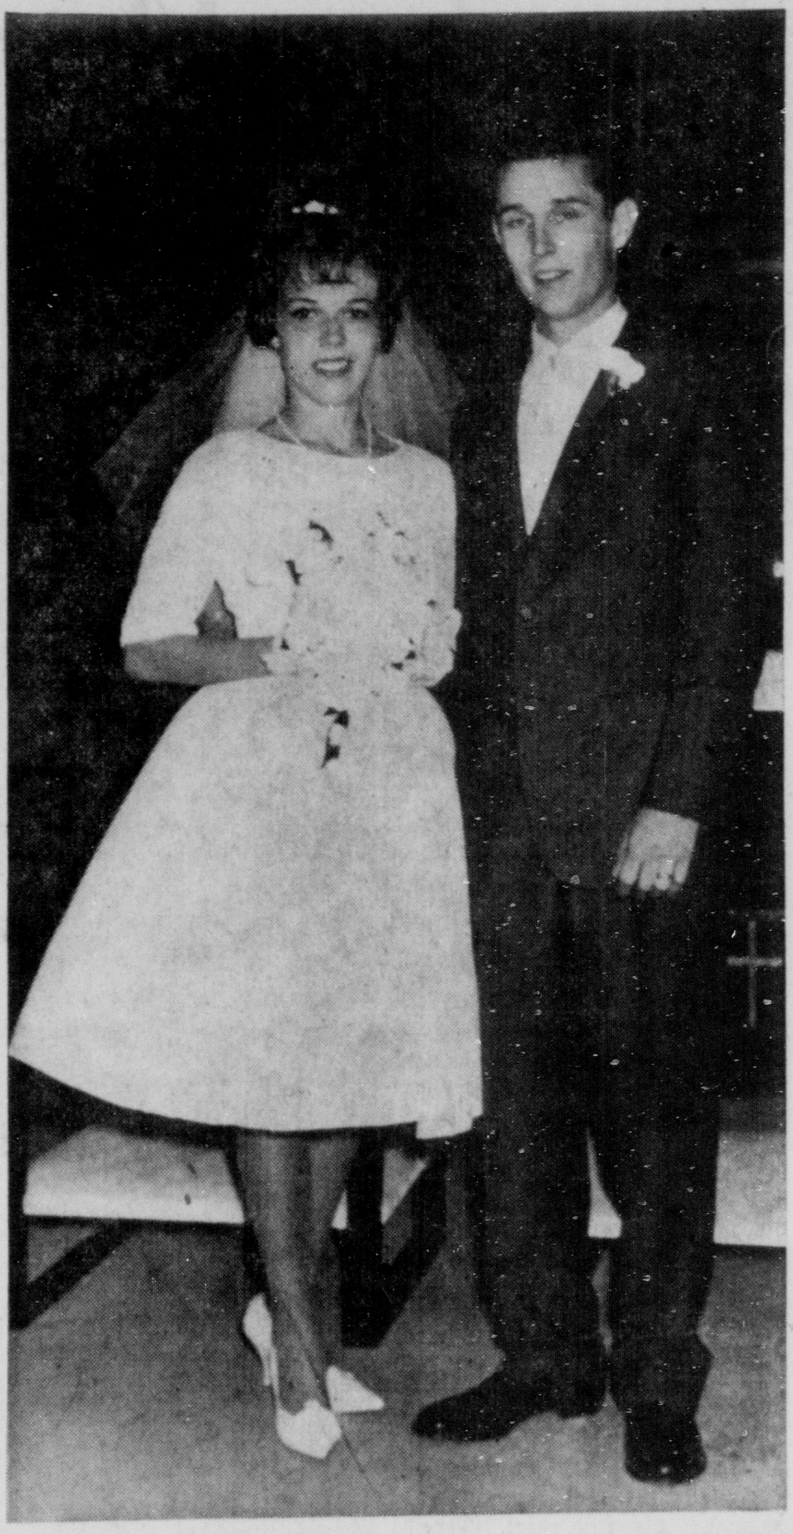
Beckett-Lochinger Nuptials June 24



(Times Candid

Prospect Heights Community church was the setting of the nuptials of the former Brenda Ann Beckett, who made her home with her uncle and aunt, the James B. Sailers, 300 Meadow lane, Mount Prospect, and Anthony Michael Lochinger of Des Plaines. The afternoon ceremony was performed on June 24 by Pastor Robert Klepper before an altar decorated with pink and white mixed flowers.

The bride's mother is Mrs. Bertha Beckett of Flint, Mich. She came here for the wedding and reception, at which she was attired in an orchid cotton chiffon dress with a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's parents are the Anthony Lochingers of Des Plaines. Mrs. Lochinger was gowned in a pink flowered print dress with a pink and white carnation corsage for the festivities.

GIVEN IN marriage by her uncle, Mr. Sailer, the bride wore a street length dress of white chiffon with a lace bodice. A fingertip veil was secured by a pearl crown, and the bride's bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blanchard of Des Plaines. The maid of honor wore a pink lace street dress and carried pink and white carnations.

Ushering the guests to their pews were the bridegroom's two brothers, Norbert Lochinger of Northbrook and Marvin Lochinger of Carpentersville.

A 5 O'CLOCK reception took place in the James Sailer home in Mount Prospect for 100 guests.

The newlyweds are now living in Des Plaines, where both are employed. The bride works at the Robert Hall store and the bridegroom for Anderson's Plastering. The new Mrs. Lochinger attended Prospect high school; her husband attended Arlington high school. (S

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Going Away Stay at Home

By Dolores Haugh

Time is heavy when summer days are long, things that were "heat"edly awaited "cool" off and then one day there is "nothing to do." So why not plan a Going-away-stay-at-home party? It sounds harder than it is.

INVITATIONS

Let the children look through magazines, good for a day or two of looking, and find colored pictures of places to go, things to see and sports to do. Colored travel folders, obtained free also afford an afternoon of browsing and selecting and there goes another day. Let the children use the inside of the garage or basement and "decorate" it, but completely. This takes another day.

Now for the invitations, another two hours. Give them some colored construction paper or an old road map, also free from service stations. Have them design an invitation to a going-away-stay-at-home party. They can write the time and date on their own creations and don't limit ages; let the whole family be in on inviting someone to this night or afternoon of fun.

THE OLDER children then can plan the games and help make the refreshments while the younger ones set the table, and make the train. The train is a series of large cartons obtained at the local grocery stores. The first one is the engine made by using an oblong carton on end with window cut with serrated edge knife by mom or dad or big brother. The next carton is placed inside of this and forms the engine.

The kids can take over on the painting if you have old paint and can stand the mess—but it does keep them busy, Mom. Each "car" is decorated with round construction paper wheels and the caboose can have curtains in the windows and a lantern in the back. The children will really take over for ideas, but be ready to help a little too; you'll have as much fun as the children.

TAKE COLORED pictures if you can as the children love to ride the train. The crew having the party can be the engineers, waiters, conductors and guides, with costumes, music or just anything that takes time. The guests can be the travelers. Give out tickets at the door on arrival; these are made by the youngsters too. Let the guests look at the travel posters and decide where they are going. Then they, in turn, must be leader of the game which has been planned for that particular place by the hostess or host.

A snowball fight using cotton snowballs for the mountains, pantomimes of various sports, a wading pool for the seashore are some ideas. Games from other countries can be used also but again, let the children decide. Suitcase unpacking and dress up relay games, are good also.

MENU

Fix a "diner" for refreshments and include cardtables with budvases, menus telling of the foods named after various places such as "Texasburgers" for hamburgers or Hawaiian salad, which is pineapple and cottage cheese, if a luncheon is served.

It's fun to name all the things on the menu and type them up and insert them for the day's fare. Prizes of puzzles, games or coloring books can be wrapped in maps. Suitcase nut cups are take home favors and these can be made by the children.

Make two rectangular boxes out of construction paper in blue or brown. Cut travel stickers out of gummed paper in triangles, circles or squares and paste them all over the two boxes which fit inside one another. Add a paper suitcase handle and write the guest's name on the identification tag on the suitcase.

Place non-melting candies inside. If all girls are coming to the party, tiny plastic suitcases for dolls can be used.

This is one party where the children can let their imagination go and after you see what they can do maybe you'll let the decorations stay up and have an adult going-away-stay-at-home party yourself, all aboard for fun! (S-SD

Susan Warren Marries Former 'Boy Next Door'

Former next door neighbors, Miss Susan Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Warren of Arlington Heights, and Charles Faber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Faber of Perham, Minn., were married in a double ring service June 17 in St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights.

Susan first met "the boy next door" more than five years ago when her family were Downers Grove residents. At that time the Warrens moved to Arlington Heights where Susan attended Arlington high school, graduating this June. Meanwhile the young people's friendship blossomed into a romance that culminated in their June wedding.

THE BRIDEGROOM, a machinist mate 3/c in the navy, is stationed aboard the destroyer USS Witek, and on one of his tours of duty visited Spain where he purchased a hand made silk lace veil for his bride to wear with her wedding dress.

Her dress was of cream white tissue taffeta fashioned on princess lines with draped bustle and her flowers were stephanotis and Amazon lilies. She was given in marriage by her father and was attended by the groom's sister, Jacqueline Faber of Perham, as maid of honor and her sister, Sallianne Prentiss of La Grange and her cousins, Mary Lou McGrath of Lake Zurich and Nancy Plotnikoff of Arlington Heights, as bridesmaids.

ALL WORE identical gowns of delphinium blue nylon chiffon fashioned with ballerina skirts and cowl necklines. Their flowers were delphinium with feathered white carnations. Also in the wedding party were a junior bridesmaid, Roberta McGrath, and a flower girl, 3-year-old Leslie Plotnikoff, cousin of the bride, who were both in pink. Leslie completed her ensemble with a basket of delphinium blossoms.

Traveling here from Perham were the groom's best man, Donovan Boedigheimer, and one of the ushers, Patrick Brown. Other ushers were the bride's brother-in-law, Larry Prentiss, and her cousin, Alex Plotnikoff of Arlington Heights.

White stock and yellow daisy mums decorated the church for the 11:45 o'clock nuptials which were followed by a reception at Wellers Motor lodge. Mrs. Warren greeted the 150 guests in a turquoise raw silk dress with matching shoes, white gloves, purse and hat, while Mrs. Faber chose a turquoise chiffon with cream white accessories.

OUT-OF-TOWN guests included the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Demuth of St. Paul.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Canada and Minnesota for 10 days before the groom reported to Boston. After another year in service, the couple will make their home in Minnesota. Meanwhile, the bride will be residing in Perham. (S

Palatine Newlyweds Are Now Residing in Maryland

Bak Studio

Now residing in Odenton, Md. where the bridegroom is stationed with the army, is a Palatine couple, Miss Judy Ann Nelson, daughter of the Walter E. Nelsons, and Martin F. Michalisko, son of the Martin Michaliskos. Their marriage took place May 13 in St. Theresa Catholic church at 10 a.m. with Fr. Sullivan officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her two sisters, Eileen and Kathleen, and the groom's sister, Virginia. The bridegroom was attended by his cousin, James Abenate of Chicago as best man, and his brother, John, and cousin, John Montonara of Des Plaines as ushers.

FOR HER MARRIAGE, the bride chose a gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace combined with sheer tulle. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped oval neckline highlighted with pearls and sequins and long, tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned in tiers of lace and tulle sprinkled with jeweled lace medallions. Her flowers were stephanotis and baby carnations.

Eileen, as maid of honor, wore a pink gown and carried pink and white carnations, while Kathleen wore blue and carried blue carnations. Virginia's gown was in orchid and her flowers were orchid and white carnations.

A BREAKFAST for the wedding party was held at the Casablanca and a reception for 100 guests was held later in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Nelson received in a light blue lace sheath dress and Mrs. Michalisko in a blue eyelet dress. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Both graduates of Palatine high school, the bride was employed at Pure Oil in Palatine until her marriage. (S

Week's Best food buys

Consumers are offered many retail bargain opportunities at meat counters this week as wholesale poultry prices seem headed for a bottomless pit to establish sensational low retail quotes, and retail red meat prices hold motionless over a wide range of selective values as trade alternatives provide ample opportunity to play a waiting game.

Over in the produce sector, roles reverse to place fresh fruits, berries and melons in unpredictable situations and at the same time lengthen the list of fresh vegetable values. As an off-shoot, new-crop packs also help to haul down the processed food index.

ALL OF THIS augurs well for the consumer who shops Chicago area stores for bargains based on the University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey for the period ending July 29. The U of I consensus value list shows:

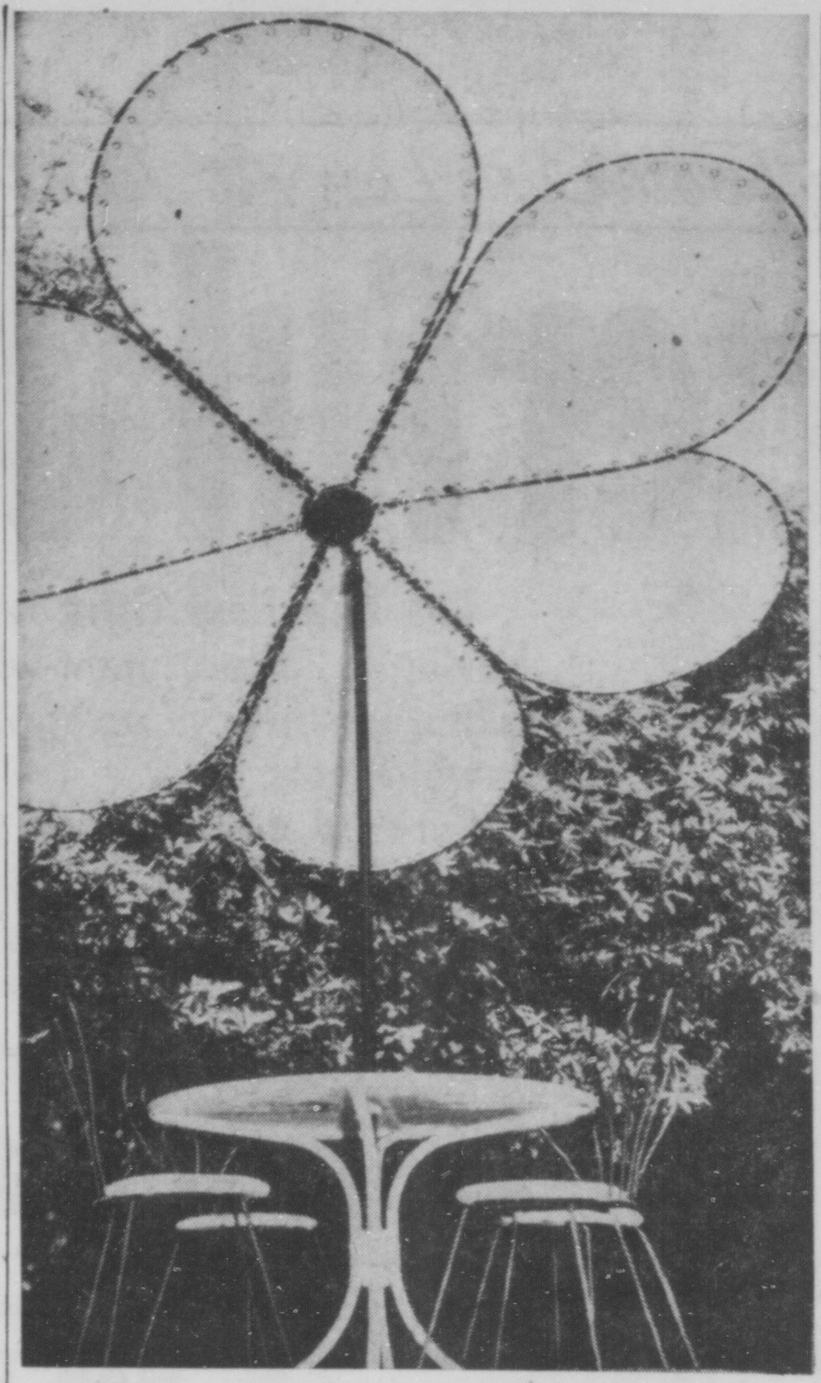
Poultry—turkeys and fryers; meats—beef chuck roasts, round steaks, ground beef, lamb shoulder and leg roasts, bacon and pork butts; produce—green beans, cucumbers, celery, tomatoes, lettuce and more limited strawberries, raspberries and peaches.

POULTRY sources say they are unable to measure the depth of the possible drop in turkey and even fryer costs. Fryers are in such volume as to warrant general store pricing of 29-33 cents but when on promotion as much as a full 10 cents below this range. The spongy floor of the turkey market helps support little more than a 29-35 cents competitive retail range for toms and hens respectively.

Moderate volume of quality egg supplies, a weak breaker trade and new data on the laying hen population point to higher egg prices in the near future, but at the moment retail tags are steady at the 49-55 cent range for grade A large.

HIGHER pork costs reflect little at retail where consumer resistance is quickly felt. Besides the generally steady to lower costs for beef, lamb and for the first time in weeks, veal, create ample opportunity for change of pace promotion and serve to provide consumers with good retail choices.

Weather set-backs effect mostly fresh fruits from distant points, while nearby local supplies of vegetables are rated cheaper on the wholesale scale including radishes, green onions, cucumbers, green beans, Michigan carrots, lettuce, celery, tomatoes and green peppers. (SH



SHAPELY SUNSHADE—This man-made "sunflower" is designed to outsmart the summer sun. A striking umbrella in the shape of a mammoth bloom has been created by lacing heavy cotton canvas on a tubular framework. The umbrella by McNew Custom House, Sepulveda, Cal., adjusts to any angle to cast shade where desired.

Summer Solstice Timed For 'Salad Slim' Fare

Sultry days of the summer solstice are upon us and for the homemaker who must still make three meals a day, this is indeed a problem.

Tempting tired appetites requires a bit of elementary psychology. The first thing that comes to mind is a refreshing salad mold, good summer fare for keeping weight down, spirits up.

THIS DELICIOUS Asheville Salad can be fixed early in the morning and then served for supper. It features a delicious complement of flavors: tomato soup mix, cream cheese, lemon, celery, green pepper, stuffed olives, chopped onion and hard cooked eggs.

Flavor base of this salad mold is provided by a convenient package of tomato soup mix. You will find this particular soup mix a great boon this summer for adding flavor to everything from barbecue sauces to Chicken Cacciatore.

And keep a supply handy for those cool rainy days when a bowl of hot tomato soup is a welcome treat for the family.

A COOL BUT NOURISHING salad mold made with a handy package of tomato soup mix and flavored with crisp bits of celery, green pepper, olives, onion and hard-cooked eggs is a welcome treat on a summer day.

Asheville Salad

1 package tomato soup mix
2 cups cold water
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 (8-oz.) package cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup copped stuffed olives
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped

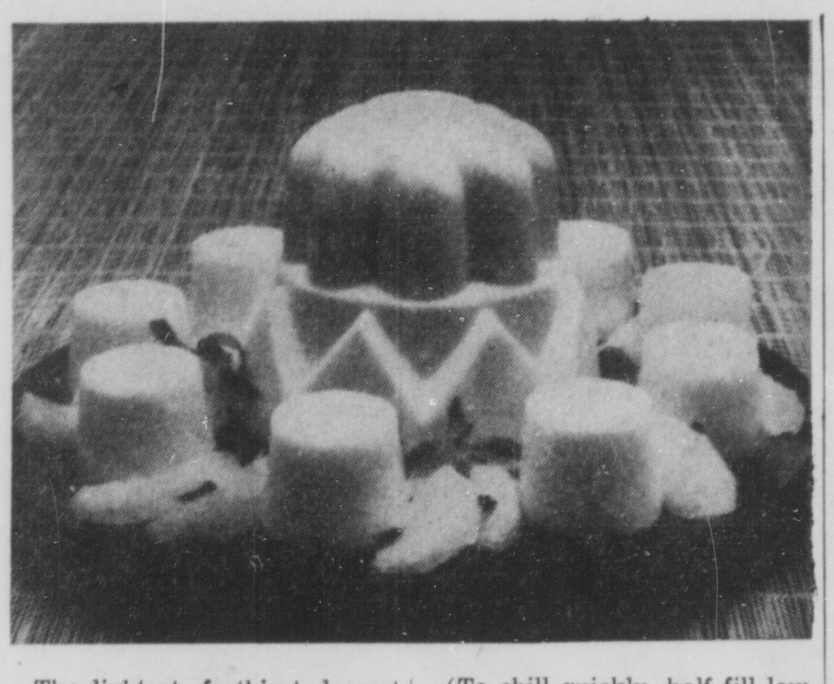
In a saucepan gradually stir water into soup mix. Heat and continue stirring until soup comes to a boil. Simmer 5 minutes, uncovered, stirring occasionally.

Remove from heat and add gelatin softened in cold water. Gradually add this to cream cheese, blending until smooth. Add lemon juice; chill until slightly thickened.

FOLD IN CELERY, green pepper, olives, onion and egg. Pour into a one quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and surround with salad greens.

Garnish with stuffed olives and slices of hard cooked egg, if desired. Makes 6-8 servings.

Cool, Cooler, Coolest Majestic Citrus Snow



The lightest, frothiest dessert for a hot summer's day is unquestionably a cool snow, looking almost too lovely to spoon into. The most refreshing snows are made from frozen Florida concentrated grapefruit or orange juice or, better still, the two in tandem.

Molded snows are elegant enough to serve at a small family wedding reception for the August bride, and they couldn't be simpler to make with unflavored gelatine.

YOU CAN ENJOY the cool flavor and color appeal of the citrus juices by chilling the grapefruit snow in a 6-cup mold and the orange mixture in six or eight individual molds.

Unmold the larger snow in the center of your prettiest platter, surround with the small ones, and garnish with chilled spiced canned grapefruit sections and sprigs of fresh mint.

The grapefruit sections are savored by boiling the syrup and adding brown sugar, whole cloves and nutmeg, returning the sections and chilling.

Grapefruit Snow

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¾ cup cold water
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida concentrated grapefruit juice
1 tablespoon Angostura bitters
2 unbeaten egg whites

Sprinkle gelatine on cold water in top of double boiler to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Add undiluted grapefruit juice concentrate and stir unil melted. Chill.

(To chill quickly, half fill lower part of double boiler with ice cubes and water; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt).

SET UPPER PART of double boiler with gelatine mixture over ice water; chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white, stirring frequently. Add egg whites. Beat with electric or rotary beater until mixture begins to hold its shape.

Turn into a 6-cup mold or individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold to serve. Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE SNOW: Follow directions for Grapefruit Snow substituting one can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate for grapefruit concentrate and substituting ¼ teaspoon almond flavoring for Angostura bitters.

Note: For 12 servings, grapefruit mold and orange mold may be served together. Chill grapefruit snow in a 6-cup mold; chill orange snow in six or eight individual molds. Unmold grapefruit snow in center of large serving plate.

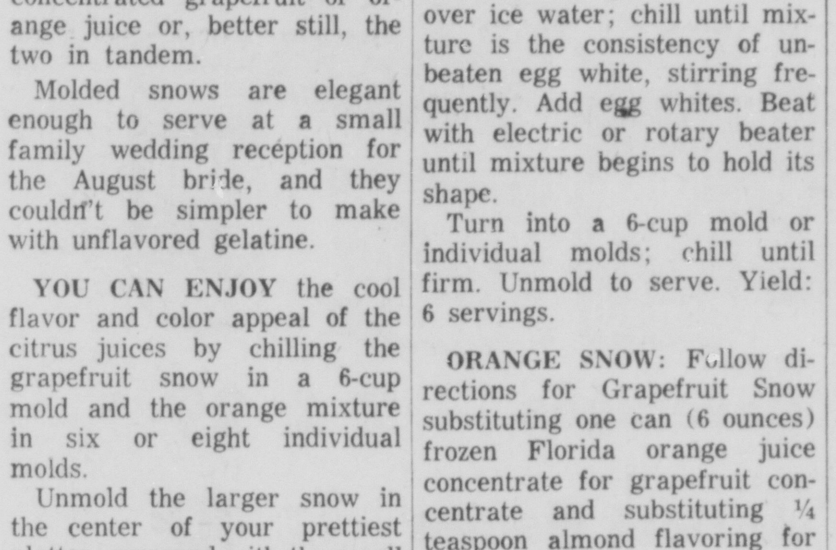
Unmold smaller molds around grapefruit snow. Garnish with Spiced Grapefruit Sections.

Chilled Grapefruit Sections

2 cans (1 pound each) Florida grapefruit sections
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ teaspoon whole cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Drain grapefruit sections. Bring grapefruit syrup to a boil; boil rapidly 2 minutes. Add brown sugar and spices; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add Florida grapefruit sections. Chill before serving. (SH

Deck In The Round



DECK IN THE ROUND—Exciting answer to "off-ground" lounging at summer cottage or backyard. Patio deck in circular shape adds attractiveness to any setting, so why settle for an ordinary square? It is easily built of Douglas fir 2x4's laid on edge with stout fir 2x12's for framework. Deck boards are spaced an eighth of an inch apart to permit rain run-off and easy cleaning with garden hose.

Pat Tesar Wears Sixpence In Shoe as Bridal Charm

A good luck sixpence, given her by visiting cousins from England, was worn in the shoe of Miss Patricia Ann Tesar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Tesar, 728 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, when she became the bride of Wayne Arthur Marthaler, son of Mrs. Arthur F. Marthaler of Chicago, June 24. The couple's marriage took place in Arlington Heights Presbyterian church in a 2 o'clock, double ring service Officiating pastor was Dr. Paul Stumpf and organist was Robert D. Wolff. "Calm as the Night" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Theodore Jahnke during the service.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Park Ridge Inn, after which the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Carmel by-the-Sea, Cal. Since July 5, the couple has been residing in San Francisco where the bridegroom is with Mac-Panel Co. and the bride with the Bechtel Corp.

A FULL-LENGTH, hoop-skirted gown of white silk taffeta was chosen by the bride. It was trimmed with lace at the neckline and lace medallions on the full skirt. Three-quarter sleeves and a chapel train were other features of her gown.

The bride's "something borrowed" was a cousin's fingertip veil with lace crown and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and white daisies. Mr. Tesar gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Richard Renfro of Elk Grove Village was matron of honor and Miss Lynne Tesar, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Jacqueline Boehmer of Arlington Heights and Carolyn Schwartz of Mt. Prospect. All wore yellow silk organza dresses with full skirts. They also wore matching hats and shoes.

The maid of honor carried white daisies with yellow roses and the others carried white daisies.

MRS. TESAR chose a mauve silk organza sheath dress with matching shoes and hat while Mrs. Marthaler chose a pale blue peau de soie sheath with overskirt lined with peacock blue. Her hat matched her dress and her flowers were daisies. Mrs. Tesar's corsage was of orchids.

Attending the groom as best man was James Harper of Evanston and his ushers, all fraternity brothers, were Richard Renfro of Elk Grove Village, Verle Besant of Centralia and Duane Kessler of St. Louis.

The new Mrs. Marthaler was graduated from Arlington high school and completed two years at the University of Illinois where she became affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Her bridegroom, a graduate o Lane Technical high school, was also graduated from the University of Illinois, where he served as president of his fraternity, Delta Tau Delta.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robery and their son, Peter, of England. (S (Jenart Studio

Engagements

Sue Ellen Smith

A November 4 wedding is being planned by Miss Sue Ellen Smith of 20 S. Busse rd., Mount Prospect, and her fiance, Grant J. Verhulst Jr., son of the Grant J. Verhulsts of Evanston. The engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Smith.

Miss Smith is a bookkeeper at Mount Prospect State bank, and Mr. Verhulst is employed by the Underwood corporation. He is a graduate of Kendall college in Evanston.

Caroline Elliott

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Elliott, 418 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Caroline Hemlyn Elliott, to James David Poling, 11 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

Miss Elliott attended Chicago Teachers college, where she was a member of Phi Delta Sigma sorority.

Mr. Poling, a graduate of Northwestern university with a master degree in education, formerly taught history at Arlington and Prospect high schools. He is now associated with Travelers Insurance company.

MR. POLING is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and now serves as treasurer of its alumni chapter.

The couple is planning a September wedding in St. Simon Episcopal church, Arlington Heights. (Bak Studio

Carol Bycroft

Announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carol Bycroft, is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bycroft of Rolling Meadows. Miss Bycroft is engaged to Graham Rieken, son of Oscar Rieken of Ashland, Ill.

The couple will be juniors at Illinois college, Jacksonville, where Miss Bycroft is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon literary society and Mr. Rieken a member of Phi Alpha.

The wedding will take place in June '62.

Carol Bafetti

Before the sound of fireworks had faded away July 4, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bafetti of Rolling Meadows were announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Larry M. Broeske, son of the Irwin M. Broeskes, also of Rolling Meadows.

The young people, who have known each other for more than four years, are planning a November wedding. Mr. Broeske, a graduate of Arlington high school, is emplyed in the Rolling Meadows post office and his bride-to-be is active in local civic affairs and is secretary of the Rolling Meadows Civic and Youth organization.

The 'Captain's Dinner' Guests

DANCING with life-size mermaid he received at "The Captain's Dinner" July 15 is Charles Hobbs of Mount Prospect. The affair was a summer dinner dance sponsored by the Saturka Dance club of Mount Prospect and was held in Elmhurst country club, which had been decorated to depict a cruise ship. Chairman of the affair was Mrs. Harry Bruhl of Mount Prospect.

PAUSING BEFORE going up the gangplank for the Saturka club's "Captain's Dinner" dance are Mrs. Clarence Raymond and the Forrest Wolfs. As each couple approached Elmhurst country club, they were given "passports" and announced as they boarded the "ship." A dinner featuring filet mignon was served to 40 couples who later danced to music of Al Ford's orchestra. The cruise's end was marked with horn blowing and streamers.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Dish Washing Uproar

The hates of the young are many and varied. At least the dislikes of my own young are. They hate going to bed at night and getting up in the morning. (I wonder where they inherited that trait?) They hate weeding, making beds, picking up their clothes, sewing on buttons, vacuuming the rug. They hate work in any form. But, the greatest hate of all is doing the dishes.

I fail to understand why they have built up such a thing against the cutlery and crockery. They are certainly willing enough to eat from them. More than willing. They are eager. Comes the sound of the dinner bell and the response is overwhelming. Comes the last forkful of goodies and the silence due to their absence is deafening.

Back in the p. d. days, pre-dishwasher, they finally worked out a system. It was full of flaws as the arguments attested but it was better than nothing. One washed, one cleared the table and another dried and put away. The fly in the ointment came when someone was absent like invited out to dinner or sick in bed or something. It goofed up the whole delicate system. Sometimes it took days of arguing and shrieking to get it back in working order.

I thought that when we acquired the dishwasher there would be no further disagreement. Simplification was to be the watchword. One person could do the whole job in less time than it takes to say, "It's your turn, I did them last time." In all these years I have never heard "It's MY turn, you did them last time." Unfortunately, the dishwasher brought with it a whole new set of problems.

One of the biggest stumbling blocks occurs when someone graciously offers to do another's dishes in return for such small favors as a pound of flesh or a right arm. The going rate for doing dishes out of turn is for the recipient of the favor to do dishes about five times in succession. This throws the whole thing out of gear terribly as somewhere in the melee someone gets out of doing dishes entirely. And is very quiet about it. It is usually the ten-year-old who knows when to keep her mouth shut.

However, in time the older ones discover that they are being done and then their lilting voices are raised in hideous protest. Sometimes it takes days before the uproar subsides. Ten-year-old goes back to taking her turn and peace reigns for a minute or two. Until someone is absent and the whole thing becomes unstuck again.

Area Beauticians Get Prevue of 'Air Lift'

The tall look of the new "air lift" coiffures will crown the rich and elegant fashion silhouette this fall and winter report area hairdressers, Paul Tell, Ray Raines, Arnold Dunsmore, Ruth Montgomery, Gladys Holm and Doris Silver. The group, all members of unit 47 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Inc., is attending the association's 41st annual convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

THE "AIR LIFT" hair styles take a cue from two of the new season's most elegant fabrics, chiffon and brocade. The top of the tall hair styles is dressed into an airy chiffon effect, blended with a textured crown, sides and fitted nape area of waves simulating rich brocade.

The head silhouette is that of an irregularly shaped oval, balanced and proportioned for necessary lift and tallness. Its fullness rises from closely fitted sides to give the tall look, not bouffance.

The lower third of the ear, or only the ear lobes are exposed. Unusual wave treatments are used over the ears in varying directions, using overthrown waves for a shell or scroll effect, or unconfined waves for flipping ends at the sides.

HAIR LENGTH will be short generally. But it will require expert professional shaping to blend the lengths from the closely fitted and professionally permanented nape area into the fullness which increases upwards towards the crown area. (S

Annette Rawlinson

Miss Thelma Annette Rawlinson's engagement to John Patton Brownell, son of the Walter T. Brownells of Mt. Prospect, is announced by her parents, the senior Dayton Rawlinsons of Prattville, Ala.

The bride-elect will receive her B. S. degree in elementary education from the University of Alabama in June, 1962, where she was chosen inter-dorm queen for the men's residence halls. This summer she is on an archaeological field trip sponsored by the University.

Mr. Brownell was graduated from Arlington high school and attended Northwestern university where he was a member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity. He will receive his B.S. degree from the school of commerce and business administration, University of Alabama, in January.

The wedding will take place August 26 in the First Methodist Church of Prattville. (S

Vacation Romance Spells Marriage for Judith Stark

A "summer romance" that began last year when the G. Herbert Stark family of Rolling Meadows was vacationing in Michigan, was culminated June 10 when their daughter, Judith, became the bride of Nicholas O. Weingart Jr., son of the senior Nicholas O. Weingarts of Bridgman, Mich. The newlyweds are now residing in Stevensville, Mich. where the groom is employed by the Pyramid Oil Co. in nearby Benton Harbor.

Their marriage took place in Rolling Meadows Community church which was decorated with baskets of yellow and white mums and gladioli with ivy for the 3:30 o'clock service. Rev. William Herman officiated at the service, which was a double ring ceremony.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and organza and carried a bouquet of ivy, stephanotis, phalaenopsis and spanish star jasmine. Her gown was made with a square, scalloped neckline, long sleeves and a lace bodice decorated with seed pearls at the neckline. The organza skirt featured panels of the lace in front and back and the sides were trimmed with three rows of the lace. A juliet cap held her elbow-length veil.

The bride's cousins from Chicago, Misses Karolyn and Mary Marquardt, served as her attendants wearing white organza over taffeta with yellow organza trim and embroidered yellow roses. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of yellow carnations and yellow roses. Karolyn served as maid of honor and Mary as the bridesmaid.

NORMAN WEINGART of Bridgman served as his brother's best man and usher was Rene Rambo of Angola, Ind.

The service was followed by a reception in the church hall for 140 guests. Mrs. Stark received in a beige cotton eyelet sheath with pink accessories and a corsage of pink garnet roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue dress with beige accessories and her corsage was also of the pink garnets.

The couple took a wedding trip around Lake Michigan for one week before taking up residence in Stevensville.

The new Mrs. Weingart was graduated from Arlington high school and had been employed by Illinois Bell in Arlington Heights. Her bridegroom was graduated from Bridgman high school. (Community Camera

Mt. Prospect Couple Wed in June Rites

A Mt. Prospect couple was united in marriage on June 3 in St. Raymond Catholic church. Coming down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was the former Danita Marie Rinaldi, and meeting her at the altar was Joseph Francis Talbot Jr. to exchange wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rinaldi, 200 Forest ave., and the bridegroom's parents are the senior Joseph Talbots of 1002 W. Gregory.

FOLLOWING THE 11 a.m. nuptials a wedding breakfast took place in the home of the bride's parents for 90 guests. A dinner and dancing for 275 friends of the couple were part of the wedding festivities, held in the evening in the Belvedere restaurant, Chicago.

The couple then went on a 12-day honeymoon to Las Vegas and are now at home at 95 W. Roxbury lane, Des Plaines.

Rev. Edward Reading united the pair, with Mrs. Edward Voorhees playing appropriate organ music.

THE BRIDE wore a floor length silk organza and tulle dress with lace trim, the very full skirt ending in a cathedral train. The gown's highlight was a wide scalloped collar embroidered in seed pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a double jewel crown, and she carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids.

Five bridal attendants preceded her down the church aisle. Maid of honor was Marie Carol Diana of Crystal Lake; bridesmaids were Noreen Talbot, the bridegroom's sister, Amelia Bergamin of Chicago and Janice Cybulski of Oak Lawn, and flower girl was the bride's 6-year-old sister, Denise Rinaldi. All were gowned alike in floor length yellow silk taffeta and net dresses with crowns to match. Their bouquets were of purple and yellow button mums.

Arlington Girl Has Lilac, White Wedding

In a lilac and white ceremony at 2 p.m. June 24 in Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine, Miss Sandra Joyce Highbarger, daughter of the Randall Highbargers, 527 W. Wilson, Palatine, became the bride of Leland Tennis Johnson, son of the Tennis M. Johnsons of Grandview, Wash. The lilac and white was carried out not only in the altar flowers of daisies, but also in the gowns of the attendants and their bouquets as well as the bride's flowers.

(Jenart Studio

Rev. Robert Sauer officiated at the double ring service during which Paul Leimer rendered the organ selections and accompanied Mrs. Irene Oelerich as she sang "Because" and 'The Lord's Prayer."

ESCORTED BY her father, the bride approached the altar down an aisle marked with white satin pew bows.

She was wearing a bridal gown of nylon organdy detailed with overall schifli embroidery, basque bodice, deep set square neckline, long tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt fashioned of three tiers of self-scalloped embroidery.

She wore a crown of seed pearls with tear drops of aurora borealis to hold her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and carried a white Bible with stephanotis and a lilac-throated orchid.

Miss Lynn Carlson of Palatine was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's next door neighbors on either side, Gladys Beiber and Carol Baumrucker.

Their gowns, all identical, were of lilac nylon sheer over taffeta made along princess lines with scoop necklines, short sleeves and full skirts of envelope folds, diagonally draped. Their picture hats were also of sheer lilac.

THE BRIDE'S 8-year-old sister, Christine, was flower girl. Her gown was of white nylon sheer over taffeta with lilac cummerbund and her flowers were white roses.

The groom, who is stationed at the Arlington Heights Nike base as a specialist 5, chose Frederic Lowe of Phoenix as his best man and John Smith of Atlanta and Ray Gardner of Grandview as his ushers. His attendants were also from the Nike base.

Cake and punch were served to 100 guests in the Immanuel school hall immediately following the service and later, 50 friends and relatives, including out-of-towners, dined at Sportsman country club. Mrs. Highbarger greeted the guests in a beige silk sheath with matching hat and gloves and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Johnson, who traveled here from Washington with Mr. Johnson for their son's wedding, chose a pink lace over taffeta sheath with orchid corsage.

THE BRIDE was graduated in 1960 from Palatine Township high school and is presently employed by a Palatine dentist. Her bridegroom was graduated from Yakima Valley Junior college in Yakima, Wash. The newlyweds are now at home at 411 Glencoe, Palatine, after a week's honeymoon in Chicago.

Vacation Romance Spells Marriage for Judith Stark

A "summer romance" that began last year when the G. Herbert Stark family of Rolling Meadows was vacationing in Michigan, was culminated June 10 when their daughter, Judith, became the bride of Nicholas O. Weingart Jr., son of the senior Nicholas O. Weingarts of Bridgman, Mich. The newlyweds are now residing in Stevensville, Mich. where the groom is employed by the Pyramid Oil Co. in nearby Benton Harbor.

Their marriage took place in Rolling Meadows Community church which was decorated with baskets of yellow and white mums and gladioli with ivy for the 3:30 o'clock service. Rev. William Herman officiated at the service, which was a double ring ceremony.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and organza and carried a bouquet of ivy, stephanotis, phalaenopsis and spanish star jasmine. Her gown was made with a square, scalloped neckline, long sleeves and a lace bodice decorated with seed pearls at the neckline. The organza skirt featured panels of the lace in front and back and the sides were trimmed with three rows of the lace. A juliet cap held her elbow-length veil.

The bride's cousins from Chicago, Misses Karolyn and Mary Marquardt, served as her attendants wearing white organza over taffeta with yellow organza trim and embroidered yellow roses. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of yellow carnations and yellow roses. Karolyn served as maid of honor and Mary as the bridesmaid.

NORMAN WEINGART of Bridgman served as his brother's best man and usher was Rene Rambo of Angola, Ind.

The service was followed by a reception in the church hall for 140 guests. Mrs. Stark received in a beige cotton eyelet sheath with pink accessories and a corsage of pink garnet roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue dress with beige accessories and her corsage was also of the pink garnets.

The couple took a wedding trip around Lake Michigan for one week before taking up residence in Stevensville.

The new Mrs. Weingart was graduated from Arlington high school and had been employed by Illinois Bell in Arlington Heights. Her bridegroom was graduated from Bridgman high school. (Community Camera

Mt. Prospect Couple Wed in June Rites

A Mt. Prospect couple was united in marriage on June 3 in St. Raymond Catholic church. Coming down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was the former Danita Marie Rinaldi, and meeting her at the altar was Joseph Francis Talbot Jr. to exchange wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rinaldi, 200 Forest ave., and the bridegroom's parents are the senior Joseph Talbots of 1002 W. Gregory.

FOLLOWING THE 11 a.m. nuptials a wedding breakfast took place in the home of the bride's parents for 90 guests. A dinner and dancing for 275 friends of the couple were part of the wedding festivities, held in the evening in the Belvedere restaurant, Chicago.

The couple then went on a 12-day honeymoon to Las Vegas and are now at home at 95 W. Roxbury lane, Des Plaines.

Rev. Edward Reading united the pair, with Mrs. Edward Voorhees playing appropriate organ music.

THE BRIDE wore a floor length silk organza and tulle dress with lace trim, the very full skirt ending in a cathedral train. The gown's highlight was a wide scalloped collar embroidered in seed pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a double jewel crown, and she carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids.

Five bridal attendants preceded her down the church aisle. Maid of honor was Marie Carol Diana of Crystal Lake; bridesmaids were Noreen Talbot, the bridegroom's sister, Amelia Bergamin of Chicago and Janice Cybulski of Oak Lawn, and flower girl was the bride's 6-year-old sister, Denise Rinaldi. All were gowned alike in floor length yellow silk taffeta and net dresses with crowns to match. Their bouquets were of purple and yellow button mums.

RONALD GARR of Arlington Heights was best man, and ushers were William Rinaldi Jr., brother of the bride; Richard Johnson and Robert Minaglia, both of Chicago.

The bridal pair are both graduates of Arlington high school. The bride is now employed at Illinois Bell Telephone company's Arlington Heights office and the bridegroom at U-C-Lite Mfg. Co. (S

"How can we help?"

The days are long and lonely during the readjustment period after the funeral. It is then that thoughtful friends can be of special help. Dropping in for a brief chat . . . an occasional phone call . . . an invitation for a Sunday afternoon ride — any little gesture that says "we remember" is always appreciated.

"How can we help?"

The days are long and lonely during the readjustment period after the funeral. It is then that thoughtful friends can be of special help. Dropping in for a brief chat . . . an occasional phone call . . . an invitation for a Sunday afternoon ride — any little gesture that says "we remember" is always appreciated.

Don't Starve

YOUR CHILD

Rich Mrs. Fairchild loved to entertain lavishly. She set a lovely table for her own family, too.

Imagine her surprise when the doctor said her children suffered from malnutrition. They were undernourished! She was starving them. Of all the nerve! Her children ate all they wanted, even between meals. She wrote the doctor a nasty letter and quit him.

But it was still true. The children were getting food, but not the right kinds of food. Many children are starving that way. Even more children are starved emotionally, by not getting enough love from their parents.

But worst of all is the spiritual starvation! Few children have enough of God's Word in their homes and schools to feed their spiritual needs.

We have a plan that will help guard your children against spiritual starvation. Bring them to our church. Start this Sunday!

Q. Has a divorced woman the privilege of continuing to wear her rings?

A. If she wishes—although it would seem logical that she would wish to discard her wedding ring.

Q. I issued invitations recently to an informal party in my home, and now, because of illness in my family, find it impossible to give the party. How can I recall the invitations?

A. Either by telephone or brief note, explaining the circumstances and informing your intended guests that you will get in touch with them at a later date.

Don't Starve

YOUR CHILD

Rich Mrs. Fairchild loved to entertain lavishly. She set a lovely table for her own family, too.

Imagine her surprise when the doctor said her children suffered from malnutrition. They were undernourished! She was starving them. Of all the nerve! Her children ate all they wanted, even between meals. She wrote the doctor a nasty letter and quit him.

But it was still true. The children were getting food, but not the right kinds of food. Many children are starving that way. Even more children are starved emotionally, by not getting enough love from their parents.

But worst of all is the spiritual starvation! Few children have enough of God's Word in their homes and schools to feed their spiritual needs.

We have a plan that will help guard your children against spiritual starvation. Bring them to our church. Start this Sunday!

Drought Is Balanced By Other Good Crops

By L. H. SIMERL

Weather conditions have been generally favorable for crop growth in the eastern half of the nation, but too hot and dry in much of the western half.

Northern and western Illinois has suffered some from lack of rain. The southern tip counties had far too much. The area in between is generally in good shape. Crops are average or better in most of Illinois, though corn is smaller than usual where excessive rains delayed planting.

MOST OF THE remainder of the corn belt is in good condition. Exceptions are southern Indiana, which had too much rain, and southeastern Iowa which was in the drought area that covered western and northern Illinois. This same drought belt extended into southern Wisconsin and over much of Michigan.

The central and southern Great Plains have had a favorable season. This area includes Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas. Central and south Texas was dry early, but received big rains in June.

The Northern Plains, including the Dakotas and most of Montana, had an unusually hot, dry spring. This drought area extended into Canada and thus cuts prospects for hard spring wheat in both countries. Ranges are poor, the hay crop is short, and water for cattle is also in short supply. Shortages of feed and water have forced some ranchers to sell cattle. As often happens, the drought is accompanied by severe outbreaks of grasshoppers.

ANOTHER LARGE drought area has covered most of five states in the southwest—Utah, Nevada, southern California, Arizona and New Mexico. Many areas report shortages of water for livestock or irrigation.

Poor conditions in the northern Great Plains and the southwest are offset by average to better prospects in other areas.

Conditions in the midwest are, as we stated before, generally favorable for crop growth and livestock.

Most of the eastern half of the country received average or better rainfall in the past four months. Heavy rains in June covered broad areas of the south and east. These rains delayed harvesting in the south and planting and cultivation in the eastern sttaes.

GREATER-than-average rainfall often delays planting over large areas, and causes crop losses in small areas. But general crop failures are seldom caused by too much rain.

The southern and eastern states generally report adequate to excessive soil moisture. This condition is favorable for pastures, and for the production of average or bigger crops.

The total situation, over the whole nation, is about average. As usual, there are some bad spots, but this is normal. (FM

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

Flower gardeners who have some particularly nice flower plants this summer may want to collect seed for planting next spring. But first a word of caution: There are several reasons why it may be unwise for you to collect your own seed. Perhaps the most important reason is that some of the better flowers today, such as petunias, are F-1 hybrids. These hybrids are the result of crossing one inbred strain with another strain to produce flowers of a specific color and type. But seed produced by these hybrids gives a mixture of colors and types. The same is true of F-2 hybrids.

Another reason is that bees and wind cross-pollinate flowers. Seeds of these crosses also produce an unpredictable mixture of colors and growth habits.

SO, IF YOU prefer flowers of a specific color and type, it's better to buy commercial seed. However, if you have a single variety, such as a marigold, with no other similar varieties near by, it will not have a chance to cross-pollinate and will produce flowers that are true to type.

If you decide to collect your own seed, wait until the pods are dry and beginning to split. Mature seeds are usually dark-coated, large and firm.

Once the seed is out of the pod, spread it out thinly in an open pan, and let it air-dry for several weeks in a warm, dry room. Then, after it is thoroughly dried, put it into labeled envelopes and store in a sealed fruit or pickle jar.

Store the jar in a cool, dry area, such as a basement room or in the refrigerator. Satisfactory temperatures for seed storage range from 35 degrees to 50 degrees, and the lower the humidity, the better. Since certain seeds lose their viability within a year or so, do not store seed for prolonged periods.

BEFORE planting the seeds next spring, it will be a good idea to test them to see how they will germinate. Do this by placing a certain number of seeds between two sheets of blotting paper. Keep the paper constantly moist and at a temperature of 65 degrees to 75 degrees. To prevent the blotting paper from drying out too quickly, put in a covered baking dish or in a pie tin covered with cellophante or tinfoil.

If the seed you test does not germinate 100 per cent, just sow it a little more thickly than usual. But if the germination rate is very low, discard the stored seed and buy new seed.

Breeding flower plants can be an interesting hobby. A free booklet on "Plant Breeding" is available on request from your University of Illinois Extension Service office, 201 N. Dunton avenue, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (FM

School Milk Plan Hailed by Study

Milk consumption in Illinois schools has more than doubled in the past seven years since the Special School Milk Program started, a University of Illinois study shows.

In a report just published, Robert E. Jacobson and R. W. Bartlett point out that in 1953-54 the state average for milk consumed in schools was 12.3 quarts per student per year. After five years under the Special Milk Program, the state average consumption per student has risen to 30.3 quarts.

THE REPORT also shows differences in consumption among schools. Schools with fewer than 125 students had a higher average than the larger ones. Consumption per student was highest in schools participating in both the Special Milk Program and the National School Lunch Program.

When students were charged from one to three cents for each half-pint of milk, there were no outstanding differences in consumption. But if the school milk program were not operating, students would frequently have to pay as much as 10 cents per half-pint and school milk consumption would likely suffer a major decrease, the report concludes.

THE DETAILED report has been published as Circular 831, The School Milk Program in Illinois. Copies may be obtained from the office of any county farm adviser or directly from the College of Agriculture at Urbana. (FM

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I see you are all alone." Omit the "all." It is not necessary.

The word ADMIT is used of less serious or intimate matters than CONFESS, which usually implies a personal fault or dismeanor. Thus: "He admitted that he was mistaken," and, "He confessed that he had been guilty of pilfering supplies."

Enforce Livestock Rules

U.S. Guards Against Diseases Via Seaway

United States and Canadian officials are rigidly enforcing shipping regulations to prevent foreign livestock diseases from penetrating North America via the St. Lawrence Seaway, Dr. E. E. Moon told veterinarians attending the Conference on Recent Advances in Animal Disease Control.

Dr. Moon represented the Animal Inspection and Quarantine division (AIQ) of the Chicago Stock Yards. The conference was held at the University of Illinois July 11 and 12.

"Port inspection is the first line of defense against foreign disease," he told the conference. Because Chicago, Milwaukee and other Great Lake cities are not ports of entry for foreign animals, inspectors examine all animal byproducts. Untanned hides, wool, glue stock, horns, straw, hay, meat from certain countries or any other animal byproduct may be contaminated with infective organisms. Therefore, inspectors turn all byproducts over to AIQ for examination. No contaminated product is released.

ANOTHER PART of the fight against foreign diseases deals with food and garbage aboard foreign vessels. Garbage is removed at Montreal. After ships enter the Seaway, it can only be disposed of at port incinerators. Meats that are restricted are placed under Canadian seals, which must not be broken until the vessel returns to Montreal on its outgoing trip.

U. S. officials are concerned about the St. Lawrence Seaway because the country's principal agricultural area could be hit overnight. At least 17 states—those bordering the Seaway and those whose commerce flows through lake ports—are affected by the St. Lawrence Seaway, Dr. Moon stated.

Animal diseases are not the only concern of regulatory officials. The introduction of certain foreign insect pests could cause devastating damage to our crops, Dr. Moon said.

THE PLANT Quarantine Division is most interested in the khapra beetle, whose larvae can live as long as three years without food. When the beetle attacks whole grain or cereal products, losses range from 2 to 73 per cent. In emphasizing the real danger of these insect pests, Dr. Moon said Chicago inspectors have already spotted this beetle in holds of foreign vessels.

Because increased use of the Seaway also increases the chances of introducing new insects and livestock diseases, Dr. Moon urged veterinarians to be on guard and report any suspicious livestock diseases to proper officials.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway is of great economic importance to Illinois and some 16 other states," Dr. Moon concluded, "but we must all be aware that foreign shipments do pose a constant threat from foreign animal diseases, insect pests and human diseases."

Lady-Like Lines Lead Girls' Fall Fashions

New fall dresses in the girls' department emphasize lady-like silhouettes instead of the strictly tailored look, according to the fashion-minded, who also expect pinafore, jumper and middy styles to be especially popular with the younger set.

Above-the-hem trims appear frequently on the new dresses, emphasizing skirt line and length, which is short, just as in women's wear.

Rickrack flourishes as a trim, often in black or picking up the darkest color in a print. It may also be used to circle a simple neckline or trim an overscaled collar.

Sashes and self-belts on girls' dresses have been replaced by corded belt treatments, often trimmed with a discreet bow.

TOP FASHION for school girls is assured by accurate sizing, including a new junior sub-teen range. This group of sizes is aimed at young ladies whose figures are more mature than the girl's size range but not quite developed to a teen size. The styling is relatively sophisticated to suit the changing tastes of the young customer while remaining suitable for the age group. The new size range is marked 9, 11 and 13.

Muted colors will be "the thing" in girls' fashions this fall including the metal shades as the most important colors. These are the soft grey-green of old pewter, the soft grey of silver and the mellow tone of old gold plus steel blue.

Earth tones will be emphasized, too, in such colors as mossy greens and peat browns.

NO COLOR story is complete without one shocker, and this fall it will be magenta, a purplish shade of red. A follow-up of the spring-time craze for pink, magenta will appear in every hue and line.

Unfortunately, however, magenta is not equally wearable by all girls. It is usually not becoming to brunettes and may tend to wash out a fair blonde. A brown-haired, blue-eyed girl will do best with it, but not if she has a favorite red sweater or coat. (S

Down On The Farm

with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

Recently I have had the privilege of spending some time in Colorado. The type of farming they do there is different in some respects to ours, in the midwest.

The average rainfall in most of Colorado is less than fifteen inches per year. When farmers need rain for their crops, they use irrigation. The cost for irrigating an acre of land depends on the amount of water a farmer uses and where he may be located from the source of water supply. In some cases the cost of irrigation may run as high as thirty to forty dollars per acre.

Most of the cities have access to the water that comes from the canyons, therefore the people in the cities use water freely on their lawns and flowers. This of course adds beauty to their cities.

Some people have differences of opinion on reclamation projects, because of the cost involved to our Interior Department. Many people think there is no need to increase the amount of land available for farm use when we are already forced with surpluses. I could easily defend this type of thinking, but on the other hand, when one thinks of this vast country of ours and of the people that inhabit the areas which are not as fortunate as we in the midwest as far as natural resources are concerned, I think I could defend the reclamation projects also. No doubt it is good insurance for the future, not only for agriculture, but for utility needs also.

When I was driving through eastern Colorado, before coming to the Kansas border, farmers were busy combining wheat. The yields were ranging from 16 bushels per acre (where a hail storm had hit the previous week) to 42 bushels per acre on the better land. I saw more than 100 trucks waiting to unload at one of the elevators.

In parts of Colorado and Kansas the farmers do dryland farming. They fallow the land one year and plant the crop the next year. By doing this type of farming enough moisture can be conserved to grow a good crop of wheat every other year or a fair crop of corn every other year.

There is much wasteland, as far as farming is concerned in the west, but beauty of the mountains adds a great deal to that country. But being away from your own situation for a few weeks one appreciates more than ever the productiveness of our soils here in the midwest, and the splendid type of agriculture we have here.

Arlington FHA Chooses Mary Janis As Delegate

The Arlington chapter of the Future Homemakers of America has selected Mary Diane Janis, daughter of Marian Janis of Arlington Heights, as a delegate to the annual State Leadership conference to be held July 24 through July 28 at East Bay camp in Bloomington.

Diane, a junior at Arlington high school, is president of her FHA chapter. Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of students studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools.

An opportunity to exchange ideas with FHA'ers from other Illinois chapters will be given to those attending the 5-day conference. The theme, "Miss FHA — Mrs. America," is planned to help delegates further develop leadership abilities and to find ways of furthering local chapter improvement.

Twenty-one members of the This and That 4-H club of Bloomingdale met the evening of July 14 in Cloverdale school. Mary Monckton gave a talk on heat exhaustion, Jimmy Stark told about birds and Bobby Duda's subject was fire extinguishers.

A report on the "Share The Fun Day" was given by another member, Bobby Schmahl, after which refreshments, donated by Randy Davis, Sandy and Dennis Church, were served. The meeting ended promptly at 9 p.m. (FM

Farmers: Sign Up For Conservation

Sign-up for additional soil conservation work begins August 1. A new sign-up period for farmers desiring to carry out approved soil conservation practices under the agricultural conservation program begins August 1, according to the information from Carl A. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC committee.

August 1 is the first date by which sign-up is permitted for limestone and rock phosphate to be used during the last five months of the year. All materials must be applied according to soil test and must be used in connection with soil improving grasses and legumes.

OTHER IMPORTANT practices that are available include drainage ditches, sod waterways, additional legumes. The Soil Conservation Service is cooperating in furnishing technical services on certain practices.

After August 15, requests for practices can be accepted only if funds therefore are available at the time.

All requests by Cook county farmers for cost-sharing assistance under the program must be filed at the county offices located at Orland Park or Arlington Heights. A request must be on file before a practice is started. Farmers interested in practices involving limestone or other materials should bring along their soil tests.

A MEETING of the chairmen of the Cook ASC Community Committees, will be held 10 a.m. Friday, July 28 at the Orland Park fire hall to elect the Cook County ASC Committee. (FM

Farmers Outlook

Drought Is Balanced By Other Good Crops

By L. H. SIMERL

Weather conditions have been generally favorable for crop growth in the eastern half of the nation, but too hot and dry in much of the western half.

Northern and western Illinois has suffered some from lack of rain. The southern tip counties had far too much. The area in between is generally in good shape. Crops are average or better in most of Illinois, though corn is smaller than usual where excessive rains delayed planting.

MOST OF THE remainder of the corn belt is in good condition. Exceptions are southern Indiana, which had too much rain, and southeastern Iowa which was in the drought area that covered western and northern Illinois. This same drought belt extended into southern Wisconsin and over much of Michigan.

The central and southern Great Plains have had a favorable season. This area includes Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas. Central and south Texas was dry early, but received big rains in June.

The Northern Plains, including the Dakotas and most of Montana, had an unusually hot, dry spring. This drought area extended into Canada and thus cuts prospects for hard spring wheat in both countries. Ranges are poor, the hay crop is short, and water for cattle is also in short supply. Shortages of feed and water have forced some ranchers to sell cattle. As often happens, the drought is accompanied by severe outbreaks of grasshoppers.

ANOTHER LARGE drought area has covered most of five states in the southwest—Utah, Nevada, southern California, Arizona and New Mexico. Many areas report shortages of water for livestock or irrigation.

Poor conditions in the northern Great Plains and the southwest are offset by average to better prospects in other areas.

Conditions in the midwest are, as we stated before, generally favorable for crop growth and livestock.

Most of the eastern half of the country received average or better rainfall in the past four months. Heavy rains in June covered broad areas of the south and east. These rains delayed harvesting in the south and planting and cultivation in the eastern sttaes.

GREATER-than-average rainfall often delays planting over large areas, and causes crop losses in small areas. But general crop failures are seldom caused by too much rain.

The southern and eastern states generally report adequate to excessive soil moisture. This condition is favorable for pastures, and for the production of average or bigger crops.

The total situation, over the whole nation, is about average. As usual, there are some bad spots, but this is normal. (FM

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

Flower gardeners who have some particularly nice flower plants this summer may want to collect seed for planting next spring. But first a word of caution: There are several reasons why it may be unwise for you to collect your own seed. Perhaps the most important reason is that some of the better flowers today, such as petunias, are F-1 hybrids. These hybrids are the result of crossing one inbred strain with another strain to produce flowers of a specific color and type. But seed produced by these hybrids gives a mixture of colors and types. The same is true of F-2 hybrids.

Another reason is that bees and wind cross-pollinate flowers. Seeds of these crosses also produce an unpredictable mixture of colors and growth habits.

SO, IF YOU prefer flowers of a specific color and type, it's better to buy commercial seed. However, if you have a single variety, such as a marigold, with no other similar varieties near by, it will not have a chance to cross-pollinate and will produce flowers that are true to type.

If you decide to collect your own seed, wait until the pods are dry and beginning to split. Mature seeds are usually dark-coated, large and firm.

Once the seed is out of the pod, spread it out thinly in an open pan, and let it air-dry for several weeks in a warm, dry room. Then, after it is thoroughly dried, put it into labeled envelopes and store in a sealed fruit or pickle jar.

Store the jar in a cool, dry area, such as a basement room or in the refrigerator. Satisfactory temperatures for seed storage range from 35 degrees to 50 degrees, and the lower the humidity, the better. Since certain seeds lose their viability within a year or so, do not store seed for prolonged periods.

BEFORE planting the seeds next spring, it will be a good idea to test them to see how they will germinate. Do this by placing a certain number of seeds between two sheets of blotting paper. Keep the paper constantly moist and at a temperature of 65 degrees to 75 degrees. To prevent the blotting paper from drying out too quickly, put in a covered baking dish or in a pie tin covered with cellophante or tinfoil.

If the seed you test does not germinate 100 per cent, just sow it a little more thickly than usual. But if the germination rate is very low, discard the stored seed and buy new seed.

Breeding flower plants can be an interesting hobby. A free booklet on "Plant Breeding" is available on request from your University of Illinois Extension Service office, 201 N. Dunton avenue, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (FM

School Milk Plan Hailed by Study

Milk consumption in Illinois schools has more than doubled in the past seven years since the Special School Milk Program started, a University of Illinois study shows.

In a report just published, Robert E. Jacobson and R. W. Bartlett point out that in 1953-54 the state average for milk consumed in schools was 12.3 quarts per student per year. After five years under the Special Milk Program, the state average consumption per student has risen to 30.3 quarts.

THE REPORT also shows differences in consumption among schools. Schools with fewer than 125 students had a higher average than the larger ones. Consumption per student was highest in schools participating in both the Special Milk Program and the National School Lunch Program.

When students were charged from one to three cents for each half-pint of milk, there were no outstanding differences in consumption. But if the school milk program were not operating, students would frequently have to pay as much as 10 cents per half-pint and school milk consumption would likely suffer a major decrease, the report concludes.

THE DETAILED report has been published as Circular 831, The School Milk Program in Illinois. Copies may be obtained from the office of any county farm adviser or directly from the College of Agriculture at Urbana. (FM

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I see you are all alone." Omit the "all." It is not necessary.

The word ADMIT is used of less serious or intimate matters than CONFESS, which usually implies a personal fault or dismeanor. Thus: "He admitted that he was mistaken," and, "He confessed that he had been guilty of pilfering supplies."

Enforce Livestock Rules

U.S. Guards Against Diseases Via Seaway

United States and Canadian officials are rigidly enforcing shipping regulations to prevent foreign livestock diseases from penetrating North America via the St. Lawrence Seaway, Dr. E. E. Moon told veterinarians attending the Conference on Recent Advances in Animal Disease Control.

Dr. Moon represented the Animal Inspection and Quarantine division (AIQ) of the Chicago Stock Yards. The conference was held at the University of Illinois July 11 and 12.

"Port inspection is the first line of defense against foreign disease," he told the conference. Because Chicago, Milwaukee and other Great Lake cities are not ports of entry for foreign animals, inspectors examine all animal byproducts. Untanned hides, wool, glue stock, horns, straw, hay, meat from certain countries or any other animal byproduct may be contaminated with infective organisms. Therefore, inspectors turn all byproducts over to AIQ for examination. No contaminated product is released.

ANOTHER PART of the fight against foreign diseases deals with food and garbage aboard foreign vessels. Garbage is removed at Montreal. After ships enter the Seaway, it can only be disposed of at port incinerators. Meats that are restricted are placed under Canadian seals, which must not be broken until the vessel returns to Montreal on its outgoing trip.

U. S. officials are concerned about the St. Lawrence Seaway because the country's principal agricultural area could be hit overnight. At least 17 states—those bordering the Seaway and those whose commerce flows through lake ports—are affected by the St. Lawrence Seaway, Dr. Moon stated.

Animal diseases are not the only concern of regulatory officials. The introduction of certain foreign insect pests could cause devastating damage to our crops, Dr. Moon said.

THE PLANT Quarantine Division is most interested in the khapra beetle, whose larvae can live as long as three years without food. When the beetle attacks whole grain or cereal products, losses range from 2 to 73 per cent. In emphasizing the real danger of these insect pests, Dr. Moon said Chicago inspectors have already spotted this beetle in holds of foreign vessels.

Because increased use of the Seaway also increases the chances of introducing new insects and livestock diseases, Dr. Moon urged veterinarians to be on guard and report any suspicious livestock diseases to proper officials.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway is of great economic importance to Illinois and some 16 other states," Dr. Moon concluded, "but we must all be aware that foreign shipments do pose a constant threat from foreign animal diseases, insect pests and human diseases."

Lady-Like Lines Lead Girls' Fall Fashions

New fall dresses in the girls' department emphasize lady-like silhouettes instead of the strictly tailored look, according to the fashion-minded, who also expect pinafore, jumper and middy styles to be especially popular with the younger set.

Above-the-hem trims appear frequently on the new dresses, emphasizing skirt line and length, which is short, just as in women's wear.

Rickrack flourishes as a trim, often in black or picking up the darkest color in a print. It may also be used to circle a simple neckline or trim an overscaled collar.

Sashes and self-belts on girls' dresses have been replaced by corded belt treatments, often trimmed with a discreet bow.

TOP FASHION for school girls is assured by accurate sizing, including a new junior sub-teen range. This group of sizes is aimed at young ladies whose figures are more mature than the girl's size range but not quite developed to a teen size. The styling is relatively sophisticated to suit the changing tastes of the young customer while remaining suitable for the age group. The new size range is marked 9, 11 and 13.

Muted colors will be "the thing" in girls' fashions this fall including the metal shades as the most important colors. These are the soft grey-green of old pewter, the soft grey of silver and the mellow tone of old gold plus steel blue.

Earth tones will be emphasized, too, in such colors as mossy greens and peat browns.

NO COLOR story is complete without one shocker, and this fall it will be magenta, a purplish shade of red. A follow-up of the spring-time craze for pink, magenta will appear in every hue and line.

Unfortunately, however, magenta is not equally wearable by all girls. It is usually not becoming to brunettes and may tend to wash out a fair blonde. A brown-haired, blue-eyed girl will do best with it, but not if she has a favorite red sweater or coat. (S

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

Recently I have had the privilege of spending some time in Colorado. The type of farming they do there is different in some respects to ours, in the midwest.

The average rainfall in most of Colorado is less than fifteen inches per year. When farmers need rain for their crops, they use irrigation. The cost for irrigating an acre of land depends on the amount of water a farmer uses and where he may be located from the source of water supply. In some cases the cost of irrigation may run as high as thirty to forty dollars per acre.

Most of the cities have access to the water that comes from the canyons, therefore the people in the cities use water freely on their lawns and flowers. This of course adds beauty to their cities.

Some people have differences of opinion on reclamation projects, because of the cost involved to our Interior Department. Many people think there is no need to increase the amount of land available for farm use when we are already forced with surpluses. I could easily defend this type of thinking, but on the other hand, when one thinks of this vast country of ours and of the people that inhabit the areas which are not as fortunate as we in the midwest as far as natural resources are concerned, I think I could defend the reclamation projects also. No doubt it is good insurance for the future, not only for agriculture, but for utility needs also.

When I was driving through eastern Colorado, before coming to the Kansas border, farmers were busy combining wheat. The yields were ranging from 16 bushels per acre (where a hail storm had hit the previous week) to 42 bushels per acre on the better land. I saw more than 100 trucks waiting to unload at one of the elevators.

In parts of Colorado and Kansas the farmers do dryland farming. They fallow the land one year and plant the crop the next year. By doing this type of farming enough moisture can be conserved to grow a good crop of wheat every other year or a fair crop of corn every other year.

There is much wasteland, as far as farming is concerned in the west, but beauty of the mountains adds a great deal to that country. But being away from your own situation for a few weeks one appreciates more than ever the productiveness of our soils here in the midwest, and the splendid type of agriculture we have here.

Arlington FHA Chooses Mary Janis As Delegate

MARY DIANE JANIS

The Arlington chapter of the Future Homemakers of America has selected Mary Diane Janis, daughter of Marian Janis of Arlington Heights, as a delegate to the annual State Leadership conference to be held July 24 through July 28 at East Bay camp in Bloomington.

Diane, a junior at Arlington high school, is president of her FHA chapter. Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of students studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools.

An opportunity to exchange ideas with FHA'ers from other Illinois chapters will be given to those attending the 5-day conference. The theme, "Miss FHA — Mrs. America," is planned to help delegates further develop leadership abilities and to find ways of furthering local chapter improvement.

Delegate At 4-H Week Conference

Jannette Gorka, one of Itasca Little Women 4-H club junior leaders, was delegate to the State 4-H Week held recently on the campus of the University of Illinois, Champaign. She was among 1,000 young people representing 102 counties at the conference, first of its kind.

Timely Topics For This 'n That 4-H Club

Twenty-one members of the This and That 4-H club of Bloomingdale met the evening of July 14 in Cloverdale school. Mary Monckton gave a talk on heat exhaustion, Jimmy Stark told about birds and Bobby Duda's subject was fire extinguishers.

A report on the "Share The Fun Day" was given by another member, Bobby Schmahl, after which refreshments, donated by Randy Davis, Sandy and Dennis Church, were served. The meeting ended promptly at 9 p.m. (FM

Farmers: Sign Up For Conservation

Sign-up for additional soil conservation work begins August 1. A new sign-up period for farmers desiring to carry out approved soil conservation practices under the agricultural conservation program begins August 1, according to the information from Carl A. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC committee.

August 1 is the first date by which sign-up is permitted for limestone and rock phosphate to be used during the last five months of the year. All materials must be applied according to soil test and must be used in connection with soil improving grasses and legumes.

OTHER IMPORTANT practices that are available include drainage ditches, sod waterways, additional legumes. The Soil Conservation Service is cooperating in furnishing technical services on certain practices.

After August 15, requests for practices can be accepted only if funds therefore are available at the time.

All requests by Cook county farmers for cost-sharing assistance under the program must be filed at the county offices located at Orland Park or Arlington Heights. A request must be on file before a practice is started. Farmers interested in practices involving limestone or other materials should bring along their soil tests.

A MEETING of the chairmen of the Cook ASC Community Committees, will be held 10 a.m. Friday, July 28 at the Orland Park fire hall to elect the Cook County ASC Committee. (FM

'Islanders' Bask in Polynesian Splendor

ELABORATE POLYNESIAN FEAST was recently enjoyed at exotic Hawaiian luau given by the Harry F. Nobles in their Rolling Meadows home. The hosts, left, greeted their 16 appropriately-costumed guests with Hawaiian customs, warm alohas and colorful fresh-flowered leis. The Alvin Estrellas, right, also of Rolling Meadows, were among the "islanders" who were seated on pillows at a foot-high festive table which was arranged alongside a warmly glowing fireplace. Fresh flowers, fern leaves and tiki lanterns enhanced the display of the succulent feast which featured roasted ribs, shrimp tempuri and sauces, fried chicken rice, chilled fruit in mèlon halves, assorted salads, relishes and iced fruit punch.

AUTHENTIC ISLAND ATTIRE was donned by guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Noble recently when they attended an exotic Hawaiian luau held in Polynesian splendor. Brightly burning torches lit up the pathway to the Noble home where guests enjoyed a gay, festive evening that will long be remembered as one of the most elaborate parties ever. Sipping iced fruit punch are the Gil Dahms and John Mechers, all of Rolling Meadows.

Selling Gimmicks

Dear Peg:

Bridget met the postman at the door a few mornings ago and came running excitedly upstairs. "Mother!" she called, "look here, there's a letter for me and it's important!"

The business size envelope in a little girl's hands looked suspicious before she even opened it.

"Listen, Mother, to what it says, 'How would you like to wake up some morning and find $50 or even $100 in your top drawer? . . . And you could too if you would like to spend just a little time visiting your friends and your mother's friends. They will all love these lovely Christmas cards and will probably order many boxes from you. Think of all the money you can make for Christmas since you get 50 cents for every box you sell! Just send in the order blank and we will send you the cards to sell and by Christmas you'll be rich!' Oh, Mom, I gotta send it in right away. Think of all the money I'll make. Look Mother how pretty the cards are. I'll bet everyone will want some."

How do you tell a nine year old that this is a racket? No, it's not the most harmful racket on the market—in fact there are people who even think it's O. K. But I'm not one of them. If a bunch of guys can get enough kids to do their selling for them, then they can sit back and wait for the money to roll in. I'm not against this sort of thing if it's for a charitable organization —I think it's very good for children to be a part of whatever the family agrees is a worthy cause, but for a group of people to use some children especially without the consent of their parents is quite unfair to both children and parents.

"Bridget," I started patiently, "you don't understand that you will have to sell many boxes before you will make any money—you only get a small part of the cost of the box. Furthermore, dear, there will be many boxes delivered to you and you will be expected to sell all or most of them—or pay for them. I think they're very pretty from the sample you showed me, but even we have ordered our cards from the same person we always order them from, and people we know, if they haven't already will do the same thing when it gets closer to Christmas."

"But, Mama, it says I can make $100 or $50. Wouldn't that be wonderful?" she insisted.

"Yes, if that were true," I answered a little sharply. "But it isn't because you couldn't sell enough boxes to make that much money. Look dear, you can earn all the money you want to right here at home. There are many little extra jobs I can give you."

You see how this sort of thing puts parents on the spot. I don't want to discourage her from earning money, saving money, etc. But this is simply not the way. I saw a very good friend of mine take several boxes of all occasion greeting cards to a bridge meeting and try to sell them to all her friends, explaining that they were sent to her son. Of course, we all bought a box, but I don't believe in doing this myself and I don't think the friend will do it again either. She later explained that her son was on a mailing list from a magazine subscription. This was exactly the case with Bridget. She subscribes to a child's comic book, which some time ago made this offer on its back cover. Apparently it didn't get the desired response, so decided on direct mailing.

She was disappointed for awhile, but the more I pointed out that it was a great deal more work than she anticipated, the cooler she became to the idea—especially the part about the possibility of having to pay for the unsold boxes. I know we'd find this thing hard to fight—but if you or any of your friends know people who do this sort of thing—selling through children without parents' consent—I wish you'd point out how difficult it makes homelife for awhile. Thanks!

My love,
Patty

Beckett-Lochinger Nuptials June 24

(Times Candid

Prospect Heights Community church was the setting of the nuptials of the former Brenda Ann Beckett, who made her home with her uncle and aunt, the James B. Sailers, 300 Meadow lane, Mount Prospect, and Anthony Michael Lochinger of Des Plaines. The afternoon ceremony was performed on June 24 by Pastor Robert Klepper before an altar decorated with pink and white mixed flowers.

The bride's mother is Mrs. Bertha Beckett of Flint, Mich. She came here for the wedding and reception, at which she was attired in an orchid cotton chiffon dress with a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's parents are the Anthony Lochingers of Des Plaines. Mrs. Lochinger was gowned in a pink flowered print dress with a pink and white carnation corsage for the festivities.

GIVEN IN marriage by her uncle, Mr. Sailer, the bride wore a street length dress of white chiffon with a lace bodice. A fingertip veil was secured by a pearl crown, and the bride's bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blanchard of Des Plaines. The maid of honor wore a pink lace street dress and carried pink and white carnations.

Ushering the guests to their pews were the bridegroom's two brothers, Norbert Lochinger of Northbrook and Marvin Lochinger of Carpentersville.

A 5 O'CLOCK reception took place in the James Sailer home in Mount Prospect for 100 guests.

The newlyweds are now living in Des Plaines, where both are employed. The bride works at the Robert Hall store and the bridegroom for Anderson's Plastering. The new Mrs. Lochinger attended Prospect high school; her husband attended Arlington high school. (S

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Going Away Stay at Home

By Dolores Haugh

Time is heavy when summer days are long, things that were "heat"edly awaited "cool" off and then one day there is "nothing to do." So why not plan a Going-away-stay-at-home party? It sounds harder than it is.

INVITATIONS

Let the children look through magazines, good for a day or two of looking, and find colored pictures of places to go, things to see and sports to do. Colored travel folders, obtained free also afford an afternoon of browsing and selecting and there goes another day. Let the children use the inside of the garage or basement and "decorate" it, but completely. This takes another day.

Now for the invitations, another two hours. Give them some colored construction paper or an old road map, also free from service stations. Have them design an invitation to a going-away-stay-at-home party. They can write the time and date on their own creations and don't limit ages; let the whole family be in on inviting someone to this night or afternoon of fun.

THE OLDER children then can plan the games and help make the refreshments while the younger ones set the table, and make the train. The train is a series of large cartons obtained at the local grocery stores. The first one is the engine made by using an oblong carton on end with window cut with serrated edge knife by mom or dad or big brother. The next carton is placed inside of this and forms the engine.

The kids can take over on the painting if you have old paint and can stand the mess—but it does keep them busy, Mom. Each "car" is decorated with round construction paper wheels and the caboose can have curtains in the windows and a lantern in the back. The children will really take over for ideas, but be ready to help a little too; you'll have as much fun as the children.

TAKE COLORED pictures if you can as the children love to ride the train. The crew having the party can be the engineers, waiters, conductors and guides, with costumes, music or just anything that takes time. The guests can be the travelers. Give out tickets at the door on arrival; these are made by the youngsters too. Let the guests look at the travel posters and decide where they are going. Then they, in turn, must be leader of the game which has been planned for that particular place by the hostess or host.

A snowball fight using cotton snowballs for the mountains, pantomimes of various sports, a wading pool for the seashore are some ideas. Games from other countries can be used also but again, let the children decide. Suitcase unpacking and dress up relay games, are good also.

MENU

Fix a "diner" for refreshments and include cardtables with budvases, menus telling of the foods named after various places such as "Texasburgers" for hamburgers or Hawaiian salad, which is pineapple and cottage cheese, if a luncheon is served.

It's fun to name all the things on the menu and type them up and insert them for the day's fare. Prizes of puzzles, games or coloring books can be wrapped in maps. Suitcase nut cups are take home favors and these can be made by the children.

Make two rectangular boxes out of construction paper in blue or brown. Cut travel stickers out of gummed paper in triangles, circles or squares and paste them all over the two boxes which fit inside one another. Add a paper suitcase handle and write the guest's name on the identification tag on the suitcase.

Place non-melting candies inside. If all girls are coming to the party, tiny plastic suitcases for dolls can be used.

This is one party where the children can let their imagination go and after you see what they can do maybe you'll let the decorations stay up and have an adult going-away-stay-at-home. party yourself, all aboard for fun! (S-SD

Susan Warren Marries Former 'Boy Next Door'

Former next door neighbors, Miss Susan Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Warren of Arlington Heights, and Charles Faber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Faber of Perham, Minn., were married in a double ring service June 17 in St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights.

Susan first met "the boy next door" more than five years ago when her family were Downers Grove residents. At that time the Warrens moved to Arlington Heights where Susan attended Arlington high school, graduating this June. Meanwhile the young people's friendship blossomed into a romance that culminated in their June wedding.

THE BRIDEGROOM, a machinist mate 3/c in the navy, is stationed aboard the destroyer USS Witek, and on one of his tours of duty visited Spain where he purchased a hand made silk lace veil for his bride to wear with her wedding dress.

Her dress was of cream white tissue taffeta fashioned on princess lines with draped bustle and her flowers were stephanotis and Amazon lilies. She was given in marriage by her father and was attended by the groom's sister, Jacqueline Faber of Perham, as maid of honor and her sister, Sallianne Prentiss of La Grange and her cousins, Mary Lou McGrath of Lake Zurich and Nancy Plotnikoff of Arlington Heights, as bridesmaids.

ALL WORE identical gowns of delphinium blue nylon chiffon fashioned with ballerina skirts and cowl necklines. Their flowers were delphinium with feathered white carnations. Also in the wedding party were a junior bridesmaid, Roberta McGrath, and a flower girl, 3-year-old Leslie Plotnikoff, cousin of the bride, who were both in pink. Leslie completed her ensemble with a basket of delphinium blossoms.

Traveling here from Perham were the groom's best man, Donovan Boedigheimer, and one of the ushers, Patrick Brown. Other ushers were the bride's brother-in-law, Larry Prentiss, and her cousin, Alex Plotnikoff of Arlington Heights.

White stock and yellow daisy mums decorated the church for the 11:45 o'clock nuptials which were followed by a reception at Wellers Motor lodge. Mrs. Warren greeted the 150 guests in a turquoise raw silk dress with matching shoes, white gloves, purse and hat, while Mrs. Faber chose a turquoise chiffon with cream white accessories.

OUT-OF-TOWN guests included the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Demuth of St. Paul.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Canada and Minnesota for 10 days before the groom reported to Boston. After another year in service, the couple will make their home in Minnesota. Meanwhile, the bride will be residing in Perham. (S

Palatine Newlyweds Are Now Residing in Maryland

Bak Studio

Now residing in Odenton, Md. where the bridegroom is stationed with the army, is a Palatine couple, Miss Judy Ann Nelson, daughter of the Walter E. Nelsons, and Martin F. Michalisko, son of the Martin Michaliskos. Their marriage took place May 13 in St. Theresa Catholic church at 10 a.m. with Fr. Sullivan officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her two sisters, Eileen and Kathleen, and the groom's sister, Virginia. The bridegroom was attended by his cousin, James Abenate of Chicago as best man, and his brother, John, and cousin, John Montonara of Des Plaines as ushers.

FOR HER MARRIAGE, the bride chose a gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace combined with sheer tulle. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped oval neckline highlighted with pearls and sequins and long, tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned in tiers of lace and tulle sprinkled with jeweled lace medallions. Her flowers were stephanotis and baby carnations.

Eileen, as maid of honor, wore a pink gown and carried pink and white carnations, while Kathleen wore blue and carried blue carnations. Virginia's gown was in orchid and her flowers were orchid and white carnations.

A BREAKFAST for the wedding party was held at the Casablanca and a reception for 100 guests was held later in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Nelson received in a light blue lace sheath dress and Mrs. Michalisko in a blue eyelet dress. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Both graduates of Palatine high school, the bride was employed at Pure Oil in Palatine until her marriage. (S
